

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

The Catholic Daughters of America will hold a card party in their rooms this (Friday) evening. Admission, 25 cents.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Benner, of east Bishop street, are being congratulated by their friends over the arrival in their home, Monday afternoon, of a fine boy baby.

Dr. M. A. Kirk celebrated his seventieth birthday, Saturday evening, by being a guest of honor at a surprise party given for him by some of the members of his family.

The winter schedule of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, which went into effect on Sunday, made no changes in the time of trains on the Bald Eagle Valley railroad or the Lewisburg division.

Announcement has been received from Geneva, Switzerland, that the Penn State Junior class annual, "La Vie," has won first prize in the international exhibit of college yearbooks at the world's student federation competition held in that city.

The new students at the Bellefonte Academy are very much interested in the big trout in Spring Creek and if their money holds out and the butchers do not run out of chopped beef the trout are in for a good living for a few weeks, at least.

Rev. William C. Thomason, pastor of the Bellefonte Presbyterian church, will be the presiding officer at the fall meeting of the Huntingdon Presbytery which will be held in the Presbyterian church at Hollidaysburg Monday and Tuesday of next week.

Paul Foreman, son of Mr. and Mrs. David R. Foreman, has secured a position in the State Highway offices in Bellefonte, going to work on Monday morning. Mahlon Foreman, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Foreman, left last week for Ann Arbor, Mich., to complete his college work.

Charles Tabel, owner of the Half Moon Gardens, is installing a heating plant in both of his green houses in order to carry on his floriculture without interruption throughout the winter. That will mean a continuous supply of potted plants and fresh flowers for the community.

The Chemical Lime Co., of this place, has given a contract to the Schuthless Hydrating Co., for the erection of a $100,000 hydrating mill at its operation on Buffalo Run. The plant will have a daily capacity of 140 tons and is to be completed, with five great storage bins, by December 1st.

The five Hopi Indians who put on a snake dance at the Moose theatre the fore part of the week, were educated to the value of personal advertising, as was evident in their musical chant while making a tour of the town in a motor truck. The native Americans were adorned in paint and feathers galore.

The American Legion Auxiliary will hold their annual card party in the Legion home on Howard street, Tuesday evening, October 5th. Progressive five hundred and auction bridge will be on the program. Admission, 25 cents. Refreshments will be served. It is the desire of the auxiliary to fill the tables and all card players are invited to be present.

Phillipsburg officers on Friday night raided the home of Stanley and Anna Michael, in Milligan hollow, Rush township, and confiscated a ten gallon still, a gallon and a half of moonshine, fourteen bottles of home brew, twenty-five gallons of wine and ten gallons of mash. Mr. and Mrs. Michael were both arrested but gave bail in the sum of one thousand dollars for their appearance at court.

Weather prophets are predicting warm weather until the beginning of December but the evenings will be just as long as usual and the best place in Bellefonte to spend them is at the scenic watching the motion pictures. By reading the advertisement published every week in the Watchman you can keep informed as to the name and character of the pictures on the program every evening in the week. They are all the best that can be procured. If you are not a regular get the movie habit.

During the thunder storm last Saturday afternoon lightning struck the roof of the Williams barn at Eagleville. From there it jumped to a radio aerial leading in to the house, knocked off a lot of electrical fixtures and slightly stunned its occupants, Mrs. Williams and her daughter, Mrs. M. F. Gardner. The same bolt ran riot in the telephone exchange, shocked the operators and stunned members of the Coder and Shilling families who live next door. Mrs. Maurice Shilling was unconscious for several minutes.

Calvin Pownell, aged 78, of Karmell, was seriously gored by a bull on the farm of his nephew, Elmer Pownell, last Monday. The older gentlemen was visiting at the farm and was walking towards the barn when the animal charged him. It hurled him into the air and was about to attack him again when his niece rushed to the rescue with a pitchfork and a dog. The bull was held off until the nephew ran in from a nearby field and carried his uncle to safety. Mr. Pownell suffered fractures of his jaw and several cuts and bruises.

SEPTEMBER COURT HAS MANY CASES FOR TRIAL.

Petty Misdemeanors Take Up Much Time of Court and Jury.

The regular September term of court convened on Monday with Judge Harry Keller on the bench. Numerous motions and petitions were presented by the various attorneys which were all promptly disposed of. The list of grand jurors was called and Alexander Morrison, of Bellefonte, appointed foreman, after which they were duly sworn and instructed by the court, then retired to take up consideration of the various bills presented to them by district attorney John G. Love. The list of traverse jurors for this week was called and absentees noted.

The civil list for next week was then gone over and the following cases disposed of:

Gordon Brothers, Inc., vs. M. D. Kelly and H. P. Kelly, trading and doing business as Kelly Brothers Coal company; being an action in assumpsit. This case was continued on the application of counsel for the defendants but not to be again continued for the same cause.

George E. Harper and Mary E. Harper, his wife, vs. G. D. Morrison and Myrtle Morrison, his wife, being an action in assumpsit; continued, being special to Judge Keller.

James E. Foster vs. Pure Coal company, a corporation, being an action in assumpsit; continued, being special to Judge Keller.

George E. Harper and Mary E. Harper, his wife, vs. G. D. Morrison and Myrtle Morrison, his wife, being an action in assumpsit; continued, being special to Judge Keller.

Evan Davis, Elizabeth Ross, Maggie Brighton, by their attorney-in-fact, Fred Brighton, and William Wood, guardian of Edward Davis and William Davis, vs. Penelec Coal company, a corporation, two cases; the first case being an action in ejectment and the second an action in trespass. Both cases continued.

O. C. Struble vs. Anna M. Meyer, owner or reputed owner; being a scifias on a mechanics lien, continued.

M. I. Gardner vs. Highland Clay Products company, a corporation; being an action in assumpsit, continued.

Mary G. Gates vs. J. M. Keichline; petition to satisfy mortgage, settled.

When court convened on Monday afternoon the first case taken up was that of the Commonwealth vs. Myron Naugle, charged with a statutory offense, prosecutrix, Pauline Saffo. Defendant waived the finding of the grand jury and entered a plea of guilty. The court imposed the usual sentence but paroled the defendant so he could go to work and meet the money payments when due.

Commonwealth vs. Clement O'Donnell, charged with breaking and escaping from Rockview penitentiary, prosecutrix W. J. McFarland. Defendant plead guilty and was given a three to six years sentence in the penitentiary after completion of his original term.

Commonwealth vs. Roland Hendricks, charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor. Prosecutrix, George Hendricks. Defendant plead guilty and was retained in jail until his case can be further investigated.

Commonwealth vs. John Rockaway, violation of the liquor laws. Prosecutrix, Julia Sinclair and Oci Hipple. Defendant plead guilty and was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and costs, and placed under parole while working to earn the money to meet the sentence.

A similar case was that against John Barnyak, the prosecutrix being William Metcalf. This defendant was also sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and costs and paroled so he could work and make the payments.

Commonwealth vs. Clair Harper, indicted for adultery. Prosecutrix, G. S. Conrad. This case went to trial but the evidence was not of the kind for publication. At the conclusion of the Commonwealth's testimony attorneys for the defendant moved for a compulsory nolle prosequi on the ground that a necessary fact for conviction had not been proven, and the motion was granted by the court.

Commonwealth vs. Veto Saketti, indicted for breaking and escaping from Rockview penitentiary on August 26th. Prosecutrix, William J. McFarland. This defendant escaped the penitentiary by cutting two wires of the stockade and was captured the same afternoon beyond the fish hatchery at Pleasant Gap by assistant deputy C. C. Rhoads single-handed. The defendant refused to plead guilty and insisted upon being tried but came into court without counsel. The court appointed an attorney for him and the case was tried on Tuesday forenoon, resulting in a verdict of guilty and he was promptly sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution, fine of one dollar and to undergo imprisonment in the western penitentiary for a period of not less than three years nor more than six.

Commonwealth vs. Robert Stover, indicted on a statutory offense. Prosecutrix, Stella E. Keen. This case is from Millheim and was tried on Tuesday afternoon and the jury returned a verdict of guilty and the usual sentence was imposed upon the defendant.

The district attorney being engaged in the different hearings before the grand jury, and no cases for trial in which there was special counsel assisting, the court was obliged to adjourn early on Tuesday afternoon until Wednesday morning.

When court convened on Wednesday morning the first case called was that of the Commonwealth vs. Lydia Daughenbaugh, indicted, first count, maintaining a bawdy house; second count, adultery. Prosecutrix, William Eldridge. This case was from Phillipsburg and the testimony was not fit for publication, but at the close of the Commonwealth's evidence the court held that it was not sufficient to convict the defendant of maintaining a bawdy house. After all the testimony was in the jury rendered a verdict of not guilty on the indictment for adultery, but directed the defendant to pay the costs.

Commonwealth vs. Maurice Lutz, indicted for statutory offense. Prosecutrix, Walter Stine in behalf of his daughter Ruth Stine. This case was from Patton township and a verdict was rendered of not guilty but the defendant to pay the costs.

Commonwealth vs. Willis McKinley, indicted for statutory offense. Prosecutrix, Alice J. Beck. This case was from State College and the verdict rendered on Thursday morning was guilty and indicted, Defendant's attorneys promptly gave notice that a motion would be made for a new trial.

Commonwealth vs. W. C. Stone, indicted for statutory offense. Prosecutrix, Alice Jackson. This case was also from State College. The defendant appeared in court and plead guilty and the usual sentence in such cases was imposed. The defendant is a cripple and has to be carried from place to place, and after the imposition of the sentence the sheriff was obliged to carry him to the jail.

The next case was the Commonwealth vs. Harry McCloskey, of Liberty township, charged with illegal possession and the sale of intoxicating liquor. Prosecutrix, Corp. A. R. Fox, of the state police. Case on trial when the Watchman went to press.

The grand jury made its final presentation on Wednesday forenoon, as follows:

We passed upon thirty-one bills of indictment, twenty-four of which were found true bills, six ignored and one bill withdrawn by the district attorney.

We visited the public buildings and find that a fire escape is needed at rear of jail and also that a place should be provided for the women inmates.

That the wood-work should be painted on the outside of the jail and flues should be repaired to keep the rain from running into the kitchen, and that windows should be replaced or repaired and mason work around the windows should be painted.

We also recommend that provisions be made for more files in the Prothonotary's office and the Register's office.

The trees should have the attention of some good tree surgeon.

The sanitary conditions of the court house, as well as the jail, are in bad condition.

We recommend that the prisoners held in both places and give it a good cleaning.

CERTAINLY NOT A SLAP AT SHERIFF TAYLOR.

In reading the report of the grand jury above some might infer that sheriff Taylor has been negligent in the care of the inside of the jail. We do not believe that the grand jury intended to convey any such impression. Sheriff Taylor is one of the most conscientious and painstaking officials we have ever had in public office in Centre county. The jail is as clean as we have ever seen it and we visited it yesterday right after we had read the report. Its sanitary condition is better than it has ever been, for only a short time ago the Sheriff on his own initiative, secured the permission of the County Commissioners to place a large ventilator in the roof of the cell block and this has worked wonders by way of keeping the air fresh and pure in a building that was designed without a thought of the problem of carrying off the impurities bound to be thrown off by humans in close confinement. It is our thought that when the grand jury suggested that prisoners in the jail be used to clean both it and the court house it was not implying that either building was then dirty, because of negligence on the part of those in control of them. Only that prisoners might be used with profit to the county and benefit to themselves in occasional general housecleanings such as we have in our own homes.

Building Penitentiary Dam Proves a Big Job.

The State forest and waters resources board has granted Rockview penitentiary permission to construct an impounding dam on McBride's run, in McBride's gap, for the purpose of conserving the water supply for use at the institution.

In this connection, it might be said, work on the dam is progressing nicely, though the men in charge of the work ran up against a proposition they didn't expect. In digging into the side of the mountain for space to put the anchor walls for the breast of the dam the ledge of rock ran out a comparatively few feet below the surface and it was necessary to go down thirty-two feet to find sufficient solid rock to hold the anchor walls.

An Airplane Carrying Pictures of the Tumney-Dempsey Prize Fight from Philadelphia to Cleveland, Ohio, was forced down by rain and fog at Cresson last Friday morning. A passenger on the plane took the first westbound train for Cleveland and in the afternoon the pilot was able to take to the air and return to Philadelphia.

BELLEFONTE CAVALRYMEN CAPTURE MOST PRIZES.

Horse Show and Rodeo Attracted Big Crowd but Rain Interfered.

About forty cavalrymen, the pick of the riders and horses from the mounted National Guard units at Lock Haven, Tyrone, Boalsburg and Bellefonte, competed in the horse show and rodeo held on the old fair grounds, last Saturday afternoon, under the auspices of Troop B, 52nd mounted machine gun battalion, of Bellefonte. And Bellefonte riders captured most of the prizes offered for stunt riding.

The show started at 2.30 o'clock, with the I. O. O. F. band on the ground to furnish the music. Quite a large crowd was present and great interest was manifested in the horses as well as the riding until threatening clouds appeared and a succession of hard showers caused the crowd to disperse and naturally put an end to the riding stunts, as the rain and slippery ground rendered it too dangerous for the intrepid riders. However, before the storm broke the cavalrymen were able to execute a number of their most difficult drills, giving jumping exhibitions, hurdle races and jumping through an arch of fire by horses and men. The latter was a thrilling and spectacular act and was generously applauded by the crowd on the side lines.

Prizes for the riding stunts were awarded as follows:

Officers class, a beautiful silver loving cup, Lieut. Donald W. Griffin, Troop F, 103rd cavalry, Lock Haven.

Non-Commissioned officers class, first prize, $15, Sergt. Brown, Troop F, Lock Haven; second prize, $7.50, Corp. Rex Lillidahl, Troop B, 52nd machine gun battalion, Bellefonte.

Privates class, first prize, $10, Chas. W. Roberts, headquarters detachment, Bellefonte; second prize, $5, Paul Fanning, Troop B; 3rd prize, ribbon, Gerald Little, Troop B, and 4th prize, ribbon, Joseph Tressler, Troop B.

The fair and festival which was to have been held on the fair grounds on Saturday afternoon and evening in connection with the show and rodeo, was moved to the armory, but because of the fact that there was no time to advertise the change no crowd of any consequence was present, and it was readjusted and held in the armory on Wednesday night of this week.

This was the first show and rodeo ever held in Bellefonte but from the interest manifested by the public the cavalrymen are convinced that it is a sport that will appeal to people generally and they are already planning on a series of entertainments to be held next year. In this line they plan to recondition the race track on the old fair grounds and put it in shape for steeple chases, something never attempted only on the larger tracks in this country.

Delightful Family Gathering at Jacob Hoy Home.

A delightful family gathering was held at the Jacob Hoy home, on south Thomas street, on Sunday, as a welcome home to the daughter, Miss Marie Hoy, who spent the summer with Miss Lida Morris, at Columbia, South Carolina. The gathering included Mr. and Mrs. Hoy and all their children and families, namely: Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Houck and two sons, Hoy and Randolph, who also live on south Thomas street; Mr. and Mrs. John Shuey and two daughters, Elizabeth and Adaline, of Pleasant Gap; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Eberhart, of Curtin street; Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Hoy and son Frank, of north Thomas street; Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Stevens and daughter, Betty Marie, of south Thomas street, and Miss Marie Hoy. Miss Morris also spent a portion of the afternoon with the family.

During the afternoon there was a feast of music, Mrs. Stuart Hoy and Mrs. Stevens taking turns at the piano while Randolph Houck entertained with his mandolin and banjo, handling both instruments very good for one of his years. As this was the first time the family had been together since last spring they took advantage of the opportunity to have a group picture taken.

Heifer Killed by Headon Collision with Ford Car.

A heifer belonging to Clayton Walters was instantly killed, on Saturday evening, on the State highway near the old Thomas Shearer home by a headon collision with a Ford car driven by Robert Cox. Mr. Walters has been pasturing his young cattle in the fenced-in flat beyond the old toll gate and on Saturday evening one of his heifers got out of the wire enclosure and meandered up and down the State highway. About 6.30 o'clock Robert Cox was coming to Bellefonte in his Ford car and on the curve at the old Shearer place he was in the act of passing another car going out when the heifer stepped out from behind the car going south right in front of Mr. Cox's Ford. She was hit head-on and dropped in her tracks, dead as dead could be. Mr. Cox was not driving very fast but at that the impact drove the radiator of his car back against the motor and otherwise damaged the machine.

All the equipment of the Centre County Banking company was sold at public sale last Saturday morning, and the building has been cleaned out of all the property of the old banking company. The sale amounted to $503.90.

NEWS PURELY PERSONAL.

W. R. Brachbill was a week-end guest of his daughter, Mrs. Wagner, at Watsonstown.

Miss Margaret Cooney and Miss Elizabeth Walker left, the early part of the week, on a two month's trip to the Pacific coast.

Mrs. James K. Barnhart has been in Schenectady, N. Y., for two weeks, a guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Harper.

Capt. and Mrs. John Weeks and their two children left Sunday to go to Selinsgrove where the children will be at Mrs. Weeks' former home while Capt. and Mrs. Weeks are spending some time in Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Flack, with their two children, Harry Jr. and Madeline, motored in from their home at Blairsville on Sunday and spent the day with Mr. Flack's parents, councilman and Mrs. Harry Flack, and Mr. and Mrs. George Carpeneto.

Mr. and Mrs. James Stine and a Mr. Campbell motored over from Lewistown, Saturday, to spend several hours in Bellefonte as guests of Miss Mona Struble, who accompanied them on their return trip home to spend the week-end in Lewistown as their guest.

Mrs. Harriet Ray Smith motored up from Wyomissing, Berks county, on Saturday, to look after some business matters and property interests she still has in Bellefonte, being a guest while here of Miss Helene Williams, at her old home on east Curtin street.

Mrs. Harry C. Valentine, her daughter, Miss Rebecca, Miss Mary Valentine and Edgar Burnside will comprise a driving party going to New York State next week, where they will spend a part of October visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Bruce S. Burlingame, at Cazenovia.

Miss Kathleen Selbert, of the nursing staff of the West Penn hospital, of Pittsburgh, visited in Bellefonte for a part of the week with Mrs. John A. Woodcock. Miss Selbert was on her way back to Pittsburgh following a vacation visit at Blue Ridge Summit and at her former home in Chambersburg.

L. H. Musser left Monday afternoon to join his daughter, Miss Mary at Miami, Florida. Mr. Musser has been north since the middle of the summer when he accompanied Mrs. Musser's body to Bellefonte for burial. According to present plans Mr. Musser and his daughter will locate permanently in Florida.

Miss Lida E. Morris and Miss Marie Hoy arrived here from Columbia, S. C., a week ago, Miss Morris being a guest at the home of her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morris while Miss Hoy is with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hoy. Owing to ill health Miss Hoy will remain north for an indefinite time.

Miss Beattie McCafferty returned to Pittsburgh this week after occupying her own home on east Lamb street during August and September. Miss McCafferty has spent her winter with her sister in Pittsburgh for a number of years, always coming to Bellefonte the after part of the summer for a visit back home.

Elliot Lyon Morris will join Mrs. Morris and their two children here today for a short stay before going on east on a business trip. Mrs. Morris came north from Macon, Ga., two weeks ago with her mother, Mrs. C. Y. Wagner, expecting to spend a part of the fall in Bellefonte with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wagner, at their home on Willowbank street.

Among those from a distance at State College Saturday evening for the Rush-Ostrander wedding were, Mr. Rush's two sisters, Mrs. Samuel Blayer, of Lewistown, and Mrs. Albert Straw with Mr. Straw, of Coudersport; John A. Knox and Miss Blanche Filson, of Harrisburg; Richard Bossart, of Mount Pleasant, and the bride's father, Oscar Ostrander, of Altoona.

Mr. and Mrs. George O. Benner, of Centre Hall, made one of their semi-weekly visits to Bellefonte, Wednesday; Mr. Benner spending the time in court while Mrs. Benner visited some of her many friends here. Since retiring from business in the spring Mr. Benner and his wife have developed into motor enthusiasts and now see much of friends all over the county.

Mrs. E. H. Richard and Miss Emma Montgomery will leave Wednesday of next week on a drive to Norristown, where they will spend the month of October as guests of Mrs. Richard's brother, James Aull, on his farm near that city and in visiting the Sesqui. The trip east will be made in Mrs. Richard's car which will be brought back to Bellefonte and taken down for them at the expiration of their visit.

O. M. Bowersox and W. A. Hoy, of State College, have been in town this week helping to dispose of the many criminal cases before court. Both gentlemen are traverse jurors. In these days of good roads and speed motors jury duty is not what it used to be, for those called from most any part of the county are able to spend almost every night at home, when in the old days it meant a room at a hotel here for the entire week, or while court lasted.

J. C. Ward and his daughter, Miss Harriet, drove in from Beaver last week on their fifth trip of the summer to Mr. Ward's former home at Pine Grove Mills. Upon their return home Sunday they were accompanied by Mr. Ward's sister, Mrs. Fred Dorrler, who had been a driving guest of her brother G. W. Ward when he motored in from Pittsburgh three weeks ago. During their stay in Centre county the party with Mr. Ward's younger brother, H. B. Ward, of Pine Grove Mills, spent a part of a day in Bellefonte looking after some business and visiting with friends of the Ward family.

Miss Sara Graham and her sister, Mrs. George Lawrence, are expected here from Coopersville, N. D., the early part of October to make Bellefonte their permanent home and have leased an apartment in the Robert Roan apartment home on the corner of Allegheny and Curtin streets. Both women were born and spent all their early life here, Miss Graham leaving to go to Lewistown where she was in business with her sister until the latter's death several years ago when she returned to Bellefonte. Upon the death of Mr. Cooper early in the summer Miss Graham accompanied Mrs. Cooper to her ranch in North Dakota to make some business arrangements which would make it possible for her to spend the remainder of her life in the east, consequently they are coming to Bellefonte with a view to making this their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mayer and their son William, with Miss Jean Bauer as a guest, drove to Greenville this week, spending a short time there with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mayer and their family.

Miss Mary Valentine, of Chestnut Hill, came to Bellefonte on Sunday with her cousin, Mrs. G. Murray Andrews, whose guest she has been since her arrival here. Mrs. Andrews had been in Philadelphia for two weeks.

Mrs. Thomas Shaughnessy, who is visiting with her son, Thomas Jr. and his wife, in Philadelphia, accompanied her son on his return home Sunday, following his visit of a few days here with the family at the Shaughnessy home on Howard street.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ingram's guests during the week included Mrs. Ingram's niece, Mrs. Linn Lindemuth, her husband and Mr. Lindemuth's father, the party being on a drive through Pennsylvania. Mrs. Lindemuth is better known in Bellefonte as Miss Martha Haines.

Mrs. Charles Moerschbacher will leave tomorrow for a visit with relatives in Philadelphia, where she will be joined in a week by her daughter and grandson, Mrs. George Austin and Richard. From there they will go to Atlantic City and then to New York, having planned to be away for the greater part of October.

Y Drive Over the Top in Three Days.

Some said it couldn't be done and then others up and did it. The combined forces of the Business Men's Association and Kiwanis got behind the local Y. M. C. A. for three days this week and the net result of their work is the assurance that the town's one common meeting ground will have a year during which the spectre of unpaid bills will not be continually chilling its every activity.

For some time the Y has had reason to fear that the wolf at its door would actually break in. In truth its officers, in despair, have frequently faced the question of closing the place that through so many years has had wide open doors for everyone.

Its all over now for Bellefonte has rallied wonderfully to the call and three hundred and sixty-five days of calm sailing are ahead.

The Business Men's Association, headed by F. W. West, and Kiwanis, headed by Rev. Homer C. Knox, really underwrote the budget for the coming year by volunteering to enlist a membership of 750 and raise $3200 in subscription. They started in Monday morning and finished Wednesday night at a luncheon served in the Y gym by the ladies of the Lutheran church. And they finished right, for they had secured 877 members and raised $3501 with a few reports not included.

It is a hopeful outlook that the Y has this morning. Here's hoping that its work for the year will be wonderfully fruitful in uplifting the moral tone of the community.

Rush-Ostrander—The home of Mr. and Mrs. William Rush, at State College, was the scene of a pretty wedding, at eight o'clock on Saturday evening, when their son, Theodore Rush and Miss Beatrice Ostrander, of Bellefonte, were united in marriage by Rev. Homer C. Knox, of Bellefonte. The young couple were attended by Miss Jean Knox, a cousin of the bridegroom, and Richard Bossart, of Mt. Pleasant, a former student of the Bellefonte Academy. Forty guests were present to witness the ceremony which was followed by a wedding dinner. On Sunday the young couple, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Rush Sr., left by automobile for a wedding trip to Philadelphia where they will visit the Sesqui. On their return they will take up their residence at State College.

Fishburn—Yarnell—John H. Fishburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Fishburn, of Benner township, and Miss Alta M. Yarnell, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Yarnell, of Spring township, were married on Tuesday evening at the Reformed parsonage, Bellefonte, by the pastor, Rev. Robert Thena. The bride is a graduate nurse of the Centre county hospital while the bridegroom is an industrious young farmer in Benner township.

Vonada—Witmer—Earl T. Vonada, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Vonada, and Miss Ethel M. Witmer, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Witmer, both of Bellefonte, were married on Thursday of last week by Rev. Harry A. Hartman. Following a brief wedding trip they returned home on Monday evening and were given an enthusiastic serenade by their young friends.

Oliver—Nearhoof—James Oliver, of Graysville, and Miss Ella Nearhoof, of Warriorsmark, were married in the Methodist church at Warriorsmark, on Tuesday morning, by the pastor, Rev. R. H. Fasic. After October 15th they will be at home on the well known Oliver farm at Graysville.
