A certain Bellefonte gardener has another kick coming against the big, black night crawlers. Not content with pulling up his onions, when they were planted, they recently attacked some newly set out tomato plants, stripping off the tender leaves and pulling several of the plants almost entirely into the ground, top first. The gardener is now wondering what they will tackle next.

John Paul Jones, not the captain who stood on the burning deck, but the man who officiates as messenger, night watchman and janitor at the First National bank of Bellefonte, is now in his twenty-ninth year of service with that institution. Paul's father died in 1897, when he was but sixteen years old, and he succeeded him in his position at the bank. It goes without saying that Paul has always been faithful to every trust and it would be hard to get a man who would better fill his place.

It required the services of two of the Emerick company's big motor buses and from twenty-five to thirty private cars to convey the members of Bellefonte camp P. O. S. of A. and Wetzler's band on their Memorial services trip on Sunday afternoon. Leaving Bellefonte about 1:30 o'clock the first stop was at Pleasant Gap. Thence they went to Shiloh and from there to Centre Hall, winding up at Boalsburg at six o'clock in the evening. In addition to members of the organization quite a number of other Bellefonte people trailed along to witness the services.

The Chemical Lime and Stone company put off another big blast in its quarry up Buffalo Run valley, between two and three o'clock last Thursday afternoon, and while officials of the company maintain that it was not much over fifty per cent, as powerful as the one put off about a year ago, people living in Bellefonte thought it the heaviest blast ever put off in this vicinity. But those were people on top of the ledge of rock affected by the big explosion. They all aver that it shook their houses until the windows rattled and felt as if the explosion was in the house. Others whose homes are not located on the ledge scarcely noticed the blast.

BOROUGH LAWMAKERS HAVE BUSY SESSION.

Many Questions Considered at Monday Night's Meeting.

The seven members present at Monday evening's session of borough council were asked to solve a new question when Robert F. Hunter presented a request for the establishment of a line for his property on Curtin street. According to his statement some six years ago he purchased what was then known as the James A. McClain property, located just east of Cowdick alley. His deed called for one hundred foot frontage from the north-east corner of Cowdick alley. During the past two years a lot adjoining his property was sold to Charles Schaeffer, who built himself a home thereon and there has developed quite a controversy as to the line between the two properties. In fact Mr. Hunter claims that Mr. Schaeffer has encroached considerably on his property and the only way the question can be decided is for council to definitely locate the corner of Cowdick alley. The matter was referred to the Street committee, borough manager and borough engineer.

Dr. C. M. Parrish again appeared before council and made complaint about the alleged leaky condition of the sanitary sewer on Pike alley, claiming that it not only damaged his property but was a menace to the health of the residents of that section. Borough manager Seibert expressed the opinion that most of the trouble complained of came from old cesspools, a number of which are located in that vicinity. Mr. Cunningham suggested that if the property owners desire an iron sewer pipe laid they should be willing to contribute something toward the expense of doing so. The matter was finally referred to the Street committee and borough manager with power.

George C. Bingaman stated to council that he had purchased lots on east Curtin street, between Armor and Wilson streets, and is ready to begin the erection of two new houses, and he asked that the water line be extended to his properties. The Water committee reported that the cost of laying a four inch line from Armor street east would be approximately $240, and recommended that nothing less than a four inch line be put down. The matter was referred to the committee for further investigation and report and Mr. Bingaman was granted permission to lay a temporary surface line to furnish water for his building operations. Mr. Bingaman also asked if there would be any possibility of getting a sewer extension to his new properties, he offering to contribute $100 towards the expense thereof. The matter was referred to the Street committee.

Secretary Kelly presented the report of the auditors of the Pruner orphanage fund, which was ordered filed. He also presented the deed for the property at the big spring recently purchased from the Bellefonte Lumber company.

A notice was received from the Philipsburg Bus company that a hearing will be held in Harrisburg on June 17th on their application for a certificate of public convenience to put into service a bus line for passenger service only between Philipsburg and Bellefonte by way of Snow Shoe.

A notice was also received from John Henry Davy that he has made application for a renewal of his certificate of public convenience to operate a taxi service in Bellefonte.

A communication was received from the Thomas Jefferson Independence Anniversary Celebration association requesting that Bellefonte set aside a week for a proper observance of the 150th anniversary of American independence. No action was taken in the matter.

Another communication was received from the secretary of the State Association of Boroughs calling attention to the fact that the annual convention will be held at Stroudsburg June 22-24. President Walker appointed as councilmanic delegates to the meeting Messrs. John P. Eckel and W. Frederick Reynolds, while the burgess and borough solicitor are also empowered to attend.

The Street committee reported that the flooring of the Willowbank street bridge had been completed and repairs made on a number of streets.

The Water committee presented $5.00 collected from the Christy Bros. circus. They also reported that bids had been requested on lumber, painting, etc., for a fence 142 feet in length and six feet high at the Phoenix pumping station, to enclose the unsightly piles of old material stored there. The total cost will be in the neighborhood of $200, and the committee was instructed to go ahead and have the fence erected.

The Fire and Police committee reported that M. A. Landsy has very generously granted the committee permission to clean up the plot of ground on south Water street where the old laundry was located for use as a parking space for automobiles when any one wishes to stop there to see the fish. The borough to have the use of the ground this summer and probably next summer, without any cost, but to surrender the same when requested.

The Finance committee requested the renewal of notes totalling $13,600, and that a new note be executed for $5000 to meet current bills, and the same was authorized.

A communication was received from the Atlantic Refining company protesting against a bill of $4.00 for water when they do not have any water at their plant. The bill in question is the regular charge for fire protection and the Water committee was instructed to handle the matter. Bills totalling $6,051.41 were approved for payment after which council adjourned.

A special collector will make an effort to gather in the unpaid subscriptions of the big "Serve Centre's Sick" drive, the matter being looked after by the Kiwanis club.

Spring Township High School Commencement Next Week.

The annual commencement exercises of the Spring township High school will be held at Pleasant Gap, beginning on Sunday evening when Rev. W. J. Wagner will preach the baccalaureate sermon in the Lutheran church. Monday evening has been designated as "class night," when an interesting and entertaining program will be given. Alf Baum Captures a Mexican.

On Monday Alf Baum motored up Bald Eagle valley for the purpose of nailing up attractive signs for the Brockerhoff house. Between Bald Eagle and Vail he saw a supposed colored man come out of the woods onto the highway and from the way he was dressed he at once concluded that he was an escaped prisoner from Rockview penitentiary. Inquiries of a gang of railroad trackmen working nearby brought the information that they knew nothing about the man and that he was a stranger in that locality. With visions of fifty dollars easy money (the reward always paid for the capture of an escaped prisoner) Mr. Baum turned around, drove down the highway until he overtook the man.

Inviting him into his car he proceeded to interrogate him but the stranger, who proved to be a Mexican instead of a negro, refused to answer any questions but maintained that he had been working on the railroad. Driving to the nearest telephone Mr. Baum called the penitentiary and informed them of his capture. Deputy warden McFarland drove up to Bald Eagle but found that the man was not an escaped prisoner. He acted in such a suspicious manner, however, that the deputy brought him to Bellefonte and delivered him to sheriff Taylor, at the county jail. There he gave his name as Langine Romireg, but refused to tell where he had come from. Up to this time the sheriff has not been able to learn anything about him and it is quite probable he will be deported back to Mexico.

HYDRO-ELECTRIC PLANT NOW BEING TESTED.

Big Dam at McCoys Filled to Capacity and Electric Current being Manufactured.

Travelers along the state highway between Bellefonte and Milesburg gazed with open eyed astonishment on the wonderful lake of water made by the filling of the big dam erected by John McCoy, at the old McCoy iron furnace, for the operation of his new hydro-electric plant. This dam, built of solid concrete, stretches from the bed of the Pennsylvania railroad on the east, and when filled the water is dammed back to the old fair grounds. In fact that portion of the ground where the stables were located is under water and in the main channel of Spring creek the water is backed up almost three-fourths of the distance along the grounds. The level of the water is less than three feet from the bed of the Pennsylvania railroad.

The dam is of sufficient height to give a heading of from fourteen to sixteen feet at the big water wheel, and the tail race has been dug out for quite a distance below the plant in order to give every inch of fall that could be secured. While Mr. McCoy has given no figures on the cost of his enterprise it is estimated that his total expenditure will be in the neighborhood of $60,000. The engineer in charge of the construction of his dam and hydro-electric plant was John Eckerts, of Lock Haven, and he is jubilant over the undertaking as being a splendid business proposition.

As stated in this paper some time ago Mr. McCoy has entered into an agreement with the Keystone Power corporation to take all the juice he can manufacture at his plant, and engineers have figured that it will amount to about five per cent. of what the company is now using. The plant was started up on Tuesday and is now being tested out to see just what it will make, but it will probably be a few days before it will be in active operation.

Aside from the business proposition entailed in the building of the dam for hydro-electric purposes such a large body of water as that now in will make a splendid place for fish, and in a few years it ought to offer splendid sport to the fisherman. As the backed water is almost a mile in extent it will also make a good boating course, if the owner doesn't object, so that the big dam may eventually be made to serve various purposes.

Report of Year's Work of the Woman's Club of Bellefonte, Pa.

The Woman's Club of Bellefonte composed of the hundred and forty members closed its activities for the present year at its May meeting Monday evening, May 31st. The work of the Club is carried on through three departments, Civic, Educational and Charity. Through the Civic department one thousand copies of the tree survey of Bellefonte as made by Prof. Cowell, of State College, were printed and distributed to property owners of Bellefonte. A copy of the survey was framed and hung with the work of the southeastern division of Pennsylvania, at the recent national convention at Atlantic City, as one of the prominent features of work of that division.

Under the Educational department sewing was taught in the grade schools by members of the Club, volunteering their services, about 125 girls are thus benefited by this work. Through the Charity department, candy, oranges, toys etc., are distributed to poor children at Christmas time. This department has also helped with clothing, food and coal 44 families.

Through the sale of Christmas seals, the tuberculosis committee afforded means to maintain a room for the weekly web baby chest clinics, conducted by the State Department of Health.

Bellefonte Curb Market to Open Saturday, June 19th.

The Bellefonte curb market for the season of 1926 is scheduled to open on Saturday, June 19th, according to the announcement of John B. Payne. It was his original intention to fix the opening date for tomorrow but because of the cool weather and backwardness of all garden truck it was decided to fix the opening date as June 19th. By that time home grown strawberries will be ripening and ready for market; in fact, some growers have already picked a few baskets for their own use, but by the latter part of next week they will likely be quite plentiful.

The curb market this year should be better than that of last summer, according to reports. A number of farmers and truck growers who patronized the market last year but who had not planted with that end in view, have largely increased their truck patch this year, so that the supply ought to be equal to all demands. Strawberries, which will be the earliest fruit to be marketed, are reported as being quite plentiful and the bountiful rains we have had the past week or so will be a great help in maturing the crop. Cherries also, are reported plentiful and it won't be many days until the early varieties will be ripening.
