CENTRE COUNTY W. C. T. U. CONVENTION REPORT.

The fortieth annual convention of the Centre county Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held in the Lutheran church, Bellefonte, Tuesday and Wednesday of last week and proved quite interesting. Apart from the regular routine of business and usual reports of superintendents the interesting poster and department display attracted attention. Two beautiful knitted afghans made by the Centre Hall and Tusseyville Unions, which are to be presented to the disabled of the world war, were bright spots in the decorations. The patriotic roll, containing two thousand signatures of soldiers and sailors to the total abstinence pledge against intoxicating liquors and standing for law enforcement, was an exhibit of much interest.

These pledges were secured by Miss Rhoads on her recent Army and Navy tours to posts, camps, ships and stations at the invitation of our government.

The special guest and speaker of the convention was Rev. Maude T. Seymour, vice president of the Pennsylvania W. C. T. U., whose wonderfully inspiring and illuminating address on Wednesday evening on "When Citizens are Sovereigns" was most highly praised by all, while her helpfulness at odd times throughout the various sessions was greatly appreciated.

Miss Roberta Carnes, a national W. C. T. U. lecturer, who was to have been the other special guest, was forced to cancel her engagement because of very sudden and serious illness, resulting in an operation.

The special music rendered both evenings under the direction of Miss Johnson, of Bellefonte, was unusually fine, featuring Mrs. Forest Ocker, organist of the Lutheran church; Mr. Pletcher, of Howard, in charge of its choir; Cecil Walker, of Bellefonte, and Miss Johnson herself, as soloists, while the M. E. junior choir and male quartette added their quota to the excellent musical program. In addition, Mrs. Stealy's large group of Loyal Temperance Legion children, of Bellefonte, sang delightfully. Three girls and one boy from this group took part in the silver medal contest, little Miss Sarah Quick winning the medal. A small gift was presented to each of the other contestants who were Gladys Kaler, Hazel Keeler and Katherine and James Peters, of Bellefonte.

The Young People's Branch, of Centre Hall, was represented by Miss Margaret Luse and Miss Elizabeth Bradford, who told of the work of this department and very charmingly reported the State convention of the Y. P. B., at Harrisburg last June.

Following the evening program a general reception was tendered to all by the Bellefonte Union at which ice cream and cake were served.

That afternoon the president, Miss Rhoads, in her address, after telling of the great world's W. C. T. U. convention in Edinburgh, Scotland, to which she was a delegate, spoke of the importance of the primaries and sounded the warning against a divided dry vote.

Wednesday morning at the largest and most representative executive session held in sixteen years it was unanimously voted to recommend Judge Dale as their W. C. T. U. candidate, he having "been tested and proven true to their cause, and they realized a divided dry vote meant defeat to their principles. This was afterwards duly confirmed in open convention. Also it was unanimously carried, both in executive and open convention, that the name of the present district attorney, Ivan Walker, be written in on all ballots for that office.

Wednesday afternoon the Union Signal contest proved very interesting. Three local presidents were the contestants, Mrs. Sharpe, of Philipsburg; Mrs. Phillips, of Aaronsburg; and Mrs. Bell, of State College. The audience were the judges, registering their decision by ballot, the result being that the prize of an autographed copy of Miss Elizabeth Gordon's latest book, "Women Torchbearers," was awarded to Mrs. Phillips, of Aaronsburg.

The election of officers followed, which resulted in the re-election of all the old officers with the exception of the corresponding secretary. Mrs. Williams, of Unionville, begged not to be considered as a candidate for the reason of poor health necessitating her withdrawal, to the universal regret of all, as she has for many years been faithful and efficient. Mrs. W. A. Broyles, of State College, was elected in her place.

After the benediction at the evening session all joined in singing "Blest be the Tie that Binds," with hands clasped and crossed arms. Thus closed this convention the keynote of which had been sounded at the first session and reiterated at its last in the slogan familiar to all White-Ribbons of Centre county for several years past, "Back to the Bible and the Family Altar." This slogan was slightly changed this year to "With the Bible and the Family Altar," this spiritual appeal being the strongest of all as all acknowledge their utter dependence upon a Higher Power in all their deliberations; every session of a W. C. T. U. meeting everywhere in all parts of the world being always opened and closed with prayer. Each local minister took part in these opening and closing ceremonies.

Centre County Artist's Work Makes Impression in Paris.

It is quite within the range of possibility that Centre county has in prospect the honor of being known as the home of another great artist. As the birthplace of George Gray Barnard, whose sculpture has world-wide acclaim, Bellefonte has always basked in the reflected glory. The paintings of Robert Lee Eskridge have attracted such attention in Paris Salons that Philadelphia, the place of his birth, is destined to enjoy a distinction akin to that of Bellefonte. In Sunday's Philadelphia Ledger there appeared Mr. Eskridge's water color "Boats of Valence" and accompanying it the following high tribute to his promise as an artist:

Home again from two years of study in Paris, and from exhibiting his water color sand etchings in the Spring Salon and also the Salon des Independents in Paris, an American artist, Pennsylvania born, has chosen the little mountain town of Philipsburg, in Centre county, high in the Alleghenies, as the place for his first exhibit in America since his return from France.

He is Robert Lee Eskridge, and he was born in Philipsburg in 1891. After a boyhood spent in the Alleghenies, he went with his family to California. There he studied in the Art school of the University of Southern California, then went to study in the Chicago Art Institute. He is a member of the Chicago Society of Etchers.

For the last two years he has been studying in Paris with Boutet de Monvel, Prunet, Naudin and Andre Lhote. Last spring he held an exhibition of his water colors and etchings at the Galerie Simonson, on the Rue Caumartin in Paris—an exhibition principally of scenes in Spain and the Balearic Isles.

Maurice Barbelieu, in "L'Homme Libre," praised his water colors as "claires et jolies," declared him "a painter who has conquered our sympathy," and characterized his "Moorish Gateways" and "Procession at Palma in Majorca" as possessing, "one, much poetry, and the other much life." His paintings were commended, too, in various criticisms of work shown at the Salon des Independents and the Spring Salon—the Salon des Artistes Francais, of this year.

After his exhibition at Philipsburg, which began on Tuesday of this week, and after a visit to his family, which has returned from California to live once more in Philipsburg, Mrs. Eskridge will go to Chicago to live.

Stage Annual Poultry Show at State College.

The third annual State standard production poultry show will be staged at The Pennsylvania State College, November 5th, 6th and 7th, according to county agent R. C. Blaney.

Varieties eligible for the show include Barred Plymouth Rocks, white Plymouth Rocks, single comb Rhode Island reds, single comb White Leghorns, single comb mottled Anconas and white Wyandottes in the egg producing contest, and light Brahmas, Cornish and Black Giants in the meat classes. Entry fees will be 25 cents for a single bird, or a dollar for a pen consisting of one male and four females. Varieties not listed will be eligible for ribbons providing sufficient entries are made.

There will be a class for young capons. The classes in egg and meat production will consist of cock, cockerel, hen, pullet, old pen and young pen. A special class for hens producing more than 250 eggs a year will be a feature of the show this fall. Silver loving cups, special ribbons, bird magazines and some cash prizes will be awarded winners. College teachers and extension specialists in the poultry department will be the judges. The College poultry department and the poultry club composed of students specializing in poultry work will conduct the show. Last year's show was one of the largest in the country.

The Bellefonte Academy and State College both opened on Wednesday of this week, both institutions being crowded to capacity. The Academy, by the way, has the largest attendance in its more than one hundred years' history, and with a full corps of competent instructors there is every indication of a most successful school year, both at the desk and on the athletic field.

WALKER AND KELLER WIN OUT FOR JUDGE.

Judicial Contest Results in Hot Battle at Tuesday's Primaries.

In a field of four contestants W. Harrison Walker won the Democratic nomination for Judge of Centre county at the primaries on Tuesday by a majority of 254. His victory can be ascribed mainly to his own efforts in getting in the fight early and plugging away until the polls closed on Tuesday evening. He was a free for all fight between Mr. Walker, J. Kennedy Johnston, N. B. Spangler and Judge Arthur C. Dale, who sought to make a clean-up at the primaries by being a candidate on the three tickets, Democratic, Republican and Prohibition. On the Democratic ticket he ran third. Mr. Walker polled 1307 votes, Mr. Spangler 1048, Judge Dale 824 and J. Kennedy Johnston 717. The total vote cast was 3891, which was over 1400 more than were cast at the primaries two years ago when candidates for an entire county ticket were nominated. This is evidence of the interest in the contest taken by the voters all over the county.

On the Republican ticket Harry Keller overwhelmingly defeated Judge Dale, his majority being 1307. The total vote cast for Judge on the Republican ticket was 5617, of which number Mr. Keller received 3462 and Judge Dale 2155. In fact Judge Dale's entire vote on the three tickets was almost four hundred less than Mr. Keller's vote on the Republican ticket.

In Bellefonte the only contest of any unusual interest was that for tax collector between Herbert Auman, the present incumbent; Orian Kline and Harry Johnson. Auman's total vote in the borough was 600, Kline 371 and Johnson 34. On the Democratic ticket Charles Schaeffer won the nomination for the same office over Charles Fromm by a vote of 313 to 123.

A sticker attempt was made against the regular candidates for council in the West ward but it did not result in anything formidable. Another contest in the same ward was that between Miss Sarah Love and Edward O. Struble for the nomination for assessor, Miss Love winning out by a large majority. Mr. Struble was also a candidate on the Democratic ticket against D. Wagner Geiss and lost that nomination.

The complete vote for Judge will be found in another column.

Harter—Holtzapple.—Morris I. Harter, son of Mr. and Mrs. William I. Harter, of Blanchard, and Miss Madeleine Holtzapple, of Bellwood, were married at the parsonage of the Baptist church in Pottsville, on Wednesday of last week, by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Bower. Following a wedding trip to eastern cities the young couple will take up their residence at Blanchard where the bridegroom is the owner of a flourishing garage.

The hard coal strike has been on almost three weeks but nobody in Bellefonte seems to be worrying over it. Of course many users of anthracite fuel filled their bins during the summer, and there is quite a stock of anthracite in the yards of the coal dealers in Bellefonte, but probably the principal reason why there is so little talk of the strike is that a great many people have turned to bituminous coal and having become accustomed to it are not worrying about the black diamonds.

Negress Escapes Death Chair.

At a regular meeting, on Wednesday the State board of pardons recommended commutation of the death sentence for Mattie Jones, negress, of Philadelphia, convicted of the murder of "Willie" Martin two years ago. The case of Louise Thomas, another negress murderer of Philadelphia, is now before the Supreme court for a decision on an application for a new trial. The last woman executed for murder in Pennsylvania was Mrs. Whitman, who was hanged in Philadelphia in 1889.

Thursday morning he did not feel well and remained at home but it was not until Friday night that his condition became serious. By Sunday morning he was so bad that he was taken to the hospital but nothing could be done to relieve him and he passed away at the hour above stated.

A son of William and Rilla Hughes Nighthart was born in Bellefonte on March 11th, 1896, hence was aged 19 years, 6 months and 2 days. He was an industrious and dependable young man and his deplorable death was a severe shock to his parents as well as his many friends. In addition to his parents he is survived by one sister and a brother, Mrs. John Klingler, of Bellefonte, and Nevin, at home.
