PRESENTING THE BETTER CLASS PHOTOPLAY
Weeks-Ahead Program

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 19:

"SIMON, THE JESTER," starring EUGENE O'BRIEN and featuring LILLIAN RICH, assisted by Edmund Burns and Henry B. Walthall. An absorbing drama of human hearts, loves and lies, a tense story that carries one from the abodes of wealth in fashionable London to the Orient. Misunderstood lovers, shattered friendships, broken ideals, mystery, romance, tragedy, laughs, splendor and squalor. All the elemental human passions blended together in one of the most wholesome picture stories ever screened. Also, clever two reel Fox side-splitting comedy.

MONDAY, DECEMBER 21:

"THE MILLIONAIRE COWBOY," headed by the famous LEFTY FLYNN, inherited money, the wild son of a millionaire father, a deserted desert town, border bandits, a beautiful girl, kidnapping, a daring rescue, whirling action, beautiful romance, adventure, intrigue, revenge, all play their part in this picture. Also, Pathe News, Aesop's Fables and a single reel "Tolling for Rest."

TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 22 AND 23:

"WE MODERNS," sure as you live here they are with COLLEEN MOORE and that clever fellow, JACK MULHALL. Flashing, flying, soaring through the air like a winged bird of steel and aboard, the moderns, dancing, whirling to the tunes of a snappy Charleston. And then crash, bang, and a hundred humans jump overboard 10,000 feet to the earth. Fifty laughs for every tear. She'll make you laugh. Only Colleen Moore could do it. You've got an old-fashioned slant on things until you see "We Moderns." Also, Mack Sennett's latest laugh riot, "A Rainy Night."

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 24:

"LORD JIM," featuring PERCY MARMONT, NOAH BEERY and RAYMOND HATTON. A romantic drama of the East India seas and the jungle country in which a sailor ruled an outpost by a high sea's court, becomes a power among the savages of the natives, finding real love and at last peace. Here is a picture that is a credit to any theatre. Also, 8th chapter of the "WILD WEST" serial.

CHRISTMAS AND SATURDAY:

"A KISS FOR CINDERELLA," with BETTY BRONSON. Now if you are looking for a Christmas picture (that is a real one) here it is and we want to say that it is Paramount's Christmas gift to the world, and was made for the holiday showings only. This feature is in ten reels, and as we play Paramount pictures exclusively we were able to secure such a great holiday show.

MOOSE TEMPLE THEATRE.

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY, DECEMBER 18 AND 19:

TOM MIX in "RIDERS OF THE PURPLE SAGE." This is just another one of Mix's best pictures.

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY, DECEMBER 25 AND 26:

BUCK JONES in "THE DESERT'S PRICE." Buck comes through again with another one of his fast moving shows and it is bound to please all who take it in.

Christmas is a Delightful Festival—but it leaves some of us feeling poor. There is much expense attending its celebration, for we all find pleasure in giving.

Can we make it easier? Certainly, by putting aside a small sum every week.

PLEASANT GAP.

Ward Hile and wife left last Thursday for Detroit, Mich.

A Christmas cantata will be rendered in the M. E. church, December 24.

Clair Rimmey, of Olean, N. Y., spent a few days last week with his father.

It is reported that our streets will be illuminated with electric lights at an early day. The delay is becoming notorious.

Misses Helen Noll and Vera Hile spent the week-end at the Lock Haven Normal, with Miss Mary Hile, who is a student at that institution.

Harry E. McClincy expects to spend Christmas with his daughter, at Coraopolis, Pa. He will also spend a few days in Pittsburgh before returning home.

Miss Christine Weaver attended one of the up-to-date dances at State College, Saturday evening. She reports a large attendance and a most enjoyable time.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rimmey and son Keith, accompanied by Mrs. John Herman and Mrs. J. D. Herman, motored to Lewisport, Sunday last, and spent the day with the Harry Grove family.

Mr. Hoover's Sunday school class surprised him by giving him a Christmas party, presenting him with a silk umbrella. Billy says it's just what he needed, hence it was highly appreciated.

It is but reasonable to suppose that Whitelock is being rushed with orders, since they make the night hide-outs with their continuous blasting of limestone rock. It's no use of kicking about the interference of our nightly slumbers, since all are delighted with the prosperity that abounds in our community.

Our butcher, Joseph Lex, is all smiles again after a season of depression. He says the home butchering season will soon be a thing of the past, spare ribs, back-bone and other incidentals are fast disappearing, and it will be but a short time until the home butcher will again be in evidence serving his numerous patrons.

It is a bitter consciousness; none can tell how bitter but those to whom it has been given—when we are awakened from our long cherished confidence in the being we have devoutly loved, and know that from henceforth it may never be indulged in again. All those beautiful visions we so fondly gazed upon in youth, fade from our view, and the demon jealousy, takes possession of our minds and destroys that confidence and peace which can rarely, if ever, be recalled. Then let me implore you, as you value your earthly happiness and desire peace, banish from your mind this demon spirit, and cultivate it not, for it delights in human misery and endangers the peace of every family. Jealousy, of all the passions, is that which exacts the hardest service and pays the bitterest wages. Jealousy is the fiend of human happiness.

Despair is the name by which we express the extremity of mental depression, against which the mind fails for a period to react. Through this dreadful feeling no ray of hope, no sunbeam of joy breaks in upon the darkness of the soul. To one who has reached this state of utter despondency, life is no longer desirable; the charms of nature and art call forth no thrill of delight in the dark spirit, and the cheerful earth is a gloomy and barren wilderness. There are dark hours in the history of every human being, periods of despondency and gloom, when life seems without a solitary ray of brightness, and the future is shrouded in mist and melancholy. At such times the spirit is depressed, the soul within is involved in shadows, and it is in vain that we turn and endeavor to avoid the onerous thoughts that crowd upon the brain. They force themselves upon us, and all our efforts to shake off this feeling of despair of the moment, are idle and fruitless. Unpleasant thoughts oppress themselves upon us, and a mysterious feeling passes like a cloud over the spirit.

BOALSBURG.

W. A. Rocky is driving a new Chrysler sedan.

Mrs. William Stover is suffering from an attack of erysipelas.

George E. Meyer, accompanied by his guest, Samuel Meyer, and S. E. Weber, motored to Huntingdon on Tuesday.

Mrs. Caroline Geary returned to her home in Centre Hall, on Sunday, after a visit of several weeks with her sister, Mrs. William Meyer.

Mrs. H. K. Hoy, who spent the summer with her daughter, Mrs. W. J. Wagner, went to Bellefonte on Thursday to spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Clayton Royer, and her sons.

The Lutheran Sunday school will hold their Christmas service on Christmas eve, and the Reformed Sunday school on Christmas evening. There will also be community singing on the Diamond, Christmas eve.

OAK HALL.

Mr. and Mrs. John Korman and son, of State College, spent Sunday at the Mrs. Eva Korman home.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rishel and children, of Mill Brook, were recent callers at the N. J. Rishel home.

Mr. and Mrs. David Gilliland and children, and Misses Eliza and Alice Gilliland were Sunday guests at the Joseph Alexander home, at Unionville.

Among those who took dinner at the Edward Zong home on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. George Lohr and family, of Penn Hall; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Frazier, of Linden Hall, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Zong, of Pleasant Gap.

AARONSBURG.

John Bright and Harry Crouse, both of Akron, Ohio, have returned home after about ten days hunting.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mingle and small son James, of Colburn, and Mrs. I. P. Adams and son William, of Millheim, were Sunday guests at the E. G. Mingle home.

Mrs. Jacob Harter, who for the past two weeks has been quite ill and under the doctor's care, is slowly recovering. Abraham King, who has for some time been with his son, A. S. King, has also been ill, but is slowly improving. Though able to be about the house he has suffered a great deal from the effects of rheumatism.

Sunday evening Rev. Mr. Keener, of Centre Hall, filled the pulpit in the Reformed church in this place, at which time an election was held to decide whether or not to extend a call to Rev. G. H. Fred Greising, of Chicago, Pa. The vote at this appointment was unanimous, which we trust may have been the result at the other appointments and that Rev. M. Greising may see fit to accept the call, as the charge has been without a pastor for more than a year, and a pastor should be on the field.

RUNVILLE.

John Furl attended State Grange at Johnstown, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Orvis Lucas, of Yarnell, spent the week-end at the home of William Walker.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Walker and daughter, of Williamsport, spent Sunday at the home of James McClincy.

Mrs. Mary Heaton came home Sunday, after spending five weeks with her sister, Mrs. E. R. Lucas, at Altoona.

Mrs. George Wilson, of Tyrone, was called to this place on Saturday to help care for her mother, Mrs. James Watson, who is very ill with pneumonia.

Those who called at the home of L. J. Heaton, on Sunday afternoon, were Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Lucas, Mrs. John Hite and Mr. and Mrs. William Williams, of Altoona; Mr. and Mrs. Orin Brooks and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brooks and daughter, of Pleasant Gap, and Frank Loeb, of Kettle Creek.

The Fastest Antelope.

The black buck, the commonest antelope in India, is also the fastest. Indeed Mr. A. A. Dunbar Brander, in his book Wild Animals in Central India, declares that the black buck is the fastest animal in the world.

Although the black buck can be stalked and rushed over a short distance by a hunting leopard, says Mr. Brander, it soon draws away and the leopard abandons the chase. Moreover, the black buck can keep up his pace indefinitely. The value of a flying start is well known in racing, and to what extent that advantage serves the cheetah, or hunting leopard, I cannot say. If it were possible to start both animals together, after the first hundred yards or so it would only be a question of by how much the buck was leading.

Gasoline Demand.

Ones year's consumption of gasoline in China would not run the automobiles of the United States eight hours.

In this country the per capita consumption of gasoline is 69.3 gallons a year; England, in second place, used 11.6 gallons.

To supply the demand American production of gasoline was increased from 1,700,000,000 gallons in 1914 to 9,000,000,000 gallons in 1924. The United States accounted for 79 per cent. of the world's consumption last year, while at the same time exporting $160,000,000 worth of the commodity.

There is a daintily designed, small percolator, especially appropriate for small families, with a five-cup capacity; then there is a household size, with a six-cup capacity. A very popular percolator of Colonial design is fitted up with a faucet and provides coffee service beyond the capacity of small size pots. An artistically designed paneled Grecian art percolator lends a touch of distinction to almost any social function. Inside it is silver-plated and it has a nine-cup capacity.

Some of the smaller chairs make useful and beautiful gifts; arm Windsor, ladder backs, the smaller overstuffs, the wicker chair. And in the light of furniture, we may consider the good-looking screen, which may be home-covered, the floor reading light, the lamp, mirrors, sconces and scrap baskets of style, all of which may be given at Christmas time.

Why a Chinaman is Inexact.

If there is any single trait in Chinese character that overshadows all others, it is that of inexactness. A Chinaman, writes Mr. N. O. Winter in Travel, will refuse to admit that two and two are four. He will decline to assent that white is white. If distance is given in miles, you must first ascertain whether a long or short mile is intended. If you purchase so many pounds of goods, you must inform yourself whether pound of twelve or sixteen ounces are intended. When the deception is discovered the merchant betrays neither resentment nor contrition. He smiles blandly and dismisses the incident with the remark that you are cleverer than he is.

You may meet a Chinaman some morning in Hongkong, a man whom you know very well, and casually remark: "Where were you yesterday, Li?"

"Why, I was in Foochow," he will reply.

"That is impossible, Li, for then you could not be here today. The distance is too great."

"Yes, that is so," he says in no way embarrassed. "I was in Amoy."

"Now Li, you know that is not true. It would take you two days to reach here from Amoy, and besides I saw you in Canton."

"Yes, I was in Canton yesterday," he finally admits; "but why did you want to know where I was?"

He parries with you partly because he is suspicious of your motives. He hedges largely in the effort to ascertain why you are interested in his whereabouts. His movements should be of no consequence to you.

A Most Useful Gift.

A bedside candle, which is electric, with its own battery, after the fashion of flashlights. It is neatly compact and attractively finished. And will be most convenient for the home which doesn't have electricity, for there is scarcely a night when one doesn't flash on and off the bedside light.

One may see in the narrow drop leaf table a delightful substitute for the usual serving table in the dining-room, another in the commodious gategale in lieu of the extension table, the long and narrow box table replacing the stereotyped buffet, and the console table in all its various forms replacing almost anything at all. There are so many odd pieces of furniture made today which are most wonderful copies of the classics of days gone by that we may fairly luxuriate in originality if we will, and particularly all sorts of tables.

A Floral Gift.

Artificial grasses form a charming bouquet and are particularly pretty if put into one of the blue lustre bud vases.

There was once a woman who did not want furs for a Christmas gift. But she has been dead a long long time and there never was another like her before or since.

MEDICAL.

All Out of Sorts?

So Was This Bellefonte Woman Who Tells Her Experience.

All too often women accept their pains and aches as natural to their sex. They fail to realize that weak kidneys are often to blame for that backache, those headaches, dizzy spells and that tired, depressed feeling. Thousands have found new health and strength by helping the weakened kidneys with Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic. This Bellefonte case is one of many.

Mrs. J. O. Clark, Willowbank St., says: "My kidneys were in bad condition and a bearing-down pain in the small of my back made housework a burden and I could hardly move without misery. When I did any washing or ironing, the dragging ache across my kidneys became worse. My kidneys were sluggish, too, and finally I became tired and had to drag around as best I could. I used three boxes of Doan's Pills and they brought relief."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mrs. Clark had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. 70-50
