September 13th to 18th

Monday-Tues. Sept. 13 and 14

"Fig Leaves"

A comedy drama of Clothes. See "The Garden of Eden" and the Beautiful Fashion Show in natural colors. It's the story of Eve's age-old problem. From the Garden of Eden to a Salon on Fifth Avenue. Cast: Adam Smith, George O'Brien; Eve Smith, Olive Borden; Alice Atkins, Phyllis Harver; Josef Andre, Andre de Boranger; Madeline Brisswald, Eulalie Jensen; Lela, Dorothy Dunbar; August Harter, Heinie Conklin.

STORY: Eve quarrels with Adam because she has not enough variety of clothes and the snake comes in to sympathize and suggest while Adam has gone to the office by dinosaur bus. Seven million years later Adam Smith, master plumber, and his pretty wife, Eve, have changed very little. Eve wants pretty clothes and is encouraged by the blond lady across the hall who wants to foster friction between the two. Eve gets a job in the salon of Josef Andre, designer, and becomes a model. After a domestic quarrel Adam, to make up, decides to buy Eve the finest coat in town and goes to Andre's fashion show to get it. He discovers Eve there and is furious. Telling Eve that she has chosen clothes rather than himself he leaves her but comes back and overhears his wife telling the blond disturber how wonderful he is. He relents and they make up. Adam suggests they celebrate and Eve smilingly says she would love to but has positively "nothing to wear."

Also a first run two reel Mack Sennett Comedy "The Merry Widow." 10 and 25c.

Wednesday Sept. 15th

"The Flying Horseman"

All the ingredients which go toward the making of an unusually good Western are to be found in the latest Buck Jones release and there is every assurance of its being a strong tradition with audiences who enjoy a smashing good story, flavored with romance, fast and clever riding, villainy and six shooters.

Also Fox News, Screen Snapshots and "Out of the Inkwell." 10 and 25c.

Thursday Sept. 16th

"The Family Upstairs"

CAST: Louise Heller, Virginia Williams, Charles Grant, Allan Simpson; Joe Heller, J. Farrell Macdonald; Emma Heller, Lillian Elliot; Willie, Edward Piel, Jr.; Annabelle, Jacqueline Wells; Mlle. Charlie, Cecille Evans.

CHARACTER: Comedy-drama of an apartment house.

STORY: The Hellers are just an average middle-class family and are much excited when the eldest, Louise, finds a suitor in Charles Grant, bank teller. To impress him the first time he calls Mama Heller puts on a lot of airs and appears so ambitious for Louise that poor Charles resolves to marry her. At this Louise finally rebels against her family and dashes off to Coney Island to find any man as her romance is spoiled. Meanwhile her father has realized what their bluff has done and has explained to the despondent Charles that he is only a street car conductor himself. Charles and Willie, Louise's brother, dash off to Coney Island after her and finally all is straightened out and Louise and Charles are happy.

Also Single Reel Pathe Comedy, Fox Variety and "Church Yards of Old America." 10 and 25c.

Friday and Satur. Sept. 17-18

"Marriage License"

With "Alma Ruben" and Walter McGrail.

Not a problem play, yet answering the most vital question of the day; not a sex drama, yet pulsating without violent emotion; not a "thriller" in the accepted sense of the word, yet replete with exciting situations. Not a pink tea society drama, yet dealing with the "upper half," not a comedy, yet offering many a smile. It's a story as true as life and just as big.

The same star, Alma Rubens, and the same director, Frank Borzage, who made "Humoresque," one of the greatest screen successes, again combined their talents in the production of "Marriage License." The result is the mightiest drama either this great actress or this noted director have ever been associated with.

Added on Friday 7th Chapter of the Serial "Snowed In." On Saturday a Brand New Two Reel Comedy "Non Stop Bride." 10 and 25c.

Moose Theatre

Where You Always See a Good Show.

Friday and Saturday, 17-18

"Flames"

With Eugene O'Brien, Virginia Valli, Jean Henderson and Bayard Washburn. See the amazing fire scenes and railroad construction camp. Packed with thrills and action. Here is just one more of those "Better Class Photoplays."

Also the 2nd Chapter of the "Fighting Marine" with "Gene Tunney." A Great Show, all for 10 and 25c.

The Neidigh-Kustaborder Family Reunion.—The Neidigh-Kustaborder family reunion, which was to have been held in the Holmes grove, at Pine Hall on Saturday, was held in the hall of Washington Grange, nearby, owing to the inclement weather, and proved one of the most successful gatherings of the season. The morning hours were spent in exchanging greetings and when the noon hour arrived the committee took charge of the parked baskets and prepared the dinner which filled three large tables. Of course everybody ate until they couldn't eat any more.

Following the eats letters of regret were read and among them was one from Zack Neidigh, the only surviving brother of the original Neidighs, who was taken ill while on his way here from his home in New York State, and was compelled to return home. Rev. W. W. Moyer made a brief speech in which he complimented the committee in charge for the splendid arrangements made for the gathering.

Hon. J. Laird Holmes confined his remarks to a review of the early settlers of the Pine Hall region among whom none were more successful than the Neidighs and Kustaborders. In the list he named the Neidighs, Krumrines, Corls, McCormicks, Fyess, Strouses and others, the original homesteads still being in the family names.

John Henry Neidigh, the third in line, is now dean of the family. His great grand-father, John Adam Neidigh, emigrated from Germany prior to the Revolutionary war and settled in Bucks county, later, moving to Centre county and locating in Haines township where John Neidigh was born in 1841. Later they moved to Ferguson township and located on the farm now owned by D. S. Neidigh. In 1866 John Neidigh married Sara Ann Kustaborder, a daughter of George and Catherine Kustaborder. They had ten children, Newton, Annie, Jacob, Calvin, Mary, Blanche, George, Margaret and Frank, one dying in infancy. The dean is now 81 years old and his wife 80. They till the old home-stead until 1907 when they retired to a cosy home at Pine Hall.

The Kustaborder side of the family also came from Germany in 1766 and settled at Bath, Pa. The second generation came to Centre county by ox teams and located on what is now the W. H. Fry farm at White Hall. Mary Ann Kustaborder married Conrad Fry in 1842, and they had eight children. The Frys were also German emigrants, having come to this country in 1758. Of the Fry family only three are living, W. H., of Pine Grove Mills, Mrs. G. W. Ward and Robert, of Bellefonte.

Before the gathering broke up on Saturday it was decided to meet at the same place next year, the first Saturday in September. Those present were as follows:

John H. Neidigh and wife; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kustaborder and sons, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Neidigh and family of six, James W. Houser and wife, John A. Neidigh, wife and sons, Rev. W. W. Moyer and wife, Mrs. L. H. Osman and daughter, James Kustaborder and wife, S. I. Corl and wife, J. G. Neidigh, wife and son, C. W. Fishburn, wife and three children, W. M. Neidigh and wife, Mr. and Mrs. John Hoy, N. C. Neidigh and daughter, J. Cal Neidigh, wife and two children, G. H. Resides and family, Robert Kustaborder and wife, Charles Rudy, wife and sons, John Lytle and wife, Curt Cronemiller, wife and son, Daniel Stover, wife and daughter, Mrs. Annie Garner and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Grenoble, Mrs. Anna Zeigler, Curtis Neidigh and family, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Garver and daughter, D. M. Neidigh, J. L. Holmes, wife and daughter, and W. H. Fry.

JACKSONVILLE.

Mrs. Walter Daily has been staying at her home the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Miles Bartley and daughter were Sunday dinner guests at the Joseph Neff home.

Mrs. Reuben Sorghum, of Lock Haven, her son Sterling and granddaughter, Edith Sorghum, spent a few days at the Wm. Weaver home last week.

The weiner roast at the William Weaver home, on Friday evening, was a grand success, nearly one hundred people being present. Everybody had a fine time.
