

WRITER NO FRIEND OF HOUSEHOLD PET

One Might Almost Think He Doesn't Like Cats.

Of all the impostors who sponge up on the kindness and forbearance of humanity, the cat is the only one that has no single redeeming feature, writes Nell Bell in the London Mail.

How long ago the cat came in from the wild to man's fireside no man may now even hazard a guess; but the only sure thing about that invasion is that the cat slunk in to serve its own selfish ends.

In the makeup of this sponging and hypocritical egotist is no particle of gratitude, of affection, of faithfulness of pluck, or of honesty.

You may lavish love on one of these beasts, give it the best of fare, the easiest chair, the warmest corner of the hearth, put up with its contemptuous stare, its mincing gait and its evil temper for ten years; and then if you fall on hard times, this creature of mere appetite will leave you for the hand of any stranger that offers it food. Rats will indeed leave a sinking ship. The cat quits it at first sign of a leak.

The loving hand that has fed and cared for one of these cringing gluttons for a dozen years is no more sacred to it than the muzzle of a curious pup. It will turn and rend either with an equal abandon and seat at the slightest threat to its comfort.

The fact that cats were once worshipped in Egypt seems somehow to have become a racial memory with these animals. The haughty and insolent stare of a cat in possession of the best chair would provoke an angel to slaughter. A cat would not give up its seat to dying man; it would rob a sick child of its milk.

History is full of the noble deeds of dogs, of horses, of lions, of elephants—in fact, of most of the animals of the world. You may search the pages of history in vain for one instance of nobility, of faithfulness, or even affection to put to the credit of the cat.

George Wither, the Elizabethan poet, wrote "Hang sorrow; care will kill a cat." But, of course, the point is, as the genial Wither very well knew, cats don't care.

The really curious thing about the whole business is that people in their hearts are only too conscious of the cat's unloveliness; the most opprobrious thing one can say about another person is, "What a cat!"

Reports Eskimos Dying Out

Dr. D. E. Scott, who recently returned from Edmonton, Alberta, after one year at Akilvik, in the delta of the Mackenzie river, predicted that not many years would elapse before the Eskimos would be exterminated by disease through adopting white men's ways of living. Eskimos and Indians of the delta are suffering from intestinal parasitic attacks, due to eating raw fish, rabbits and other meats, said the doctor, but these are not so serious a problem as cancer and appendicitis, which are becoming prevalent. Since the Eskimos have been living in cabins and shacks instead of snow houses, as in the old days, tuberculosis has ravaged them. Ninety per cent of the delta people had symptoms of tuberculosis, he asserted.

Noble Koreans Paupers

The Korean nobility, with the exception of a few propertied peers, is reported to be suffering from extreme poverty. Several of the nobles, who were once wealthy, are now working as cart pullers and performing other menial tasks as the only means of escaping starvation. At the time of the annexation of Korea to Japan, about sixty of the leading Koreans were created peers and received property from the Japanese government. Most of them ran through their property rapidly. Recently 80 of the impoverished Korean nobles sent a petition to the Japanese government asking for financial assistance.

Acquitted

Bill Austin, star clarinetist with the Zilks' orchestra at the Catalina (Cal.) convention, decided he'd take up the saxophone. He thought he was doing fine until some of the neighbors came in and protested.

"For heaven's sake stick to your clarinet; that sax is no good. They must have sold you a lemon!" "That must be it!" exclaimed BILL. "I thought it was my fault, but if the sax is a lemon, no wonder the notes are sour."

May "Fingerprint" Babies

An increase in the number of deserted babies in Ireland prompted the union commissioners to order that finger prints be taken of babies under three months of age who are discharged from the maternity hospital of Bellefontaine. The action was inspired by a letter from Miss Duggan, a woman barrister, who pointed out that such a scheme would aid the police in discovering the mother or foster mother of a deserted child.

Greater Church Comfort

Some of the Lutheran churches of the country, in an effort to increase the summer attendance at church and Sabbath schools, are urging the adoption and installation of ice-cooled ventilation systems to compete with heaters which have adopted that modern comfort as a means of drawing the crowds.

PRESENTING THE BETTER CLASS PHOTOPLAY
Weeks-Ahead Program

SATURDAY, JANUARY 16:
THE ISLE OF HOPE, featuring RICHARD TALMADGE and HELEN FERGUSON. A surly captain and a mutinous crew plowing down the treacherous lanes of the South Seas with a strange old map to guide them to a pirate cache. Aboard the vessel a girl, a boy, a negro cook and a Chinaman helper. What a crew! And they are cast upon a desert island into the most laughable and thrilling set of situations you ever saw. Also, a good two reel gloom chaser, A Rainy Knight.

MONDAY, JANUARY 18:
THE PRAIRIE PIRATE, headed by HARRY CAREY. Fighting against odds to avenge his sister and defend the honor of the girl he loves; face to face with the villain he sought, and in his power. A story of a daring ranger who turned bandit, who became the hated and dreaded Yellow Seal for love and revenge. Also, Pathe News, Aesop's Fables and a single reel comedy, OLL VIRGINIA.

TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 19 AND 20:
THAT ROYAL GIRL, another one of the world's greatest director D. W. Griffith's creations, featuring Carol Dempster and none other than W. C. Fields and Harrison Ford. A great story. The finest Griffith has had in years. Melodramatic, heart-throbbing, flashing, funny, pathetic and gripping. A story of a daughter of today from the Cosmopolitan Magazine story. We find her in every city. Her dress is always snappy. She knows the wisest boys, the newest dance steps. You think she is shallow. We guarantee it to give 100 per cent satisfaction. Also Mack Sennett's latest scream, The Uneasy Three.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 21:
A WOMAN OF THE WORLD, featuring POLA NEGRI and CHARLES EMMETT MACK. A searching satire of American morals. For the first time in her career Pola appears in an American romance that is a mixture of emotional thrill, spirited drama and rollicking humor. How could you miss it? Also, Pathe News and Pathe Review.

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY, JANUARY 22 AND 23:
BLUEBEARD'S SEVEN WIVES, headed by BLANCHE SWEET, LOIS WILSON and BEN LYON. Because he looked like a sliker they tried to give him seven wives, but when a fellow's got one sweetheart and he loves her, and she loves him, you can't interest him in seven wives, no matter whose wives they are. And you know it, brother. Every man with one wife should see Bluebeard's Seven Wives. Just try and keep from screaming. Also, Friday night the second chapter of THE GREEN ARCHER, and Saturday night 2 reel comedy, East Side, West Side.

MOOSE TEMPLE THEATRE.
FRIDAY AND SATURDAY, JANUARY 16 AND 17:
MADAM BEHAVE, with ANNE PENNINGTON and JULIA ELTINGE, in a rip-roaring comedy drama. Also Swastika, the master mind of two continents.

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY, JANUARY 22 AND 23:
THE GREAT DIVIDE, featuring ALICE TERRY, CONWAY TEEBLE and WALLACE BERRY. They don't come any better.
