

Democratic Watchman

Bellefonte, Pa., October 30, 1925.

even celebration the library at the Y. M. C. A. will not be open this (Friday) evening.

ed church, will hold their annual Thanksgiving sale, in the Variety shop, Wednesday, November 25th.

the American Legion card party next Tuesday evening, at 8:30 o'clock, where the election returns will be received.

at Halloweven supper party of twenty covers, given Monday evening, at the Sycamore club, which was very elaborately decorated for the occasion.

Freshman," Harold Lloyd's latest picture, at Moose theatre this, Friday, and Saturday evenings. He's a sport model freshman with senior ambitions.

—The Bellefonte Academy football team won its game in New York, last Friday, from the University of New York freshmen by the score of 41 to 0. What was forecast as a hard struggle proved an easy victory for the Bellefonte kickers.

—The American Legion Auxiliary will serve a chicken and waffle supper election evening, from 5 to 8 o'clock, at the Y. M. C. A. Adults, 75 cents; children, 35 cents. The auxiliary will also serve sandwiches and coffee at the public building on Howard street all day election day.

ball team left on Wednesday in "Miss Nittany" to motor to Boston, Mass., where today they will play the Dean Academy team at Somerville. Two nights will be spent on the way to Boston, but they plan to make the trip home by Monday morning.

—In our report of the county teachers' institute last week we inadvertently omitted to mention the fact that the musical part of the institute was in charge of Mrs. Krader, of Bellefonte, which is sufficient assurance that it was one of the conspicuous and most enjoyable features of the gathering.

—A Bellefonte man who has kept the weather observations during the month of October is authority for the statement that we have not had two days of continuous sunshine during the entire month. While there has been considerable rain there has not been enough of it to raise the streams to any appreciable extent.

—The Ladies Aid of the Evangelical church of Bellefonte will hold a cafeteria supper Saturday evening, November 7th, beginning at 6 o'clock, in the social room of the church. The supper will be followed by a "Get-together" meeting. Music and singing by the Imperial quartette, of Williamsport. Don't miss it.

—The high-class pictures shown at the Scenic continue to draw good crowds every evening in the week.
These pictures can be seen only at the Scenic and all lovers of the screen will miss one evening's program will not have another opportunity of seeing them. The big orchestral pipe organ continues to please patrons of this old-established place of amusement, and naturally adds to the delight of all patrons.

—Charles Kustaborder, who was injured while in the act of throwing a belt in the C. Y. Wagner & Co. mill, last Thursday morning, is still confined to the Centre County hospital but getting along as well as can be expected. It was at first thought that his left arm was broken in two places but this fortunately is not the case, as it is broken in one place only. The fractured ribs are causing him more trouble than the broken arm.

—We acknowledge receipt of a very interesting little booklet, "Our Town," from the press of the Nittany Printing and Publishing company, State College. As its title implies it is a very intimate presentation of the development and growth of the town that has risen like magic on the mountain locked plain at the end of Mt.
Nittany. It is done in buff and sepia, profusely illuminated, and is very creditable as to execution and interesting in contents.

—At a meeting of the board of trustees of State College, on Saturday, E. S. Bayard, of Pittsburgh, and John S. Fisher, of Indiana, were elected members of the trustee executive committee to succeed the late E. R. Pettibone, of Wilkes-Barre, and Hon. Ellis L. Orvis, of Bellefonte, a retiring member of the board. Judge H. Walton Mitchell, president of the board, reported progress in the matter of the election of a new president of the college to take the place of Dr. John W.
Thomas, recently resigned.

—Sunday was not a very favorable day for airmen men, because of the high wind, but it resulted in two records being broken, the slow one and the fast one. Pilot H. A. Chandler flew from Bellefonte to New York in one hour and five minutes, which is a record for the trip. Going west, however, pilot S. S. Kaufman was four hours and twelve minutes in coming from New York to Bellefonte, and he kept right on the course the entire distance. He was compelled to set down in Sunbury for a supply of gas and oil, but the above time was his actual time in the air.

TWO MEN KILLED AT LIMESTONE QUARRIES.

Collapse of Trestle Causes Death of George Letterman Jr. and Russell King.

The collapse of the high trestle carrying the narrow gauge railroad at the Armor Gap plant of the American Lime & Stone company, on Monday morning, caused the instant death of George Letterman Jr., of Milesburg, and so badly injured Russell King, of near Jacksonville, that he died at the Centre County hospital at one o'clock p. m. Tuesday. The trestle ran from No. 35 quarry to the crusher at No. 15 plant. It was forty feet high and over two hundred feet in length. Russell King was the driver of the dinky locomotive which was attached to four loaded cars of stone, George Letterman and his brother Alfred being the brakemen.

The dinky was pushing the cars to the crusher and the little train had just gotten out onto the first span when the entire trestle, seven spans in all, collapsed and fell to the ground.
Letterman was killed outright. King was pinned fast in the cab of the din-key and was badly burned from escaping steam, in addition to suffering a concussion of the brain. Alfred Letterman suffered contusions of the head and body but his condition is not believed critical.

The mass of timber imprisoned the men beneath it and it was necessary to resort to the use of dynamite to loosen the entanglement. The injured men were rushed to the hospital as quickly as possible and at first it was thought that the life of King could be saved, but his injuries proved more serious than appeared evident at first.

The cause of the accident is not definitely known. The trestle was built in April, 1921, and was composed of heavy timbers set on concrete foundations, or piers, with steel girders on top. It had been inspected from time to time and was always reported safe and in good condition.

Russell King, the dead engine driver, was a son of William and Mary King, and was born at Lyon-town thirty-two years ago. He had been an employee of the American Lime & Stone company ever since he grew to manhood. Both his parents are dead but he is survived by his wife, who before her marriage was Miss Marion Mechtley, and one son, Miles, aged about three years. He also leaves the following brothers and sisters: William, Thomas, Agnew and Charles King, all of Coleville; Oliver, of Lyontown; John, of Curtin; Mrs.
Nellie Symmonds, of Beaver Falls; Mrs. Verna Bond, in Florida; Mrs.
Grace Wagner, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Miss Martha, of Philadelphia.
The funeral will be held at two o'clock this (Friday) afternoon, burial to be made in the Meyers cemetery.

George Letterman was a son of George W. and Myrtle Rager Letterman and was born in Milesburg December 4th, 1901, hence was 23 years, 10 months and 14 days old. He, also, had been an employee of the American Lime & Stone company for some time.
He was unmarried but is survived by his parents and the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Elmer Rockey, of Bellefonte; Alfred, Russell, Kathryn, Helen, Elmer, Donald and Mahlon, all at home. Funeral services were held in the Methodist church, at Milesburg, at two o'clock yesterday afternoon by Rev. R. Layman, after which burial was made in the Treziulny cemetery.

Everything Ready for Big Halloweven Carnival Tonight.

Everything is in readiness for the big Halloweven carnival to be held in Bellefonte this evening under the auspices of the Bellefonte Lodge of Elks. All that will be needed to make it a success will be the right kind of weather. Last year the big parade was sadly marred by a hard rain, which began just as the parade was ready to move and continued most of the night. If the weather forecast is to be depended upon nothing of the kind will happen this year.

As published in this paper last week, the parade will form on south Allegheny and Bishop streets at 7:30 o'clock and move promptly at eight.
Mummers and others intending to take part should be on hand in ample time to form in line. The route of the parade has already been announced.
The list of prizes this year is on a par with that of former years and are worth contesting for.

Inasmuch as the Harvest Queen contest did not close until ten o'clock last night, long after the "Watchman" went to press we are unable to state who the lucky young lady will be, but as there were only three contestants all will be in evidence in the parade tonight.

Centre County Sabbath School Conference.

Do not forget to attend the annual young peoples' conference to be held in the Presbyterian church, State College, on October 31st.

Rev. Norman I. Clemens, former pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Philadelphia, and Miss Marian I. Thompson, two State workers of great ability, will be the instructors.
Each school of the county is entitled to two delegates. All pastors and superintendents are urged to attend and assist in making this conference a real success and showing to our young people how to labor for Jesus Christ and the upbuilding of humanity.

Presbyterian Home to be Inspected November 12.

At a meeting of the board of directors, held at Hollidaysburg last Wednesday, Thursday, November 12th, was set as the day for a public inspection of the new Presbyterian home for the aged near Hollidaysburg. By that time it is hoped to have the remodeling and furnishing of the home practically completed. It is expected that the home will be open for guests on or before Thanksgiving.

Hughes Files Defense for New Rail- road Line.

The movement to build a new trunk line railroad through Pennsylvania has not been entirely smothered by railroad companies opposing it, as was evidenced on Monday when Charles E.
Hughes, former Secretary of State, filed a defense with the Interstate Commerce Commission, at Washington. Another hearing probably will be held at a future date. The road in question is the one the survey for which runs through Centre county and is known as the Pittsburgh and Eastern.

Rewards Paid for the Finding of Pilot Ames' Body.

On Monday postmaster John L.
Kniesly paid to the twenty-four men who composed the searching party which found the body of the late pilot Charles H. Ames the various rewards offered for the recovery of the body, a total of $1,100. This included $500 offered by the pilots association of America, $500 paid by Mrs. Mary E. Robinson, of Jackson, Mich., a sister of the dead pilot, and $100 paid by the Masonic lodge, of Cleveland, of which he was a member. As the reward was divided between twenty-four men and boys it figured up just $45.83 each. And thus ended the last act in the tragedy of the mailplane pilot who plunged to his death on Nittany mountain on the night of October 1st.

Two Men from Mercer County Electrocuted.

John Girsch and Michael Weiss, of Mercer county, were electrocuted at the Rockview penitentiary on Monday morning for the murder of William Z.
Turner, proprietor of a filling station at West Middlesex, on the night of March 1st, 1924. When Girsch was being taken to the chair he said:
"Wait a minute; can't one man take all the blame? I was there when the old man was killed." From this it would seem as if Girsch fired the shot which killed Turner. When Weiss was taken to the chair he declared he was innocent of the crime of which he had been convicted but was ready to go. Both young men were only twenty-two years of age. The bodies were claimed and were sent back to Mercer county for burial. These were the first electrocutions of men from that county.

Hunting Season for Small Game Will Open Next Monday.

It is probably not a matter of news to the well informed hunter to tell him that the hunting season for small game, such as squirrel, pheasant, wild turkey and rabbits, will open next Monday. November 1st is really the day, but inasmuch as that date falls on Sunday, and hunting on Sunday is prohibited by law, the enthusiasts will have to wait until Monday morning to hie to the woods and try their luck.

Quite a number of hunters have been out in the woods the past few weeks scouting around and while they are not giving exact locations away they report game more plentiful than it has been the past two or three years. This is especially true of pheasants and rabbits, while quite a number of wild turkeys have been seen in certain locations. All in all prospects for a good season's sport are rather encouraging.

Harold Mayes Had Narrow Escape from Asphyxiation.

Harold Mayes, son of J. Will Mayes, of Howard, was about as near death as a man can be, last Friday night, and live to tell about it. He is employed by the State Highway Department as a truck driver and last Friday night decided to overhaul the motor. He was doing the work in the Highway garage on Wilson street.

Along about twelve o'clock people living in that vicinity heard some one calling for help but thinking it an intoxicated individual did not investigate but called state highway patrolman Millard Solt. He went to the garage and on opening the door saw Mayes lying on his face on the floor of the garage. Realizing that he had been overcome by carbon monoxide gas Mr. Solt tied a handkerchief over his nostrils, ran in and carried Mayes out into the open. Securing help he rushed him to the Centre County hospital where it was discovered that his heart had almost stopped beating.
Quick work, however, restored circulation and in due time he revived.

Mayes later stated that when he realized he was being overcome by the gas he attempted to make for the door but was so confused that he went the wrong way and fell down, and the fact that he was lying on the floor is what probably saved his life.

—So far there has not been any good reason advanced as to why Herbert Auman should not be re-elected tax collector of Bellefonte. 70-43-1t

RECEIVER TO BE APPOINTED IN CENTRE COUNTY BANK CASE TO-MORROW.

At a hearing in the court house on Tuesday morning, Judge Dale entered a final decree of judgment, pro confesso, against Florence F. Dale, Andrew Breese and Geo. R. Meek in the matter of the bill in equity that had been entered against them by Mary C. Harris and the administrator of the estate of the late John M. Shugert. The bill was a prayer to have the court appoint a receiver for the banking company of which it alleged that the three defendants named are partners.

Mr. Meek accepted service and entered a demurrer which meant that he would answer when Mrs. Dale and Mr.
Breese were brought into court. Service on them was had by advertisement and their attorneys contended that the court was without jurisdiction. However, the point of law raised may be, Judge Dale took the matter in his own hands, granted the prayer of the bill and entered the decree as above stated. At the same time he announced that he will appoint a receiver for the banking company tomorrow at 10 o'clock.

So far as we are advised the action has no effect on the defendants as individuals. It merely permits the appointment of a receiver for the company as an entity, leaving the question of fact as to who are its partners for later determination.

The receiver, after appointment, may go ahead and marshal the assets of the bank.

Desertion and Other Cases Heard in Court.

At a special session of court, on Tuesday morning, W. G. Runkle asked for the discharge from jail of Andy Koshko, who had served his sentence of one month but had no money with which to pay his fine of $50 and costs.
The court ordered his discharge and gave him ninety days in which to pay the fine and costs.

Russell David Koon, of State College, was brought before the court on a desertion and non-support charge, but his attorney announced that he and his wife had patched up their troubles and the defendant would pay the costs. He was discharged.

Isaac Rider, of Gatesburg, was charged with desertion and non-support by his wife and was ordered to pay the costs and $20 a month for his wife's support.

Harry Horner was called up on a surety of the peace charge but was discharged for lack of evidence and the costs put upon the county.

John W. Bair charged with desertion and non-support, was discharged and given three months in which to pay the costs.

Thomas B. Reed, a music salesman, was charged with failure to stop when signalled by highway patrolman Millard Solt. He was fined $15 and costs.

Anna Florey, of State College, was charged with making threats to kill and was required to give bond in the sum of $500 to keep the peace for one year and pay the costs in the case, being given time in which to pay the latter.

—Vote for Runkle for District Attorney.

Barney Google Coming to the Moose Theatre.

That most popular of all popular cartoon characters, Barney Google, is to be in our midst again at Moose Temple theatre, Thursday, November 5th, one night only. Not to know Barney and his favorite stee, "Spark Plug" is like being unable to remember the words of that classic song, "Home, Sweet Home." Barney and Spark Plug are an institution. An American institution, by the way, and one destined to endure as long as effervescent and insinuating humor finds receptive reaction in the lives and existence of we poor mortals.

Therefore it behooves all of us who like Barney and Spark Plug to get on the band wagon and give the twain a rousing welcome. We may rest assured that these creations will at least be in capable hands. As for the supporting company, it is promised that nothing has been left undone to furnish a performance commensurate with the best that Broadway can contribute. Pretty girls, young women who can sing and dance, are to the fore. All in all there is every indication that Barney and his familiar thoroughbred will more than deliver the goods.

With the Sick.

Mrs. James Weaver is now so critically ill at her home near Milesburg, that no hope is felt for her recovery.
Mrs. Weaver has not been well for the greater part of the past year.

Mrs. C. C. Shuey was thought to be
