The sale of tuberculosis Christmas seals will begin today, and while it is a project of the Woman's club, will be conducted by the Senior class of the Bellefonte High school under the leadership of Martha Chambers and Mary Robb.

The class has espoused the fight against tuberculosis in memory of graduates of the High school who have died from it within the past five years, namely: Elizabeth Galbraith, Isaac Chambers and his sister, Helen Chambers Sharpless, Theodore Kelly, Durbin Gray, Bill Payne, Mary Taylor. Vision these High school girls and boys as health crusaders starting forth to fight an enemy more insidious and devastating than any encountered by knights of old and armed only with the little Christmas seals—insignia more efficient than bullets in fighting the disease from which twenty persons in Pennsylvania succumb every day! It is not alone the money derived from the sale of seals that makes them not-to-be-scorned ammunition but that the period of their annual sale has become a time of disseminating knowledge of preventive measures—sunshine, fresh air, proper food, rest—that have reduced the death rate from 150.9 per 100,000 population in 1906 to 81.4 in 1924. Please receive these modern crusaders courteously, buy seals, stick them on all your letters, packages, monthly bills, and show that you are a partner of those who are working to wipe out tuberculosis.

Outside of Bellefonte seals will be sold: In Howard, by the Civic club, of which Miss Emma Fletcher is president. In Orviston, by Mrs. William Ridge. In Milesburg, by Miss Besse Miles and Miss Anna Shroyer. In Snow Shoe, by Senior class of High school. In Unionville, by Mrs. James Askins. In Julian, by Mrs. J. H. Turner, Miss Fura Morrison, Mrs. Robert Alexander. In Benner township, by Miss Elizabeth Green. In Patton township, by Miss Esther Gray. In Stormstown, by Miss Frances Gross, Miss Marian Oakwood. In Hubersburg, by Miss Markle. In Pleasant Gap, by Mrs. J. L. Barlett. In State College, by Mrs. Ray Gilliland, chairman of tuberculosis committee. In Pine Grove Mills, by Miss Woods. In Lemont, by Mrs. Charles Thompson, Mrs. Elliott Armstrong. In Boalsburg, by Mrs. Ham. In Oak Hall and Linden Hall, by Mrs. Ferree. In Centre Hall, by Miss Grace Smith, Mrs. Harry Potter, Mrs. Frank Goodhart. In Spring Mills, by Miss Mildred Wieland, Miss Marian Watts. In Millheim, by the Civic club, of which Mrs. J. C. Hosterman is president. In Aaronsburg, by Mr. Haney, principal of schools. In Rebersburg, by Mrs. Mary Abbott, principal of schools.

Penn State 1926 Football Schedule. Graduate manager Neil M. Fleming has announced Penn State's 1926 football schedule as follows:

Sept. 25—Susquehanna at home.

Oct. 2—Lebanon Valley at home.

Oct. 9—Marietta at home.

Oct. 16—Notre Dame at South Bend.

Oct. 23—Syracuse at home.

Oct. 30—George Washington at home.

Nov. 6—U of P. at Philadelphia.

Nov. 13—Bucknell at home.

Nov. 20 (Thanksgiving)—Pitt at Pittsburgh.

Now that the football season is at an end the sideline sports have nothing left to argue about.

WEAVER.—Mrs. Alice M. Weaver, wife of James H. Weaver, of Boggs township, passed away at her home in Central City last Thursday, following an illness of eight months. Medical skill and loving care and nursing availed not in her battle for life.

She was a daughter of John and Susanna Wagner, deceased, and was born in Bellefonte on July 30th, 1861, making her age 64 years, 3 months and 19 days. She married Mr. Weaver in October, 1884, and all her married life had been spent in the vicinity of Milesburg. She was a consistent member of the Methodist church all her life, dying in the faith in which she so consistently lived. During the long months of her severe illness she endured her suffering with remarkable patience and christian fortitude. She was a woman who possessed many very fine qualities. Possessed of a genial and amiable disposition, a charming personality, she made of her home a delightful sanctuary for her family and friends.

She was the mother of nine children, one dying in infancy. Her husband and the following children survive: J. Fred, Paul E. and M. W., of Milesburg; Clarence W., of Pittsburgh; Mrs. J. C. Irvin, of Snow Shoe; Mrs. H. C. Coleman, of Harrisburg; Mrs. J. L. Oswald, of Milesburg, and Miss Nellie M., at home. She also leaves four sisters and one brother, Mrs. John M. Keichline and Mrs. Peter F. Keichline, of Bellefonte; Mrs. L. C. Wallace, of Akron, Ohio; Miss Ella Wagner, of Milesburg, and John C. Wagner, of Detroit, Mich.

Funeral services were held at her late home at two o'clock on Monday afternoon by her pastor, Rev. R. R. Lehman, assisted by Rev. M. C. Piper, after which burial was made in the Bellefonte Union cemetery.

PEARCE.—Mrs. Eliza McGinley Pearce, widow of the late Stewart Pearce, died at her home in Conneaut, Ohio, on Thursday of last week, of blood poisoning. Ten days or two weeks previous she had been on a visit with her son John, at Dearborn, Mich., and on returning home was annoyed by a pimple on one of her fingers. She consulted a physician but he found no symptoms of anything alarming. Within twenty-four hours the pain in her finger was almost unbearable and she again called in her physician but still he could discover no cause for alarm. The next day an infection broke out on her body and she died within twenty-four hours.

She was a daughter of Daniel and Harriet Taylor McGinley and was born in Bellefonte a little over sixty-two years ago. When a young girl she married Stewart Pearce and the first few years of their married life were spent in Bellefonte. About thirty-five years ago they moved to Conneaut, Ohio, and that had been her home ever since. She was a lifelong member of the Methodist church and a most companionable woman in every way.

Her husband was killed in an accident several years ago but surviving her are the following children: Stewart Jr., of Conneaut, Ohio; John, of Dearborn, Mich.; Donald, of Willoughby, Ohio; Elizabeth, of Cleveland, and Ruth, at home. She also leaves one half-sister, Mrs. L. A. Schaeffer, of Bellefonte, one sister and two brothers, Mrs. Coolidge, wife of Dr. John W. Coolidge, of Los Angeles, Cal.; A. Linn McGinley, of Bellefonte, and Philip C., of Sparrow's Point, Md.

Mr. A. Linn McGinley went to Conneaut for the funeral which was held on Sunday afternoon, burial being made in that place.

TAYLOR.—Following close upon the sudden death, last week, of R. B. Taylor, his mother, Mrs. Anna Taylor, passed away at five o'clock on Tuesday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. S. Burns, in Detroit, Mich. She went to Detroit last April on a visit and while there suffered a stroke of paralysis and never recovered sufficiently to be brought home.

Her maiden name was Anna Starr and she was born in County Cabin, Ireland, seventy-seven years ago. She came to Bellefonte as a young girl and it was here she married Hugh Taylor in 1867. Her entire life since that time was spent in Bellefonte with the exception of brief visits among her children. She was the mother of a large family of children and a splendid type of womanhood. She was a lifelong member of the Episcopal church and lived a life consistent with its doctrines.

Her husband died many years ago but surviving her are nine children, namely: Col. H. S. Taylor, of Bellefonte; Mrs. R. S. Burns and Miss Lillian, of Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. W. D. Zerby and sheriff E. R. Taylor, of Bellefonte; Col. James G. Taylor, of Pittsburgh; W. E. Gladstone Taylor, of Taylorstown, Pa.; Dr. Joseph Taylor, of Pittsburgh, and Mrs. Warren Elise, of Wilmington, Del.

The remains were brought to Bellefonte on Wednesday afternoon and the funeral services will be held at the Episcopal church at two o'clock this (Friday) afternoon. Rev. M. DePui Maynard, of Ridgway, will officiate and burial be made in the Union cemetery.

NOLL.—Word has been received in Bellefonte of the sudden death of John J. Noll, a native of Centre county, at his home in Peabody, Kan., on November 17th. In fact Mr. Noll dropped dead as the result of heart trouble. He was a brother of the late Col. Emanuel Noll, of Bellefonte, and was born and raised in Centre county. He served in the Pennsylvania cavalry during the Civil war. He married

Miss Angeline Tibbens, a sister of Mr. Henry Tibbens, of Bellefonte, and in 1878 they went west and located on a farm near Peabody, Kan. They had twelve children, six of whom survive. Mr. Noll was one of a family of ten children and the only survivor is one sister, Mrs. Mary Swartz, of Somerset. Burial was made at Peabody.

HARTMAN.—Charles R. Hartman, a well known resident of Aaronsburg, died on Tuesday of last week of asthma and other complications. He was 55 years, 2 months and 25 days old and is survived by his wife and four children, Thomas, of Coburn; Mrs. A. J. Skeels, of South Bend, Texas; Albert F., of Millersburg, and Charlotte, at home. The remains were taken to Millersburg where burial was made on Friday.

Wasson-Fortney.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Fortney, of Ferguson township, was the scene of a pretty wedding, at 6 o'clock last Thursday evening, when their daughter, Miss Britamart Fortney, became the bride of James Wasson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wasson, of the Branch. Only immediate members of the two families were present to witness the ceremony which was performed by Rev. J. S. English, of the Lutheran church. The young people left on a wedding trip to western cities. Their plans for the future are not definitely known.

Toner-Martin.—Andrew J. Toner and Miss Mary F. Martin, both well known young people of Bellefonte, celebrated Thanksgiving by wending their way to the Catholic church, yesterday morning, where they were united in marriage by Rev. Father Downes. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Martin and has been employed as book-keeper in the office of tax collector Herbert Auman. The bridegroom is a son of Mrs. Mary Toner and is an electrician in the employ of R. C. Witter.

Lucas-Etters.—James E. Lucas, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Lucas, and Miss Mary C. Etters, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Etters, both of Howard, were married on Wednesday of last week by Rev. M. C. Piper, at his residence in Milesburg. The young people will make their home in Howard.

Christmas Cheer to be Distributed Next Week.

The First National bank of Bellefonte announces in their advertisement, published on another page of today's paper, that on December 5th checks will be mailed to all Christmas savings fund depositors. While officials of the bank have not made public the amount of money to be paid out it is understood that it is no inconsiderable sum.

The Bellefonte Trust company will also mail out checks early in December to its savings fund depositors, the total to be approximately thirty thousand dollars. While a good part of the money thus saved by the weekly depositors in both banks will be used in Christmas shopping, some of it will go right back into the banks on time deposits.

Judge Dale last week handed down a decision in the case of the First National bank of Spring Mills vs. S. G. Walker, an action to recover on a note for $5000 endorsed by the latter to cover a like amount of bonds disposed of to the bank by E. E. McPeaters. The note was given as collateral for the value of the bonds which the bank had been authorized to purchase for Mr. Walker. The bonds were delivered to the bank but later withdrawn by the salesman on the pretense of delivering them himself to Mr. Walker. This he failed to do and naturally Mr. Walker repudiated the payment of the note when the bank brought action to recover. Judge Dale's decision was in favor of Mr. Walker, holding that the bank was not entitled to recover as the bonds had never been delivered to Mr. Walker. The salesman, Mr. McPeaters, was later arrested in Pittsburgh for other swindling operations and is now doing time in the western penitentiary at Rockview.

A new flooring was put on the bridge at Milesburg the fore part of the week, and while the work was in progress all traffic back and forth across the Bald Eagle creek was at a standstill, as the only way to get over was to detour by way of Curtin. Of course this probably didn't worry residents of Bald Eagle valley very much as they have been detouring all summer, and are still at it in the upper portion of the valley where there are several bridges as yet incomplete. But when the latter work is done they will have one of the best highways in the county.

In celebration of his forty-eighth birthday anniversary W. J. Emerick, president of the Emerick Motor Bus company, entertained his eight drivers, his secretary, Miss Anne Badger, and his attorney, James C. Furst, at a turkey dinner at his home on west Linn street, on Monday evening. Bellefonte friends of Mr. Emerick will be interested in learning that he has regained his old-time health after a long siege of baffling illness.

The condition of Mrs. James A. Beaver has been sufficiently improved this week to justify the hope that she will entirely recover from her recent illness.

Scottdale Exhibitor Won Coveted Cup.

The much coveted Quaker oats cup was won by W. H. Dawson, of Scottdale, for the best display of birds, all varieties competing, at the third State standard production poultry show held at State College November 5-7. The show was staged by the Penn State poultry club and the college poultry department.

Huntingdon county scoring 84 points in a close contest, won the R. G. Bressler cup which was held the past year by Luzerne county. Wayne county pushed both with 80 points.

H. A. Robinson, Seelyville, won the cup offered by the Pennsylvania State College poultry department for the best display of Rhode Island Reds. The Pennsylvania State College poultry department cup went to Barros Knobbsstone poultry farm, Narvon, for the best exhibit of white Wyandottes.

W. H. Dawson, of Scottdale, won the Pennsylvania state poultry club cup for the best display of Jersey black giants and the Dean Watts cup offered for the best exhibit of white Plymouth Rocks. For the best display of barred Plymouth Rocks Mrs. C. M. McCorkle, of Newton Square, won the J. W. Parks cup.

Homestead poultry farm, Honesdale, won the Homestead loving cup for the best display of white Leghorns. The Mickey poultry farm, Alexandria, captured the cup offered by the First National bank, State College, for the best egg laying contest hen with an average official record of 25 or more eggs.

More than 500 birds were exhibited in the show. The quality was extremely good. Thousands visited the exhibits during the three days and the alumni home-coming crowd showed an unusual interest in the displays. The following exhibited from Centre county: J. A. Robinson, Spring Mills; F. G. Heckler, State College; E. A. Webster, Boalsburg; L. A. Robins, Bellefonte; H. E. Hennigh, Spring Mills, and J. W. Evans, Spring Mills.

Peggy Udell Again in the Spotlight.

Peggy Udell, the former Zeigfield Follies girl, who in January, 1922, created somewhat of a sensation by eloping to Elktion, Md., with Jack Montgomery, of Bellefonte, but who of late has been registered as a film actress at the F. B. O. studios, in Hollywood, jumped into the spotlight with both feet, last Thursday, when she brought suit against the general manager, B. F. Fineman, for $501,500 on the charge of two attempts at criminal assault and one of false imprisonment. In the statement Peggy asks $100,000 actual damages and $100,000 exemplary damages on the attack charge; $150,000 actual damages for alleged false imprisonment, $100,000 exemplary damages on this charge; $50,000 for "loss of earning capacity;" $1,000 for counsel fees growing out of the false imprisonment charge, and $500 for medical service.

Following the alluring Peggy's escapade with Jack Montgomery that young man brought action for the annulment of the nuptial ceremony on the grounds of intoxication, and later the Follies enchantress spent a few days in Bellefonte in an endeavor to find out how much her youthful husband was worth in dollars and cents. The marriage was finally annulled at a heavy expense to Mr. Montgomery's mother. Later Peggy remarried but eventually drifted into the movies.

Another Escaped Prisoner Recaptured

James Stanley Lee, one of the five prisoners who escaped from the Rockview penitentiary on Sunday night, July 5th, was recaptured in a rooming house in Philadelphia on Tuesday. The other four men were all recaptured and are now doing time in the western penitentiary at Pittsburgh.

Lee was originally sent to the eastern penitentiary from Philadelphia county for two and a half to five years for stealing automobiles. He was transferred from the eastern penitentiary to Rockview and had served but six months of his sentence when he escaped. Of late he had been working in an automobile body manufacturing plant in Philadelphia and officers located him through the visits of his wife and six month's old baby. Under the law Lee is due to receive an additional sentence equal to his original one when he faces Judge Dale in the Centre county court, which will likely be within a few days.

A Pennsylvania railroad company surveying corps, which has been at work on the principal streets of Bellefonte most of the week, has caused all kinds of curiosity and speculation as to the purpose of the work. One guess was that the company is contemplating the establishment of a bus line but we have it on pretty reliable authority that there isn't the least foundation for this guess. Another one was the establishment of a station up town, but this is also ridiculous. The survey is being made on orders from the head offices in Philadelphia and is probably of only minor importance so far as the residents of Bellefonte are concerned. As one guess is as good as another we might venture ours as the desire for an up-to-date topographical map of the business section of the town.

The fifth of the winter series of bridge games between the women of Lock Haven and Bellefonte will be played at the Brockerhoff house, Friday of next week, with Bellefonte four hundred in the lead.

High School Wins.

Playing a steady, conservative game, B. H. S. triumphed over Juniata High on the latter's field last Saturday by a 10-0 score. A touchdown by Waite, a field goal and point after touchdown, both by Bower spelled the margin of victory. The score is not really indicative of the difference between the teams, for the ball was in enemy territory most of the game. Several opportunities to score were neglected by the local boys due to the fact that they were not pushed hard enough to rouse their real fighting spirit. They were content to take the game without rolling up a score. The work of Garbrick, at half-back was a revelation. Twisting and squirming he gained constantly through the enemy's line. Mike Hazel played a remarkable game at end, stopping every play tried at his side of the line. The Red and White forwards were too strong for the Juniata line, as is made evident from the fact that they made only one first down during the game. Bower's punting kept the ball in enemy territory and his field goal was a work of art. The game itself was marked by the absence of any roughness or ill-feeling. Two penalties, one on each side, were inflicted for holding, both offenses being purely technical.

The visitors were agreeably surprised by the friendliness of the townspeople, a spirit never before encountered in any town in which they have played. All needs were anticipated and met to such an extent that one of the boys remarked, "They treated us so well that it's a shame we beat them."

William Kern, Moshannon Boy, Killed by Automobile on Monday.

While on his way home from school, on Monday afternoon, William Kern, almost six years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kern, of Moshannon, was knocked down and run over by an automobile driven by George R. Haynes, of Philipsburg, dying almost instantly. The boy was one of a party of five or six children traveling together. They had not gone far from the school house when they heard the approach of the automobile and all of them stepped to the side of the road. The Kern boy climbed up on the bank alongside of the road and just as the machine approached he ran down the bank and right out in front of the car.

It was impossible for Mr. Haynes to stop his car or turn out to avoid hitting the lad, who was knocked down and run over. The driver stopped as quickly as possible, lifted the boy into the machine and took him home. A physician was hastily summoned but the boy was dead. His skull was fractured and his face badly crushed. The lad was 5 years and 9 months old. Burial was made in St. Mark's cemetery, Snow Shoe, on Wednesday morning.

The same evening of the accident an inquest was held by Squire S. A. Robinson, of Snow Shoe, but after learning all the particulars the jury exonerated Mr. Haynes of all blame.

Contractor W. S. Williams and a gang of carpenters began work on Monday in making the alterations on the old Bush homestead, on Spring street, to conform to the ideas of the new owner, M. A. Landsy, of the Brockerhoff house. As stated in the "Watchman" at the time of the purchase of the property, the first floor will be converted into three flats and the second and third floor rooms fixed up for use to take care of the overflow of the Brockerhoff house. The first thing done on Monday morning was to tear away the big porch extending along the north side of the building. The porch along the front will be allowed to remain as it is, and a small porch will be put at a new entrance to be made to the flat on the north side. Of course the most decided changes at the present will be on the interior of the building, and when the work is completed, it will be a cosy home for families or transient guests.

Gilmore Force, of Pine Glen, Dies of Gunshot Wound.

Gilmore Force, sixteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Force, of Pine Glen, died in the Philipsburg hospital on Sunday as the result of a gunshot wound in the hip, sustained at the home of Charles Dixon, of Frenchville, on Saturday of last week. Young Force had gone to the Dixon home to trade a horse on an automobile. He was invited into the house and while there Mr. Dixon was showing him his gun. In some way the weapon was discharged the ball entering Force's hip. He was taken to the Philipsburg hospital where the leg was amputated, the young man dying a few hours later. Burial was made at Pine Glen.

On Saturday the Altoona Panthers, a football aggregation, came to Centre county to play a game with the team at Rockview penitentiary. The inmates at that institution proved real bear cats at the game, slaughtering the Panther by the score of 25 to 6.

Having been ill ever since his return from France, Joseph Ervin Borches died on November 11th. Mr. Borches will be remembered in Bellefonte, for it was here that he married Miss Mary Jackson, a sister of Mrs. W. F. Reeder.

With the three inch snow fall on Wednesday and thermometers down to eighteen degrees above zero yesterday morning it seemed much more like Christmas than Thanksgiving day.

Judge Dale Has Not Yet Appointed Receiver for Centre Co. Bank.

Up to late on Wednesday evening Judge Dale had made no appointment of a receiver or receivers for the Centre County bank. In fact up to this time the Judge has given no intimation as to whether he will appoint only one receiver or three, as petitioned for by a number of depositors.

Mrs. Frank E. Naginey has leased the apartment in the Cadillac building vacated by E. H. Mahaffey, an employee of Deitrich & Dunlap, who with his family have moved to Williamsport. The new Storck house on west Linn street will be occupied by A. C. Huyett, with the American Lime & Stone Co., who will bring his family here from Pittsburgh.

Yesterday was the coldest and most wintry looking Thanksgiving day we recall in many years. While it was clear and beautiful the ground was covered with two inches of snow and ice and at 7 o'clock in the morning thermometers registered as low as 18 degrees.

Quite a number of Bellefonte football fans journeyed to Johnstown yesterday morning to root for the Bellefonte High school team, while another delegation went out to Pittsburgh to watch the combat between the Nittany lion and the Pitt panther.

The home of O. J. Morgan, of west High street, is among those in Bellefonte at present under quarantine for chicken pox.

State Law Regulates Butchering by Farmers.

The State law regulating the slaughtering of animals for food purposes applies to the farmer who butchers for sale during the winter months the same as to the man who makes a year-round business of it. Misunderstanding of the application of the law to farmers is evident from reports reaching the Bureau of Animal Industry, State Department of Agriculture. In some cases, farmers bringing their butchered products to meat dealers in town have been told that, by the provisions of the law, dealers were not allowed to purchase farm slaughtered animals that were not inspected before sale.

The law does not require that carcasses resulting from farm butchering be inspected before sale, states Dr. T. E. Munce, State Veterinarian. The law does require, however, that the farm slaughtered animals be in healthy condition and then dressed and handled under clean and sanitary conditions. If the butchering is done under filthy conditions, the meat may be condemned as contaminated and the farmer subject to prosecution.

The principle which the State seeks to enforce at all times is that the occasional farm butcher, as other butchers, shall dress the animals in a clean place and protect the dressed meat from contamination until delivered to the retailer or consumer.

Punish the Election Crooks.

From the Scranton Republican. The investigation of the election frauds which attended the balloting for Mayor in Scranton should go to the heart of the series of crimes which threatens to overthrow the will of the majority as declared at the polls.
