Bellefonte High Defeated Altoona High on Saturday.

The Bellefonte High school football team journeyed to Altoona, on Saturday, and defeated the High school eleven of that place by the score of 27 to 0. The Altoona Tribune's report of the game says:

Altoona High's grid eleven ran into a tartar against the veteran Bellefonte squad Saturday afternoon, and lost, 27 to 0. Well versed in the art of manhandling the experienced visitors proved too strong for the green local outfit.

Armstrong and Goodfellow were Altoona's best ground gainers but Bellefonte's brilliant backs excelled in this department. Katz at quarter, Crust and Garbrick at half and Heverly at full came here with considerable knowledge of football which they were not slow to use. Garbrick furnished the day's big thrill.

Altoona kicked off to Bellefonte. Heverly received the ball and passed the leather to Garbrick who raced 80 yards being downed on the 10 yard line. The locals were powerless to stop the heavy line and backfield and a touchdown followed.

Several times during the game Altoona rallied in a desperate effort to stem the heavy tide but it was impossible to halt the visitors' cyclonic attack.

ACADEMY DEFEATS STATE FRESH.

The Bellefonte Academy defeated the Penn State Freshmen, on Beaver field, last Saturday, by the score of 27 to 6. It was the first game between these teams since 1922, and naturally created considerable interest. Capt. Hood was the outstanding man on the Academy team, notwithstanding the fact that he had not entirely recovered from an injury sustained in the opening game of the season. He scored two of the Academy's touchdowns and was a tower of strength at advancing the ball.

Immediately following the above game State College and Marietta took the field, State winning by the score of 48 to 6.

Susquehanna League Meeting Held at Lock Haven.

A meeting of the Susquehanna baseball league association was held in Lock Haven, last week, and because of the success of the league during the past season it was decided to continue its activities during 1927. In fact three new teams have made application for franchises next year and it is highly probable that an eight team league will be the result. It was decided to hold a meeting early in January of 1927 to make tentative plans for the year.

At the meeting last week the league president, C. C. Krouse, of Williamsport, was presented with a handsome traveling bag. The treasurer returned to each club the forfeit fee checks deposited at the beginning of the 1926 season and disposed of all financial liabilities.

The Bellefonte Academy football team left this morning in "Miss Nittany," one of the Emerick company's big motor busses, on their trip to New York to play the New York University Freshmen. They will go as far as Plainfield, N. J., today, spending the night there. Tomorrow morning they will go into New York and play the Freshmen in the afternoon. Friday night and Saturday the Academy players will be guests of the University and will leave for home on Saturday evening. When the bus pulled out of Bellefonte it bore on the front a blue glass sign with Bellefonte Academy football team lettered in gold.

COOK.—Several weeks ago we published a notice of the death of George H. Cook which occurred in Los Angeles, California, on Monday, September 13. At the time our information concerning his life was very meager, for the reason that he had spent most of it in the west, so far away that friends in his former home here had only occasional contact with him. It appears, however, that Mr. Cook had gained a position of unusual prominence in Arizona, the State of his adoption, and had been so notably identified with the business and social development of that commonwealth as to be regarded by the Phoenix Press as one of her outstanding pioneers.

The Press, in its story of his life, publishes so much that will be of interest to many of our readers that we here present excerpts from its notice. George H. Cook, 69, one of the host of Arizona pioneers and for several years a leading jeweler of Phoenix died, at his home, 3400 San Marino street, Los Angeles, at 9 o'clock Monday morning, Sept. 13, after an illness of several months. During the early days of the development of Arizona, he was prominent in business and mining throughout the State.

News of his passing which reached Phoenix Tuesday morning, cast a cloak of sadness over countless friends of the pioneer in the valley and also in Flagstaff and Prescott, and Tucson in all of which cities he owned and managed jewelry stores and was post master of Flagstaff during the Harrison administration.

Cook at one time was an extensive property holder in that section, having much farm land in the west part of the valley. At the time of his death, he owned considerable property in Los Angeles, San Francisco and San Diego.

He made many visits to his Phoenix friends, coming here the last time in the fall of 1925. Mrs. Cook who survives her husband, was with him during his last illness. The deceased was a life member of the Phoenix Shrine and Commandery, a thirty-second degree Mason and a life member of the Elks lodge at Prescott. He was also interested in the aims of the Red Cross and during the World War donated both his services and his automobile, day by day, to the work of the Red Cross in Los Angeles. In this field of endeavor as in all that he undertook, George Cook was tireless and generous in his efforts to help his fellowmen.

Born at Bellefonte, Pennsylvania, on January 11, 1857, George H. Cook came to Arizona in 1886 from Albuquerque, New Mexico. He engaged in the jewelry business in Flagstaff first, having A. K. Lee, a pioneer of this state, as his partner. He married Jean Crothers of Flagstaff at that city on August 10, 1893. Later Cook went to Prescott where he was engaged in the same business. From Prescott he came to Phoenix and continued in the jewelry field here until the time of his retirement in 1908. Business at his store was always brisk, his friends state, and he did a great deal of a diamond trading with the settlers of the early days.

The deceased was also prominent in the mining industry in Yavapai county and assisted in developing some of the early producing mines in that county. He went from this city to Los Angeles where he had his home. George Cook was not just one of the famous pioneers of Arizona, he was a real man and a noble friend to the many folks who knew and admired him. He was always fair, always generous and always helpful in the work of the community in which he lived. He was especially noted for the interest which he took in the careers of young men and many times aided Arizona youth to gain a secure business foothold. In all that he undertook while in Arizona, Cook was a constructive and progressive builder who foresaw the wonderful future of this State and who desired to play both a business and human part in its development.

He was eighty-two years old and was born in Penn township, this county, where he lived until about twenty years ago when he moved to Montandon. He served during the Civil war as a member of Company D, 148th regiment, under Gen. James A. Beaver. At the battle of Gettysburg he was wounded in the knee and never entirely recovered therefrom.

He was born in Milesburg, January 11, 1893, and spent his youth there, where he attended the public schools later completing his studies in the High school of this place. After the family had moved to Pleasant Gap, where his father was inspector of lime for the Whiterock Quarries, in fact in 1915, he went to Philadelphia and was employed at Eddystone. Several years ago he joined the forces of the Aetna Life Insurance Co., where his service was so satisfactory that he had already risen to the important post of an auditor in the payroll department of the compensation business of that corporation and had offices in Baltimore, Md. Just when the future looked most hopeful to him, when the way to success and greater usefulness was becoming less rough this splendid young man came to his end.

He is survived by his mother, his half brother, Irvin O. Noll, of Lansdowne; his brother Gilbert F., at home at Pleasant Gap and his sister, Miss Pauline, at Lansdowne.

Funeral services were held at the family home at Pleasant Gap on Wednesday afternoon. They were conducted by Rev. M. C. Piper, of Milesburg. Interment was in charge of Bellefonte lodge B. P. O. E., of which deceased was a member.

GUISEWHITE.—Samuel H. Guisewhite, a veteran of the Civil war and a well known resident of Bellefonte, died last Thursday afternoon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Allen Waite, following an illness of some weeks as the result of a complication of diseases.

He was a son of Henry and Margaret Guisewhite and was born in Juniata county on September 23rd, 1846, hence was 80 years and 14 days old. During the Civil war he served as a member of Company F., 1st regiment Pennsylvania cavalry, taking part in a number of hard fought engagements. On returning from the war he came to Bellefonte and this had been his home ever since. He was one of the old-time teamsters engaged in hauling iron ore and charcoal to the several furnaces in this section.

He married Miss Anna Flynn who passed away on October 4th, 1921, but surviving him are the following children: Mrs. Allen Waite and Mrs. Michael Hazel, of Bellefonte; John, Charles and Joseph Guisewhite, of Meadville, and Samuel, of Johnstown. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. William Bilger, of Bellefonte, and Mrs. William Gingerich, of Tyrone. He was a charter member, in fact the oldest member of the Logan Fire company, of Bellefonte.

Mr. Guisewhite was a life-long member of the Catholic church and funeral services were held in the church at ten o'clock on Monday morning by Rev. Father Downes, burial being made in the Catholic cemetery.

JOHNSTONBAUGH.—Chas. Johnstonbaugh, a well known farmer of College township, died at the Centre County hospital on Monday night. Four weeks ago he underwent an operation for the removal of gall stones and later complications developed which caused his death.

He was a son of William H. and Barbara Ellen Shuey Johnstonbaugh and was born in College township on March 15th, 1851, hence was 55 years, 6 months and 27 days old. He followed farming all his life and was quite successful in that occupation. He was twice married, his first wife having been Miss Mary Keeler. She died fourteen years ago and several years later he married Miss Maude Condo, who survives with the following children to his first wife: Alvin Johnstonbaugh, Mrs. Ralph Krumrine, Mrs. Lester Harris, Floyd and Velma, all of State College. He also leaves three brothers and one sister, Edward Johnstonbaugh, of Buffalo Run; George, of Marion township; Mrs. Sarah Ellen Wian, of Bellefonte, R. F. He was united in marriage with Mattie Gault in 1870, ten children being born, all of whom survive except one son, George, who died in infancy.

In 1883, Mr. Searson went to Hall county, with his family, and located on a farm on which he resided until 1916, when he retired and moved to Grand Island where he resided until his death.

CENTRE COUNTY HOSPITAL ENDS YEAR WITH LARGE DEFICIT.

The Local Institution Has Had Successful Year But the Public Will Have to Give More to Its Support.

The annual meeting of the corporation of the Centre County hospital was held in the court house, Bellefonte, Monday evening at eight o'clock.

The attendance was rather small, comprised mostly of the people who are actively interested in our hospital.

Professor Arthur H. Sloop was made chairman of the meeting. After the reading of the minutes of the last annual meeting there was a report of the activities of the Women's Auxiliary presented by Mrs. R. Russell Blair, secretary. Mrs. Blair stated that the Women's Auxiliary as organized throughout the county now comprises 996 members, and the work done by the organizations consists of visiting the hospital, supplying reading matter, flowers etc., and they have furnished surgical garments, bed linens, towels, pillow cases, etc., to the amount of approximately one thousand and five hundred dollars.

Edward R. Owens, treasurer of the board of trustees, made a financial report on the "Serve Centre's Sick Campaign Fund" as follows:

These pledges were made in good faith and it was with the assurance of their being paid that the building committee went ahead and finished the new wing of the hospital. It is not fair to the board or to those subscribers who have paid their pledges for some to withhold payment. This money is needed and is needed at once, as it will be noticed from the above

Owens, and two from State College district: J. Laird Holmes and Professor Thomas Gray-atte. Upon the chairman's call for nominations to fill these vacancies the five trustees were, by unanimous vote, re-elected to succeed themselves for a term of three years.

A number of members gave complimentary talks of the work done by the board and the Women's Auxiliary, among them Dr. Melvin Locke, who stressed particularly the establishing of a laboratory technician, dietician and business manager, and he expressed the opinion that with the establishing of these departments will go far toward recognition of the hospital by the American College of Surgeons.

There being no other business the meeting adjourned.
