

Conway Tearle and Dorothy Mackaill in "The Dancer of Paris," at the Scenic Monday and Tuesday.

Thos. S. Hazel, the grocer, has been very seriously ill during the week, a recurrence of the illness he has suffered from at intervals recently.

Children's day exercises will be held in Gray's Methodist Episcopal church, in Halfmoon valley, Friday evening, June 25th. The public is invited.

Mrs. George Williams is ill at her apartment at Mrs. S. E. Showers, on Spring Street, suffering from a stroke of paralysis, which occurred Wednesday night.

Somebody driving up High street, Monday night, hit the traffic post at the intersection of Spring St. with such force as to knock it about six feet further up the hill.

Mrs. Harriet Ray Smith will sell a full line of household furniture, also real estate, at her home on Curtin St., Bellefonte, tomorrow (Saturday) at 1 p. m.

Among the marriage licenses granted at Cumberland, Md., on Saturday were those to Harold Allison Gordon and Miss Elizabeth Benner, of Bellefonte; and Arthur Valentine Kunes, of State College, and Miss Helen Margaret Largey, of St. Mary's.

The annual picnic of the Centre county association in Philadelphia will be held on Saturday, June 26th, on the edge of the Belmont mansion plateau, in Fairmount park. Every Centre county living in Philadelphia or any one visiting in the city on that day is invited to attend.

Public sale of the household goods of the late A. Y. Wagner will be made on Saturday afternoon, June 26, starting at one o'clock. The sale will be held at his late home on Willowbank street and those looking for furniture, utensils and what-not will find everything in good condition at the Wagner sale.

During the recent primary campaign Hon. Harry B. Scott, running unopposed for the nomination for State Senator on the Republican ticket, spent $533.76; J. L. Holmes, running for Assembly, spent $55.00, while W. I. Betts, unopposed candidate for State Senator on the Democratic ticket, spent less than fifty dollars.

Notwithstanding the inclement weather of Saturday night the attendance at the big festival held on the old fair grounds by the Bellefonte camp P. O. S. of A., was sufficient to give them gross receipts of $170.00. Of course there was considerable expense attached so that the net receipts will be somewhat less than the above sum.

Summer is here to stay and so is the Scenic. The former means hot weather while the latter means good motion pictures and comfort while watching them. Every movie fan in Bellefonte and vicinity knows that the best pictures can always be seen at the Scenic, and that the theatre is always comfortable even in hot weather. Nobody will contradict this fact, therefore, when you want to see pictures worthwhile always choose the Scenic.

A party of eight members of the Sycamore club went up to their camp on an island in the Bald Eagle Monday evening. They were on the hunt for a water supply for the camp and they got plenty, but not where they wanted it. The heavens opened, a deluge fell and Bald Eagle rose so rapidly that they were completely marooned. Fortunately one of their cars had not been taken over to the camp and after rigging up a boat they were able to reach it and get home.

A summer Bible school started and supported by the various Sunday schools of Bellefonte, was opened at the Bellefonte Academy on Monday with an attendance of 132 children. The school is designed for children from six years up to the grade school age, and will continue for one month, five days a week, with sessions in the morning only, from 9 to 11.30 o'clock. The purpose is to teach bible study, character building, etc. Miss Ardery, a teacher in the Bellefonte public schools, is the principal, and her assistants are Mrs. Heilhecker, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Osman and Mrs. Malone.

Lack of sufficient thunder is assigned by many gardeners to the scourge of cut worms which are playing havoc with many gardens in Bellefonte and Centre county. One Bellefonte man put out four dozen cabbage plants one evening last week and the next morning only seven of them remained standing, all the others having been cut off by worms. Another gardener had one-third of his plants cut off in one night, while very few gardens have escaped. In fact the worms aren't confining themselves to cabbage, but play havoc with tomato plants, beans, corn or anything in the garden. And gardeners aver that it has been the lack of hard thunder that has caused the scourge of worms. The thunder kills the worms, it is claimed, and if this is true we surely had enough of it on Monday night to blow all the cut worms out of the ground.

THREE MEN MEET DEATH IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT.

Two Killed Instantly and the Third Died in Lock Haven Hospital.

"Dead Man's Curve," just below the William Beck property on the Nittany valley state highway, has three more victims to its credit. In a motor accident there at 5:30 o'clock on Saturday morning two men were killed instantly and the third victim died several hours later in the Lock Haven hospital. Two of the men in the car escaped death but both were badly hurt.

The dead are Fish A. Kline, an auto mechanic of Towanda, Pa., whose head was crushed into an unrecognizable mass. He was a veteran of the world war, unmarried but survived by his parents.

Fred A. Green, a farmer at Liberty Corners, age 45, who leaves a wife and one son. Joseph Mingoos, also a farmer of Liberty Corners, aged 38, who leaves a wife and seven small children; his mother and two sisters.

The injured men were Allen B. Wooster, owner of the largest garage in Towanda, who sustained several fractured ribs and other injuries, and Ispham J. Cox, owner of a tire battery station at Towanda. He sustained head injuries and body bruises but his condition did not prove to be serious.

The five men were on their way to Altoona for the big auto races. They left Towanda at 12:35 o'clock on Saturday morning in a big Cadillac sedan owned by Mr. Wooster. Mr. Kline was the driver of the car. According to Mr. Cox most of the men were asleep when the accident happened. The tracks of the machine on the state highway showed that the car had been veering to the side of the road for some distance back of the fatal spot, and the supposition is that the driver was almost overcome by fatigue and lack of sleep. The big car finally struck a stone close to the sharp curve in the road and this may have prevented the driver from turning the steering wheel quick enough. In any event the car hit a tree to the left side of the road with such force that it not only rebounded but again plunged ahead into a second tree then was thrown completely around and crashed into a third tree on the opposite side of the road, then upset a mass of ruins. In fact about the only parts about the car that were not smashed were the battery and three tires.

The men were all thrown from the car to the roadway. Mr. Cox was the first to recover consciousness and he found both Kline and Green lying dead in the road. Mr. Wooster was lying face down in the road in a pool of blood but he soon regained consciousness and Mr. Cox helped him to the side of the road. The last man found was Mr. Mingoos, who was unconscious and a call was sent to Lock Haven for an ambulance and Mingoos and Wooster were both taken to the hospital, the former dying several hours later without regaining consciousness.

The accident happened about 5:30 o'clock and as it was in Centre county 'Squire S. Kline Woodring was appointed a deputy coroner to investigate the horrible affair. He went to the scene of the accident and interrogated Mr. Cox, the only member of the party still on the ground but after hearing his story decided that it was purely an accident and that an inquest was not necessary.

The two men killed instantly were turned over to undertaker Hard P. Harris who prepared the bodies for transport to their homes in Towanda. Two friends of the men came here on Saturday afternoon and all the dead were taken home on Sunday. The two injured men had so far recovered that they were also able to be taken home.

The accident resulted in a number of wild stories being put in circulation about accidents all along the road to Altoona in which a number of men were reported killed, but investigation proved them all false with the exception of one near Williamsburg, Blair county, in which one man was killed when a car crashed into a telephone pole. There were, however, a number of other accidents, but none with fatal results.

MRS. HARRISON WALKER IN AUTO ACCIDENT ON FRIDAY.

About 4:30 o'clock on Friday afternoon Mrs. W. Harrison Walker invited three of her women friends, Mrs. John G. Love, Mrs. J. Coburn Rogers and Miss Elizabeth Gephart, to take a short motor run down the Nittany Valley road. Down below the triangle they saw approaching a string of six cars and Mrs. Walker took the right side of the road and slowed down to less than fifteen miles. Suddenly the third car swung out of line and attempted to pass the two cars ahead with the result that the Walker car was forced off the road, side-swiped by the offending car and upset. Mrs. Walker was considerably injured and at first it was thought that her left arm was broken but an X-ray showed this not to be the case, though she has been confined to bed ever since. Mrs. Love sustained a bad cut on the lower lip while both the other ladies were bruised and suffered from shock.

The driver of the car was G. W. Rafferty, of DuBois. The car was an Oakland limosine owned by the DuBois Electric and Storage Battery company. Both it and the Walker car were badly damaged. State police arrested Mr. Rafferty and he will be given a hearing before 'Squire Woodring tomorrow.

JOHN CARTER, ALSO VICTIM OF ACCIDENT.

Between four and five o'clock on Sunday morning, John Carter, colored, was a passenger on Tyrone for Bellefonte in a Ford car driven by a Mr. Snyder. The car crashed into one of the abutments at the Milesburg bridge and Carter sustained a bad fracture of the right leg below the knee. He is now in the Centre County hospital undergoing repairs, and where every effort will be made to save the leg.

Monday's Hard Rain Storms Badly Damaged Penitentiary Gardens.

A large portion of the ground planted in garden truck at the Rockview penitentiary was so badly washed by the series of terrific rain storms, on Monday, that much of it will have to be replanted. The first storm of any consequence occurred about two o'clock in the afternoon and the down-pour up at Rockview amounted almost to a cloudburst. The flat ground south of the penitentiary buildings, devoted to gardening, was covered with a swirling mass of water which literally swept the place clean of growing plants or covered them with a sea of mud.

The rain was accompanied by high wind and trees were blown down, a garage moved a foot or more on its foundation and one house partially unroofed. In the evening another severe storm swept over the penitentiary grounds when the downpour of rain was even more terrific than it was in the afternoon.

The rainstorms were not general all over the county, but Bellefonte got its full share of them, though no especial damage was done here. The storms were accompanied by hard thunder and vivid lightning and the electric service went off several times, but only for a few minutes at a time. Shortly after eight o'clock, following a terrific clap of thunder a 2200 volt wire of the Keystone Power corporation on the west side of the Electric Supply company building burst into flames and the fire companies were called out. The fire was quickly extinguished and electricians quickly repaired the damaged wire and turned on the current.

Shortly before twelve o'clock the firemen were again called out by a burning box car in the classification yard of the Pennsylvania railroad. The car was loaded with lime and it is undetermined whether the lime was too hot when put into the car or whether it was rain coming in contact with the lime that generated the heat that started the fire. Only one car was destroyed. Two others in the same string caught fire but the firemen were able to extinguish the flames.

Down along the Jacksonville road the wind was particularly strong. At one place eighteen locust trees were blown over.

Through the Buffalo Run valley the hardest hit section was in the vicinity of Fillmore, where a number of apple trees were uprooted.

In the upper Bald Eagle valley the only damage, aside from some badly washed fields, were a few apple trees blown over just east of Port Matilda.

That a storm like Monday's was means something to the Bell Telephone Co. is demonstrated by the fact that between fifteen and sixteen hundred telephones were put out of commission and all the trouble has not been located yet. To find it requires a crew of expert cable men who have to locate the breaks then open the cables, find the particular line in trouble, repair it, close up the cable and start on the hunt for the next one.

Electric Company Denies Charge of Violation.

A dispatch from Harrisburg says the Boalsburg Electric company has denied charges of violation of the rural electric regulations in an answer to the complaint of A. H. Walker, of that Centre county community, before the Public Service Commission, and Mr. Walker has been asked by the commission whether he desires to go through with the proceeding. The complaint raised the rural electric regulation question which is now involved in Appellate court litigation. The course of the case is being watched with much interest.

Above sixty per cent. of the stock of the Boalsburg company is owned by Col. Theodore Davis Boal, which gives him the controlling interest. The company gets its service from the Keystone Power corporation and supplies electricity for light and power to residents of Harris township.

Commencement at Huntingdon Reformatory.

The annual commencement exercises and exhibit of Industrial Departments at the Pennsylvania Industrial Reformatory, Huntingdon, Pa., will be held at that institution on Thursday, June 24, 1926, at 2.00 p. m., and to which the public is most cordially invited.

BIG CLASS GRADUATED AT PENN STATE COLLEGE.

Other Interesting Happenings of Commencement Week.

All records for graduations in any one year at the Pennsylvania State College were broken with the 66th annual June commencement on Tuesday. A total of 527 bachelor degrees, 27 advanced degrees and 13 certificates were granted at that time. Including the degrees awarded at convocations last August and in February, a record total of 680 diploma awards for a college year was established.

The commencement program opened on Friday of last week and closed Tuesday with the commencement exercises addressed by Dean Raymond Walters, of Swarthmore College. More than 1000 visitors, mostly alumni and parents of members of the graduating class, attended the celebration. The baccalaureate sermon on Sunday was delivered by the Rev. Dr. Maitland Alexander, of Pittsburgh.

Alumni activities featured the days preceding the commencement. Delegates from alumni clubs throughout the east attended a special alumni council meeting and proposed plans for the future development of the alumni association and cooperation with the college. There were many class reunions and special stunts by alumni groups. Upwards of 100 delegates from agricultural and industrial societies gathered Saturday to elect four members of the board of trustees, all the old members being re-elected. The alumni also re-elected the three members of the board to which it is entitled.

The graduating class presented the College with a fund of $3,000 for the erection of a campus gateway at the eastern drive as its permanent memorial.

Among the first honor men in the graduating class appeared the name of Joseph B. Katz, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Katz, of Bellefonte, who graduated in the course of finance and commerce. Other Centre county men who took first honors were J. T. Gramley, of Spring Mills, and J. E. Hogan, and Elizabeth Dennis, of State College. Among the second honor men were P. F. Bartges, R. M. Bartges, of Coburn; J. M. Brown and E. C. Rowland, of State College.

It might also be interesting to note that among the six young women students who won their letter from the women's athletic association for prowess in various lines of athletic sports was Miss Mary Chambers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Chambers, of Bellefonte. Miss Chambers is an all around athlete, taking part in baseball, field and track events. In her Sophomore year she alone scored more points than were made by the members of the Junior and Senior classes. She was the record javelin thrower in all contests. To win the letter a contestant must score 125 points during her college course and Miss Chambers was one of the six young women to do so.

Coincident with the closing of the college year on Tuesday an influx of about four hundred boys and girls followed on Wednesday for the seventh annual young farmers' week, which will continue until tomorrow. Stock judging, recreation and various inspection trips will feature the week.

College authorities announce that five representatives of the Ontario Department of Agriculture are spending this week making a survey of the agricultural extension work in various counties of the State, among them being Centre county. On Tuesday of next week college and experimental station agronomists will meet with representatives of the fertilizer industry at the College.

Enrollments for the new institute of music education to be conducted during the summer session are exceeding all expectations and a very successful course is anticipated. R. W. Grant will be the director in charge.

Faxon Family Reunion.

For the first time in twenty-two years Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Faxon, of Milesburg, but for years residents of Bellefonte, spent a day surrounded by all their children. The family reunion was held on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Warren Wood, and proved a most pleasant gathering. Those present in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Faxon were Mrs. H. C. Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Audsley, of Georgia; Mrs. J. Victor Royer and daughter, of Altoona; Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Bullock, Major and Mrs. C. E. Whipple, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Grau and families, of Williamsport; Mrs. M. P. Pitts and daughter, of Virginia; Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Diehl, of Mifflinburg; Charles Faxon and family, of Boalsburg, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Warren Wood.

Mr. and Mrs. Faxon have both passed their three score and ten year period and greatly appreciated the privilege and blessing of once more having their children all together, even if for a day only.
