Electoral Frauds in Philadelphia.

The investigation of the primary election in Philadelphia has revealed a measure of political rottenness in that city that is alarming. In every election division examined the most flagrant frauds have been exposed. The returns in some seventy districts showed that one of the candidates for judge of the municipal court received no votes at all. The investigation has proved that in one of these districts he had a majority of the votes polled and in all of them he had a considerable number. In fact the difference between the vote cast for him and the return made raises a doubt as to the nomination of his antagonist in the contest. But the antagonist is on the

In justice to those concerned in this investigation it must be said that the inquiry has been vigorous and searching. Witnesses have been intimidated, election officers have sworn falsely and one of the judges of the court prostituted his high office in order to protect the machine from exposure. But the inquiry was pursued courageously and diligently and the shameful facts proclaimed openly. This is an encouraging sign of revival of the spirit of jus- | yet been apprehended. tice which in former years served to deter the machine from executing its plans to defraud. It recalls to mind the battles for righteousness fought by the late Mr. Blankenburg and his associates twenty or more years ago.

But there is "a fly in the ointment" and the danger is that the prosecution will be dropped before the criminals responsible for the frauds are brought Monday of January next a district attorney, a creature of the machine and entirely servile, will be installed and whatever expectation of prosecution may exist at present will vanish. It is possible, of course, to expedite the proceedings and bring the criminals to trial before that time, but not probable. The "law's delay" is a potent force in the protection of crime and only an equally forceful public sentiment will overcome it.

CLEMSON.-Frank H. Clemson died very suddenly and unexpectedly of a heart attack while in the bath room at his home at State College about six o'clock on Monday evening. Several times during the day he had complained of what he believed was a pain in his stomach but it was not sufficient to cause alarm and he was published unless accompanied by the real around as usual.

A son of Amos E. and Lydia Rider Clemson he was born at Baileyville on April 22nd, 1867, making his age 58 years, 6 months and 4 days. He was educated in the public schools of Ferguson township and when but twentyfive years of age was appointed superintendent of the ore mines at Scotia, at that time conducted by the Carnegie Steel company, of Pittsburgh. He remained there until that company ceased operations when he purchased a farm in Buffalo Run valley and engaged in farming. Several years ago he went to Davenport, Iowa, and studied for the profession of a chiropractor, and on his return to Centre county established an office in State College where he has since been located. He was a member of the Presbyterian church and a Mason in high standing, being a member of Bellefonte lodge No. 268, F. & A. M., Bellefonte chapter No. 241, R. A. M., Constans Commandery No. 33, Knight Templars, Jaffa Temple Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, of Altoona, and the Williamsport Consistory Scottish Rite Masons. In politics he was a Republican and a number of years ago was quite active among his party workers.

In 1892 he married Miss Eva Gray, a daughter of G. Wesley Gray, of Buffalo Run valley, who survives with five children, namely: Frederick Gray and Daniel Robert Clemson, both of State College; Miss Sarah C., of Elgin, Ill.; George W. and Frank Jr., of State College. He was one of a family of six children, only one of whom survives, Daniel M. Clemson, of Pitts-

Mackie had charge of the funeral services which were held at his late home at State College at ten o'clock yesterday morning, after which the remains were taken to Buffalo Run valley where the interment in Gray's cemetery was in charge of his Spring Township Should Reward brother Masons.

MATTERN.—The venerable Jacob Mattern, retired merchant, died at his home in Warriorsmark on Tuesday evening at 8:45 o'clock. He had been put an up-and-doing Judge on the ill a long time with kidney complications and was 79 years old last month. Deceased was born on a farm in Warriorsmark valley and secured his education at the Pine Grove Mills Academy. In young manhood he entered the mercantile business and continued in it until about ten years ago, those units of the Division called out when he retired and turned the sucto search for the lost airmail pilot cessful store he had built up at Warriorsmark over to his son Frank.

He was a splendid type of man strong in character and firm in christian faith. His widow and two sons, Frank, of Warriorsmark, and Hayes,

For a hundred and more years back it has been called "Slab Cabin" creek and the children and grand-children of those who settled along its banks know it today as "Slab Cabin" creek. "Slab Cabin" means something in the history of College and Harris townships for the creek, the church and the cemetery, all of the same name, are traditions they want to live.

It might have been that "The Branch" is a later name given to the with the name "The Branch" which, as we recall it, designated that section of the district where the Boalsburg road branches off from the White Hall road. The same thing applies to the suggestion that the Highway through the Bald Eagle be called the Governor's Trail. While we all honor and revere the memory of Curtin and Beaver and Hastings the Bald Eagle mountains and the Bald Eagle creek were given their names from the Indians who knew them long before white men came into Centre county and historically the name "Bald Eagle" trail is the appropriate one.

Good Service.

Next Tuesday the voters of Spring township will elect a tax collector for the term of four years. The office is one of greatest importance to every tax payer in the township. Qualifications for it are peculiar because the person who fills it must, first of all, be a thorough going practical business man who knows that taxes must be gathered if the township business is to pay its way and with this must be daughter of Peter W. and Rebecca mixed the spirit of humanity that strives to collect without needlessly distressing any of the tax payers.

Altoona swung into form first and shortly after the beginning of the second period by a series of well executed line plunges and with the assistance of a fifteen yard penalty pushed over a touchdown stream in consequence of confusion for the first score. Bellefonte then settled to her proper form and by short gains through the line mixed with favorable exchanges of punts took the ball to the Altoona thirtyyard line. From this position, McCullough, the local quarterback, crossed end run, the first one of the game attempted by the Bellefonte team. Waite took the ball and with good interference eluded several tacklers to cross the opponents line. The half found the score tied and the ball near midfield.

Altoona threatened strongly in the third period and advanced to the eight yard line where they were held for downs. Heverly punted and a few minutes later the Altoona quarterback made the serious blunder of attempting a line play on fourth down with three yards to gain. Bellefonte received the ball on downs and immediately punted and shortly afterward Altoona repeated her error and Bellefonte again had the ball within Altoona territory as the third period ended. A few years ago the boys from down the line were regular opponents of the red and white and were always considered a hard team to beat. They lost one game to Lock Haven by the score of 20 to 6, showing, by a comparison of scores between them, Lock Haven, Mr. McDowell is crippled so that Altoona and Bellefonte, that B. H. A heavy team, a fighting team, one that knows the fundamentals and the higher elements of foottwo backs that are smaller editions of Red Grange and an aerial attack that includes every type of pass in use. The Bellefonte High gridders know they have a mighty task before them and have been practicing hard all week to the accomplishment of that task. The meeting of Spring township tax payers, held in the court house on Wednesday evening, was not as largely attended as it should have been, because the question at issue is one of paramount interest to every resident of that township. It has to do with the proposed issue of $64,000 worth of bonds, the money to be used for the erection of a new and adequate school building at Pleasant Gap, and which the voters will be called upon to sanction or reject at the polls next Tues-

The situation is as follows: The southern portion of Spring township has not ample school facilities for all its children of school age, and the school board is up against the proposition of providing more room. All the present school buildings are practically obsolete and the board has the power to decide the question of the erection of another small building or one large enough to permit of centralizing all the schools in the south side, nine in number, and the High school in addition. The directors are inclined to the centralization proposition, and they have the authority to increase the millage to obtain funds to carry out their plans or float a bond issue, but the latter can only be done with the consent of the majority of the voters. As it looks now, the new school building will be built, and the only question at issue is the way of financing it.

At the present time the school millage in Spring township is 15 mills, which on a $5,000 valuation makes the school tax $75. If the millage is raised to 35 it will mean a tax of $175. If the bond issue is aproved the directors are confident they can float it without any increase in millage. The erection of one building at Pleasant Gap is designed to take care of all the schools in the southern portion of the township. As stated above, this will be the consolidation of nine schools, and as the State allows $200 per school where centralization is made this will mean $1,800 additional the school district will receive from and will make a successful Judge. the State. The pupils from the schools that will be closed will be transported to Pleasant Gap, and the State will pay sixty per cent. of the cost of sion and by splendid head and foot work placed the ball on the fifteen always rumors, hearsays and individ-Spring township is paying the Belleyard line.
