William H. Brown to Manage Centre County Hospital.

At a special meeting of the board of directors of the Centre County hospital, held on Tuesday evening, William H. Brown, former recorder of Centre county, was elected business manager of the institution.

The creation and filling of the new position is altogether experimental. It is to be tried for a year and, if then found to be advantageous to the institution, it will be continued.

As the new official has had no experience in this kind of work he will go to Johnstown for two weeks of study of the management of one of the larger institutions in that city. His salary for the year has been fixed at $1800.00. So far as we have been informed Mr. John Dubbs was also considered for the position.

Big Spring Garage to Expand.

Mrs. Odillie Mott owns two buildings on south Water street which she is anxious to sell to somebody just as they stand, the one proviso being that they must be removed from the ground on which they are located between the first and tenth of April. The buildings are the old blacksmith shop just south of the Big Spring garage and the house next in line and which is now accupied by Patsy Bathurst and family.

The ground is under a ninety-nine year's lease to the proprietors of the Big Spring garage, Jack and Earl Houck, and when the lease was executed it was with the understanding that the old buildings be removed at any time the garage proprietors desired the use of the land. That time has now arrived, hence the desire of Mrs. Mott to sell the buildings as they stand on condition that they be removed early in April. As soon as they get possession of the ground it is the intention of the up-to-date filling station and convert congesting the street at that point by cars stopping for a supply of gas and ious ways.

> No New Concrete Road Work in Cen- the following day. tre County This Year.

At the present time there is no new state road work in prospect for Centre county this year. Early in January the State Highway Department advertised for bids for the grading Curwensville they will go to Bradford to 9-1t and drainage of pratically five miles of roadway from Snow Shoe to the Moshannon creek, in Centre county, and from Moshannon creek to Kylertown, in Clearfield county, but before the date for the letting the advertisement was withdrawn and no bids for the work were opened. It is understood, however, that bids for this work will again be advertised for in the new future, but they will be limited to grading and drainage only. The entire stretch of roadway in that section is close to eight miles, running from Snow Shoe to near Kyiertown, and after it is graded and drained it will be stoned and put in good condition for travel by State highway employees, which will give an improved highway clear through from Bellefonte to Clearfield. Other improvements are contemplated on roads in the county, but so far as can now be will be under construction.

State College Planning for a Community Hotel.

Citizens of State College are interested in a proposal to build a fine new hotel in that place. The project was launched by the Hockenbury System Inc., of Harrisburg and has thus far met with such encouragement as to give promise of successful outcome.

The Hockenbury System have epecialized in Community hotel building; the Lycoming, in Williamsport, being their largest nearby project, and have built many hotels within recent years. They make the survey for location, design and equipment of the building, selecting three sites in the community from which the local committee later must chose the one to be used. Owners of the present hotel at State College having withdrawn their building and site as a possibility it is reasonably certain that the new structure, if built, will not be located on that

The plans, so far as known here, call for a building to cost about $150,000.-00, so designed as to permit of additional wings should demand warrant an addition to the fifty rooms contem-

Many of the town's forward citizens are on the committee that is considering the project. Among them are Hon. J. Laird Holmes, H. K. Hosteller, R. S. Webber, Claude G. Aikens, George, B. Jackson, H. A. Leitzell, E. J. Williams, Dr. E. C. Woodruff, Dr. E. L. Kidder, W. L. Foster, Dr. J. P. Ritenour, Phil D. Foster, Dr. Elton D. Walker, R. H. Smith and D. F. Kapp.

Perrine-Knisely .- Theodore G. Perrine, an employee of the State Highway Department in Bellefonte, and Miss Dorothy Knisely, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Knisely, were married in Lock Haven, last Saturday, by Rev. J. Merril Williams. They returned to Bellefonte on Monday and for the present will be quartered at the Garman house.

-Peculiar atmospheric conditions prevailed in Centre county on Monday morning. Out at Runville and throughout the Bald Eagle Valley, as well as down Nittany valley it was quite cold while in Bellefonte the morning was very springlike. Automobilists driving to Bellefonte from Bald Eagle Valley and also from down Nittany valley aver that about half a mile from Bellefonte they struck a warm current of air and the change was so pronounced that the windshield on the car clouded up like a heavy coating of frost and it was necessary to stop and clean the glass before the driver could proceed. Over in Brush valley it was crisply cold while another warm stretch prevailed in Pennsvalley where the water was running in little rivulets on the roads before nine o'clock.
