Misuse of the Church.

Pleasant Gap, Sept. 19, 1925. To the "Watchman:"

Merely a few justifiable remarks; I don't want to be regarded as a chron-ic kicker, yet I cannot refrain from criticizing some of our pretenders, or would-be holy women politicians. 1 am in favor of fair-play, and despise anything that borders on corruption and malicious manifestation of engaging in efforts that are treacherous in the extreme, and might be designated as low and degraded saloon politics. I want to refer to an alleged tem-perance rally held in our Methodist church prior to our recent primary election. So far as sincere temperance lectures are concerned they are absolutely right, and should be en-couraged by all good-minded, moral people, providing the object is truly sincere in character.

On this occasion several women were sent out from Bellefonte with a view of instructing our good women how and whom to vote for. We claim we have as intelligent a class of women at the Gap as Bellefonte, or any other locality can boast of. We think the church erred in al-lowing themselves to be brow-beaten into yielding up the House of God in the interest of one individual candidate, when other deserving candidates, of excellent moral character and outright studious advocates of temper-ance were studiously ignored. There is considerable feeling ex-isting in our community against such hypocritical transgressions. Why should they single out Pleasant Gap? Why not, if they are so influential, did they not devote some of their pre-cious time to enlightening their own town, Bellefonte, where they were ig-nominiously defeated. One most exceptionally good man swept Bellefonte two to one over their favorite. From present indications these sha-

Moyer and Miss Nora Miller were also wash tub or the washing of dishes in the kitchen they would in the end fare better.

Earth and heaven, justice, humani-ty, philanthropy, and religion, cry out, forgive these erring mortals. He who will not forgive, must possess the heart of the demon. Surely the love of God is not in him or her. Dear, good women, kindly take my remarks good-naturedly, since nothing is more

The Ku Klux Klan, who hold their celebration at Hecla park on Satur-day, 26th, will be very liberally pa-tronized by the fraternity at the Gap. George Horner is favored with a visit from Elmer Horner and family and Clair Horner and family, of Freeport, Ill.; their first visit for some vears.

Modern exercise in the open air, for the purpose of assisting the various secretions, is another essential requisite for the production and mainte-nance of good health.

A walk of a few miles before break-fast lends a bloom to the cheek and a sparkle to the eye of beauty, which no cosmetic can supply; and then the fa-mous appetite that follows.

Your first care in the choice of words should be that they express pre-cisely your meaning. Words are used so loosely in society that the same word will often be found to convey helf a decen different ideas to convey half a dozen different ideas to as many auditors.

If parents are courteous toward their children, the latter will always be courteous in return. There is no better way to train a child in courtesy than to observe toward it the most scrupulous politeness, and a child whose own conversation is respected can easily be taught to respect the conversation of others, and to know when to talk and when to be silent.

A man is well dressed when he attracts little or no attention. A dandy is something, or nothing, overdressed. He is a cross between a masculine woman and a feminine man. His gloved hands are raised in protest against hard work. He values his head for what he puts on it and not for what he puts in it. Fine feathers will not make fine birds, neither will fine clothes make fine men. So many men are self-made and worship their creator before the mirror; and they think there is no hypocrisy in this devotion.

The judicial contest is ended so far as the primary election is concerned; and the average voter is glad that it valuable, or is so easily purchased, as good nature. A man or a woman with a pleasant, agreeable disposition and competent fellows, so that many is a thing of the past, from the fact that the aspirants were all capable finds friends everywhere, and makes, of the voters kept mum, alleging that friends where people of a contrary all were their friends. The Right Idea.

The little girl was taught to close her evening prayer during the tem-porary absence of her father with: And please watch over my daddy." It sounded very sweet, but the mother's amazement may be imagined when the child added: "And you'd better keep an eye on Mummy, too."
