

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

A good sized delegation of K. K.'s from Bellefonte and vicinity journeyed to Howard, last Friday evening, to attend a big gathering of the Klan at that place.

Included in the delinquent gasoline tax collections made by the State Highway department since the first of the year was the sum of $2,066 from dealers in Centre county.

At a meeting of the board of trustees of the Centre County hospital, on Tuesday, Miss Ellen Eckert tendered her resignation as superintendent, a position she has filled the past six years. No action was taken by the board.

A wreck on the Pennsylvania railroad near Northumberland, on Monday morning, held up the train on the Lewisburg branch for more than three hours. In fact it was 12:30 o'clock when it finally came trailing into Bellefonte.

Parents of the boarding students at the Bellefonte Academy desire that the business men of Bellefonte refrain from selling their sons large bills of goods on credit, unless the latter present a letter of authority from the parents for such credit.

Phil Ray, on Saturday, resigned his position as local editor on the Bellefonte Republican and this week matriculated as a Freshman at Penn State. Herbert Beezer is at present doing the local work on the Republican but the position will later be filled by Mrs. Harold Kirk.

Among the brides of the fall whose picture appeared recently in the Pittsburgh papers, was Miss Lois Cameron Mitchell, of Trinity College, the younger daughter of Judge H. Walton Mitchell. Miss Mitchell is well known in Centre county, through her frequent visits to State College with her father.

Monday being Labor day Bellefonte borough councilmen took a holiday from their arduous task of conducting the borough affairs. The president of council was at Eagles Mere, two members attended the Odd Fellows picnic at Hecla park, Mr. Emerick is still at the sea shore for the benefit of his health and that didn't leave a sufficient number of borough dads to constitute a quorum.

"The Thief of Bagdad," the big picture shown at the Moose Temple theatre last week, is one of the kind that manager T. Clayton Brown has signed up for the coming year for exhibition at the theatre and the Scenic. These pictures will be given him exclusively for exhibition in Bellefonte and patrons of these motion picture houses are thus assured of many nights of pleasant and interesting entertainment. Regular patrons see all the good ones, which is a strong argument in favor of being a regular.

A wedding of great interest to many in Bellefonte will be that of Miss Margaret Jane Sommerville, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sommerville, of Syracuse, N. Y., and William Fischer Williams, of New York city, which will take place in the Presbyterian church of Jersey Shore, tomorrow, September 12th, at twelve o'clock. A reception at Walnut Place, Jersey Shore, the home of the bride's maternal grandfather, Mr. Wolfe, will follow the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Williams expect to make their home at Easton, Pa.

The Bellefonte Academy athletic prospects for the coming school year are just as bright as they were at the opening of school last year. A wonderful schedule has been arranged for the football season, and the 1925 eleven is expected to prove another winner. Bartell, the Princeton University centre for this fall, is spending this week at the Academy assisting coach Snavelly get his proteges ready for their first contest, which will be on Saturday, September 26th, when the U. S. army eleven from the barracks at Carlisle will be the attraction on Hughes field. This game will undoubtedly be a hummer for the opening contest.

Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Johnson, of Bellefonte, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Esther K. Johnson, to Mr. E. E. Hollobaugh, of State College. Miss Johnson is a graduate of the music department of the Williamsport Dickinson Seminary and has studied two summers at West Chester and Penn State. She is at present the supervisor of music in the public schools at State College. Mr. Hollobaugh is a graduate of State College and has studied at the Y. M. C. A. college at Springfield, Mass. He is instructor and athletic coach in the High school at Brockway, Pa. The wedding is scheduled to take place at the close of the 1925-'26 school year.

WON'T SELL THEIR CHURCH.

Buffalo Run Presbyterians Vote to Retain House of Worship.

Though they have not had a preacher for two years and no prospect of having one soon the Presbyterians of Buffalo Run valley, at a meeting on Tuesday evening, voted fifteen to one against selling their church.

While exact data regarding the history of this church is not at hand, the congregation was organized sixty or more years ago, when Presbyterians were more plentiful in Buffalo Run valley than they are now. A church lot was secured on the Benjamin F. Hunter farm and a house of worship built. Between thirty-five and forty years ago the church was destroyed by fire and the present edifice was built opposite the Meyers cemetery on a plot of ground secured from the Joseph W. Marshall farm.

In the intervening years the church has weathered the storms of being buffeted from one charge to the other, sometimes with the Boalsburg charge and then with the Milesburg and Unionville charge. But with each passing year the congregation has dwindled until its numbers are small compared to former years and it has been two years or longer since they have had regular preaching services in the church.

Recently the question arose as to what to do with the church. About the only use made of it now is for holding funeral services for the dead to be buried in the Meyers cemetery, just across the highway. Some of the congregation would like to see the church become the property of the cemetery association and it was because of this sentiment that a meeting was called for Tuesday night, September 1st, to discuss the matter.

Discuss it all they did at that meeting and another meeting was held on Tuesday night of this week. Sixteen people were present and after further discussion a vote was taken and only one person voted to sell the church the other fifteen voting to keep it. A committee of two was then appointed to appear before the Huntingdon Presbytery, at its next regular meeting, to see if some arrangements can be made to have the church made a part of some regular charge. If this can be done the little congregation can be held together, otherwise the church may eventually have to be sold.

Stolen Ford Coupe Located in Altoona.

Charles E. Gates, whose Ford coupe was stolen on the streets of Bellefonte early on the morning of September 2nd, was notified yesterday morning by the police department of Altoona that the car has been standing on the streets of that city since last Friday morning. Mr. Gates went to Altoona yesterday morning and drove the car back to Bellefonte.

The coupe was stolen from in front of Crider's Exchange some time between 1:30 and 5 o'clock last Wednesday morning, and not a trace of it had been found until the notice from the police department was received yesterday morning. As the car was simply abandoned on the streets of that city there is hardly a possibility of ever discovering who took it, but suspicion is directed towards two young men who jumped their hotel bill at the Garman house and skipped out at three o'clock last Wednesday morning. The men went to the hotel on Tuesday evening and claimed they were selling carpet sweepers for a Harrisburg firm. They also stated that they were compelled to spend the night in Bellefonte because they had burned out the bearings on their car and had to have them replaced.

The men did not retire to their room until eleven o'clock Tuesday evening and got out stealthily at three o'clock Wednesday morning. The men registered from Alexandria but inquiry at that village brought the information that they were unknown there. Of course it is not certain that they stole the car but suspicion points that way. A description of the men has been furnished Altoona police in the hope that the men who stole the car may be detected, if possible, and properly punished.

The Altenderfers to Move to Jersey Shore.

About a month ago Girard Altenderfer, who had been working at the milk shipping station of the Sheffield Farms company in Bellefonte, was transferred to the company's plant at Jersey Shore, and his position there having become permanent he has decided to move there from his present home in Milesburg. Mr. Altenderfer's father, Martin L. Altenderfer, bookkeeper for the Titan Metal company, will accompany his son to Jersey Shore where he also has a position in view. The Altenderfer family came to Bellefonte with the opening of the old Central Railroad of Pennsylvania over thirty years ago and have lived in Bellefonte most of the time since then. Mr. Altenderfer has been prominently identified with the Presbyterian church and will be missed by the congregation as well as in various other ways.

Mrs. Philip Beezer, who recently changed her home on east Bishop street into a duplex, entertained twenty guests Thursday night of last week, at a house-warming in her new apartments. Mrs. Beezer is occupying the west side of the house, while she has as tenants on the east side, Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Mayer, who moved into Bellefonte from Roopburg.

Seven Mountains Man Brewed Beer and Was Arrested.

An old-time story is recalled anent the old Foust place in the Seven mountains which every few years is reported as being haunted. The ghost walked in that locality on Wednesday night of last week in the guise of state policemen, who placed under arrest Albert Earl, charged with brewing beer with too much kick to it. Earl admitted he had been making beer which varied in strength, some of it as high as four per cent. Squire Brungard, of Centre Hall, held him in $1,500 bail for trial at court and in lieu of a bond he went to jail.

Republican voters, ask any person of authority, and they will have to admit that the tax business of Bellefonte has been the best in twenty-five years. Vote for Herbert Auman.—Political Adv. 36-1t*

The Delay in the Centre County Bank Case.

In answer to the several inquiries we have had as to why the equity proceeding recently begun in the Centre County bank case was delayed we have made inquiry and ascertained that it has been held up because it was not initiated in compliance with general equity practice.

When the bill was presented a time was set for an answer to it and the time designated was before the advertisement of notice to Florence F. Dale and Andrew Breese had been in the papers the legally required three weeks. The result of the bungled that they had not received proper legal notice by advertisement and did not have to answer.

Now the whole thing is in process of being done over again, because a new order of publication had to be obtained.

Keep the tax collector's office out of politics by voting for Herbert Auman for a second term, for it is an office of responsibility and is not a political job.—Political Adv. 36-1t*

Big Ku Klux Picnic at Hecla Park September 26th.

Gigantic, wonderful, reads the announcement of a big Ku Klux picnic to be held at Hecla park on Saturday, September 26th. "The sight of a lifetime awaits you," continues the poster, in a big program of "sports, drills, contests, concerts, good speakers, costly and gorgeous daylight and night fireworks display, featuring famous set pieces—"America," "The Liberty Bell," "The Klan Call of 1925," etc. The program will begin at 10 o'clock a. m., and the public is invited to go to the park and spend a day with the Kluxers.

In this connection it might be mentioned that on Monday of this week the Klan held a picnic at Harrisburg which was attended by thousands. The members wore hoods and robes but were not masked. Big crowds invariably characterize a public gathering of the Ku Kluxers and it will not be surprising if they have the banner crowd at their picnic at Hecla.

Wagner's Mill Burglarized on Wednesday Night.

The large grist mill of C. Y. Wagner Co. was burglarized on Wednesday night, the safe blown open and about $100 in cash and one check stolen. The job was evidently the work of professionals, who are probably touring the country in an automobile. They gained entrance to the mill by breaking open the lower door next to the railroad, using tools stolen from the railroad tool house close by. The outer doors of the safe were opened without being damaged but the inner doors were blown open with nitroglycerine. Bags of chop and bran were used to deaden the sound. While there is no certainty when the job was pulled off the probability is it was after midnight, when travel along the highway would be at its lowest ebb.

In making an examination of the blown safe, yesterday morning, chief of police Harry Dukeman found a short end of fuse, evidently of the kind used in blowing the safe. Nothing else was discovered that might give a clue to the robbers.

Gold Baseballs Appreciated by Academy Students.

During the summer a number of Bellefonte business men raised a fund and purchased beautiful gold souvenir baseballs which they presented to coach Snavelly and the twelve men who represented the Academy's champion baseball team, which won every one of the twelve games played. On the balls was engraved the name of the player and the position he filled on the team. The players and coach were naturally well pleased with this mark of appreciation of their work and requested headmaster James R. Hughes to make due acknowledgment. The business men and firms who contributed to the fund are as follows:

Montgomery & Co., Finkelstine, Potter-Hoy Hardware Co., Carpeneto, Sim Baum, City Bakery, Mott Drug Co., the Last Resort, Russell, Kniseley's Restaurant, F. P. Blair & Son, Hazel & Co., Furey & Eckman, J. D. Hunter, J. R. Hughes, The Bon Mot, Brokerhoff House, the Cadillac Co., Bellefonte Lumber Co., Bellefonte Wholesale, Schad, the plumber, and T. Clayton Brown.

Next Tuesday Will be Primary Election Day.

Next Tuesday will be primary election day and the only contest of interest generally to the voters of Centre county will be that for the highest office in the gift of the people—Judge of the courts. Adhering to its old-time policy the "Watchman" has refrained from taking issue among the five candidates aspiring to the high honor. The primary campaign is a preliminary bout that must be fought out among the candidates themselves, and the result of the primaries is usually a fairly good criterion not only of the candidates' popularity but the wish of the voters.

The campaign has been a free-for-all for the candidates, without any unusual outside interference, and up to this time there does not seem to be any "sure thing" candidate. Of course the "Watchman" might make predictions but they would probably be "father to the thought," so will refrain from doing that. The primaries, at most, are purely the elimination contest, the real tug of war coming at the election in November.

The principal contest in Bellefonte borough is over the office of tax collector. Two candidates are before the Democratic voters for their support, Charles Schaeffer and Charles Fromm. Both are good, clean men and either one would make a good collector. Three Republicans want the nomination, Herbert Auman, present incumbent; Orian Kline and Harry B. Johnson. As it looks now the fight is between Auman and Kline, with both feeling confident of victory.

In the West ward Miss Sarah J. Love is contesting for the nomination for assessor on the Republican ticket against Edward O. Struble, the first time a woman has aspired to that office in Bellefonte. Struble is also a candidate on the Democratic ticket, and has for his opponent D. Wagner Geiss.

Residents of South Philipsburg Tired of Borough Life.

Residents of South Philipsburg have grown tired of borough life and all it entails in the keeping up of streets, schools, water facilities, street lighting, police protection, etc., and are anxious to be unscrambled as a part of Rush township. To this end a petition is being circulated, which will require the signatures of two-thirds of the residents, to present to the court of Centre county praying that the borough charter be annulled and that South Philipsburg be reinstated as a portion of Rush township.

According to the last census the population of the borough, men, women and children, was only a few over five hundred, which means less than two hundred tax payers. The result is that the burden of trying to run the town according to the borough code has become too great to bear, and that is the principal reason for the move to have the town's charter annulled. As it looks now, the required number of signers to the petition will be secured, but it is also predicted that the official paper will not have smooth sailing through the Centre county courts. A number of residents are opposed to being unscrambled and they have signified their intention of contesting the annulment of the charter when the time comes. In the meantime the school facilities of South Philipsburg are not adequate to meet the needs of all the children of school age, and the borough does not have the money to improve conditions.

Etters—Bechdel—Stanley Etters and Miss Edna Bechdel, both of Howard, were married at the parsonage of the Methodist church in Bellefonte, on Wednesday morning of this week, by the pastor, Rev. Homer C. Knox.

Freight Rates Prohibit Importation of Peaches.

The women of Williamsport are complaining because of the failure of the peach crop in Lycoming county and the failure of fruit dealers to import peaches from other localities in sufficient quantities to meet the demand. The same condition exists in Bellefonte. The few peach orchards located in Centre county were minus fruit this year, and the only peaches brought to Bellefonte were by local fruit dealers who retailed them at anywhere from 25 to 60 cents the dozen, a price prohibitive for canning purposes.

While the peach crop was a total failure in central Pennsylvania, New Jersey had a large crop, in fact so large that the fruit sold in Philadelphia for 65 cents to $1.25 a basket. Up in Lehigh county, this State, peach orchards were heavily laden with fruit and growers had trouble getting pickers sufficient to gather the crop. The New York crop is also quite large but local dealers aver that the freight rates are so high that they cannot afford to take the risk of importing peaches to Bellefonte. The price they would have to charge for a basket of peaches would be more than consumers would pay, and they are afraid to take the chance.

Republican Electors.

On account of having to collect over $1500.00 old school tax during the last three weeks I have not been able to see every Republican, but will appreciate your vote for re-nomination. Tax Collector is a business and not a political job, and in return will guarantee you SERVICE, as in the past four years.
