The election is over and all contests decided. No amount of argument or explanation will change the result, and the quicker we all settle back to normalcy the better. And that reminds us, it is only six weeks until Christmas, and if you want to do your shopping early you'll have to begin soon.

A total of 998 checks aggregating $690,343.45 were sent out by the State Treasurer last week to the various boroughs and cities in the State, it being the annual distribution of the income from foreign fire insurance companies doing business in the State, and which under the law goes to the various firemen's relief associations. Centre county's share of the fund was $2,387, of which amount Bellefonte received $742.94.

The high class pictures shown at the Scenic continue to draw good crowds every night during the week, which shows that the movie fans of Bellefonte appreciate quality in pictures. The fact that many of them comment upon the splendid tone of the new pipe organ also shows that they have a discriminating ear for music. The pictures shown at the Scenic good ones and it is only the regular who see them all.

The "Watchman" is the only paper in Centre county to publish the complete returns of Tuesday's election, not only on the State and county tickets but for every one of the sixty-four districts in the county. This is in line with the "Watchman's" policy at all times, to give the news when it is news, because the publishers realize that the voters in every district in the county are just as much interested in who their local officers will be as in who were elected to fill the county offices.

The "oldest inhabitant" can scarcely remember a thirtieth of October when snow fell from morning until night, as it did last Friday. Of course most of it in Bellefonte melted during the day so that at no time was there more than two inches or thereabouts on the ground, but out on the mountains the snow was from four to five inches in depth. And that was the last Friday in the month and according to that old saw the weather of that day will rule that of the following month, but let us all hope that this will not be the case this time.

Two deer were brought into Eckel's meat market on Saturday, one a two point buck shot over in Georges valley and abandoned by the hunter, and a small doe which ran into a wire fence up near Port Matilda and broke its leg. Game wardens brought both carcasses to Bellefonte and after being skinned and dressed the meat was sent to the Centre County hospital. On Monday another big two point buck was brought in from Dix Run. It was one of four deer that jumped from a high bank down onto the road, the buck falling and breaking its neck.

Edward Hepburn's Chevrolet runabout was badly damaged, shortly after six o'clock last Friday night, when it was run into by a Ford touring car driven by Edward King, of Valley View, on High street just above the bridge. Mr. Hepburn had driven up north Water street and was just making the turn to go up High street. He was watching a car on his right which was crossing the bridge and also headed up the street. King was on his way down High and attempted to run between Hepburn's car and the one going up street with the result that he ran into the Hepburn car, tore off the right front wheel and mud guard, damaged the radiator, bent the radius rod, etc. He was unable to stop his car until it ran onto the bridge and bumped into another car. The only fortunate thing is that nobody was hurt.

ELK'S HALLOW-EEN CARNIVAL MARRED BY WINTRY WEATHER.

Parade Not Nearly as Big as in Former Years.

Bad weather and wet and slushy streets, the result of an all day's snowfall, last Friday, had a depressing effect on the Elk's Halloween carnival held in Bellefonte that evening. In fact interest in the carnival was at no time on a par with that of former years. The Harvest Queen contest did not become really exciting until the last two or three days. Only three young ladies contested for the honor, Mary Thompson, Eloise Zimmerman and Christine Weaver. When the final vote was counted last Thursday evening it showed Miss Thompson a winner with almost fourteen thousand votes. The total vote cast was over forty thousand. As the winner of the contest Miss Thompson was awarded a handsome diamond ring and had the honor of riding in the parade dressed as a queen is supposed to be.

In the parade, on Friday evening were the Bellefonte lodge of Elks, Wetzler's band, of Milesburg, the Harvest Queen, I. O. O. F. band, the Mummies, Lemont band, the Logan fire company apparatus, etc. The Mummies were not nearly so plentiful this year as last, caused no doubt by the bad weather. Among the features were three dogs, one labelled Keller, one Walker and one Dale, while the owners carried a placard bearing the question, "Which do you want for Judge?" "King winter and his court" was portrayed by six young ladies, Mrs. Ogden B. Malin, as the king, Miss Mary Shelton, Miss Winifred Gates, Mrs. R. C. Blaney, Miss Nina Lamb, and Miss Anna Straub. Of course there were numerous other representations of interesting characters but it was impossible to get a line on all of them.

While the carnival did not prove the money maker this year that it has in former years, it was not a loser for the Elks. In fact they anticipate clearing about three hundred dollars. Following is a complete list of the prizes and winners:

Dental Hygiene Work in Schools Shows Marked Improvement in Teeth.

Miss Helen MacDonald, the dental hygienist employed in our schools for four months last year and who has just completed two months' work here this year gives the following gratifying report:

"The work of the dental hygienist began early in the school year with the pupils of the first and second grades in the Allegheny street school. The next patients to be treated were the pupils of the first, second, third and fourth grades at the Bishop street school, then third grade at the Allegheny street school.

According to actual records kept by the hygienist, there is a marked improvement in the general mouth health condition of the children that were given a prophylaxis last year, and came in again this year as patients; also a greater number of children responded this year with no timidity being shown by them at any time. This point may be verified by using the second grade of the Bishop street school as an example: Last year the enrollment of girls from this grade were 20, the patients totalling 6; this year the enrollment of girls is 14 and the patients numbered 14. There were 18 boys enrolled and all had a prophylaxis. Miss Mame Woods is the teacher in this grade and her cooperation was splendid.

The improved condition of the children's teeth may be shown by the pupils of the fourth grade, Bishop street school. Last year there were 28 patients to be treated from that grade and only one had clean teeth; this year, with a total of 32 patients, 18 had clean teeth.

Before the child is treated his mouth is thoroughly examined to find the condition of his teeth as to cleanliness, to note if fistulas are present, how often he brushes his teeth, number of cavities, and condition of the gum tissue—healthy or otherwise. All this is checked off plainly on a chart and given the child to show his parents. In this way the parent becomes acquainted with the child's dental deficiencies and may have them remedied.

The six year molar, when decayed, is always very plainly shown and the hygienist adds a few words to stress the vital importance of this tooth in order that the proper care and immediate visit to dentist be assured.

An added feature this year was tooth brush drills which were given to all the grades. This was necessary, as frequently the children insisted that they had brushed their teeth when, upon examination, their teeth looked otherwise. Therefore, to allay all suspicion the children were taught how to brush their teeth and responded very well.

The number of children given a prophylaxis this year totals 231. Last year the patients from the same number of grades totaled 190.

The idea of having a dental clinic is being considered by the dentists and it would be a tremendous help.

Miss MacDonald went to State College last Saturday to work two months under the tuberculosis committee and expects to be in the schools of Lemont, Boalsburg and State College. She will return in the spring to fill out the remainder of the time allotted to Bellefonte.

Many Hunters Disappointed on Opening Day of Season.

The woods and the fields were full of hunters on Monday, the opening day of the hunting season, and the big majority were disappointed with the luck that attended their efforts to bag a creditable showing of game. In fact the only kind of game that seemed plentiful was rabbits. Some hunters got their limit of five, but they were the exception. Others got two and three but the most of them returned home empty-handed. Squirrel, pheasants and wild turkeys are either very scarce or kept well under cover as very few of either were killed. Squirrel have not been plentiful in Centre county for a dozen years but it is only the past two or three years that the decline of the pheasant has been so pronounced, and hunters are naturally at a loss to account for it. Wild turkeys have never been very numerous, being found only in certain spots in the woodlands of the county, and they are a hard bird to shoot under any and all circumstances.

Borough Dads Make Record for Briefness.

The borough dads established a record for briefness on Monday night. Six members were present at a regular meeting and they were in session less than fifteen minutes. There were no verbal nor written communications. The Street committee had nothing of importance to report. The Water committee reported digging ditch for new pipe on Halfmoon hill, two new connections made, $464.50 collected on 1924 water duplicate, and that the improvements at the big spring will probably be completed between the 10th and 20th of the month. The Finance committee asked for the renewal of two notes totaling $25,000, and there being no other business bills amounting to $4148.67 were approved for payment after which council adjourned.

Several Injured in a Motor Accident at State College.

On Friday morning one of Myers big motor busses and a Dodge car came together at the corner of Beaver and Atherton streets, State College, with the result that Charles Strouse, who was driving the Dodge, has a broken right arm and serious bruises and cuts. He was accompanied by a school girl, but she escaped with minor injuries.

The Dodge is a total wreck and it is a miracle that either of its occupants escaped death or more serious injury. The impact of the machines was with such force that the heavy bus was damaged to the extent of $1000.

"Watchman" office visitor on Monday was Mr. O. P. McCord, supervisor in the eastern district of Rush township. He was in Bellefonte on business and took time to come in for a little chat. Of course he told us his opinion as to how his home district would vote for Judge, but as we all know now just what it did do there isn't any need of telling the kind of prophet Mr. McCord proved to be. There is no question, however, as to his ability as a supervisor.

Ivan Walker Recommended as Receiver for Centre County Bank.

At a special session of court, held before Judge Dale last Saturday morning, attorneys N. B. Spangler and James C. Furst presented a petition for the appointment of a receiver and two appraisers for the Centre County bank, adjudged a bankrupt, with powers to make an appraisal of all known property and assets of the company, convert the same into cash for distribution among the creditors of the banking company, and also to determine the legally responsible stockholders at the time the bank closed its doors and their individual responsibility for the bank's liabilities. The attorneys recommended the appointment of Ivan Walker as receiver and while they had no recommendations to make for appraisers Mr. Furst suggested W. Frederick Reynolds as one of the appointees. The attorneys also suggested that the receiver's bond be placed at $200,000.

Judge Dale asked for a schedule of the bank's assets and liabilities as a foundation on which to base the amount of the bond to be required, and Mr. Spangler stated that as complete a schedule would be furnished as possible. The court stated that he would have to have a little time to consider the appointments as he did not have in mind any one for appraisers, but would give it his attention at an early date. Up to this time no appointments have been announced.

Bellefonte High School Red and Blue Drive.

The latter part of this week will see the High school putting on its annual Red and Blue drive. This yearly event is most necessary, for without the money derived from this source it would be impossible for the High school to put such excellent athletic teams on the field. The people of Bellefonte have become accustomed to winning teams but they little realize the expense that such a team entails. During the past few years equipment has taken such a jump in price that it is impossible to outfit a football team at less than $30.00 per man. The school authorities insist that every effort shall be made to protect the player and so the latest safety devices are obtained. Moreover they go to great expense in obtaining worthy opponents so that good games are insured. At only one game to date has the attendance been large enough to pay expenses.

Every one knows that good High school teams are the best advertisement a town can have. The name of Bellefonte was made known throughout the State last spring through its famous relay team. The football team is spreading the town's reputation far and wide. The boys play the game, not for themselves, but for their school, which is an integral part of the town. The towns-people should show their interest in their own school by contributing to the drive, thereby making certain the continuation of B. H. S. successes in athletics.
