"The Fool"

With Edmund Lowe and Mary Thurman

"The Fool," William Fox's much heralded picture of the Channing Pollock stage success, may be pronounced as a sincere attempt to bring clean pictures before the public. It makes no pretense at the spectacular—it is just a big, straightforward dramatic story of a self-effacing young zealous minister who aspired and tried to live as Christ lived—a theme with a tremendous appeal.

There isn't a doubt that the picture, with its moralistic theme, will exert a tremendous appeal here and elsewhere throughout the country. And Edmund Lowe, handsome young Fox star, who plays the role of the minister-hero, Daniel, is going to make thousands of new friends and admirers by his superb and feeling performance of the part. Mr. Lowe was pretty near the whole picture, in our humble estimation, although Anne Dale, as the little cripple; Mary Thurman, as the Magdalene, and Paul Panzer as Umanski, the Pole, shared much of the acting honors.

Added Friday, the second chapter of the serial, "Snowed In." On Saturday a first run two reel Comedy "It's a Pipe."

Mon. and Tues. Aug. 16-17

With Lois Moran, Noah Berry, Louise Dresser and Helen Jerome Eddy.

The tremendous furore "Paddocked" has created as a Cosmopolitan Magazine serial is impressive proof that it is a story rich in human appeal, dramatic vigor, strength and realism.

In line with the newest craze, Lois Moran introduces two new dances that are certain to intrigue the fancy of the great majority of picture-goers: one is the "Charleston a la Tangle," an adaptation of the Charleston to the Spanish dance; the other is the "Charleston a la King," a combination of the Charleston and the classic ballet dance.

An amusing "kid party," at which all the young men and women appear in children's clothing, is one of the fascinating features of the film.

How New York millionaires amuse themselves is shown via a magnificent garden party at a fashionable Long Island estate. Forty of the most beautiful girls to be found in Hollywood appear in this sequence.

The atmosphere of Broadway night life is vividly reproduced with a series of flashy cabaret scenes.

For grim realism, there is a reformatory scene that for sheer pathos and emotional appeal has seldom been equaled on the screen.

Added on Monday Pathe News, Aesop's Fables and a single Variety reel.

Wednes. Aug. 18 (One Day)

With Paramounts 16 New Junior Stars of 1926.

The Paramount Junior Stars provide the new talent. These students of the Paramount Picture school were selected from 40,000 applicants before being allowed to take an eight-month course of study. "Fascinating Youth" serves as their screen debut.

In supporting roles guaranteeing an "all star" cast—are Ralph Lewis, James Bradbury, Sir Joseph Burke and other well known actors and actresses. Part of Byron Morgan's story is laid inside a big motion picture studio and one sees just how movies are made.

Other scenes take place in Greenwich Village, the Bohemian center of New York city, and at a winter resort where ice boating, skiing, tobogganing and other sports are in full swing. An ice boat race serves as the picture's smashing climax and provides some unique thrills for movie-goers. Director Sam Wood may well be congratulated on his work.

Also Fox news and screen snapshots and a single reel.

Thursday August 19th

"Honesty the Best Policy"

With Pauline Starke and Johnnie Walker.

Pauline Starke has found a new avenue for release of her spirit of adventure. The girl who made herself first while she was playing leads in the thrilling pictures of Tom Mix is now on the screen in "Honesty the Best Policy." Fox films new sensational crook drama.

Hanging onto the cable of an elevator to elude the police, invading a masked ball in a mansion of fashion, the disguise of a pirate to steal a diamond necklace, shooting one of the maskers, occupying in a speedy roadster and dashing about hair-pin turns on desert and mountain roads, mark the opening scenes of this film, which, you'll admit, is a bit exciting.

Also, a Mack Sennet first run two reel Comedy, "A Love Sundaes."

Moose Theatre

Where You Always See a Good Show.

This Saturday-14th

"Shipwrecked"

With Luna Owen and Joseph Schildkraut

Luna Owen, an artist's model from New York, is watching the "Star of Hope," which is about to sail with the tide. She is accosted by a ship's chandler and is backing away from him and as he follows, she shoots him. She jumps into the water and is rescued by Larry O'Neill, a drifter. She is revived, but refuses to talk to Larry, who forces his attentions upon her. Larry fights Kiodel in Luna's behalf and with her aid vanquishes him. When Kiodel, after striking him, makes her escape.

Also, a first run two reel Mack Sennet Comedy, "He Forgot to Remember."

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Peters and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Meyers, of Lemont, spent Saturday in town shopping and visiting old friends.

Bear in mind the community picnic and festival to be held at Pine Hall tomorrow. A baseball game in the afternoon will be one of the attractions.

Merchant Ed. C. Martz has purchased the new residence of Charles Louck, but will not get possession until Mr. Louck and family can find a house into which to move.

Lena Woerner, seven year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Woerner, recently underwent a serious operation, at the Altoona hospital. She is now improving slowly.

A. C. Thompson, of Philipsburg, was here last Thursday looking up his many friends, some of whom remember him when, as a young man, he clerked in the old Sample store on the corner.

Mr. and Mrs. John Quinn, the elder Mrs. Everhart and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Everhart motored to Indiana, Pa., and spent Sunday with John Everhart, who holds a good state highway position.

W. F. Thompson and wife, with their son William and bride, left on Monday on a sight-seeing trip to Niagara Falls and Canada. During their absence Charles Coble will be in charge of Bill's Inn.

A. B. Tanyer, of State College, was in town, on Monday, looking up some of his old cronies. He now gets along fairly well by using a cane but hopes to be able to cast it aside by the time the deer season opens.

Centre countians who visit the Sesqui-Centennial in Philadelphia during the summer, can find home-like quarters with J. H. Ward and family, 817 south 14th street. Rooms are comfortable and prices most reasonable.

The mission pageant given at Meek's church on Sunday evening, under the direction of Miss Hilda Campbell, was a decided success. A large audience was present and music was furnished by a male quartette, of State College.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Henry, near Graysville, was the scene of a family gathering, last Saturday, when one hundred and forty Henrys or their connections were present. Plenty of eats and much rejoicing over the get-together characterized the gathering.

Prof. Samuel C. Miller, wife and daughter Elizabeth, motored up from Chester, during the week, to close out their summer vacation on the old home farm in the Glades. They were joined on Sunday by their son Russell and wife, of State College. Prof. Miller has been re-elected principal of the Chester high school for another four year's term.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Albright and son Harold, Mrs. Edward McAllister, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Musser and Mrs. Kaufman made up a motor party on a trip to Harrisburg and Gettysburg, Mr. Albright being anxious to see Round Top where his father, John Albright, fought in the memorable battle of Gettysburg as a member of the 49th P. V.

Baseball fans hereabouts were treated to a real clean ball game at the opening of the new field near town on Saturday afternoon. An Altoona team played Pine Grove, and although our boys went down in defeat they put up a splendid game. The score was 9 to 4 in favor of Altoona. After the game the players had a chicken and sweet corn supper at Bill's Inn.

Sixty or more members of the Osman clan held a family get-together at the Academy park, on Sunday. Many packed baskets were in evidence which resulted in a bounteous dinner beneath the spreading oaks. Grandmother Leah Osman, of Lemont, was the honor guest. Although 92 years old she is still quite alert and enjoyed the day very much. Some of the family members from Altoona did not arrive in time for dinner but remained for supper.

Bankers to View Pennsylvania Farms.

Agricultural features of northwest Pennsylvania will be inspected next week by the agricultural committee and officers of the State Bankers' Association. The group will tour seven counties in automobiles, making stops at the farms of many successful farmers in that section of the State. The bankers will gather at State College on Wednesday evening, August 18th, and the tour will continue until Saturday, with visits to the following counties: Centre, Clearfield, Jefferson, Clarion, Venango, Crawford and Erie.

This is the fourth annual tour of its kind for the bankers' agricultural committee. In the past three years they have visited all other sections of the State. The purpose of the tours is to acquaint members of the committee with actual agricultural conditions in the State. As in previous years, the tour will be in charge of E. K. Hibbsman, assistant to the president of The Pennsylvania State College, who is known to farmers in every section of the State through his twelve years in college extension work.

CENTRE HALL.

Hot! Well I guess!

Bruce Rowe, of Newark, N. J., surprised his parents by coming home on Monday.

The fresh-air children will leave our town tonight, after a pleasant visit of two weeks' duration.

Guests in the Cyrus Brungart home are his daughter and her family—the Getchells, of Uniontown.

Mrs. W. F. Colyer entertained her brother, C. T. Heim and family, of Harrisburg, during the week.

Mrs. Miriam Huyett Alexander, of Wenona, N. J., reached home on Thursday for a short vacation.

Rev. Daniel Gress and family have been visiting among his former church members, in this locality, during the past week.

Mrs. C. N. Hockman came home from the Geisinger hospital at Danville, on Monday. Another local patient in the same hospital is Miss Dorothy Odenkirk.

Mrs. Laura Lee is entertaining her grand-daughter, formerly Miss Betty Breen, of Reading. Other guests entertained by her during the week were a niece, Miss Mame Herring, and a grand-niece, Miss Dorothy Fleck, of Altoona.

Recent visitors at the Bartholomey home were Mrs. Carrie Buys, of Virginia; Mrs. Madge Roak, of Norwood; Mrs. Andrew Shook, of Spring Mills, and Miss Annie Lohr, of Boalsburg, all of whom are relatives of Mrs. Bartholomey and her mother, Mrs. Lutz.
