Forty years or so ago Danny Burns was a resident of Bellefonte and worked in a pool room in the Bush House block. Today he is quite wealthy and a big figure in western Pennsylvania affairs.

MRS GIFFORD PINCHOT VISITS CENTRE COUNTY.

Lauds the Governor and Heavily Scores Senator Pepper.

Wednesday was Pinchot day in Centre county. The Governor's lady represented the family and gave a creditable accounting of herself in her effort to help her husband on the trip from Harrisburg to Washington.

She was met at Tyrone on Wednesday morning by Miss Rebecca Naomi Rhoads and together they drove to Phillipsburg in the Governor's car, which had been sent here in anticipation of her coming. At that place she spoke to an audience of about two hundred on the roof garden of the Hotel Phillips, and reports are to the effect that it was unexpectedly and significantly large.

After the meeting Mrs. Pinchot and Miss Rhoads, who is the campaign manager for Centre county, drove to Bellefonte, arriving just before noon and in time for a luncheon that was given in their honor by former Judge and Mrs. Arthur C. Dale, at their home on Linn street.

The Bellefonte meeting was at an hour when most people have other things to do than listen to politics. Notwithstanding its untimeliness, lack of advanced publicity and uncertainty as to just when the speaker would be here there was an audience of fully two hundred to greet her. Most of it was made up of country folks who had driven miles to be here and three-fourths of all were women.

It was significant, however, that large attendance from the rural districts. They didn't come out of curiosity, as did a large percentage of the Bellefonte contingent in the audience.

Mrs. Pinchot was introduced by Miss Rhoads and spoke for more than an hour. At first she seemed a bit nervous but gradually settled down to the work before her very much in the staccato style of delivery that her husband affected here last fall when he was on his tour of inspection of State institutions.

She said nothing that one or the other of the candidates hasn't already broadcasted, but she made it plain that Senator Pepper is really the man at the mouth of the Pinchot cannon and convinced a lot of her audience that the Senator is rather a "weak sister." She was emphatic, she was positive in her belief that the Governor is going to win, but her analysis of the figures of the Alter-Pinchot contest, which she offered in substantiation of the prediction, sounded womanish to us.

After the meeting here Mrs. Dale and Miss Rhoads accompanied her to State College, where she spoke to an open air gathering in front of the University Inn. There were probably two hundred and fifty residents and students in her audience. She said nothing there that she hadn't said in Bellefonte and flayed Senator Pepper just as she had done here.

From State College the party drove to Williamsport, where she was scheduled to speak that evening.

Mrs. Pinchot's first visit to Bellefonte was in 1914. At that time her husband was aspiring to beat the late Senator Penrose. Neither she nor the Governor were much known in this county because they had never figured in State politics. The Governor was stirring up the animals in Washington, but Washington stuff doesn't quickly interest the hinterlands. They rolled into town, unannounced, stopped in front of the Brockhoff house and Gifford immediately jumped out onto the running board and began clapping his hands. We happened to be one of the few on the street at the time and while we did know something of Pinchot and his endeavors we didn't know him by sight, so we may be pardoned for having thought at the moment that some Indian medicine man or "nut" had suddenly landed in our midst. Finally the hand-clapping attracted a small group, he made his speech and rolled on. If memory serves us right Mrs. Pinchot then was a bride and seemed more amused with the political game and not nearly so much in earnest as she was on Wednesday.

Women in the audience tell us that she was gowned very handsomely.

Prior to her meeting here the "tip" was passed around that she was to be heckled by a Bellefonte woman Pepper worker and the fact that we saw the lady about the Court house just before the meeting gave color to the rumor. But she either changed her mind or got cold feet, for there was no interchange of pleasantries, notwithstanding Mrs. Pinchot's very insistent invitation to be called to account for any of her statements.

It was noted that Mrs. Pinchot was not quite as frank as she might have been when the minister from Port Matilda inquired as to her stand on Sunday observance. While she disclaimed advocacy of "an open Sunday" she was apparently not welcoming any further interrogation, for she began to get ready to hurry away immediately after she had given him a rather ambiguous answer.

A recommendation is now pending before the Postoffice Department in Washington for the reduction of postage on postcards from two cents to one, and also a reduction of the postage charged for remailing of newspapers, both of which cannot fail to meet with the hearty approval of the public at large.

Women Will Run the Election in East Harris.

When the election board of the east precinct of Harris township meets for duty next Tuesday it will have the appearance of a thimble bee or quilting party.

Every member, except one, is a woman. It will be a novel experience for the men of that district to go to the polls and find the ladies in complete control.

Rev. Wilson Ard Much in Demand in Colorado.

Most of the intimate friends of Rev. Wilson P. Ard know of his gratifying success he is making of his new pastorate of Messiah Lutheran church in Denver, Col. The general public at his former home here probably have heard very little of him since his departure from Bellefonte and it is because we know they will be equally interested in the young minister that we take this opportunity of saying that Colorado is finding him out and calling for his services all over the State.

Two weeks ago he addressed the Kiwanians of Trinidad, and the annual "Get Together" of one thousand farmers in the Rocky Ford district and last week addressed the Society of Heating and Sanitary Engineers of Colorado, the Senior class of the school of dentistry of the University of Colorado, the Kiwanis club of Colorado Springs and the allied Dug Travelers Club.

Miss Campbell, Health Nurse, Has Resigned.

Miss Ethel Campbell, State health nurse, who has had charge of the State chest clinics in Bellefonte and Tyrone the past three years, has resigned and gone to her home in Philadelphia to nurse her father. The Red Cross well-baby clinic was given into Miss Campbell's charge a year ago last September when the Red Cross nursing service was temporarily suspended for lack of funds and has been conducted by her since that time as a State baby clinic. Last week Miss Bigelow, of Centre Hall, graduate of Blair Memorial Hospital in Huntingdon, came to take Miss Campbell's place. Under new plans of the State Health Department, Miss Bigelow's district will be confined to Centre county and, in addition to the clinic in Bellefonte, she will work in the smaller towns and rural communities. Miss Carrie Hess, of Phillipsburg, is the only other State nurse in the county but there are Red Cross nurses in Bellefonte, Phillipsburg and State College.

Car Destroyed by Fire.

A car owned by Samuel Profeizer, of near Johnstown, Cambria county, was entirely destroyed by fire on Monday night, and Mr. Profeizer was so badly burned on the hands that he was compelled to come to the Centre County hospital for treatment.

Two or three car loads of Cambria county men had gone to Curtin some time Monday on a fishing trip and camped with their cars. During the night they decided to make some coffee and setting up the camp stove and put on the kettle. But their gasoline supply in the stove became low and Mr. Profeizer went to the tank on the rear of his car to get a supply. As he took the cap off the tank a sharp gust of wind came along and blew the fumes right over the camp stove.

An explosion resulted and the flames communicated with the gas tank thence to the car. In an effort to extinguish the fire Mr. Profeizer was burned, mostly on his hands. After treatment at the hospital he was able to go home on the 3.08 p. m. train on Tuesday.

Big Fish Dam to Be Built on Black Moshannon.

Hon. Harry B. Scott and J. F. Kephart, of Phillipsburg, were in Bellefonte on Monday arranging a lease with the Prentiss corporation for the right to construct a big fish dam on the Black Moshannon, about two miles below Beaver Mills. The ground has been leased by the State-County Fish, Game and Forestry Association, of Phillipsburg, and as now planned they will construct a concrete dam across the Moshannon, just below the bridge on the public road. The dam will be over one hundred feet in length and from four to five feet in height. In fact it will be of sufficient height to dam the water back almost one mile in length and will make one of the biggest fish dams in this part of the State. It is the intention of the association to stock the stream with trout, perch, catfish and other species suitable to the water.

The dam will be built this summer and the stream stocked with good sized fish, and in the course of a few years Phillipsburg sportsmen anticipate having one of the best fishing preserves in the entire State. And so far as we are informed they do not propose being selfish with their rights, but will permit outsiders to fish in the dam as long as they do not hog the stream.

ONE MAN DRAWS A PENITENTIARY SENTENCE.

Various Cases Disposed of at Special Session of Court.

The first case called up at a special session of court, on Monday morning, was that of Anna W. Hollobaugh against her husband, Herbert B. Hollobaugh, charged with desertion and non-support. The Hollobaughs have been married long enough to have three children and in all that time Mr. Hollobaugh had made no effort to make a home for his wife and children, according to her testimony. She had lived part of the time at her own home and part of the time with the family of her husband's uncle, and was compelled to work most of the time to support herself and children. The court ordered the husband to go to work and contribute ten dollars a week to the support of his wife and children, and also pay the costs in the case.

G. W. Kelczak entered a plea of guilty to breaking and entering and larceny, and was sentenced to serve from one to two years in the western penitentiary. Kelczak is a paroled prisoner from the Huntingdon reformatory, having been sent there from Luzerne county in the fall of 1923. He was paroled in Oct., 1925, and several weeks ago broke into the house of I. Newton Wilson, in Halfmoon township, and stole stuff valued at approximately eighty dollars. Most of the stolen articles were recovered.

Edward C. Cooke was before the court on a surety of the peace charge and making threats and was put under a $500 bond to keep the peace for a period of three years.

Carrie Toner, of Walker township, was before the court on a morals charge and after Judge Keller told her what would happen if she appeared in court again he paroled her in the custody of her father.

A desertion charge against S. D. Martz was continued pending efforts to reach an amicable adjustment of the family difficulties.

This cleared off all the open cases on the docket preliminary to regular court next week.

Judge Potter Disposes of Two Cases.

Judge Miles J. Potter presided over a brief session of court last Thursday at which time attorneys of David Finkleshtein, convicted at the September term of court for illegal possession, withdrew their motion for a new trial and the court imposed a sentence of $100 fine and costs, the minimum allowed by law. He also gave the defendant a reasonable time in which to make payment.

In the case of Nick Gerbinski, a labor organizer, also convicted at the September term of court for inciting to riot at a meeting of miners in the neighborhood of Osceola Mills, and for whom a motion for a new trial was pending, the motion was withdrawn and the court sentenced Mr. Gerbinski to pay the costs in the case and further stated that if at any time in the future he appeared in the role of an organizer in either Centre or Clearfield counties he would have him brought into court for further sentence.

Two Prisoners Escaped from Rockview on Monday Evening.

Two prisoners, both white men, made their escape from Rockview penitentiary between 8 and 8.30 o'clock on Monday evening, by cutting a hole in the heavy wire stockade which surrounds the prison buildings. They were Raymond Beckwith, No. 14078, sent up from Erie county for two and a half to five years for burglary. He is 5 feet, 5 1/2 inches in height, weight 145 pounds, 25 years old, medium slender and medium dark complexion.

Sylvester Everly, No. 14456, sent up from Mifflin county for one to two years for larceny. He is 33 years old, 5 feet 8 inches tall and weight 160 pounds. He is medium stout and complex complexion.

Prison officials have also received information that Joe Williams, negro, an Erie county inmate who escaped on March 25th while serving a 3 to 6 years sentence, and who was arrested several weeks later at Canadawaga, N. Y., was convicted there last week of burglary and second degree murder, crimes committed after his escape from Rockview, and was sentenced to Sing Sing prison for a period of eleven years. Western penitentiary officials will lodge a detainer against him and when his term at Sing Sing expires he will be brought back to Centre county to answer to the charge of breaking and escaping.

High School Seniors Planning a Trip to Washington.

The Bellefonte High school graduating class this year numbers eighty young men and women and most of them are planning for a trip to Washington, D. C., prior to their graduation. The class work is always completed and final examinations over some ten days or two weeks prior to commencement date, which will this year begin on May 30th, when Rev. Reed O. Steely will preach the baccalaureate sermon in the Presbyterian church.

With ten days in which they will have nothing in particular to do but wait for the momentous event of receiving their diplomas the Seniors conceived the idea that it would be a nice thing to take a sight-seeing trip to Washington. While every member of the class will not go between sixty and seventy of them have decided on the trip. Their plan, as now arranged, is to go to Washington in two of the Emerick company motor busses, leaving Bellefonte probably on Sunday evening, May 23rd, and arriving in Washington the next morning. Monday and Tuesday will be spent in the national capital with side trips to Mount Vernon, Va., to visit the tomb of Washington, and other points of interest within easy distance of Washington. The plans are for returning home on Tuesday night.

The county commissioners have taken a step toward beautifying the court house yard by planting evergreens on both front corners; in consequence of which Bellefonte's donation of a captured German cannon has been trailed down to its first resting place in the triangle in the Diamond. The people of Bellefonte and vicinity literally oozed patriotic enthusiasm when Burgess W. Harrison Walker secured a captured cannon as a trophy for Bellefonte, and all the neighboring towns were jealous because they could not get any. But with the passing of the enthusiasm the cannon has lost its interest and now has no permanent abiding place.

As it looks now Bellefonte is going to have a circusless summer. Shows both big and not so big are booked for most of the surrounding towns but up to the present time no advance notices have been received by the railroad company of any bookings for Bellefonte. Probably the managements have heard of that new ordinance taxing shows from $25 to $50 license for exhibiting in Bellefonte and for that reason are giving us the go by.

Twenty-two members of the Nittany country club, most of whom were from Tyrone and other places outside of Bellefonte, held an old-fashioned "apple blossom" party at the club house, at Hecla, on Saturday night. It has been a number of years since the last apple blossom gathering so that the party on Saturday evening had all the spice of a renewal of old-time friendships.

After playing two years without losing a game the Bellefonte Academy baseball team finally went down in defeat before the strong Wyrone Seminary nine, on Hughes field last Friday afternoon, by the score of 7 to 4. The visitors were fortunate in getting a lead in the early part of the game which the Academy was not able to overcome.
