

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

Only one more week until Thanksgiving, then another four weeks and Christmas will be here.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gherry are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, born to them Saturday, November 14th.

The Sheffield Farms Co., Inc., with a station in this place, is to be taken over by the National Dairy Products Corporation about the 1st of December.

The sale of tuberculosis Christmas seals, which will begin November 27, will be conducted by the Senior class of the High school, under the direction of Mary Chambers, president of the class, and Mary Robb.

A courteous welcome awaits you at the opening of Ye Holly Shoppe December 1st, in the Flower shop, Heverly building, Bellefonte. Hand decorated novelties our specialty. Call early while stock is complete.

Thus far only two candidates for county office at the recent election have filed their expense accounts. W. Harrison Walker Esq. expended $2,229.70 in his campaign for Judge and John G. Love put $73.73 into his campaign for District Attorney.

At a meeting of the Bishops of the Methodist church, held in Buffalo, N. Y., last week, Bishop Hughes was assigned to preside over the annual sessions of the Central Pennsylvania Methodist Episcopal church, which will be held at Berwick next March.

Dr. E. H. Yocum, former pastor of the Methodist church here, will be in Bellefonte over Sunday and occupy the pulpit during the morning service. Dr. Yocum will be a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Dorworth, of Linn street, and expects to be here several days.

A regular quarterly meeting of the Centre county Pomona Grange will be held in Centre Hall, Saturday, November 21. Election of officers will take place. Forenoon and afternoon sessions will be held. They are anxious to have a good attendance, so go and take lunch with you.

Miss Mary Dale, of east Curtin street, Bellefonte, a student at the Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh, has been awarded the Frances Camp Parry Memorial scholarship for the 1925-1926 college year, according to announcement made on Tuesday. Miss Dale is a Senior in the department of household economics of the Margaret Morrison Carnegie College.

There were eleven new babies and fifty-three revisits last month at the Well Baby clinic. It is held every Wednesday afternoon in the W. C. T. U. room, under the direction of Miss Ethel Campbell, State health nurse, with Dr. LeRoy Locke attending physician. Any parent may bring the children of pre-age here for a free examination and learn how to keep them well.

The collection of Thanksgiving food donations for the hospital will be resumed this year, and a house to house canvass will be made, Friday, November 27, for collections. People living out of town who wish to contribute are asked to notify Mrs. Russell Blair or Mrs. William Emerick. Remember, this is the Centre County hospital and all should show their interest by contributing generously.

On January 1st the Bell System will take charge of all the Penn State telephone business in this county. All exchanges outside of Bellefonte will be absorbed at once, the local management and repair crews here dispensed with and gradually the Bellefonte exchange will be worked into the Bell's central office. It might take a month or so longer to take over the Bellefonte service of the Penn State.

Fred Keller, a thirteen year old orphan boy who had been making his home with Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Dreibels, on the farm near State College, disappeared on November 10th, and naturally both Mr. and Mrs. Dreibels were considerably worried over his disappearance until they learned on Wednesday that he had in some manner made his way to the home of an aunt, in Clearfield county, where he will probably remain.

Superintendent E. C. Musser, of the Keystone Power corporation, and Charles Kellerman, electrician, returned home last Friday from a four day's hunt in the forests of Elk county. They were members of a party of Keystone Power corporation and the West Penn Power company, of Pittsburgh, who occupied Camp Kaerber, near Ridgway. Among the game secured was a 150 pound bear, but the animal was not slain by either of the Bellefonte hunters.

When Judge Arthur C. Dale issued an order for the destruction of the beer confiscated from the Bellefonte Lodge of Moose, he suggested that any of the other stuff confiscated that could be sold by the county commissioners might be disposed of in that way. Consequently the commissioners sold the four fifty gallon crocks used as vats by the Moose in manufacturing beer to Mr. Dunkleberger, of the Sunrise dairy, receiving $7.50 each for them. But when Mr. Dunkleberger hauled the big crocks away on Monday afternoon he discovered that two of them were broken, and the commissioners will have to return the fifteen dollars paid for them.

COUNCIL TO PROBE FIRE ALARM SERVICE.

Other Business Transacted at Regular Session on Monday Evening.

The question of better fire alarm service and improved fire protection was pretty thoroughly discussed at Monday night's meeting of borough council.

Mrs. M. H. Brouse, of the West ward, was present and suggested to council the advisability of replacing the old water plug on south Thomas street with one of more modern design, and also that the plug located at the corner of High and north Thomas street should be changed from the outside curb line to inside the pavement on the U. B. church property. The street is not very wide there and the fireplug has been hit a number of times by automobiles and bent over, and some time when it is needed badly it might be out of service. The matter was referred to the Water committee and borough manager.

The Street committee reported the cleaning out of catch basins, digging ditches and cleaning up streets.

The Water committee reported the collection of $305.04 on the 1924 water duplicate and $76.79 from the Sheffield Farms Co., for new water connections. The committee also reported that the front fence and the pillar lights for the big spring have not yet arrived, but about everything else has been completed.

The Finance committee requested the renewal of a note for $5,000, which was authorized.

The Fire and Police committee presented burgess Walker's check for $222.50 for fines and licenses collected up to November 12th. The committee also reported a fire on St. Paul street on the evening of the 9th inst., and called council's attention to the fact that considerable criticism had been made by residents of the West ward because of the delay in getting in an alarm through the Bell telephone exchange.

The matter was pretty thoroughly discussed from every viewpoint, as the question of getting in an alarm right on the minute in time of a fire is of vast importance. Mr. Emerick, who was present for the first time since last spring, stated that superintendent Richards, of the Bell company, claimed the operator tried to send in an alarm as soon as notified but could get no response from her call. He also made a motion that the matter be referred to the Fire and Police committee for investigation and also to confer with Bell telephone officials regarding a positive and dependable alarm service.

President Walker stated that he had been informed that the American Lime and Stone company is closing the lower road to Coleville by way of the old glass works, and as this road has been open for more than twenty-one years they have no right to close it. The matter was referred to the Street committee and borough manager.

Mr. Cunningham stated to council that residents of Halfmoon hill would like a new light installed in the neighborhood of the fire plug recently put in up there. A new line was recently strung up over the hill and a bulb light could easily be put up on one of the poles. The matter was referred to the Street committee.

The Fire and Police committee received a shock over sheriff E. R. Taylor's bill for $73.50 for housing vagrants, and Mr. Cunningham reported that the lock-up is now in shape for the entertainment of wandering guests. All that is needed is the purchase of several comfortable beds for the bunks in the cells. The matter was placed in the hands of the Fire and Police committee.

Mr. Emerick stated to council that he had been approached on the question of council making an appropriation to the Red Cross drive but inquiry of the borough solicitor brought the information that they had no legal authority to make any such appropriation.

No further business being brought up bills totalling $2405.41 were approved for payment, after which council adjourned.

$40,000 Fire at State College.

The epidemic of disastrous fires at State College continues. On Wednesday morning the three story frame building of Breen and Stover, owners of the Penn State Photo Shop, was entirely destroyed entailing a loss of $40,000 and the Harvey building, east of it scorched to the extent of $9,000.

The origin of the fire is not known. It broke out so suddenly that little could be saved and the Penn State Photo company lost much of its valuable photographic equipment and hundreds of negatives that can never be replaced. Among them are said to have been many in course for this year's "La Vie," the Penn State annual.

The second floor of the building was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. John Allen and Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Abberson and the third floor by Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Cadden. All of these tenants lost everything they had and several barely escaped with their lives. Mrs. Abberson was bathing her six month's old baby at the time of the alarm and had time only to wrap it in her apron and flee through the flames already eating their way up the hallway to the street. As it was she was painfully burned about the head and face and collapsed after reaching a neighbor's.

Breen and Stover carried $22,000 insurance on building and equipment.

Many People Unite in Farewell Reception to Dr. and Mrs. Schmidt.

In the neighborhood of a thousand people attended the farewell reception given Rev. Dr. Ambrose M. Schmidt and Mrs. Schmidt, at the chapel of the Reformed church on Tuesday evening. It was a representative Bellefonte crowd, including members from almost every denomination in town. Men and women, boys and girls, gathered to pay respect and extend good wishes to the man and woman who have spent twenty-four busy years laboring among the people of this community, the best years of their lives, and the large gathering on Tuesday evening was a heart to heart testimonial of the esteem in which they are held.

Judge-elect Harry Keller was master of ceremonies and with Dr. and Mrs. Schmidt was their daughter-in-law, Mrs. William Schmidt, of Johnstown. Her husband had planned to be in Bellefonte for the reception but at practically the last minute was detained from coming. During the evening there was music by the Academy orchestra and refreshments furnished by members of the congregation. As a token of their regard the congregation presented Dr. and Mrs. Schmidt with a purse of gold.

Dr. Schmidt preached his last sermons in Bellefonte last Sunday, and it may be a matter of interest to know that when he came to Bellefonte in 1901 the church congregation numbered 200 and the money contributed to church support was $1800 a year. The congregation now numbers 275 and the church support $3500 a year. But this does not by any means tell the story of his work in Bellefonte. During his twenty-four years' pastorate the church accessions have totalled about 400, but death and removal from Bellefonte, especially of many young people, have taken a heavy toll so that the actual increase in membership is only seventy-five.

During the twenty-four years he has been in Bellefonte Dr. Schmidt has officiated at 171 marriages and performed 201 baptisms. During his pastorate from $20,000 to $25,000 were spent on church improvements, which included the erection of the chapel, a thorough overhauling of the church twice, a new carpet in the church and the installation of eight art windows as well as a new heating plant. For church support he raised in the neighborhood of $75,000, and for benevolences, $30,000, not counting the $15,000 pledged to the forward movement, $10,000 of which amount has already been paid. Dr. and Mrs. Schmidt will remain in Bellefonte until after Thanksgiving when they will take their departure for Washington, D. C.

Judge Potter Grants New Trial in Cullen vs. Rowland Case.

Judge Miles I. Potter, of Snyder county, on Monday filed his decision on the application for a new trial in the case of James H. Cullen vs. Annie C. Rowland, and John E. Fryberger and J. K. Johnston, administrators of the estate of the late Congressman Charles H. Rowland, setting aside the verdict of $45,073.23 awarded the plaintiff and granting a new trial.

In their application for a new trial attorneys for the defendants filed fifty-nine reasons why one should be granted, Judge Potter dismissing fifty-eight of them as having no basis in fact but granting the new trial on the fifty-fifth reason, which was that the verdict was excessive. This the court concurs in, and states that the jury failed to take into consideration the eleven thousand tons of coal mined, which should have been computed and deducted from the gross amount of the verdict.

Judge Potter heard the case at the regular February sessions of court, 1925. The attorneys for the plaintiff were M. Ward Fleming, of Phillipsburg, and N. B. Spangler, of Bellefonte. The defendants were represented by A. M. Liveright, of Clearfield, and ex-Judge Ellis L. Orvis, of Bellefonte. The contention was over a coal mine purchased from the late Congressman Rowland by James H. Cullen, through an authorized agent, and the latter claimed that the mine was not as represented. The case was on trial more than a week and resulted in a verdict for the plaintiff in the amount claimed above. Attorneys for the defendants promptly made a motion for a new trial and the case was argued some weeks ago. The granting of a new trial will mean that the case will all have to be gone over again, but Judge Potter will not necessarily have to be the sitting judge.

Former Pastor Will Preach at State College.

The many friends of Rev. P. E. Keen, college pastor of Albright College, Meyerstown, Pa., will be glad to learn that he has consented to preach the Communion sermon in the St. John's Evangelical church, State College, Sunday morning, the 22nd inst., at 10:45 o'clock. Rev. Keen was the former pastor of this congregation and its members will be glad to hear him again.

To "Watchman" Correspondents.

Thursday of next week will be Thanksgiving day and all correspondents of the "Watchman" will give the entire force occasion to give thanks if they make a special effort to get their news letters into this office not later than Tuesday. This will enable us to handle everything in fine shape.

"BILLY" SUNDAY DRAWS BIG CROWD ON MONDAY.

Well Known Evangelist Discourses in United Evangelical Church.

The wash tubs stood idle on Monday morning, staid business men walked out of their stores and offices, and women and men wended their way to the newly remodeled United Evangelical church to see and hear the renowned evangelist, "Billy" Sunday. The meeting was advertised for ten o'clock and as early as eight o'clock people began gathering. The church seats eight hundred people and it was well crowded when the Sunday party made its appearance, although there was still some standing room unoccupied.

Mr. Sunday is at present engaged in holding a six week's campaign in Williamsport, and he was brought to Bellefonte by John G. Winters, a leading member of the First United Evangelical church of that city. In the party in addition to Mr. Sunday and Mr. Winters were "Ma" Sunday, Rev. W. B. Cox, presiding elder in the United Evangelical church, and Rev. A. F. Weaver, now of Williamsport but a former pastor of the Bellefonte church. Prior to going to the church the party stopped at the Bellefonte Academy where the evangelist gave the students a fifteen minute talk.

At the church Rev. Weaver invoked the divine blessing on the meeting and presiding elder Cox introduced Billy Sunday as the man who used to throw the "pig" skin over the plate. Right off the bat Billy told his hearers that the one thing he exacted at all such impromptu meetings was a collection, not for himself, as he had all the money he needed but for the Winonah bible institute at Winonah Lake, Ind., of which he is the patron saint. He then continued by saying that he was glad to come to Bellefonte because of its historical associations. Because it was the home of three Governors, one of whom was the great war Governor, Andrew G. Curtin. Every State, he said, always contended that it had the greatest war Governor of them all, but he always contended that Pennsylvania's was greatest. Another reason why he was glad to come to Bellefonte was because it was the home town of that most wonderful ball player, Monte Ward, as they had been very close and dear friends.

The 23rd Psalm was the basis of the evangelist's discourse which lasted a little more than an hour. He spoke with a rapidity that was hard to follow and a decided huskiness in his throat which made it very difficult to understand all he said in the rear part of the church. But it was the same Billy Sunday that has swayed thousands during his life and has influenced more people to tread the sawdust trail than any other man living today. The collection taken up for the evangelist's bible institute was turned over to him uncounted, but those who saw the plates estimate that it probably aggregated in the neighborhood of two hundred dollars. The Sunday party had luncheon at the Brockerhoff house before returning to Williamsport.

These Hunters Got Well Filled Game Bag.

During the first week of the small game hunting season George R. Purnell, sales agent for the American Lime & Stone company, entertained a half dozen Pittsburgh gentlemen on a hunting trip in Bald Eagle valley. They made their headquarters at the Potter-Hoy camp (the old Masonic camp near Curtin) where they had an abundance of fun at night in addition to lots of hunting during the day.

The Pittsburgh party included Edward Dettling, Harvey Adamson, Charles Kritzley, William Wedgwood, William H. Barnes and William Frey. Of course Mr. Purnell spent as much time as possible with them and chemist David Washburn also tried out his hand several days during their stay. Curtin residents aver that as a result of the week's hunt that section of the county is now so devoid of game that it would be impossible to scratch out a rabbit with a fine tooth comb.

And there is probably some foundation for this assertion because the Pittsburgh game bag included ninety-two rabbits, one gray squirrel and seven pheasants, not counting two ringnecks and a few rabbits bagged by Dave Washburn.

Robberies at Julian.

On Sunday night two men broke into the Tallhelm store and Nason's garage and supply store, at Julian, and stole over fifty dollars in money, a revolver and other articles. On Tuesday sheriff Taylor arrested a colored man who gave his name as James Jackson, and his residence as Philadelphia. After considerable quizzing he admitted that he and another colored man whom he claimed he knew only as "Whitey," pulled the job. The man claimed he came to Centre county from Scranton and was looking for work. Failing to find any was evidently his reason for turning burglar, although it is just as likely that this was not his first job. The man he knew as "Whitey" made his escape.

The El Segundo, California, Herald, announces that Mr. and Mrs. Charles Potter Miller, of that city, are the parents of a nine-and-a-half pound son, who was born on the 2nd inst. Friends at the father's former home will be glad to hear the good news and join us in extending congratulations.

NEWS PURELY PERSONAL.

Miss Margaret Stuart is visiting in Cumberland, Md., a guest of her uncle, Andrew Shaw and his family.

Frank M. Derstine was over from Juniata, Sunday, for a day's visit with his mother, Mrs. William Derstine.

Hardman P. Harris spent Sunday in Philadelphia with his brother, John Turner Harris, traffic manager of the Bell Telephone company.

Mrs. Albert Woche, of New York city, who had been here for several weeks visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Bower, returned home on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brew drove over from Lansford, Friday, visiting here with Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Fenlon until Monday. Mr. Brew is Mrs. Fenlon's youngest brother.

Donald Gettig, now located at Millsboro, Pa., will be home next week to spend Thanksgiving day with his family, who are with Mr. Gettig's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Gettig, on Thomas street.

Miss Daise Keichline will be among the Thanksgiving visitors home, expecting to come over from Galeson, where she has been associated with the Red Cross work of that district for six weeks or more.

Mrs. McClure Gamble went to Newark, Tuesday, called there by the illness of her mother, Mrs. Joseph Ceador, who had been suffering from the effects of a severe cold, but was better before Mrs. Gamble reached her.

Mrs. David Burkett was called to Bellefonte the early part of the week by the illness of her aunt, Mrs. John A. Woodcock, and after a visit of several days went on to Juniata, where she expects to be for a while with several of her children.

Mrs. G. W. Sain, of Pataskala, Ohio, who had been with Mrs. Satterfield during the early part of November, is now visiting with the Witmer families up Buffalo Run, intending to return to spend the greater part of the winter in Bellefonte.

On her return from a visit to Jersey Shore, last week, Mrs. Benjamin Bradley was accompanied by Mrs. Sara Torbett, Mrs. Elmer Sheffer, Mrs. Vinnie Barner and Mrs. L. D. Herritt, all of whom were Mrs. Bradley's guests here for several days.

Mrs. Frank McFarlane has closed her house, near Boalsburg, in anticipation of spending the winter with her sister, Mrs. Kinisloe, in Philadelphia. Leaving Centre county this week, Mrs. McFarlane will stop in Harrisburg for a short time with her sister, Mrs. Hastings, and her family, going on from there to Philadelphia.

Mrs. Sara Murray, widow of the late Thomas Murray, of Snow Shoe Interco, who has been making her home in Tyrone for several years, is visiting friends in Media, Pa. Mrs. Murray has been reading the "Watchman" since May, 1865, when her husband was division foreman of the Bald Eagle and they were living in Julian.

The Rev. Homer C. Knox, with Mrs. Knox and Mrs. Blaine Mabus drove to Huntingdon, Tuesday, to attend the missionary meeting in convention there this week. The women, who went as representatives from the Bellefonte Methodist church, remained there until today, intending to come home by train, while Rev. Knox drove back Tuesday.

Mrs. Philip Haller, of Northside, Pittsburgh, and her small daughter, Marcella, are with the child's grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Weston, Mr. and Mrs. Haller has been spending the farmer's vacation on the farm near Gatesburg, Mr. Haller returning home from there, while Mrs. Haller and the child came here for a visit before going to Pittsburgh.

In addition to the members of the Bradley family already in Florida, Mrs. Robert Bradley will leave Sunday to join her husband; John will go within a week or ten days, and Mrs. Benjamin Bradley is preparing to close her home in January, to be with the party at St. Petersburg. Mrs. Riley, who spent last winter at Lake Worth, expects to return there later in the season.

Albert Lucas, of Bradford, Pa., was a Bellefonte visitor this week, having stopped here on his way to Lamar on a business trip to look up some of the people he knew when he lived in Bellefonte thirty years ago, but found very few he knew at that time. As this was his first trip back in seventeen years he naturally noticed some very decided changes in the town and people.

Miss Elizabeth Cooney left yesterday as a driving guest of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Musser, on their trip to Miami, Florida. Mr. and Mrs. Musser are going down to remain for the winter, while Miss Cooney, after spending several months traveling through the State will return home by train. During Miss Cooney's absence the Hat Shop will be in charge of her sister, Miss Stella Cooney.

George R. Dunlap, of Pine Grove Mills, was a Bellefonte visitor last Friday and Saturday to join with us in holding a little post-mortem over the election. The Democrats of Ferguson township just love to talk about the results, because the more they are analyzed the more apparent their good work appears. Mr. Dunlap is in the general mercantile business up in Pine Grove and is recognized as a hustler.

Out of town people in Bellefonte for the funeral of the late L. H. Wian, on Tuesday, included Mr. and Mrs. George Wian, of McKeesport; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brunner, of Johnstown; Cyrus Labe, of Altoona; Mr. and Mrs. William Kuhn and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thomas, of Williamsport; Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Kirkwood, of New Castle; Mrs. Ethel Britz, of Woodlawn; Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Gehret and daughter, Mrs. Arthur Lehman, of Sunbury; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hubler and Mrs. Lizzie Hanna, of Lock Haven.

Our highly regarded old friend Jerry Donovan dropped in for a little call, Tuesday morning and, somehow, we got to talking about "sleekers." We swapped yarns for quite a while until finally Jerry gained the belt by telling us this one: While he was in Phillipsburg, some years ago, he saw a fellow selling "golden prolific" wheat for seed at three pounds for a dollar. The salesman found a good market among the farmers who hauled grain and produce to that place and he assured them that the new wheat would yield three or four times as many bushels per acre as the seed they were then using. A few days later Jerry happened to be out at Tom Beaver's farm when the "sleeker" stopped there and bought four bushels of Tom's wheat at 60 cents a bushel, which was the price then, and headed on down the valley with a new supply of "golden prolific" with which to catch more suckers.

Charles R. Beatty, Ford sales agent of Bellefonte, left Monday for New York, to attend an exhibit of late Ford models held in that city this week.

B. J. Beezer is taking his annual vacation from duty in the Pennsylvania freight station in this place. Ben is just loafing about town taking an occasional day out in the woods with his gun.

Mrs. Ray M. Stauffer and her small daughter have been here from Hazleton this week, for a short visit home with the Cooney family and to see Miss Elizabeth Cooney before she left for the South.

Miss Mona Struble has returned from her trip to the Pacific coast, where she had been since leaving here in the spring, with Mrs. W. W. Waddle, Mrs. Waddle having located permanently in Los Angeles, Cal.

Miss Helen Yeagle, a sister of Mrs. Reed O. Steely, has been Rev. and Mrs. Steely's guest at the Evangelical parsonage, on Willowbank street, for several weeks. Miss Yeagle is a registered nurse of Williamsport, and spent her vacation here, returning to Williamsport on Tuesday.

While in town on Wednesday, Mrs. John W. Stuart, of State College, informed us that she has decided to join the Centre county winter colony in Florida. Mrs. Stuart, with her daughter-in-law, Mrs. William Stuart, and the latter's two children, expect to leave next week for Miami, where Will is already located. They will motor down and expect to remain there until May.

Lewisburg Train Wrecked at Lemont on Wednesday Evening.

A hoodoo or jinx of some kind must be hovering over the Lewisburg branch of the Pennsylvania railroad this week. On Monday morning the coaches were derailed in the yard at Sunbury and the result was the train was two hours and a half late reaching Bellefonte. On Wednesday afternoon as the train west was nearing Lemont the locomotive picked the switch of the side track with the result that both it and the baggage car were derailed.

The brakeman had just given his usual call for the Lemont station and the passengers were gathering into the aisles of the car preparatory to getting off the train when the accident occurred. One man lost his balance and was thrown almost half the length of the car, being knocked unconscious. He was carried from the car to the station platform and when he came to it was found that his injuries were not at all serious. Several persons were thrown against the seats and sustained minor bruises and contusions but nothing serious.

Both the Sunbury and Lock Haven wreck trains were sent to Lemont and by working all night had the most of the wreck cleared up and track open by yesterday morning.

Social Happenings.

In the Jersey Shore Herald of November 16, Mrs. Benjamin Bradley is spoken of as being the guest of honor at a dinner given by Mrs. Vinnie Barner, at the Pickering hotel in that place. The dinner was followed by a theatre party in Williamsport, for which Mrs. L. D. Herritt was hostess. Mrs. Bradley at the time, was a house guest of Mrs. E. E. Sheffer, of Jersey Shore.

Mrs. Jack Stewart, who with Mr. Stewart recently moved here from Tyrone, was given a surprise last week by the members of a social club of young married women, to which she belonged. The party drove to Bellefonte for the occasion.

With the Sick.

Mrs. James A. Beaver, who never recovered from an attack of shingles, a month or more ago, became seriously ill Sunday, the result of a heart collapse, her condition now being extremely critical.

George Smith, head of the Novelty manufacturing plant at the Linn and McCoy works, near Milesburg, is seriously ill at the home of his father-in-law, Jack Showers, on east Bishop street.

George Knisely, who was thought to be alarmingly ill within the past ten days, is now slowly growing better.

Fink-Olson.—Droze C. Fink, son of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Fink, of Phillipsburg, and Miss Maude Olson, daughter of Mrs. Ulrika Olson, of Woodland, were married at the Methodist parsonage, Bellefonte, on Saturday, November 7th, by the pastor, Rev. Homer C. Knox. The bridegroom is located in Tyrone where he is a member of the firm of Fink Bros., hardware merchants. The young couple have gone to housekeeping in that town.

Burglars must consider Osceola Mills a place for easy pickings. Early last week they attempted to rob the Pennsylvania railroad station at that place but could not force the safe, and on Friday night they visited the Charles E. Broberg garage, cleaned out the safe and hauled away about three hundred dollar's worth of tires. The job was done so quietly that the proprietor did not know of the robbery until Saturday morning.

The annual Christmas bazaar of the St. John's Episcopal church will be held on Thursday, December 3rd, in the parish house, on Lamb street.

Bellefonte Grain Markets.

Table with 2 columns: Grain type and Price per bushel. Includes Wheat, Oats, Rye, Corn, Barley, Buckwheat.
