

PINE GROVE MENTIONS.

W. R. Port is housed up with a bad cold.

C. B. Stevens spent Sunday with friends in Millinburg.

John Shoop, our new R. F. D. man, is now driving a new Star sedan.

Mrs. Anna Sheffer, of Hanover, is visiting Miss Lavon Ferree, at Oak Hall.

Mrs. Clara Carver spent Thursday with her aunt, Mrs. Houser, at State College.

Prof. Samuel C. Miller, of Chester, is spending a few days with his father, D. W. Miller.

Alf Walker and family spent Sunday with the Kearney Walker family, at Houseville.

Harry N. Musser, of State College, spent Tuesday in town looking up his share of the automobile trade.

Regular preaching services will be held in the Presbyterian church at 7:30 o'clock on Sunday evening.

The members of Pennsylvania Lodge of Odd Fellows will hold their annual banquet on the evening of March 5th.

H. C. Witmer is steering a new Auburn roadster, and Charles Isenberg has driven in a new King Six.

Walter O'Bryan and mother motored to Sunnyside, on Tuesday, and spent the day at the H. C. Witmer home.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard H. Goss motored over from State College and spent Tuesday at the Sallie Barr home.

Last Thursday's snow fall was responsible for the roads drifting shut again, but most of them were opened by Saturday.

J. C. Steel and Vera Gearhart went to Philadelphia, on Monday, to drive home a new ten ton truck for the Shoemaker Bros.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lonebarger, D. W. Meyers and Mrs. Zerby attended the Charles Stamm funeral, in Altoona, on Monday.

While on his way to Tusseyville to visit his mother, Will Wagner, of Juniata, spent a brief time with friends hereabouts.

The Senior class of the Bellwood High school gave a very good rendition of "Deacon Dubbs," in this place last Saturday evening.

The personal effects of the late Mrs. Mary Brouse brought $218.80 at public sale on Saturday. The real estate was purchased by Prof. S. C. Miller for $2400.

Frank Mattem will quit the Wilson farm in the spring and flit to Blair county. Thomas Wilson will have charge of the old farm homestead during the coming year.

Ed Rossman, our up-to-date garage man, went to Cleveland, Ohio, on Monday, for some hurry up repairs for one of the big busses operating between State College and Tyrone.

After twenty days of private life Sergt. George Taylor re-enlisted as a member of the Boal Troop. For some time past he has had charge of the camp and also been stable boss.

George Homan will have public sale in March and quit the farm. It is reported that he will go into the grain and coal business at Oak Hall. Hugh Runkle will succeed him on the farm.

Dr. Stork left another little boy at the A. C. Kepler home on Tuesday morning. It has been christened Conrad for short. The family now consists of two sons and two daughters.

Rev. David Y. Brouse came up from Mount Union to look after the sale of his late mother's property on Saturday, he being executor of the estate. Rev. Brouse is quite a busy man these days, being at the head of the erection of a $250,000 church at Mount Union, which he hopes to have completed by June 1st.

AARONSBURG.

Mrs. W. H. Phillips and Mrs. Annie M. Stover are having radios installed which will help pass many lonely hours.

Miss Wiley, after being absent on account of illness, has returned and resumed her teaching in the primary school.

Mrs. Arbor Cunningham and Mrs. E. R. Wolfe, of Rebersburg, spent Wednesday of last week among relatives in this place.

Wednesday, the 10th inst., Mrs. Cyrus Bower and Mrs. Doyle Best were hostess at a merry quilting. Mrs. Best is the only daughter of Mrs. Bower and was recently married and expects to begin housekeeping soon, hence the party. Mrs. Bower served one of her famous delicious dinners to which the following ladies did full justice: Mrs. M. M. Bower, Mrs. Harry Bame and Mrs. Harry Bower, Mrs. A. A. Stover, Mrs. W. H. Phillips, Mrs. E. G. Mingle, Mrs. G. S. Cunningham and Miss June Hull.

Those on the sick list are postmaster H. D. Krape, who was unfortunate to have a bad fall about two weeks ago and which one week later caused him to become very ill. He is improving and his many friends hope soon to see him about his regular duties as usual. Benj. Stover was also taken ill suddenly on Friday and has been confined to bed since, suffering more pain. However he is on a fine way to recovery. Mrs. Jacob Hunter was taken ill Saturday night. She is able to move about by her daughters leading her. She is somewhat improved and we trust may recover. Thelma Rupp, the young daughter of Walter Rupp, was the victim of a serious coasting accident which though bad enough was after all possibly fortunate. She is getting along as well as can be expected and trust she may fully recover.

Saturday the 13th inst., the grim reaper entered the home of the Rev. A. J. Irey, in Danville, and carried with him the soul of the saintly head of the house, the Rev. Mr. Irey. Some weeks ago while he and Mrs. Irey were living in the old home in this place, he was called to supply the church in Northumberland, and it was while there he was taken very ill and moved to the family home in Danville. He never rallied and death came as a release from great suffering. More than a year ago he retired from the active ministry, having last served as pastor of the Baptist church in Danville. While in this village he made many warm friends who feel sad at his passing out, but by and by there will be a blessed reunion with those waiting just beside the gate. Mrs. Irey, one son, Phillip, of Chicago, Ill., and one daughter, Mrs. Reese, of Danville, survive. Burial on Tuesday in Danville.

Chronicler Tells of Naming of Diogenes.

"I don't know what to name that child," sighed an Athenian lady one day to her husband, as she rolled up a pair of sandals she had been embroidering for herself.

She was a pretty woman with a Greek profile. She wore a set of walls of Troy around her waist, which fell dangling around her toga (rock).

"Why don't you name him after me?" inquired her husband, a mild little fellow with a bald head and a habit of flapping one ear as he talked.

"Huh!" sniffed his wife. "I shall name him after somebody." Just as if her husband was nil, nothing, you know.

The woman called the child to her. Suddenly she had a thought. "Let's name him Alpha. It means 'first,' you know," she explained.

"Don't talk Greek to me," sneered her husband. "What's the matter with Omega, meaning 'last'?"

With a derisive laugh the woman beckoned the nameless child.

The baby walked unsteadily over the floor. First he lopped over toward his father, but just as he reached his father's knee he would lurch on without touching him. When he tottered over toward his mother, who was about to grasp him, he dodged her knees, too.

"This is funny," laughed the mother. "Isn't it?" roared the father, and they both called the child; first one, then the other; then vice versa, just to see him dodge their knees.

"I know," cried the Athenian lady, suddenly jumping up and knocking over the child. "Let's call him Dodgeknees!" which in the Greek is spelled "Diogenes."

Seeing the wisdom of her choice, the little mild husband handed it to her and so I was.—Detroit Free Press.

Novel Dinner Gown

The tropics have a fascination all their own. They would be irresistible were it not that the hum of the mosquito, like the trail of the serpent, is over it all.

At the first dinner party that Dorothy Dix attended in Singapore, she tells us in "My Trip Around the World," a servant handed her a white pillow-case-looking affair. I had no idea, she says, what it was for, and I waited for my hostess' lead. She proceeded calmly to slip her feet into it and draw the strings about her knees. It was to protect her feet and ankles from the mosquitoes, and she said that later in the season mosquito bags were just as much provided for guests as napkins, unless one furnished each guest with a lamp, which was set before his or her feet as they sat on the veranda or at the table. For mosquitoes prefer darkness to light.

And at that, the mosquitoes in Singapore are no worse than they are in many parts of America; so I pass this tip on to my fellow countrymen and women.—Youth's Companion.

Assassin's Kin in Need

Being brother of an assassin is not generally regarded as a claim to public benevolence, but a newspaper correspondent has received a letter written in faultless Croat from one who craves alms on such a ground. He is, in fact, brother of the most important assassin since Brutus, in his influence on the history of the world. Jova Princip is now virtually an exile in Sussak, just across the ditch from Italian Flume. He does not like the present Yugo-Slav government, and the government heartily reciprocates. So he suggests that all who have money to spare show their gratitude toward the brother of the man who touched off the World War, Gavril Princip, assassin of the Austrian heir apparent.

Too Blind

Dr. Cornelius Guritt, of the Society of German Architects, said as he embarked for home on the Thurlingia:

"The German people have awakened. Blind obedience was their trouble in the past.

"Hans," said a German school teacher, 'supposing now, Hans, a tiger was to come at you to eat you up—what would you do?'"

"Nothing, teacher," said little Hans quietly.

"What? Nothing? Wouldn't you even scream for help?'"

"Oh, no, teacher."

"My goodness, Hans, why not?'"

"Because, teacher, my papa says I mustn't never talk at meal times."

Early Rising Duke

The duke of Wellington was a very early riser. His early habit of punctuality is pleasingly illustrated in the following anecdote: "I will take care to be present at five tomorrow morning," said the engineer of New London bridge, in acceptance of the duke's request that he would meet him at that hour. "Say a quarter before five," replied the duke, with a quiet smile. "I owe all I have achieved to being ready a quarter of an hour before it was deemed necessary to be so, and I learned that lesson when I was a boy."

Scenic Theatre
PRESENTING THE BETTER CLASS PHOTOPLAY
Weeks-Ahead Program

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 20:
"THE ROAD TO GLORY," with MAY McAVOY and LESLIE FENTON. The romance of a girl who went blind and regained her sight. The story of a seed-mad girl and the bitter road she followed before finding her real self and happiness. The automobile accident and the storm scene is one great thrill. Also, 2 reel Fox comedy, "ELSIE IN NEW YORK."

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 22:
"STEEL PREFERRED," featuring VERA REYNOLDS WILLIAM BOYD and CHARLES MURRAY. A wonderful film, showing the interior of a great steel mill at night, with its tongues of flame and myriad sparks, reminding you of Dante's Inferno, the panting locomotive plunging to destruction and releasing death in the form of tons of molten steel. Here is a real drama absolutely new to the screen and for Monday only. Also, Pathe News, Aesop's Fables and a single reel Pathe Comedy.

TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 23 AND 24:
"THE RECKLESS LADY," featuring BELLE BENNETT and JAMES KIRKWOOD. Reckless? She was a mother whose first gamble and loss was love. Then for fifteen years she gambles for money that kept her child, and when the man who had admired her loved her daughter instead, the Reckless Lady made her last great gamble against the fate that enmeshed the girl. And at fate she cried, "I'll see you!" Where but in Monte Carlo could such a tale be set? Also Mack Sennett's first run 2 reel serial, "ISN'T LOVE CUCCOO?"

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 25:
"WAGES FOR WIVES," headed by JACQUELINE LOGAN and CREIGHTON HALE. Taken from John Golden's stage success, Chicken Feed." Now here is the question, "Should wives have wages just like anyone else—or should they be content with whatever their husbands see fit to give them for household expenses each week?" Well, when you see the answer to the question I know you will shake with laughter for it is one glorious side-splitting comedy. Also Pathe News and Review.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 26:
"PALACE OF PLEASURE," starring BETTY COMPTON and EDMUND LOWE. Never has there been a more colorful personality in history than Lola Montez, at whose bidding political destinies of Europe were moulded, during the action taking place in the home of the head of the British Secret Service. An exceptionally fine 10-piece orchestra will play with this picture. Matinee at the Scenic each day at 2:30 p. m. Admission for all showings—Children, 25c. Adults, 50c. Under the auspices of the Brooks-Doll Post of the American Legion.

MOOSE TEMPLE THEATRE.

TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 23 AND 24:
"3 FACES EAST," with JETTA GOUDAL, ROBERT AMES, HENRY B. WALTHALL and OLIVE BROOK. Here is a picture that will keep you on the edge of your chair from the time it starts until the finish. Spy activities during the great war furnish the plot of this wonderful picture, with most of the action taking place in the home of the head of the British Secret Service. An exceptionally fine 10-piece orchestra will play with this picture. Matinee at the Scenic each day at 2:30 p. m. Admission for all showings—Children, 25c. Adults, 50c. Under the auspices of the Brooks-Doll Post of the American Legion.

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 26 AND 27:
"MANNEQUIN." This is the Liberty Magazine $50,000 Prize Winning story. A beautiful cloak model striving for love and happiness but snared in the jazz pitfalls of a great city. See her heart-gripping story revealed on the screen by the master director, James Cruze.
