The fruit prospects are not averaging up to the desired anticipations. Apples in this vicinity and in Nittany valley will scarcely exceed a half crop. Very few early apples blossomed at all, and many of the trees usually counted upon will be appleless.

Jared Evey, the Noll Bros. farmer, said up in the store that the prospects for the farmer are not encouraging. Clover, he said, owing to weather conditions, is very short and can't be reckoned on but timothy, owing to recent periodical showers, is forging ahead very nicely, so that the average farmer will not be a material sufferer so far as the hay crop is concerned. But wheat, he alleges, will be little more than half a crop. Corn, owing to the constant cool weather, is growing yellow, so that the prospect for an average crop is not in sight.

Sim's Big Summer Sale Starts Friday Morning July 16 and will Continue for 10 Days

Because of the unusual cool weather this season we are opening our big Semi-Annual Summer Sale a month earlier than in other years. We must reduce our large stock of Mens and Boys Clothing. We've decided positively not to carry any merchandise over this season. In order to do this we will cut prices as low as we can—in some cases to cost, and others below cost.

Don't wait until later, but stop in the store now and make your purchases while the selection is good—and always remember that Sim sells only the best clothes made—not the cheap, fadey, shoddy kind. Everyone knows that if it comes from Sim's store it is not only the best that money can buy, but the very latest and newest in style.

Remember that the Sale starts Friday morning, 16th, and that all alterations are free.

Do Parents Realize the Tremendous Handicap Defective Vision Places Upon Children?

Time and again it has been proven that success in early life depends on good eyesight. Will Parents ever realize that the very success of their child hinges on the condition of his eyes? We say they will—but, first, they must be told. Have your child's eyes examined every six months.
