Our attractions are not mis-represented to you in any way and when we brag or boast of a banner production we certainly have it. For your approval we offer you the following program and honestly say that every photoplay has a star or two whom you all know well and is produced by the greatest companies in the world.

For some time past she had been troubled with attacks of acute indigestion but felt as well as usual on Monday morning. She did the family washing and later went upstairs to her room to rest before preparing dinner. Her step-father, Solomon Poorman, had gone over to the Mrs. David Miller store and when he returned home was surprised to find that no preparations had been made for dinner and Mrs. Wion was not in the lower part of the house. He went upstairs to her room and found her lifeless form lying on the bed. A victim of a heart attack she had evidently passed away peacefully and quietly.

Mrs. Wion was a daughter of Henry and Catherine Poorman Garbrick and was born in Benner township on July 9th, 1862, hence was in her 65th year. Her father died when she was quite young and later her mother married Solomon Poorman. On November 28th, 1882, she married Frank Wion and all their married life was spent in close proximity to Bellefonte. She was a member of the Lutheran church for many years and a regular attendant. Her maiden name was Laura E. Hook and she was born in Harris township about sixty-one years ago. The greater part of her life was spent in Boalsburg though the family lived for a few years at Jersey Shore and also State College. She was a member of the Reformed church and not only a good christian woman but one whose lovely character and sunny nature made her beloved by all who had the good fortune to know her. She is survived by her husband and one daughter, Miss Rhoda, at home. She also leaves one sister, Mrs. Nannie Coxe, of Boalsburg.

Funeral services were held at her late home at 10 o'clock on Wednesday morning by her pastor, Rev. W. W. Moyer, burial being made in the Boalsburg cemetery.

He was a native of England, having been born at St. Helens on December 13th, 1868, hence was in his 59th year. With his parents and other members of the family he came to this country in 1882 and located in Philipsburg and that had been his home ever since. He married Miss Alice Fenton who survives with the following children: Mrs. Alonzo Newman, James and Robert Byron, Mrs. Sydney Ellis, all of Philipsburg, and Miss Beverly, at home. He also leaves four brothers and two sisters, one of the brothers being justice of the peace Thomas Byron, of Philipsburg.

Funeral services were held in the Methodist church, in Philipsburg, at two o'clock on Saturday afternoon, by Rev. S. B. Evans, burial being made in the Philipsburg cemetery.

KUNES.—Mrs. Mary Mapes Kunes, widow of the late Daniel B. Kunes, of Liberty township, dropped dead in the summer kitchen of her home at Blanchard, last Friday evening. She had been in apparently good health during the afternoon and failing to see her around in the evening neighbors investigated and found her dead body in the summer kitchen. Her only survivors are one daughter, Mrs. Josephine Dyer, of Blanchard, and a brother, Jackson Mapes, of Detroit, Mich. Burial was made on Monday in the Disciple cemetery.

His early life was spent in the vicinity of his birth but many years ago he located in Bellefonte and this had been his home ever since. Prior to his last illness he was employed at the Federal Match company plant. In 1881 he married Miss Catherine Decker, of Decker's valley, who survives with one son and one daughter, Ira, of Williamsport, and Mrs. Shem Hackenburg, of Smullton. He also leaves one brother and a sister, George Weagley, of Spring Mills, and Mrs. S. E. Greninger, of Rockford, Ill.

Funeral services were held in the Methodist church on Sunday afternoon, by Rev. Homer C. Knox, assisted by Rev. C. C. Shuey, burial being made in the Union cemetery.

REED.—J. Edward Reed, a well known resident of Ferguson township, died last Saturday, following a few days illness with pneumonia. He was a son of David and Susan Johnston-baugh Reed and was born on the well known Reed farm east of Pine Grove Mills on May 10th, 1865, hence was in his 62nd year. As a young man he learned the trade of a brick-layer which he followed for many years, later engaging in the lumbering business. A splendid citizen in every way, he always had a glad hand and cheering word for both friend and stranger. He was a member of the Presbyterian church and in politics a Republican.

He never married but kept the home fires burning for his step-mother, Mrs. Maria Reed. His survivors include three brothers, Elmer and James L., of Pine Grove Mills, and George, on the old home farm. Funeral services were held at his late home at two o'clock on Monday afternoon by Rev. J. S. English, burial being made in the new cemetery at Pine Grove Mills.

Lumberman Crushed to Death by Falling Tree.

Jack Weaver, a lumberman employed on a job in the mountains near Colyer, was crushed to death by a falling tree, last Wednesday afternoon. A number of men were working on the job and Weaver cut down a huge oak tree which was quite crooked. As the hump on it hit the ground the base of the tree was thrown into the air and around against Weaver, striking him full force on the chest and injuring him so badly that he died an hour later.

Mr. Weaver was sixty-seven years old and is survived by his wife and three children, Wallace, Harry and Arvilla, all married. Funeral services were held at his home on Saturday morning, burial being made in the Zion Hill cemetery.

Paint Fumes Kill Snakes.

The big Texas bull snake, used as a rat catcher in the nature study department at State College, is dead as well as another reptile specimen and Dr. George R. Green, head of the department, ascribes their death to paint fumes. Up to a week ago the snakes were as lively and healthy as ever. Then painters freshened up the corridors of Old Main with a new coat of paint.

The nature study museum is on the fourth floor and paint fumes were unusually strong there. The result was the death of two of the snakes. None of the other reptiles suffered from the fumes.

You should get the credit as I had tried many things. I will be glad to write my experience to any one. Lihitied Buchu cleanses the bladder as opson salts do the bowels, driving out deposits, neutralizes excess acids, thereby relieving irritation that causes getting up nights.
