William E. Sage Released from Rockview Last Friday.

On recommendation of the board of pardons William E. Sage was released from Rockview penitentiary, last Friday morning, after completing his minimum sentence of three years for shooting James N. McNair, a fellow employe in the ticket office of the Pennsylvania railroad at Pittsburgh.

The shooting took place on June 6th, 1912, and was the culmination of a quarrel in which Sage charged McNair for being instrumental in preventing his promotion. The men got into an argument and Sage became so wrought up that he pulled a revolver from his pocket and shot and killed McNair. The shooting occurred in broad daylight but Sage got out of the station and disappeared so quickly and completely that it was believed he had been drowned.

As it happened, however, he had gone to California where he was later joined by his family and for ten years lived at Bakerfield where he worked for the Southern Pacific railroad. Then one day he and his wife quarreled and the latter informed the police that her husband was wanted in Pennsylvania for murder. This led to his arrest and extradition to this State. Six years ago he was tried at Pittsburgh and convicted of murder in the second degree. The sitting judge sentenced him to imprisonment in the western penitentiary for not less than three nor more than six years. Two years were spent in the institution at Pittsburgh and the past year at Rockview where he was a clerk in the big cannery.

Sage was a model prisoner in every way and thus won his release on the expiration of his minimum sentence. When discharged on Friday morning he was brought to Bellefonte by automobile and at the station purchased a ticket for Pittsburgh. He also went to the telegraph office and received a telegram of congratulation from the office force of the Southern Pacific railroad at Bakerfield, Cal.

Before leaving Rockview Sage told the deputy warden that he intended going to California as soon as possible to his family of nine children, the youngest of whom is ten years old. He has had offers of several good positions and seemed most inclined to accept one in the middle west. According to the deputy warden Sage has been frugal and saved his money, and as he expressed it, had a nice bank account. Enough to take him to California and keep him several months, or until he can become located.

As stated above Sage purchased a ticket for Pittsburgh at the Bellefonte station and a delegation of his former employes gathered at the station to greet him, but he must have disembarked at an outlying station as he did not get off the train in Pittsburgh.

Dorworth as Secretary of Forests and Waters, is a native of Dauphin county, having been born at Halifax. At one time he was director of physical education at Wofford College, in North Carolina, and has been in charge of instruction work in the school of agriculture. County Must Maintain Abandoned Road.

Judge Harry Keller handed down an opinion yesterday in the case of the road supervisors of Taylor township against the county commissioners, a peremptory mandamus proceeding to compel the county to maintain the old Bald Eagle turnpike across the mountain from Bald Eagle to Philipsburg, in which he found for the supervisors and ordered the county commissioners to maintain the road.

The road in question was the one in continuous use between upper Bald Eagle valley and points on the other side of the mountain, and which was taken over by the State several years ago as a portion of Highway route No. 37. When the State built the concrete road over the mountain the old road was discarded and a new route chosen, the latter being quite a distance away from the old one.

Naturally people living along the old road demanded that it be kept up for their convenience. The supervisors of Rush township kept up their end of the road but the supervisors of Taylor township took out a mandamus to compel the county to maintain the portion of the road in that township. There was no precedent case to go by, but after reviewing the case pretty thoroughly Judge Keller threw the burden upon the county. Whether the county commissioners will accept his decision or appeal the case remains to be seen.

Sheriff E. R. Taylor left on Wednesday afternoon for Albany, N. Y., to appear before Governor Al Smith for the purpose of securing extradition papers for a woman, Mrs. Minor Cleveland, under arrest at Elmira, N. Y., and wanted in Bellefonte on two charges, skipping a board bill and taking an unpaid car out of the State. Mrs. Cleveland is one of four people who made several sojourns at the Garman house, Bellefonte, and finally departed without paying their bill and also taking with them a car which had not been paid for in full. The woman was finally located in Elmira, N. Y., and placed under arrest but to bring her back to Pennsylvania it was necessary to secure extradition papers and that was the purpose of the sheriff's trip to Albany. Mr. Bartley also left last night for Elmira for the purpose of identifying the woman.

Residents of Spring street, Bellefonte, are anxiously waiting to see how Mr. H. S. Moore intends improving the old Longwell property which he purchased at public sale last fall. It is understood that an architect is working on several plans and when they are completed it is likely Mr. Moore will select the one which most appeals to him.

State Employees to be Quizzed About Their Job.

Ever since the inauguration of Governor Fisher employees of the State, and there are quite a number of them in Centre county, have naturally been more or less on the anxious bench lest they lose their jobs in the big political upheaval foreshadowed from Harrisburg. Every man who is now on the State payroll, no matter how menial the job, went there with the brand of Pinchot, and every indication that has come out from the State capital since the Fisherites are in control points to the fact that the State is to be purged of Pinchotism. Whether this means that every man now on the payroll will be supplanted by Fisher favorites is not known, but it is a fact that a questionnaire is being sent out to all employes in every county in the State, and woe be it to the man who can't answer the questions satisfactorily. The questionnaire contains a list of nineteen questions, which are as follows:

- 1. What is your name?
2. Give date of your first appointment.
3. Has your employment in this department been continuous?
4. Location of your legal (voting) residence.
5. Location of the office in which or from which you are employed.
6. What were your duties when first employed? Be specific.
7. What was your salary at that time?
8. What are your present designated duties? Be specific.
9. What are the actual duties which you are performing at this time?
10. Where are your duties now performed?
11. What is your present salary?
12. Give amount and date of increase or decrease.
13. How many hours a day are you engaged in the service of the department?
14. How many days a week have you been engaged in performing the service for which you have received the above mentioned salary?
15. Have you, during your connection with this department, received any compensation, either in fees, salary or expenses from the State, or any sub-division thereof, other than the salary stated?
16. If so, give amount received, weekly or monthly, name of employer, character of service performed.
17. Upon whose recommendation were you originally appointed?
18. Who is your present sponsor?
19. Give reference as to your character, ability and political status in your home county.
20. The questionnaire ends with the injunction to write explanatory remarks in a blank space provided for the purpose on the reverse side of the sheet.

Legislators Want More Stringent Game Laws.

Centre county sportsmen will be interested in all kinds of legislation proposed or enacted at the present session of the Legislature which affects the game laws. It is a well known fact that at every session one or more members feel the urge to have laws passed which make it more exacting for the man behind the gun. The present game laws restrict the open season for hunting to a comparatively limited time, and the amount of game that may be killed by individual hunters also to a limited number, but Senator North, of Tioga county, wants still further restrictions.

While favoring an open season for wild turkeys, pheasants and all kinds of squirrel, he wants the season reduced from November 1 to 30 to November 10 to 30, with the exception of red squirrel, on which he asks an open season from November 10 to August 15 next following. Rabbit season he would limit to November 10 to December 15, instead of November 1 to December 15. Bear and deer seasons are not to be changed. He would also limit the number to be killed. Ringneck pheasants, one a day and four a season; quail, four a day and twenty a season and rabbits, four a day and twenty a season, instead of five a day and thirty-five a season.

Senator Salus, of Philadelphia, has also introduced a bill prohibiting the possession of any or all kinds of firearms without the taking out of a license, and the license to be good for only one year. Should this bill be enacted into a law every hunter would have to take out a license for his gun as well as a license to hunt.

Two Centre County Cases Before the Supreme Court.

Several Bellefonte attorneys appeared before the Supreme court, sitting in Philadelphia this week, and presented argument in two cases. One was an appeal by the First National Bank, of Spring Mills, in the case of S. G. Walker vs. the First National Bank, an action brought in the Centre county court to show cause why a note and judgment executed by Mr. Walker in favor of the bank should not be stricken off and satisfied of record. The case grows out of the act of one W. C. McFeaters, a bond salesman, in withdrawing $5,000 worth of Liberty bonds from the bank several years ago, while Mr. Walker was cashier, without making payment for same or putting up any collateral. When the case was tried in the Centre county court the jury returned a verdict in favor of Walker.

The other case is an appeal of the defendants in the case of Charles H. Watson vs. The Kelley Bros. Coal company, an action to recover alleged royalties due the plaintiff, with interest. The case was tried before Judge Miles I. Potter, in the Centre county court, and resulted in a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $5,709.49, from which the defendants appealed.

Bellefonte High Wins Again.

Bellefonte High school continued its drive for another Mountain League pennant, last Friday evening, at Tyrone. The victim was Tyrone High, and though the score was only 18-16 the main line boys knew that they were up against a real team. The game was replete with thrills throughout the entire forty minutes of play, and it required an extra five minute period to determine the final outcome.

The Centre county lads did their stuff, so to speak, while coach Jay Riden sat back and watched them display the clever basketball he had taught them. From Captain Furey down to the last substitute the Red and White basketballers looked like champions. Tyrone was kept in the running by the grace of fouls called on Bellefonte. Referee Davis decreed that the representatives from Centre county had fallen from grace about nineteen times. The Blair county entries were apparently on good behavior for they offended only five times.

Winning the above game puts Bellefonte in the running, making four games won to two lost. This (Friday) evening Bellefonte will play Hollidaysburg on the local Y floor and every effort will again be put forth to win this game. The girls team journeyed to State College, last Friday evening, and defeated the girls of the High school there by the score of 16 to 13.

Mysterious Stabbing Affray at Rebersburg.

Yesterday's Millheim Journal says, that on Tuesday night of last week an unidentified man was stabbed in a brawl that occurred in the Rebersburg hotel. Much secrecy shrouds the affair and so far as could be learned, no police investigation has been made.

Five men and a woman are reported to have been the principals. One of the men was stabbed twice, once in the small of the back and again on the left shoulder blade. The trouble is alleged to have started over the woman.

Miss Margaret Longwell, a nurse in training at the Centre County hospital, suffered a fractured jaw last Saturday through a fall on the ice while on her way from the nurse's home to the hospital.

Mrs. Nancy McMeen, perhaps the oldest resident of Centre county, is critically ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Curtin, of Curtin.

Not Much of a Mea for Real Hungry Man

Uncle Lije Waters was accustomed to seeing good-sized squares of sponge cake or gingerbread on the upper table, and when he had his first plate of ice cream in a city cafe, he looked with some disfavor on the macaroons and small sponge drops which accompanied it.

"How do you like it?" asked the niece, who was doing the honors of the city for her uncle. "The ice cream is certainly first rate," said Uncle Lije. "I call it extra good; but when you come to these things, he added, lifting one of the lady fingers and surveying it doubtfully, 'I presume to say they're right enough, what there is of 'em, but there isn't enough of 'em—just nothing but gape and swallow.'"

Craze Followed Hysteria

A classic example of what popular imagination applied to the common spider can do is told in Hygeia Magazine. Italy in the Middle ages was swept by a dancing mania or tarantism.

Persons bitten by a spider called the European tarantula suddenly became extremely sensitive to music, dancing in a frenzy of excitement until they sank to the ground, exhausted and almost lifeless. Certain forms of music were considered good for the afflicted and bore the name trantella. The cause was not a spider's bite but a hysteria due to the depleted mental and physical condition of the people as a result of the frequent wars and plagues. The same sort of thing was seen in the craze for long-distance dancing in this country a few years after the World war.

Abbey Is Battle Pledge

Battle abbey, near Hastings, England, was built to fulfill a novel pledge made by William the Conqueror just before his victory there on October 14, 1066.

When William was arming for the fight he is said to have inadvertently put on his shirt of mail with the hind side in front. Partly in order to avert the bad omen, he vowed that, if victorious, he would build on the very site of the battle a great abbey.

It was finally dedicated by William Rufus in 1094. At the dissolution of the monasteries under Henry VIII, the buildings were given to Sir Anthony Browne, who added to the Abbot's lodge a west wing for the use of his ward, the Princess Elizabeth. The abbey still is in excellent preservation. —F. G. Brabant, in "Rambles in Sussex."

Pipe Organ to be Dedicated.

A new Moller pipe organ, with chimes, has been installed in the Zion Lutheran church, at Boalsburg, and the same will be dedicated with fitting ceremonies on Sunday, February 13th, with two services, at 10:30 o'clock in the morning and 7:30 in the evening. Rev. John Wagner, of Hazleton, president of the Susquehanna Synod, of the Lutheran church, will preach both morning and evening.

The organ was manufactured at the M. P. Moller factory, at Hagerstown, Md., and with the chimes cost $3,500. The chimes, however, are the gift of Mrs. Wallace White, in memory of her mother, Mrs. Felding. To date a fund of $2000 has been raised toward payment of the organ leaving a balance of $1000, which it is hoped can be raised at the dedicatory services.

On the Saturday evening prior to the dedication a recital will be given by Miss Helen Lackenmeyer, of State College, assistant music director. The public is invited.

For the Sake of Safety.

It will pay motorists to test their brakes every day after taking the car out of the garage. It isn't being over-cautious to apply them within the first block whether it is necessary or not just to determine that nothing has gone wrong since the car was last used. It may mean the difference between life and death some day and the test thus may be regarded as a ramification of the definition of nature's first law as self preservation.
