Last Friday Frank Sasserman sold his gasoline and oil filling station, along the state road north of town, to the Imperial Refining company, of which Elliott Lane is the local manager.

Don't forget that the sale of the Gettig property on Thomas street, will be held tomorrow. All of the household goods, three automobiles, the realty will be offered. The sale will start at 10 in the morning.

Mrs. Evelyn Rogers' condition has become so critical that little hope is now felt for her recovery. Mrs. Rogers has been ill for a month or more at her home on north Allegheny street.

Rev. George E. Hawes, on Sunday, tendered his resignation as pastor of the Market Square Presbyterian church, at Harrisburg. He will take a prolonged rest before resuming his pastoral work. Rev. Hawes went to Harrisburg from the Belleville church.

In order not to conflict with the Belleville Academy-Pitt Freshmen game at Lock Haven, the date for the Belleville High-Junior High game has been changed from tomorrow to this Friday afternoon. The contest will take place at 3 o'clock p. m. on Hughes field. The admission will be fifty cents.

While out hunting, last Saturday, Guy Peimlee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Peimlee, of Orviston, was shot in the abdomen by the accidental discharge of his gun which fell to the ground while he was climbing over a fence. He was taken to the Lock Haven hospital and his condition is such that it is believed his life can be saved.

Howard D. Ingalls, superintendent of the Belleville airmail station since last May, has been transferred to Cleveland as superintendent of the field there, leaving for that city on Monday. Mr. Ingalls came to Belleville as successor to Fred J. Gelhaus. At this writing it is not known who will succeed Mr. Ingalls at the Belleville field.

The Watchman was misinformed last week in stating that Clarence Ziegler, with a load of stone on a Potter-Hoy Hardware company truck, tried to knock the dinky engine off the track at Pleasant Gap. While Mr. Ziegler was in the truck the driver, was Merrill Johnson, and they were not hauling stone but heatrols. And their truck was not badly damaged, at that.

A meeting of the women of Pleasant Gap will be held in the basement of the Methodist church, in that place, next Tuesday evening, for the purpose of organizing a Civic club. Miss Helen E. C. Overton, of Belleville, will assist them in the details and the women of the Gap are all urged to attend this meeting. After the club is organized regular stated meetings will be held in the Pike school house, which is the most central point in that town.

On Monday night some person stole a Ford coupe belonging to the American Lime and Stone company from the barn in the rear of the Mrs. William E. Gray home, on east Linn street. On Tuesday the car was found on the road near Jersey Shore, where it had been abandoned by the auto thief. A representative of the company went to Jersey Shore and drove the car to Belleville. This was the second car stolen in Belleville to be found at Jersey Shore.

Pheasants and squirrel are now out of season but the Scenic is always in line with the best class of motion pictures turned out at the leading studios at home and abroad. The best productions of Hollywood are shown at the Scenic, the only place in Belleville where they can be seen. The large crowds at the Scenic every evening in the week are evidence that the people of Belleville appreciate the better class of photoplays presented by manager T. Clayton Brown.

Suffering with a severe headache, on Armistice day, Miss Ruth Brown, a daughter of Mr. and Edward Brown, took what she supposed was an aspirin tablet but becoming quite ill an investigation revealed the fact that she had taken a tablet containing a goodly portion of bichloride of mercury. She was rushed to the Centre County hospital and antitoxin administered with the result that she is now recovering nicely from the effects of the poison and will soon be able to leave the hospital.

STATE WANTS FINES PAID INTO BOROUGH Asks Council to Turn Over to Highway Department a Total of $32.50.

Seven members were present at the regular meeting of borough council, on Monday evening, the absentee being, Mr. Brouse, chairman of the Street committee.

Secretary Kelly read a communication from the State Highway Department in which it was claimed that former burgess W. Harrison Walker had turned into the borough treasury fines totaling $6.00 which should have been sent to the Department, and that burgess Harris had likewise turned over to the borough a total of $26.50 in fines which should have gone to the State, and asked that orders for the above amounts be sent forthwith. The matter was referred to the Fire and Police committee and borough solicitor.

The Street committee reported various repairs and cleaning up the streets; also the receipt of $20.00 for two sewer taps.

The Water committee reported that insurance in the sum of $3,000 had been placed on the furniture and machinery in the new pumping building, but that one policy on the building has expired. The committee was instructed to look after proper insurance of the building.

Mr. Cunningham also reported that the borough manager is making a drive to clean up the 1923, 1924 and 1925 water duplicates and hopes to have the work so far along that the 1926 duplicate can be turned over to him by December 1st.

The Finance committee reported that the borough treasurer had paid off a note of $5000 and had $2500 in bank. The committee also asked for the renewal of two notes for $3500, which was authorized.

Mr. Flack, of the Fire and Police committee, called attention to the fact of the fast and dangerous operation of a motorcycle on the streets of Belleville by Russell Jodon, who, he averred, threatened to run down traffic officer George Glenn if he interfered with him. Mr. Reynolds said there are two other motor cyclists in the town who are just about as bad as Jodon. The committee was instructed to take the matter up with the burgess and have all speed violators arrested.

The Village Improvement committee reported progress in the matter of putting up street signs.

Several residents of Blanchard street appeared at this stage in the proceedings to inquire what council intended doing about a sewer on that street. Harry Keeler was spokesman and he said they can raise $150 among six residents, and there are eight to ten others living up there who will tap the sewer if it is put down. President Walker told him that the matter is still in the hands of the Street committee and suggested that he go among all the residents up there and find out just how much they will be willing to pay and how many of them will tap the sewer at once, then make up a new proposition in writing and present it to the committee.

The Street and Water committees presented relief maps of the town showing the present sewer and water systems as prepared by borough engineer H. B. Shattuck. The Street committee was instructed to examine very carefully the sewer map so that they will be in a position to make recommendations in connection with any requested extension of the service.

Secretary Kelly read a memorial resolution submitted by Messrs. Cunningham, Reynolds and Flack on the death of Thomas S. Hazel, a member of council from the South ward, which was adopted by council, ordered inscribed upon the minutes and a copy thereof sent to the bereaved family.

Bills were approved to the amount of $1577.95 after which council adjourned.

Interesting Tales from Among the Hunters.

Now that the season for pheasants and squirrels has come to a close hunters are retrospectively comparing their luck this year with that of former years, and when the round-up has been completed it will likely show a larger kill of the above two kinds of game this year than has been bagged in Centre county in several years. While no hunter probably got his season's limit Matthew Wagner, of Belleville, has a record of shooting nine pheasants and ten squirrels.

Last Thursday O. J. Harm and G. M. Dunlap went out into Grindstone hollow, in the Allegheny mountains, to hunt birds and evidently did not give a thought to the fact that the bear season had come in on Wednesday. Working along through the hollow in an attempt to chase up some pheasants they were suddenly confronted by four bears, one a big she bear and the others big enough to be yearlings. They were not over twenty steps away but neither of the hunters had any ammunition larger than bird shot so they simply stood still and watched the bear amble off through the underbrush.

On Friday of last week a well grown fawn broke its neck by running into a wire fence up near Pine Grove Mills. It was brought to Belleville and the meat turned over to the Belleville hospital. On Monday morning game protector Thomas Mosier brought in a good sized doe which was found up near Pine Grove Mills. Its death resulted from a gunshot wound in the back.

Woodward Cave Reported Flooded by Tuesday's High Water.

The Woodward cave, which has been such an attraction for sightseers since it was opened early in the summer, is reported to have been flooded by Tuesday's high water in Pine Creek. It will be recalled that when Messrs. Weaver and Hosterman decided to fix up the cave and open it as a natural attraction they changed the course of Pine Creek. The original channel made a horseshoe curve and ran close to the entrance of the cave, with the result that the cavern was flooded whenever there was high water in the stream. To obviate this the proprietors cut a new channel and straightened the stream. The high water of Tuesday evidently overflowed or broke the banks of the new channel and the water coursing down the old bed of the stream flooded the cave. Just how much damage was done will not be known until the water has receded.

That the Woodward cave proved a popular attraction during the summer is evidenced from the fact that in the six months it was open to tourists it was visited by over twenty-five thousand people. The fee charged for a personally conducted tour through the cave is 75 cents, so it is an easy matter to figure out just how much of a money maker the cave has been for the owners.

Centre County Bankers Banquet at Bush House.

Twenty-five members of the Centre county Banking Association, with a number of invited guests, were present at the annual banquet held at the Bush house, last Thursday evening. The chief speaker was Charles F. Fleming, president of the First National bank, of Huntingdon, who talked on "Co-operative Banking in Centre county?" At the conclusion of Mr. Fleming's talk Col. James A. McClain, president of the First National bank, of Spangler, and also president of the Protective Bankers' Association of Cambria county, explained how the business details of that association are managed. He also outlined how holdup and burglaries in that county are handled to the benefit of depositors. He further stated that the association has laid aside a yearly appropriation of $500 to be devoted to solving the problems of the farmers of Cambria county.

The banquet and gathering was voted a success by all present. David F. Kapp, of State College, president of the county association, was the presiding officer and the committee in charge of the banquet was composed of Messrs. Nelson E. Robb and James K. Barnhart, of Belleville, and S. Ward Gramley, of Millheim.

Motor Train Being Tried Out on Lewisburg Railroad.

The Pennsylvania Railroad company is this week trying out a motor train on the Lewisburg branch and if it proves equal to the demands may be put on permanently. It consists of a combined passenger and baggage car, with the motor in the front compartment, and an express car as a trailer. The motor is a ponderous affair. It is started by gas then operated by electricity. There is a huge storage battery and a good sized dynamo, so that it makes and stores its own power while in operation. Its first trip was on Monday, and though it came into Belleville a few minutes late that evening, it was not the fault of the motor car. The train is the one coming through from Sunbury in the afternoon and leaving Belleville on its eastern run early in the morning.

Over Seven Hundred Children Immunized Against Diphtheria.

Belleville parents took whole heartedly to the campaign against that dread disease, diphtheria, as exactly 772 children of pre-school age, school children and a few adults were present at the schools and the well baby clinics, for the toxin-anti-toxin treatment as a preventative of the disease. This was regarded as an unusually large percentage of the children of Belleville and community. Three treatments must be given to make the child immune. The second was given on Wednesday of this week and the third and last will be given Wednesday of next week.

STATE COLLEGE POSTOFFICE ROBBERED TUESDAY MORNING.

Safe Blown Open and $800 in Cash and Registered Mail Stolen.

The new federal postoffice building at State College was broken into, on Monday night, or rather early Tuesday morning, the big safe in the registry division blown open with nitro-glycerine and $800 in cash and a good sized package of registered mail stolen.

The robbery occurred sometime between three and four o'clock on Tuesday morning. Entrance was made by jimmying one of the windows on the ground floor and the robber or robbers evidently knew the lay of the land inside the building as their work was apparently confined to the registry division. The robbery was not discovered until postoffice employees went to work on Tuesday morning.

A thorough examination then revealed the fact that the robbers had taken $800 in cash and a quantity of registered mail, but the value of the latter is of course unknown. The postoffice probably has a record of the letters taken.

While some incline to the belief that it was a job of amateurs, others think different. The only possible clue is in connection with a strange man in State College on Monday, who made inquiries as to the whereabouts of the postoffice, but there is no assurance that he is the one who pulled the job. However, persons of whom he made inquiry feel sure they would recognize him if they were to see him again.

As soon as the robbery was discovered the postmaster asked for the aid of the State police and officers from Harrisburg have been assigned the job of catching the culprits.

The same night that the above robbery took place cracksmen forced an entrance to the First National bank of McClure, in Snyder county, blew the vault and got away with cash and bonds aggregating $91,500. The official check-up shows that the yeggs got $1,500 in cash, $50,000 in registered Liberty bonds, $20,000 in Liberty coupon bonds and $20,000 in corporation bonds. Only a portion of the bonds were the property of the bank the others belonging to depositors whose private boxes were torn open and rifled. The first impression was that the two jobs were done by the same gang, but this was hardly possible, as both robberies occurred in the early hours of the morning and it would not have been possible to have made the trip between the two places in so short a time.

Young Peoples' Conference in Local Methodist Church Tomorrow.

The annual young peoples' conference of the Centre county Sabbath school association will be held in the Methodist Episcopal church, Belleville, tomorrow (Saturday.) Every Sunday school in the county is entitled to send three delegates, and the registration fee will be $1.00, which will include the banquet in the evening. A good program has been provided and it is hoped that there will be a good attendance. The theme of the conference will be "Adventuring for Christ."

There will be three sessions, at 9.30 a. m.; 2 and 7 o'clock p. m. The conference will close early to give everybody ample time to return home. The evening meal will be served by the ladies of the Belleville church and will be free to delegates. The noon meal may also be served in the church, though this has not yet definitely been decided upon.

The State association will send two of its staff to help with the program. The general topic of the program will be "Ideals," and Miss Marian Thompson, of Punxsutawney, will be in charge of that part of that feature. There will also be two talks on Bible study by a trained speaker. The conference will be open to all who wish to attend.

Herbert Hockenberry Injured in Mine of American Lime & Stone Co.

While at work in the mine of the American Lime & Stone company, on Tuesday night, Herbert Hockenberry met with an accident that may result in the loss of his right foot, although every effort is being made to save that member. Mr. Hockenberry fell from the electric motor used to haul the dinky cars of stone to the elevator dump and was caught and dragged some distance. The bones at the ankle of his right leg were crushed and the flesh badly torn. He was taken to the Centre County hospital and the physician in attendance is trying to save the foot. Mr. Hockenberry had a good night, Wednesday night, and was resting fairly comfortably yesterday.

Community Thanksgiving Service.

The community Thanksgiving service will be held in the Presbyterian church on Thanksgiving day. The hour of the service will be at 10 o'clock in the morning. The members of the Belleville Ministerial Association are the sponsors of this service and the Rev. Wm. C. Thompson will preside over the meeting. The sermon will be preached by the Rev. Clarence E. Arnold, pastor of the Lutheran church. The offering of the day will be given to the Centre county hospital, which deserves the liberal support of the community.

Mr. Wagner has been a resident of Centre county for half a century and, having sold his home at Potters Mills to Ira Auman, is about to locate elsewhere. It is not because he doesn't like old Centre, rather for the reason that his children are all married and have made homes elsewhere and he and Mrs. Wagner thought they would just try it somewhere else also. The Col. spends much of his time at his lodge at Monroe Furnace where he can hunt deer while sitting on the front porch in an easy chair.

John Dimeling, of Spokane, Washington, gave us a great surprise by dropping in for a few moments yesterday, while enroute from Clearfield to Williamsport.
