Where the Better-Class Photoplays are Shown
Each Evening at 6.30 o'clock.

Friday and Sat., July 30-31

Lewis Stone and Barbara Bedford head the cast of an exceptionally promising screen production, "Old Loves and New," Marion Fairfax's picturization of the celebrated E. M. Hull novel, "The Desert Healer." This First National release is said to be the finest story yet written by Mrs. Hull illustrious as the author of "The Shiek." "Old Loves and New," was directed by Maurice Tourneur and has in the supporting cast Tully Marshall, Katherine McDonald, Walter Pidgeon and Ann Rork.

Added on Friday last Chapter of the Bar C Mystery. On Saturday "Our Gang" comedy in "Mary Queen of Scots."

Monday and Tues., Aug. 2-3

With "Aileen Pringle," "Lowell Sherman," and "Chester Conklin." "The Wilderness Woman" is an adaptation of the celebrated Saturday Evening Post serial story by Arthur Stringer. Robert T. Kane made the picture for First National release.

Aileen Pringle, Lowell Sherman and Chester Conklin have the featured roles. Miss Pringle appears in her first character comedy role, bringing a new and refreshing personality to the screen.

Lowell Sherman, instead of appearing in his customary role of the heavy, walks off with the laurels of the hero in "The Wilderness Woman," while Chester Conklin, the walrus-mustached comedian, is afforded plenty of opportunity to get in his laughable work.

Not the least important character in the picture is a year-old bear. Miss Pringle, in her role of the Alaskan miner's daughter, brings the animal with her to New York, and the complications that follow must be seen to be appreciated.

Also a First Run Two Reel Mack Sennett Comedy "Goose Land."

Wednesday August 4th

Tom Moore and Ford Sterling. "Good and Naughty" is a brilliant comedy in which the twist of happy laughter is mixed with breathless love intrigue. Pola Negri, in an unattractive smock-clad assistant, is secretly in love with her employer, Tom Moore, a designer of homes for persons of wealth and fashion. His amour with the wife of a millionaire patron is suspected. It is complicated by the would-be-helpful efforts of Ford Sterling, Moore's pal. Pola goes to his aid, overnight becomes a gorgeous swan and succeeds in winning Tom for herself.

Also a First Run Pathe Two Reel Comedy "All For Fun" and Fox News.

Thursday August 5th

"False Pride"

With Owen Moore and Faerie Binney. This is the second of the famous "Mac-fadden Made Movies," and the title carries out the theme of the story, it being "False Pride." Owen Moore, brother of the famous Tom and Matt is the star of "False Pride." Moore is cast as a young New York lawyer who is retained for an important investigation by a rich New York woman. He meets the object of the investigation, pretty Mary Savage and promptly falls in love with her. Mary Savage is played by Faerie Binney, the dainty little leading lady of stage fame, and a sister of Constance Binney.

Also Screen Snapshots and a Single Reel.

Moose Theatre

Promoter of Telephone Arrested 60 Years Ago as Swindler of Public.

It may well be that in another half-century miracles will have developed from what are now regarded by a great many people as hallucinations, comments the Pennsylvania Public Service Information Committee. The following news item published in an eastern newspaper in 1861 indicates that even the "impossible" can happen.

"A man about forty-six years of age, giving the name of Joshua Copersmith, has been arrested in New York for attempting to extort funds from ignorant and superstitious people by exhibiting a device which he says will convey the human voice any distance over metallic wires so that it will be heard by listeners at the other end.

"He calls the instrument a 'telephone,' which is obviously intended to imitate the word 'telegraph' and win the confidence of those who know of the success of the latter instrument without understanding the principles on which it is based. Well informed people know that it is impossible to transmit the human voice over wires as may be done with dots and dashes and signals of the Morse Code, and that, were it possible to do so, the thing would be of no practical value.

"The authorities who apprehended the criminal are to be congratulated, and it is to be hoped that his punishment will be prompt and fitting that it may serve as an example to other conscienceless schemers who enrich themselves at the expense of their fellow creatures."

The Origin of the Potato.

The potato is a native of elevated districts of tropical and sub-tropical America. It has been found growing wild in the Andes of South America, Mexico and the Rocky Mountain region of North America. The potato was cultivated and used as food long anterior to the discovery of America by Europeans. It seems to have been taken to Europe by the Spaniards in the 16th century, and spread from Spain into the Netherlands, Burgundy, and Italy, but only to be cultivated in a few gardens as a curiosity, and not for general use as a food.

It appears to have been taken to Ireland from Virginia by Hawkins in 1565; and to England by Sir Francis Drake, in 1583; without attracting much notice, till it was a third time imported from America by Sir Walter Raleigh.—By Mr. Whiteaker, in Adventure Magazine.
