

Democratic Watchman

Bellefonte, Pa., March 5, 1926.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

Bellefonte had its first thunder storm of the season last Thursday evening. It was accompanied with vivid lightning.

Don't forget the bake sale of the American Legion Auxiliary at the Legion home on Howard street, Saturday, March 13th.

A fire at the Max Kalin property, on Logan street, last Saturday, called out the firemen but their services were not needed.

A marriage license was granted at Cumberland, Md., last Friday to Herbert Ray Robinson, of Tyrone, and Miss Ruth Helen Harris, of State College.

Ninety-two covers were laid for and annual banquet of the Ladies of the Eastern Star, which was served at the Brockerhoff house last Friday evening.

The Catholic Daughters of America will hold a St. Patrick card party above Lyon's store March 17th. You are cordially invited. Admission, 25 cents.

Among state highway appointments and promotions announced in Harrisburg, on Saturday, was that of Thomas H. Mensch, of Bellefonte, to the engineering forces.

The Brooks-Doll post of the American Legion cleared upwards of three hundred dollars through their moving picture, "Three Faces East," at the opera house last week.

The all day bridge game, between the women of Bellefonte and those of Lock Haven, played at the latter place Tuesday, resulted in a score of one hundred and thirteen, in favor of the visiting women.

On Tuesday evening E. C. Straub attempted to help a Bellefonte lady get out of the ditch with her automobile, and while exerting all his strength pushing on the machine he slipped and fell, tearing the ligaments in his side.

John D. Sourbeck was taken to the Bellefonte hospital Monday, with what was thought to be an attack of pneumonia. While a pronounced case of pneumonia has not as yet developed, Mr. Sourbeck's condition remains unchanged.

How many of our younger readers who are spared until 1976 will then be able to recall that on Thursday evening, February 18, 1926, we had quite a severe thunder storm, followed by twenty-four hours of about as variable weather as we have ever had.

Invitations have been received in Bellefonte, for the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Watson Furst, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Sanderson Furst, of Overbrook, and Joseph J. Klumpp, which will take place Wednesday, the seventh of April, in the Overbrook Presbyterian church. A reception at the Green Hill Farms hotel, will be given immediately after the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Klumpp will live at fifty-one Forrest Road, Wynnewood, Pennsylvania.

On Sunday, February 21st, the State College Cadet Band gave their first concert of the season, in the presence of a large and appreciative audience. The main feature on the programme was the awarding of the Penn State Seal to all those who had faithfully served in the band for three and one half years. Fourteen, out of the sixty-five members present, received these rewards, two of whom were Harold Wion and J. Henry Garbrick. Both of these young men received their first experience with the Bellefonte I. O. O. F. band.

Charles Saxion, one of the drivers for the Emerick Motor Bus company, was painfully burned on the left arm, last Thursday morning, in a peculiar manner. A gas tank on one of the buses had sprung a small leak and Saxion removed it from the bus without taking time to don old clothing and he recommended that a fund of two or three hundred dollars be set aside out of which to pay for the cleaning, pressing and repairing of any clothing soiled or damaged; the chairman of the Fire and Police committee and the chiefs of the two companies to have charge of the fund and direct any expenditure therefrom. A resolution was passed setting aside the sum of $300 for such purpose.

Mr. Badger reported that Louis Hill desired a grade for a curb and gutter along his garage property on east Bishop street and also a grade for a pavement on Wilson street. Referred to the Street committee and borough manager.

Extensive improvements are being made to the McClain block, Bellefonte, adjacent to the Watchman office. This block is a portion of the estate of the late Mrs. Louisa Bush and carpenters are now at work converting the second and third floors into comfortable and convenient apartments. A portion of both floors have been occupied by small families but neither floor has ever been properly laid out in apartments, and when this is done it will be a much more desirable place in which to live. Double doors are also being placed at the street entrance of the wide stairway leading to the upper floors, which, it is hoped, will put an end to that being an habitual loafing place, which has always been a detriment to the renting of apartments in the building. The block is on the market for sale at any time the managers of the Bush estate can get the price desired.

BOROUGH HAS RIGHT TO SELL SURPLUS WATER.

So Says Borough Solicitor N. B. Spangler in Opinion Rendered.

Burgess Hard P. Harris personally appeared before the borough council, at its regular meeting on Monday evening, and delivered to the chairman of the Fire and Police committee his check for $200 for fines and licenses collected during the first two months of 1926. The burgess also reported that one of the policemen is in need of a new uniform. Burgess Harris stated that salesmen for fireworks are making their rounds in Bellefonte and local merchants are undecided about investing owing to the uncertainty of a ban being placed on the sale of same at the Fourth of July season. The burgess stated that he believed in the celebration of Independence day by both young and old, but is in favor of restricting fireworks to the harmless kind. Council decided to leave the matter up to the burgess, as there is no ordinance governing the sale or restriction of fireworks.

At this stage in the proceedings the secretary read a rather lengthy opinion from borough solicitor N. B. Spangler in which he held that the borough has a legal right to dispose of the surplus water from the big spring to any individual desiring to purchase same. Mr. Spangler went back to the date of the original transfer of the spring from James Smith to John Harris, and its deed by the latter gentleman to the borough of Bellefonte, and following down to the present date gave it as his opinion that the borough has now legal possession of the spring, without any restrictions whatever, to do with as it may see fit.

Aside from presenting the opinion of the borough solicitor the Water committee had made no further investigations relative to Waiter C. Cohen's request for the privilege to sell the surplus water from the spring and they were instructed to get all details possible so as to be in shape to make a recommendation of some character.

The Street committee reported that most of the work during the past two weeks consisted of cleaning snow and ice from the streets.

The Water committee reported the collection of $76.95 on the 1924 water duplicate and $75.00 for old junk.

The Fire and Police committee, in reporting the fire at Kofman's coal yard on Saturday morning, took occasion to pay a tribute to Bellefonte firemen for their good work at the fire.

The Finance committee asked for the renewal of notes totaling $33,000, which was authorized.

A written communication was received from Nathan Kofman protesting against council granting the right to other property owners on south Thomas street to erect a retaining wall along his property in order to fill up the street. Mr. Kofman stated that it is his intention to erect houses on his property and the construction of a retaining wall will cause considerable damage to the land. In this connection the Street committee reported that they had inspected the street at the point where property owners desire to make the fill and that in their opinion a retaining wall is the only solution, but they have no information as to street or property lines or the borough's rights. They were instructed to consult the borough solicitor and report at next meeting.

Mr. Brouse reported that two weeks or more ago William Fishburn drove his car to the intersection of west High and Thomas streets and in attempting to turn around the car skidded on the ice and crashed into a stone at the corner of the pavement, causing damages of about $23, which he wants the borough to pay. Members of council did not acknowledge the borough's liability.

Mr. Cunningham stated to council that at almost every fire some of the firemen have their clothing soiled, and perhaps damaged, because of the fact that they always responded to an alarm without taking time to don old clothing and he recommended that a fund of two or three hundred dollars be set aside out of which to pay for the cleaning, pressing and repairing of any clothing soiled or damaged; the chairman of the Fire and Police committee and the chiefs of the two companies to have charge of the fund and direct any expenditure therefrom. A resolution was passed setting aside the sum of $300 for such purpose.

Mr. Badger reported that Louis Hill desired a grade for a curb and gutter along his garage property on east Bishop street and also a grade for a pavement on Wilson street. Referred to the Street committee and borough manager.

Bills to the amount of $1276.13 were approved for payment after which council adjourned.

A meeting of the executive committee of the West Susquehanna Classis of the Reformed church was held at Lewisburg, on Wednesday afternoon, to pass upon the credentials and admit to the Classis five ministers, three of whom have accepted calls to Centre county charges. They are Rev. G. A. Fred Griesing, who goes to Aaronsburg from Chicora, Pa.; Rev. O. T. Moyer, who goes to the Nittany Valley charge with a residence at Howard; and Rev. Robert Thelma, who came to Bellefonte as successor to Dr. A. M. Schmidt. At present there is not a vacant church within the bounds of the Classis.

New Litigation Threatens Another Hold-up in Bank Affairs.

A petition filed in the District Court of the United States for the Middle District of Pennsylvania, on February 23rd, may have the effect of dragging the whole mess again through the tedious and costly processes of the Federal courts.

It will be recalled that on petition the proceedings were taken out of the Federal courts last fall and soon thereafter Judge Dale named three receivers to take charge of the bank's affairs. There was some disappointment over the Court's selection of receivers, but the gentlemen went to work with a promptness and zeal that lent encouragement to the thought that at last real headway was being made toward winding up the tangled affairs without further unnecessary litigation. From what we have been able to gather the same spirit back of the petition to take the case out of the Federal courts and place it in our own county courts is now behind the move to peddle it back to the Federal court again.

The petition that threatens the new litigation is signed by George A. Beezer, Bellefonte, Geo. H. Yarnell, of Mingo, and Mrs. Josephine Grenoble, of Mingo. It prays that the Centre County Banking Company and all of the alleged partners, as partners and individually be adjudged bankrupts. It is made returnable at Scranton on Wednesday, March 10th, at which date those summoned must make answer.

The substance on which the petition rests is the averment that Judge Dale's appointment of receivers recognized an act of bankruptcy and thus paved the way for dragging the controversy back into the Federal courts, where it otherwise would have been impossible to have taken it again.

Just what view the District court will take of the petition of course is a mere matter of conjecture. Some lawyers are of the opinion that it has a good foundation in law. Others are of the opposite view. However, should the petition prevail there is every indication of another long drawn-out legal controversy.

John G. Love Jr., is the representative of record of the petitioners.

Exit Penn State Telephone Company.

Promptly on the stroke of twelve o'clock, Sunday midnight, a switch was thrown in the operating room of the Bell Telephone company of Pennsylvania which shut off forever the service of the Penn State Telephone company and automatically cut in on the Bell board all subscribers of the absorbed company. Every connection had been made and so far as known old Penn State subscribers who continued service with the Bell did not miss a call.

Three of the young women operators in the Penn State exchange have been given employment in the Bell exchange. They are Misses Kathryn McGowan, Ruth Howley and Sarah Love. As stated last week, the entire outside working force of the Penn State company has also been given jobs by the Bell Company.

The next step will be the removal of all Penn State telephones from private residences and places of business and the demolishing of the plant in Temple Court. This work will be done just as soon as possible, especially the clearing out of the rooms occupied by the Penn State exchange. These rooms have been leased by the Whitecroft Quarries and just as soon as they are vacated and can be put in shape Whitecroft officials will move there from their present offices in the Centre county bank building.

"Irene," with Colleen Moore and Lloyd Hughes, at the Scenic next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Matinees daily. 10-1t

With the Red Cross Public Health Nurse.

During the months of January and February, Miss Anna McCauley, Red Cross public health nurse, made 80 nursing care visits, 82 instruction or demonstration, 3 investigation, 10 miscellaneous, 32 visits to schools. She completed follow-up work in first, second and third grades of public and parochial schools; finished the medical inspection in the parochial school, begun by Dr. Rogers, including weighing and measuring eighty children; has given one day a week to a survey for the American Limestone, its object and needs of the employees, and spent one day visiting Whitecroft employees to which she will hereafter devote a day a month.

In the absence of Miss Edith Campbell, State nurse, who was called to Philadelphia by the illness of her father, Miss McCauley has held the weekly Well-Baby clinics, Wednesday afternoon, and had a special clinic last Friday afternoon for colored children of pre-school age.

The world's greatest fashion show, "Irene," done in natural colors, headed by Colleen Moore, at the Scenic next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. 10-1t

The board of control of the Central Pennsylvania District Firemen's Association met at Tyrone, last Thursday afternoon and decided on August 11th and 12th as the dates for the annual convention of the association which this year will be held at Tyrone.

HOWARD M. E. CHURCH REDEDICATED ON SUNDAY.

Sufficient Money Pledged to Pay Entire Cost of Remodeling.

Sunday was a big day for Methodists in Howard. The congregation of the church, which had been closed for some months while being remodeled throughout and now it has been so changed and beautified that it is to all purposes and intents a new house of worship, and, though the cost of the work exceeded twelve thousand dollars the indebtedness was over-subscribed at the meetings on Sunday.

The dedicatory services began with the meeting of the Sunday school at 9:30 o'clock on Sunday morning. It was an auspicious opening, as members of the school and visitors present numbered 165. Following music and prayer by W. C. Thompson a plate collection was taken up which yielded $36. The principal address to the Sunday school was made by Rev. M. C. Piper, of Milesburg.

Morning church services began at 10:30 o'clock, with Miss Vonda Johnson presiding at the organ. Following half an hour's service of song, scripture reading and prayer the morning sermon was delivered by Rev. George F. Boggs, D. D., of Renovo, who twenty-five years ago was the regular pastor on the Howard charge. The service closed with prayer by the pastor, Rev. A. R. Price.

Mr. M. C. Muffy, chairman of the building committee, submitted a report which showed that the entire cost of remodeling and refurnishing the church was $12,378.39. Of that amount $8,778.39 had been paid in leaving as a balance to be raised $3,600.

The afternoon services opened at 2:30 o'clock. Prayer was offered by Rev. Brumbaugh, of Mill Hall, after which Irvin Pletcher, of Howard, and Miss Grove, of Bellefonte, sang a duet, "Springtime of the Soul." Greetings were then read from former pastors and friends, including Rev. N. B. Smith, of Clearfield, who preached at Howard thirty-five years ago; from Bishop W. F. McDowell, of Washington, D. C.; Rev. Poulson, district evangelist; Mrs. Kate Shoemaker, a former pastor's wife; Rev. Steel, of Mapleton, and Rev. Rolin S. Taylor, of South Williamsport. The scripture lesson was read by Rev. Barton, of Muncy valley, after which the dedicatory sermon was delivered by Rev. Watkins, district superintendent, of Williamsport. This was followed with a vocal duet by Irvin Pletcher and John Baird, of Milesburg, after which the remodeled church was formally dedicated to the worship of God.

The opening musical portion of the evening services at 7 o'clock was furnished by a male quartette. Rev. M. S. Q. Mollotte, of South Williamsport, offered prayer. Rev. Barton and wife sang a duet, written by the pastor on his personal experiences and sang in public for the first time. A plate collection was then lifted after which Mrs. D. A. Holter sang a solo, "The Prophet King." Rev. N. B. Smith read the scripture lesson and following another solo by Irvin Pletcher the evening sermon was delivered by Dr. Watkins, substituting for Rev. J. W. Long, of Dickinson Seminary, who was unable to be present. Solicitation for money and pledges to cancel the debt yielded a little over one hundred dollars more than the amount needed and following a song of praise the benediction was pronounced by Dr. Watkins.

Among those present at Sunday's services were Mrs. A. M. Butler, who attended the corner stone laying fifty years ago; A. M. Butler and Burdine Butler, who hauled the stone from the mountain to build the foundation for the church; Mrs. Ella Smith, who was organist at the original dedication of the church; Miss Mary Holter, of Williamsport, and Mrs. Z. T. Weirick, the first members taken into the congregation after the church was built half a century ago; Mrs. Kate Lucas, Mrs. Clara Kline Hicks, widow of the late Rev. Owen Hicks, of Williamsport, who as a small girl sang at the original dedication of the church.

Fifty Dollars for the Return of a Dog.

In another column of this issue appears a small advertisement offering a reward of fifty dollars for the return of a young setter dog that strayed or was stolen from a family at State College on January 26 last. The animal is a year old. White with brown spots on head, hips and base of tail and one brown spot about the size of a half dollar on left side of top of head.

The family was greatly attached to the dog and have offered this rather unusual reward either for its return or for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who stole it—if it was stolen. Here is a chance to get fifty dollars pretty easily, if you happen to see a setter dog answering the description given.

Clyde W. Jackson, of State College, Granted a Pardon.

Clyde W. Jackson, of State College, who on September 26th, 1925, was sentenced by Judge Dale to serve from one to two years in the western penitentiary for intent to defraud by attempting to pass a forged check on a bank, has been granted a pardon by the board of pardons, as announced on Saturday.

NEWS PURELY PERSONAL.

Mrs. R. S. Brouse arrived home Sunday, after a two months visit with her daughter, Mrs. F. W. Topelt, in Brooklyn.

Van Jodon, superintendent of the Bellefonte Central railroad, was at Newville on Monday, attending the funeral and burial of the late F. H. Thomas.

Miss Ida Bell, of State College, who has been in Baltimore, a surgical patient at Johns-Hopkins hospital, is now slowly convalescing from her recent operation.

Miss Louise Carpeneto returned home Wednesday from the Clearfield hospital, where she had been for a month a surgical patient under the care of Dr. Waterworth.

Superintendent Earle C. Musser, of the Keystone Power corporation, spent the latter part of last week in Ridgway on business in connection with the corporation.

C. D. Cassbeer went out to Somerset, on Sunday, going from there to Philadelphia to purchase the stock for his new optical store which he will open about April 1st.

John McHugh, a son of J. C. and the late Mrs. Bessie Montgomery McHugh, of Pittsburgh, was in Bellefonte Monday, for an over-night visit with his aunt, Miss Emma Montgomery.

Mrs. H. J. Hartranft returned Monday from Hughesville, where she had been for a ten days visit with her mother, Mrs. Johnson, who has been ill since Christmas time, suffering from the result of a fall.

The Misses Henrietta and Mary Sebring went back to Smith College recently, having gone east for the college celebration of Washington's birthday, and for a visit with several of their school friends in that locality.

Mrs. Bruce S. Burlingame came to Bellefonte from Cazenovia, N. Y., a week ago, with plans for visiting here for a part of the month of March, with her mother, Mrs. Harry C. Valentine and the family, at their home on west Curtin street.

Miss Blanchard accompanied Mrs. A. Wilson Norris to Harrisburg this week where they will be at the Penn Harris until the tenth of the month. At that time, Mrs. Beach will join her sister to go on east to Philadelphia for a stay of several weeks.

Mrs. Randolph F. Glenn, of Briarly and her two sons, Dick and Don, spent several hours in Bellefonte Friday, on their way to Mrs. Glenn's former home in Williamsport, where they will be with the children's grandmother, during the month of March.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cohen and their two children, were here from New York during the week, for a visit with Mr. Cohen's brother, Walter Cohen and his family. Mr. Cohen was a former resident of Bellefonte, leaving here several years ago to return east to locate permanently.

Elliot Wynn left to return to Philadelphia last week, following a two weeks visit here with Mrs. Wynn, who has been in Bellefonte with her aunt, Mrs. E. H. Richard, for the greater part of the past two months. Both Mr. and Mrs. Wynn are now rapidly convalescing from a long illness.

Miss Ruth Hockenberry was here from State College, the afternoon of last week, having come down to be a guest at her nephew's birthday party, and to spend several days with the family. Miss Hockenberry is a daughter of Mrs. George Hockenberry, who with her family left Bellefonte several years ago to make their home at State College.

A. B. Cromer and his wife, Miss Eva Crissman Cromer, who were recently transferred from Norfolk, Va., to Jacksonville, Florida, by the James Stewart Contracting Co., with whom Mr. Cromer has been since leaving Bellefonte a number of years ago, are now contemplating going to Japan. If they decide to accept this offer made them by the company, they will leave for the Orient within a month to make their home in Tokio for three years, while Mr. Cromer has in charge some of Japan reconstruction work contracted for by the Stewart Co.

While in town on some business matters last Friday A. P. Wieland, of State College, dropped in at this office for a little chat. With him was his son Donald M. It seems that yesterday that he used to "do" the Granger picnic with Al and his gang and that he should now have a son who has graduated from State and already established himself in business. He is the Centre county representative of the Massachusetts Mutual Life Co. and we were delighted to learn that he is very much encouraged, with the business he has been writing.

A very unexpected though very welcome caller Tuesday morning was Clem Gramley, of Rebersburg. The unexpectedness of it was not because Clem is as uncompromising in his Republicanism as we are in our Democracy, but because we hadn't seen him for so long we had almost believed him dead. The truth of the matter is quite to the contrary. He was looking better than ever. Smiling and affable as usual, but growing fat because being postmaster of Rebersburg doesn't entail much strenuous work. He motored up, with some friends for his first visit here in over two years and inasmuch as he was nearly froze on arrival we presume his next visit will never be—if it is proposed in the winter.

When planning to spend an evening at the movies don't overlook the fact that the latest releases and most up-to-date pictures can be seen at the Scenic. Manager T. Clayton Brown has all the leading film manufacturers booked up for some time to come and his regular patrons are assured of big programs every evening in the week. The pictures and the wonderful music of that splendid pipe organ afford a most enjoyable evening's entertainment. Be a regular and see all the good ones.

John J. Regenold, the gentleman who will have charge of the new Fleisher store to be opened shortly in the Kalin building, on south Allegheny street, has rented the W. J. Emerick house on north Spring street, recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Haagen, and expects to move his family here within ten days or two weeks.

Nathan Kofman's Coal Shed Badly Damaged by Fire.

The coal shed of Nathan Kofman was badly damaged by fire, at two o'clock last Saturday morning, which also destroyed two of his largest coal trucks, about two car loads of waste paper and ruined a car load of cement. The flames were discovered about two o'clock and had then gained such headway that the entire southern portion of the shed was in flames. Both fire companies were quickly on the ground and did admirable work in confining the fire to the southern portion of the shed. But they could not save the warehouse in which the waste paper and cement were stored, or a small garage in which the two coal trucks were housed.

Naturally there is no definite knowledge as to the origin of the fire, though Mr. Kofman inclines to the belief that the place was set on fire by some person maliciously inclined. But when the fire was discovered the flames had already progressed so far that it was impossible to tell where the fire started. But it presented a very dangerous and threatening aspect until the firemen got into service. The flames shot high into the air and showers of sparks from the burning waste paper were carried over the southern portion of the town, even as far as the Diamond and up on Bishop street east of Allegheny. Fortunately they were only paper sparks and did not set fire to any building.

Mr. Kofman estimates that his loss over and above his insurance will be from six to seven thousand dollars. He carried eight or nine thousand dollars insurance on his buildings, two thousand on his trucks but nothing on the contents of the warehouse. As soon as his insurance is adjusted he will begin operations on rebuilding.

State Highway Dept. Offices to be Moved from Temple Court to Bush Arcade.

The dance hall on the third floor of the Bush Arcade, which has been ostracized as a place for tripping the light fantastic because it is not equipped with an auxiliary lighting system, is to be converted into a large suite of offices to be occupied by the State Highway Department. The department's present offices on the fourth floor of the Temple Court building are too small for the constantly increasing expansion of the office requirements, and the Bush Arcade hall is the best solution of the difficulty to be found in Bellefonte.

Work on converting the hall into offices suitable to the demands of the Highway Department will be begun within a few days and as soon as the work is completed the offices will be moved.

Hospital Auxiliary Report.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Centre County hospital was held in the W. C. T. U. room in Petriken hall on February 22nd, at which time officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, Miss Odillie A. Mott; first vice president, Miss Mary Blanchard; second vice president, Mrs. Eben Bower; secretary, Mrs. R. Russell Blair; treasurer, Mrs. W. J. Emerick.

The auxiliary dues received to date are as follows:

Bellefonte	$215.25
Millheim	42.25
Unionville	21.50
Howard	11.50
Aaronsburg	7.50
Spring Mills	7.00

There are five towns yet to be heard from. The returns from the card party at the Elks home amounted to $79.00.

The following articles were given to the hospital during the months of January and February of this year: 18 baby dresses, 18 bed shirts, 1 blanket, 44 wash cloths, 4 jackets, 23 towels, 15 bed spreads, 36 sheets, 192 towels. There is still a demand for tray cloths, wash cloths and napkins.

The names of the new members elected to serve on the executive board will be published at a later date.

Turnpike Co. Wins $6,000 Verdict.

Judge Eugene H. Baird, of Ridgway, is presiding over the Centre county court this week and the only case completed so far is that of the Bald Eagle, Nittany and Brush Valley Turnpike company vs. Centre county, being an appeal from an award of $3,000 made by the board of road and bridge viewers in condemnation proceedings. The Turnpike company was represented by Orvis, Zerby and Dale and the county by S. D. Gettig and N. B. Spangler Esqs. The jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiffs in the sum of $6,000.

Immediately following the above case that of the Millheim Turnpike company vs. Centre county, a similar action to the above, was taken up and it is still on trial. In this case the viewers awarded the company $2,000 and they appealed the case to court.

Judge Keller has called a special session of court for April 26th, at which time the case of James Cullen vs. The Charles W. Rowland estate will be tried. A panel of thirty jurors will be drawn for this court.
