Bellefonte, Pa., October 16, 1925.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

The weather man is certainly making up now for the lack of rain during September.

Harry N. Meyer, of Bellefonte, has been drawn as a juror to serve in the United States district court, at Scranton next week.

Only two more weeks until election day and then we'll all know who will be judge of Centre county during the ensuing ten years.

Mr. and Mrs. Al. S. Garman, of Tyrone, will chaperon a large house party of young people from Niagara Falls, at Edgemoor next week.

The annual bazaar of the St. John's Episcopal church will be held on Thursday, December 3rd. Further announcement will be made later.

The Ladies Aid society of the Methodist church at Pleasant Gap, will hold a cafeteria supper in the church this (Friday) evening. Good food and a good time is promised.

Men seeking employment might find it at the American Lime and Stone operation in this place. The company is doing extensive construction work and is advertising for men.

The ladies Aid of the Methodist dist Episcopal church, Bellefonte, will hold a chicken and home-made noodle supper in the lecture room of the church, Thursday, October 22, from 5 to 7 o'clock. Admission, adults 65 cents; children under 12, 35 cents.

A big double frame house owned by the American Lime and Stone company down at Sunnyside, and occupied by Graffius Shay and Louis Masullo, was entirely gutted by fire on Tuesday. Both occupants, however, saved most of their furniture and other belongings.

A letter from Julia Curtin Staley and her husband, E. Earl Staley, who went to the Pacific coast six years ago, is surely full of boosting propaganda for California. The climate is ideal, earthquakes there are feared no more than thunder showers here; their winter of rain is much more preferable to ours of ice, snow and sleet, business is good and their climax is, that they have just moved into their own new house in Pasadena.

The coldest weather of the season was experienced in Bellefonte last Friday morning. The mercury dropped to twenty-eight degrees above zero. The ground was frozen hard enough to carry the weight of an ordinary man. Enough snow fell in the Snow Shoe region and up in Ferguson township to cover the ground, while a little snow fell in Bellefonte the night previous, but most of it had vanished by Friday morning.

The cold snap of the past week has naturally driven everybody indoors in the evenings and no better place can be found to spend the time than at the Scenic, watching the motion pictures and listening to the delightful music of that wonderful pipe organ. Both are drawing cards that are attracting many new patrons, and every one goes away pleased with their evening's entertainment. It is the regular patron who sees all the good pictures.

The contest for the honor of being the Harvest Queen at the Halloween carnival is on. Already four young ladies are entered in the race to determine which one of the community's many pretty girls will reign over that gala festival. The Misses Gussie Thompson, Betty Ray, Sarah Uzzle and Rose Carpeneto have been entered as contestants. As usual votes cost only a cent a piece and can be had at any of the drug stores or from G. W. Rees, the nestor of the carnival.

An Indiana, Pa., correspondent writes rather reprovingly of our having reported last week that the Academy football team had defeated the Indiana Normal in a game here on October 2nd. It was the California Normal that the Academy trimmed and while we recall that the last time the Academy and Indiana played our boys went down under an avalanche of 106 to 0 we are ready to bet the discarded straw that the tables would be reversed were the two teams to meet this season.

The three women of Curtin street, who have been ill from the result of falls, within the past two weeks are slowly recovering. Mrs. E. S. Dorworth, at her own home, where she fell down stairs; Mrs. Lewis Reearick, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. Dorsey Hunter, where she fell from a back porch, and Mrs. Philip Fisher, who fractured her hip in a fall over a rug on the hard wood floor, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Nelson E. Robb. Mrs. Fisher was taken at once to the Centre County hospital.

The September term of court closed last Saturday morning when the jury in the case of Anna W. Keichline against the Decker Bros., returned a verdict in favor of the defendant in the sum of $850. Miss Keichline had brought suit to recover on a claim of $2800, alleged to be due and owing her on her work as architect for the Decker Bros. in the erection of their new garage on Spring street, and also on pencil plans prepared by her for a proposed building on the Valentine lot at the time the Decker Bros. had taken an option on it. In the case of T. R. Hamilton vs. A. E. Schad, an action to recover on a book account, the jury returned a verdict for the defendant.

ANNUAL MEETING OF CENTRE COUNTY HOSPITAL.

Report of Treasurer Shows Many Delinquents in "Serve Centre's Sick" Fund.

Just twenty-one people were present at the annual meeting of the Centre County hospital, held in the court house, Bellefonte, on Monday evening. Mr. A. H. Sloop was chosen to preside and secretary R. L. Mallory read the minutes of the corporate meeting a year ago, which were approved as read.

Mrs. W. J. Emerick presented her report of the work done by the Women's Auxiliary during the past year, which included a considerable amount of sewing. In this the women of Bellefonte were assisted by the women of Aronsburg, Millheim, Lemont, Pleasant Gap and Zion. Mrs. R. Russell Blair, treasurer of the Woman's Auxiliary, reported receipts during the year of $276.66; expenditures, $416.10, and a balance on hand of $248.99.

Treasurer Edward R. Owens gave a statement of the finances of the past year, up to October 1st, 1925, as follows:

Receipts:
Balance in bank.....	$ 153.49

Interest credited.....	483.78
Amt. paid on new wing borrowed from repair account.....	27263.46
Total.....	$113812
Total.....	$56010.71

In explanation of the statement treasurer Owens said:

"It will be noticed by the above report that up to the present time we have received only $54526.93 on the campaign pledges, and as the proportion allotted to the building of the new wing was 50 per cent. of the total amount of pledges, we are entitled to only $27263.47; and as we have expended up to the present $28401.58 it was necessary for us to borrow from the amount allotted to remodeling and furnishing fund the sum of $11381.2."

"This was absolutely necessary in order not to hold up the building operations during the good weather when most progress could be made at the least expense. And for the building committee to go ahead and finish the new wing we must have the cooperation of the subscribers."

"The last payment, according to the pledge cards, is due November 1st of this year, and we trust that every subscriber who has not paid his pledge in full will arrange to do so on or before November 1st."

"The building committee as well as the whole board of trustees are giving liberally of their time in addition to their subscriptions, without one cent of pay, and will complete the new wing and remodel the present structure at a cost not to exceed the $100,000, although the lowest bid received from contractors when we advertised for bids was upwards of $130,000."

"Now in consideration of all of the above, it is up to you, subscribers, to make good your pledges promptly and help complete this good work which is so badly needed in our community."

Following Mr. Owens' remarks the chairman announced that the terms of six members of the board of trustees had expired and the vacancies would have to be filled. The six members were George Hazel, Ralph L. Mallory, John Blanchard, Horatio Moore, William T. Kelly and W. J. Emerick. The five first mentioned were re-elected for the full term of three years and Mr. Emerick for one year.

Mr. Moore reported that the new building had progressed far enough for the plasterers to begin work within a week.

There being no other business the meeting adjourned.

Bush Estate Properties Sold at Public Sale.

The Bellefonte Trust company, trustees of the estate of the late Mrs. Louisa Bush, sold at public sale, last Saturday, four properties belonging to the estate. The most valuable one was the old homestead on south Spring street, which was purchased by Mrs. M. A. Lansdy for $15,000. The purchase was made with the view of converting it into an annex of the Brockerhoff house, of which Mr. Lansdy is landlord, although definite plans as to the changes and improvements have not yet been made.

The house on Spring street, vacated during the summer by the Bent family was purchased by Frank P. Blair for $5,000. It adjoins Mr. Blair's present residence. Two small houses out in Brown row were purchased by Nathan Kofman.

The Hess's are Back from Their Big Game Hunting Trip.

Newton and John Hess, who have been on a big game hunting expedition in British Columbia and Alaska since the latter part of the summer, arrived in Bellefonte Wednesday, both looking fine and enthusiastic over their experience.

There were ten hunters in their party when they arrived at Telegraph Creek, but there it was converted into a small army. They hunt in a different way up there than we are accustomed to. The men were split up into five parties of two each. Each party had two guides, a cook, a horse wrangler, six saddle horses and four pack horses. And all took different directions, and kept on the move except for short camps in regions where the particular game they were after abounded. They were splendidly outfitted, they say, and had every comfort to be expected in such a country. Each hunter was permitted to get 3 sheep, 2 mountain goats, 2 carabou, 2 black bear, 2 grizzlies and 1 moose. Mr. N. I. Hess got his limit of all except sheep and grizzlies. He bagged 2 sheep and 1 grizzly. John got his limit of all game but black bear, of which he failed to kill any because the territory he hunted in had none of that variety.

Both of the gentlemen said that the country is fairly alive with small, or what they call trap game, and birds, grouse of every variety.

They hunted mostly above the timber lines and found grass a foot long growing to the very tips of the highest mountains. Because of the value of the grass as horse feed they carried no grain or other feed for the animals.

First Deer Killed on Bald Eagle Highway on Tuesday.

A nice doe, weighing about one hundred pounds, was brought to the Gettysburg market on Wednesday morning, dressed and the meat sent to the Bellefonte hospital. The animal was killed on the new state highway in Bald Eagle valley, just above Julian, on Tuesday evening, by Jerry Hanscom, who lives out along the Beaver Mills road. Mr. Hanscom was motoring along the highway at a fair rate of speed when the deer jumped out right in front of his machine. It was hit and knocked to one side. An examination showed that its back was broken. The deputy game warden at Julian was notified and completed the killing. The affair was reported to game protector Thomas Mosier, of Bellefonte, who went to Julian and brought the carcass to Bellefonte. This was the first killing on the new state highway.

Besides earning a reputation for hustling building enterprises contractor W. S. Williams, of this place, seems to have time to devote to sports, also. Tuesday night he went up Buffalo Run valley on a coon hunting expedition, bagged a big fellow and nearly lost his pet coon dog. The coon was only slightly wounded and when the dog jumped in to finish it the foxy animal maneuvered the fight so that both fell into a deep pool of water. There the coon swam round and round in a circle, fighting and exhausting the dog so that it almost drowned before the hunters dispatched the game and rescued the dog with a pole.

"The Gingham Girl" a Big Musical Comedy.

Those playgoers who delight in musical comedies are certain to welcome the announcement that the sensational success, "The Gingham Girl," will be the attraction at the Moose Temple theatre Wednesday night (only), October 21st. The amusing worth of the production is well known to every follower of theatrical affairs, the play registered so solidly in public favor that it has become famous from coast to coast. Among the songs which have helped to make it popular, and which will be heard here, are "The Twinkle in Your Eyes," "Tell Her While the Waltz is Playing," "When My Buddy Steps With Me," "The Wonderful Thing We Call Love," and "Sweet Cookie." These song hits were all written by one of the most popular song writers, Albert Von Tilzer.

The scenic investiture is a delight and the costumes of silken loveliness are a revelation of the modiste's art. Seats on sale at the Mott Drug Co. tomorrow (Saturday). Prices are, first floor, $2.00 and $1.50, plus tax. Balcony, $1.50, $1.00 and 50c, plus tax.

The Dim Lantern to Close for Season.

Miss Ruth Garman's popular tea room, "The Dim Lantern," that has been such a magnet for dinner and supper parties all season, will close on Monday, October 19th. Meals and luncheons will be served next Sunday for the last time this year.

After a rest of several weeks Miss Garman will return to Brooklyn, N. Y., to take up her winter work there. Mrs. Iddings will remain at "The Dim Lantern" for the winter, as has been her custom.

Centre county football teams were not very deep in the limelight last Saturday. The Penn State eleven was defeated by Georgia Tech, in New York city, by the score of 16 to 7, while the Bellefonte Academy lost to the Syracuse freshmen, at Syracuse, 6 to 0. It is the first game the Academy has lost in two seasons.

Judge Dale Dismisses Motion to Quash in the Centre County Bank Case.

The motion to quash the proceedings against Mrs. Florence F. Dale and Andrew Breese, instituted recently through a bill in equity in the Centre county courts, was denied by Judge Arthur C. Dale, last Saturday.

The bill had been one praying the court to direct Mrs. Dale and Mr. Breese, along with Geo. R. Meek, to appear and show cause why, if any, a receiver should not be appointed for the Banking Company. The two former are not residents of Pennsylvania consequently service on them had to be gotten by public notice or advertising.

This was done, but a blunder was made in having set the time for them to make an appearance before the notice had run the legal time. Accordingly a new notice was prepared and advertised and a new date set for the argument. Because of the attorneys being busy with the regular term of court it was postponed at least once and finally held on Saturday, October 3rd. Judge Orvis, representing Mrs. Dale and Mr. Breese, made no appearance in person. Instead, he filed a written argument setting up the claim that the bill should be dismissed as to them because they were not within the jurisdiction of the court.

Mr. Meek is not a party to the proceeding and it doesn't affect his status at all. In the bill it is averred that he "is a principal defendant." This, of course, every one knows he denies and will so deny when his time comes to make answer.

Now Mrs. Dale and Mr. Breese have twenty days from October 10 in which to determine what steps they will take.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock the creditors of Mrs. Mary Harris and John M. Shugert will meet in the office of James C. Furst Esq., to elect a trustee in bankruptcy in compliance with the federal court's adjudication. This meeting was to have been held last Friday, but was postponed until today because of the illness of referee M. Ward Fleming, who will preside.

Public Health Activities.

Miss Anna McCauley, of Front Royal, Virginia, who began work in Bellefonte as community nurse the first of September has been dividing her time between work in the schools and general nursing care visits and reports a total of 135 visits made during the past month. The Well Baby clinic, formerly a part of the Red Cross nursing program, is now under the supervision of Miss Ethel Campbell, State health nurse, but Miss McCauley will have a Child Health clinic for colored children of pre-school age the last Friday in every month, in the W. C. T. U. room in Petrikin hall, from 2 to 4 p. m. Mrs. Arthur Foreman is chairman of the committee and had seven children at the special clinic last week.

Since the parochial school is a private school, medical inspection is not provided by the State but the Catholic Daughters have guaranteed the money necessary and Dr. Coburn Rogers, assisted by Miss McCauley, is now making the inspection. The Daughters have also provided money for the dental hygienist and Miss MacDonald, our dental hygienist, will clean the teeth of all pupils in the parochial as she has of pupils in the public schools. Miss McCauley will continue the regular daily office hour from 1 to 1:30 p. m., in the W. C. T. U. room in Petrikin hall.

Teachers' Institute will be Held in Bellefonte Next Week.

The sixty-ninth annual sessions of the Centre county teachers' institute will be held in Bellefonte next week. All morning sessions will be held in the court house and in the afternoon the institute will be divided into departmental instruction, one department being held in the court house and the others at the high school building.

The instructors and lecturers will be Dr. Francis B. Haas, Superintendent of Public Instruction; Miss Jessie Gray, of Philadelphia; Dr. John Harrington, of the Univ. of West Virginia; Dr. Edwin Barlow Evans, of Thiel College; Horace V. Pike, of the State hospital, Danville; Miss A. Lulu Hill, of St. Louis, Ill.; Miss Erna Grassmuck and Dr. J. Lynn Barnard, both of the Department of Public Instruction, Harrisburg. Mrs. Alberta Krader, of Bellefonte, will have charge of the music and Miss Lulu Remy, of State College, pianist.

New Red Cross Officers.

At the regular monthly meeting, Monday afternoon, of the executive committee of the Bellefonte Chapter Red Cross, Hardman P. Harris was made chapter chairman to fill the vacancy of the Rev. M. DePui Maynard until the annual election in January, and Mr. John W. Stewart, new physical director of the Y. M. C. A., was made chairman of the swimming and First Aid class with the assurance of the co-operation of Mr. James and Charles Hughes, who have generously promised the Academy swimming pool for demonstrations. At the same meeting Russell Blair was named Roll Call chairman, and later accepted. The annual roll call will be early in November. E. P. Volgeman, of Washington, D. C., field representative of the Red Cross, attended the meeting and spent Tuesday consulting with officers of the committee and pushing plans for the roll call.

NEWS PURELY PERSONAL.

Mrs. Arthur Foreman went out to her former home at Youngstown, Ohio, last week, to visit there for two weeks with her sister.

Mrs. William C. Thompson is in Boston for a two week's visit. Rev. Thompson's sister being in charge of the manse during her absence.

Mrs. Winifred E. Meek-Morris, who had been home for a two week's visit with her sisters, on west High street, returned to Pittsburgh Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Mabel Allison returned to her home at Spring Mills, Saturday, from a visit of several weeks with her brother Charles and his family, of Toronto, Canada.

Mrs. Andrew Lieb, of Centre Hall, has been visiting in Bellefonte during the past week, a guest of Mrs. Dinges and Miss Emma Wistar Green, at their home on Linn street.

Miss Mary Sterrett arrived here Tuesday from Bradford, Pa., and has been a guest since then of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Walker and Miss Annie Shortidge, at their home on north Allegheny street.

Miss Sarah Benner and her niece, Mrs. H. S. Cooper, will go to Williamsport, Monday, where Miss Benner will enter a hospital as a surgical patient to have a cataract removed from one of her eyes.

Mrs. James B. Lane is with Mrs. A. Wilson Norris for the remainder of October, and is now planning to close her home for the winter, although she has made no definite arrangements as to where she will spend the time.

Mrs. McClure Gamble went to Newark, Monday, for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Joseph Ceader, and to aid her in preparing to leave there to join her son, Joseph Ceader Jr., who was recently transferred to Cleveland from Harrison, N. J. Joseph

Ferd Beizer, of Philipsburg, was in town last Thursday; having motored over with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Flegal, just to shake hands with friends here and have a few hours about the old home that Ferd knows about as well as he does his new one.

Mrs. W. E. Wright, of Harrisburg, with Miss Mary Cameron, of that city, and Miss Mary Hale, of Washington, D. C., as driving guests, motored to Bellefonte last Saturday and were guests of Miss Mary H. Linn until their return home on Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. John A. Woodcock and her cousin, Mrs. Miller, of Williamsport, will go to Philadelphia early in the week, intending to spend several weeks there with relatives of Mrs. Miller. During their stay, Mrs. Woodcock will be under the care of eye specialists.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger E. Willard, of East Orange, N. J., have been in Bellefonte since Monday, with Mr. Willard's mother, Mrs. D. I. Willard, having stopped in Bellefonte on their way to Wilkes-Barre and Grindstone, where they will visit with other members of the family.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. S. Furst, of Philadelphia, arrived in Bellefonte Sunday morning, remaining for an over-night visit with his mother, Mrs. A. O. Furst. It was Mr. Furst's first visit back home since his very serious illness of several months ago, and from which he has now entirely recovered.

Mrs. Mary McDermot Harris and her grand-son, Joseph Snyder, returned to their home in Philadelphia, Saturday, after a week's visit here with her sister and brother, at the McDermot home on south Allegheny street. Mrs. Harris had come to Centre county the week before for the funeral of James Burns, at Snow Shoe.

Mrs. E. H. Richard, with Miss Charlotte Powell and Miss Emma Montgomery as guests, left Monday on a drive to Philadelphia, where they have been spending the week shopping and visiting. While there they have been with Mrs. Richard's relatives in the city and at Norristown and with Miss Powell's niece, Mrs. Hoopes, at West Chester.

Mrs. George B. Thompson will accompany her mother, Mrs. Callaway, on her return to New York tomorrow, expecting to go from there to Philadelphia to be under the observation of her physicians for a time. Mrs. Callaway and Mrs. Thompson will motor to Lewistown in the morning, guests on the drive of Charles M. Thompson, of Lemont.

Miss Daise Keichline, who will leave tomorrow for Gettysburg, where she has accepted the position of welfare worker for the Children's Aid and Red Cross, in Potter county, will be accompanied by her mother, Mrs. John M. Keichline, her aunt, Miss Ella Wagner, and her sister, Miss Anne Keichline. The party will drive over to Miss Anne Keichline's car, returning tomorrow night.

The Rev. and Mrs. Homer C. Knox had as house guests the after part of last week, a party from Harrisburg, which included Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mount and their son, Thomas Jr., and Mrs. Elmer Parks and her son, Elmer Jr., who drove up Thursday, visiting here with the Knox family until Friday evening. John Knox, a mall clerk of Harrisburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Knox's eldest son, was with his parents in Bellefonte for an over Sunday visit.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Garthoff and their grand-son, Jack Blackford, who is here from Huntingdon on a visit, will leave today on a ten day's motor trip through western Pennsylvania and Ohio. Going direct to Pitscairn they will visit over Sunday with a nephew of Mrs. Garthoff and from there Mr. Garthoff and Jack will attend a P. O. S. of A. convention at Washington, Pa., going on into Ohio the beginning of the week, where they will spend the remainder of the time with relatives at Bucyrus and Ada, returning home Sunday.

J. Herbert Ward, of Pine Grove Mills, Shamokin and Philadelphia, was in Bellefonte for part of Saturday on his way from Pine Grove, where he had been going over the scenes of his boyhood for a few days, back to Philadelphia. We hadn't seen Herb for five years and time has wrought little change on him. He is still in the phonograph business and as enthusiastic as ever about it. You know he is recognized next to Mr. Edison in continuous devotion to the talking machine and when it comes down to making a new one out of an old one we believe Herb hasn't an equal. The only tragedy that has marred his even tempered existence was the death, some time ago of his musical dog "Dan." "Dan" played the drum with his tail and he was a good drummer, too.

Alexander Morrison was at Stroudsburg last week, representing the Logan fire company at a firemen's convention in session there.

Mr. and Mrs. George Denithorne, of Pittsburgh, were week-end guests of Mrs. Denithorne's mother, Mrs. Scott, at her home on Linn street.

J. Harvey McClure, of Aurora, Ill., was here for an over Sunday visit with his father James I. McClure, last week. Having been east for the Railroad convention at Atlantic City, he stopped here enroute home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Reynolds, of Glasgow, Pa., spent Sunday in town; having been guests of the former's mother, Mrs. Ella Reynolds, of Bishop street. Mrs. Reynolds has closed her apartments here and gone to Glasgow where she expects to spend the winter with her son and his family.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Gamble, with their daughters, Elizabeth and Mrs. William T. O'Brien, left the early part of the week on a drive to Mrs. O'Brien's home at Philippi, West Virginia, following a late summer visit she and her son had made in Bellefonte. Since going to Philippi, Mr. O'Brien has been with the Estella Coal Co.

Mrs. Samuel Neving, of Rochester, N. Y., with Mr. Neving, father of W. H. Neving, of Sioux City, Iowa, stopped in Bellefonte last week for a day, to see Mr. Neving's niece, the Misses Neving, of the American Lime and Stone Co., and some friends of the Neving family, who date back to the time "Sam" Neving was a resident of Bellefonte. Mrs. Neving and her father-in-law were on a drive to Tyrone, to visit with other members of the family.

John Gochbauer, who came to Bellefonte Saturday, from Lancaster, to make his home for the present with his grandmother, Mrs. Wilbur T. Twitmore, and Mr. Twitmore, is the only son of Mrs. Twitmore's only daughter, Margaret Brachbill Gochbauer. Both Mr. and Mrs. Gochbauer are now dead, their daughter having gone to make her home with her paternal grandparents, the boy has come here to be with Mrs. Twitmore.

We had a pleasant caller last Thursday afternoon in the person of Samuel Corl, successful farmer, rock-ribbed Democrat and highly respected citizen of Ferguson township. The paper was on the press and there was a lull in other work so we had time, and Mr. Corl had some too, to sit down and talk. Being of the same stripe in politics we naturally turned to governmental affairs and before we quit had about every problem settled—to our mutual satisfaction. We did the job so completely that we are convinced that if President Coolidge and Governor Pinchot were to step out and give Sam and me a chance we'd make everybody happy.

High Officials of P. R. R. Visited State College Yesterday.

President W. W. Atterbury and the entire board of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, some forty in all, arrived here yesterday morning from Philadelphia and drove by automobile to State College. Their visit was one of two hours only but it was fraught with much significance.

The new president of the Pennsy has always been friendly to the big Centre county institution of learning and the fact that so shortly after his elevation he should head such an impressive delegation on a visit there gives food for thought, at least.

Coming so soon after the recent Interstate Commerce hearing on the matter of excessive freight rates to State College it looks as though Gen. Atterbury might have in mind solving that problem by extending his own lines into that place.

This is only conjecture, of course, but we're convinced that something is doing in that direction.

Davis — Cornmesser. — Cornelius Vernon Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Davis, of Philipsburg, and Miss Agnes Cornmesser, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Blair W. Cornmesser, of Bellwood, but who has been employed in the registrar's office at State College the past three years, were married last Thursday evening at the home of the bride's brother, John Cornmesser, at Tipton. They will make their home in Pittsburgh where the bridegroom, a graduate of State College, is employed by the Bell Telephone company.

Flower Announcement.

Mrs. Geo. A. Miller announces that she can supply all the seasonal flowers promptly. Chrysanthemums, Easter lilies, snapdragons, carnations and roses are in now and more beautiful than ever. Funeral designs and bridal bouquets by professional designers are a specialty. Call or write Mrs. Geo. A. Miller, Bellefonte, Pa.

Photos for Sale.

First published photos of wrecked mailplane, before and after accident, and views of new airplane field. Set of four, $1.00.—Wm. J. Sager, Bellefonte, Pa.

County Commissioner James W. Swabb has moved from his farm near Luident Hall to his home in Milesburg, which will put a little more Democratic leaven in that long-time Republican stronghold.
