Lock Haven Woman Dropped Dead at State College.

On Saturday morning Mr. and Mrs. Ross Barrows, of Lock Haven, motored to State College to take in the State-Notre Dame football game. Prior to the starting of the game they visited the horticultural building and while making the rounds Mrs. Burrows suddenly dropped to the floor and died before medical aid could be summoned. A stroke of apoplexy was assigned as the cause. Mrs. Burrows was prominently identified with various women's organizations in Lock Haven, being president of the Civic club and a member of the mothers' assistance board.

On their way to State to see the big game S. C. Plummer, E. D. Dronberger, M. K. M. Murphy, R. N. Young and A. Hines, High school students of Philadelphia, drove through the guard rail at the red bridge, near Lewistown, and all were dumped into Kishacoquillas creek. Their car was wrecked but the young men escaped with slight injuries. They managed to secure other transportation and got to the game all right.

Among the vast crowd at the big Dr. L. H. Moran, of Wilkes-Barre. They started for home as soon as the game was over and at Riverside, near Lewistown, their car ran into a ditch at a point in the road where there are low overhanging rocks, one of which demolished the top of the car and Dr. Schweger sustained a fractured skull and other serious injuries. He was taken to the Lewistown hospital for ries to his right hand. Dr. Schweger died on Sunday morning.

Three wrecked cars between Bellefonte and State College was the toll of the heavy auto traffic on the highway. A Hupmobile was wrecked above the penitentiary where the driver failed to make the sharp turn at the railroad crossing, ran onto the railroad and ditched his car.

Up where the Houserville road branches off from the highway a big McFarlane car was badly wrecked. It was said to have been that of an Altoona party and one or two of the occupants were pretty badly hurt, but were conveyed home in a hired car. A Ford car was wrecked beyond Lemont but so far as known the occupants were not injured.

CENTRE HALL.

Mrs. Wetzel and son, of Middle-burg, spent a part of Saturday with Professor Wetzel.

Joseph Ruble and wife, of Cleveland, Ohio, spent a short time with the former's uncle, B. D. Brisbin. On Wednesday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Nelson E. Robb hiked from Centre Hall to their home in Bellefonte.

On Thursday morning Mrs. Roxanna Brisbin Robertson and Mrs. Lola Strohm Person motored to Hartford, Mrs. H. W. Kreamer spent last Wednesday at the home of her friend, Mrs. Susan Meyer, who lives below Penn Hall.

The football game at State College, last Saturday, made heavy traffic through our town for several days over the week-end.

Last . Friday forenoon "Billy" Boozer Jr., came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. William Boozer, where he was given a most hearty welcome. On Wednesday the Bartholomew car made a trip to Williamsport. Those who went visited Gertrude Ruble and Louise Kittelberger, students in the Williamsport Commercial college. When Mrs. M. H. Kreamer returned from Curwensville, last week, she was accompanied by Mrs. Anna Bartholomew Kittelberger, with whom she had visited. Mrs. Kittelberger was elected a school director this fall.

Chinese Fear Spirits

of the Outcast Dead This year in China is "the year of the Rat." That means it is the year in which evil spirits do most abound and have their greatest influence on the destinies of men. It is a fearful time. To make things worse this is also the first year of a Chinese cycle of 60 years. It calls for special watchfulness and celebrations. The rites of "Puodo" have been revived and observed more than at any time within the memory of living man. This is a system of appeasing and mollifying the spirits of the outcast dead. At this time they have special power to return and plague the living, and special efforts must be made to ward off their evil designs. "Puo-do" is a village rite. Altars are erected in private houses, and plays are staged descriptive of punishment hereafter. Puppets are used, some of them natural size, and they | 70-45-3t are operated from beneath the stage. Mounds of cakes are provided as ofgame were Dr. H. L. Schweger and ferings—which also provide feasts for the living. People flock by the thousands for the rites-possibly, in part at least, for the feast. Even Buddhist and Taoist priests deign to join in the nightly throngs engaged in placating the angered and injured spirits. A large celebration may cost as much as thousands of dollars.

The ancient "Puo-do" originated in Oong-dong, near Foochow, and at that place a monster celebration lasted seven days. There are small and scattered celebrations every five years, and more elaborate ones every twenty years. But the combination of the "Rat year" and the beginning of the cycle has called for greater celebrations than ever. Apparently the spirits are uncompromising, for it is a bad year in China's history.-Pathfinder Magazine.

Fine Golf Course on Roof One of the most unusual open air golf courses in use today is that which has been built on the roof of a store in Atlanta, Ga. This course, according to a writer in Good Hardware, is surprisingly realistic and is a mighty busy place. It measures about two hundred feet long and fifty feet wide, and has about as much golf atmosphere as a country club. The course offers all the hazards, risks and penalties of championship golf. The hardware store which has improvised this course on the roof of its building on the busiest street in the city is doing its bit to help along the increasing popularity of this fine sport, which is being played so enthusiastically throughout the United States. "Give a man a golf club and let him strike a ball, and he is a confirmed golf fiend," some one has said. This merchant is putting that observation to a rigid test.

Gr-r-r!

Little Doreen Turner and Pal, the famous movie dog, are great friends. She is almost the only person besides Pal's owner whom the dog will obey. One day, during the making of a picture, some of the extras began plagning the little girl, until, in exasperation, she ran off the set. Presently she returned with Pal, and walking up to the group said:

"Now say those things again, and I'll bite you with my dog."-Los Angeles

Used Cars in France

Used cars, with one French dealer, are merely sold for the previous owners. If they can't be sold in ten days, the owners get the cars back and no new cars are sold to them. But not a single new car has been lost by this method.

Medicine Men.

In all times some degree of healing power has been ascribed to the priest-hood. Medicine-men, mystery-men, shamans, or by whatever name they might be called, were to be found in every tribe of North American Indians. Some of these knew the medicinal qualities of roots and herbs and prestiged and syngamy and other and practiced rude surgery, and others were "fakirs." A medicine-man of the Walapai, a Yuman tribe on the Colorado river, says John G. Bourke, in an article on the Apache medicine-men, would cast a bullet in a mold containing a small piece of paper. Weeks-Ahead Program

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 14: "THE KING ON MAIN STREET," a modern comedy romance, featuring ADOLPHE MENJOU, GRETA NISSEN and BESSIE LOVE. The amusing story of a pleasure loving King who comes to America in search of romance. His reputation as "the great lover of Europe" precedes him and lets him in for a severe lesson. Also, clever 2 reel comdy, "Strong for Love."

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 16: "THREE WISE CROOKS," starring EVELYN BRENT and BRUCE GOR-DON. A thrilling crook play. The scene of the robbery is the office of two oil stock crooks who were in the act of robbing themselves, the heroine and the confederate robbing the robbers is suspended. The arrival of the detective in the country town where the heroine and her pals went to escape from the eyes of the police, holds the audience on the edge of their chairs. Also, Pathe News,

Aesop's Fables and single reel Pathe comedy, "Yes, Yes, Nanette." TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 17 AND 18: "CLASSIFIED," featuring CORINNE GRIFFITH and JACK MUNHALL, in Miss Griffith's latest screen version. A big pulse drama of the working girl of today. A story that tells what every girl fears, with Corinne Griffith moving through its drama with orchid-like beauty in clothes that will feast your eyes. It's big. Big enough to bring a tear. Big enough make you remember. Also, Mack Sennett's latest comedy, "Tell It to a Policeman." Matinee Wednesday

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 19:

"LAZYBONES," CHARLES BUCK JONES' latest picture, assisted by Madge Bellamy and Edythe Chapman. A drama of an idler who preferred relaxation to romance. A story of the villages' lazybones who had never been known to do a bit of work voluntarily in his life. His two chief occupations are fishing and sleeping, with a preference for slumber. It is the most human drama since "Over the Hill." Big 8 reel feature. One day only, Also, Pathe News and Reeview.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 20: "ROSE OF THE DESERT," with BIG BOY WILLIAMS and "Wolfheart," the screen's latest canine. A thrilling, gripping story of desert romance and adventure. Miss Kathleen Collins also plays one of the leads, her last picture is "Black Cyclone." Also, 3rd episode of the "WILD WEST."

MOOSE TEMPLE THEATRE.

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 13 AND 14: "THE EVERLASTING WHISPER," starring TOM MIX in his latest vehicle. Finer, bigger, better than ever before. Matinee Saturday, 2:30 p. m. COMING SOON, Eric Von Stroheim's supreme achievement, "THE MERRY WIDOW." Nothing like it has ever been flashed across the screen.
