The Woman's Auxiliary of the Centre County Hospital.

"Do the people of Centre county appreciate their hospital?" This question was fired point-blank at W. H. Brown, energetic business manager, as he sat in his office discussing the many unique services rendered to the public by the hospital.

"Yes, I am sure a great many of them do, especially after they have come into an intimate acquaintance with the real good it is accomplishing in the community," he smilingly answered.

"Take, for instance, the members of the Women's Auxiliary; there is no limit to the good they are doing, and you know the more a person does for a good cause, the more he appreciates it."

"What is the Women's Auxiliary?" I queried, dubiously; "what can the women do to aid a hospital?"

Just at this moment a sprightly, bright-faced young lady appeared at the office door and said: "Will I disturb you, Mr. Brown? I have brought you the bundle of towels you were needing, and there will be another bundle to-morrow. We also have a quantity of gowns made which you can have whenever you need them."

"We are in need of them now," he answered, "but we can get along until you come again."

"No, you shall not wait; I'll run right over to the house and bring them now," and she disappeared to return in a few minutes with a larger bundle which she smilingly deposited on the desk. When she was gone another lady came in and delivered a package containing pillow slips.

"This is your answer," said Brown. "The ladies are always helping, and we could not conduct the hospital successfully without them. The pillow slips are to be used on the five beds which were provided and are kept up by Mrs. Sylvester A. Bixler, of Waban, Massachusetts, by the assistance of Miss Mary Linn, of Bellefonte. The towels were furnished by the Women's Auxiliary, and their gifts and services are always useful. You would be surprised to know how much real social service they have rendered in some needy cases and how their visits bring good cheer to the patients."

I remembered that it was the Florence Nightingales and Clara Bartons of the past who really made the history of benevolent hospital service, so I resolved to acquaint myself with the workings of the Women's Auxiliary.

That little group of philanthropic citizens, who met back in 1902 to organize a hospital association for Bellefonte and surrounding territory were quick to comprehend the need of a woman's touch to make an institution of that character more homelike, and they included the following paragraph in the By-Laws adopted August 20, 1902: "Article VI. Women's Auxiliary. Section 1. There shall be a board of visitors consisting of women representing each of the churches in Bellefonte, said representatives to be chosen by the churches represented and to constitute the Women's Auxiliary of the hospital."

The churches responded promptly and the little band of women thus appointed met and organized to plan and work for the comfort and assistance of patients who were compelled to go to the hospital for treatment. When the association grew to embrace the entire county the organization of women was enlarged accordingly.

This Women's Auxiliary has grown until it now numbers almost 900 of the most public spirited women of the county—a little army of sympathetic, active women, who labor quietly and unostentatiously, but who are always on the job. Their friends are friends of the hospital.

Mrs. Ebon B. Bower, of Bellefonte, is president of the Auxiliary; Mrs. W. Harrison Walker is secretary, and Mrs. William J. Emerick, is treasurer for 1927. Official representatives from the various communities are as follows: Miss Mary Blanchard, Mrs. M. E. Brouse, Mrs. R. R. Blair, Mrs. Frank Crawford, Mrs. Howard Dry, Mrs. Joseph Hogentogler, Mrs. William Katz, Mrs. James Massey, Mrs. Blanche Schloss, Mrs. A. C. Smith, Mrs. J. D. Seibert, Mrs. H. C. Yeager, Mrs. Christ Young, Mrs. Thomas Hazel, Mrs. Richard Brouse, Mrs. John P. Lyon, Mrs. Harry Murtorff, Mrs. H. K. Allison, Mrs. Robert Morris, Mrs. Earl Orr, Mrs. M. A. Landsey, Mrs. H. P. Schaeffer, Mrs. Adolph Fauble, Mrs. Jacob Hoy, Mrs. Joseph Apt, Mrs. Reed O. Steely, Mrs. Edward Young, Misses Mary Meek and Margaret Stewart, of Bellefonte; Mrs. Charles Cummings, Aaronsburg; Mrs. Frank Fisher, Centre Hall; Mrs. W. J. Kurtz, Howard; Miss Alice Rickard, Milesburg; Mrs. W. A. Ferree, Oak Hall; Miss Mabel Allison, Spring Mills; Mrs. W. E. Holzworth, Fleming; Mrs. W. S. Shelton, Millheim; Mrs. F. E. Vonada and Mrs. S. S. McCormick, Hubersburg; Mrs. Laird Holmes and Mrs. J. B. Martin, State College; Miss Mary Wood, Pine Grove Mills; Mrs. Anna Noll and Miss Mary Struble, Zion; Mrs. Paul Houser and Mrs. Charles Thompson, Lemont; Mrs. Ralph Musser and Miss Gertrude Miller, Pennsylvania Furnace; Mrs. James Irwin and Mrs. W. R. Ham, of Boalsburg. These named constitute the board of the Auxiliary.

These good women are some of the busiest people of our county—the women who really accomplish things in their homes, churches and communities in which they live. It is a well known maxim: "If you want a job done well, get a busy person to do it." They always find a place to sandwich in another little job and whatever they undertake, they do it well.

I was then shown into the almost completed meeting room on the ground floor of the new wing. A spacious, pleasant room which will be open for the meetings of this Auxiliary, the meetings of the Centre county Medical Society as well as the hospital trustees. But imagine my amazement when I was told that this organization of tireless women had furnished the funds not only to plaster, floor, wire and finish this room, but furnish it with twenty-some wonderful comfortable chairs and two large tables. You may well be proud of this women's organization.

Space will not permit us to tell of the hundreds of donations of canned fruits, vegetables, groceries and many other commodities they have secured, and which were needed at the hospital, throughout the history of the Auxiliary; and while such gifts do not suffice to amortize the deficits accruing from time to time, they greatly aid in rendering the hospital a much more serviceable and comfortable institution.

Friends Quarterly Meeting.

Friends quarterly meeting will be held at Unionville tomorrow and Sunday with the usual program of services.

Saturday at 2 p. m., First day school association followed by ministry and council meeting.

Sunday at 10 a. m., regular meeting for worship. 2:30 p. m., community conference in which all resident congregations and their pastors are invited to take part. At this conference subjects vital to the Christian church will be discussed.

Dr. Daniel Shoemaker, of Washington, D. C., O. Edward Janney, of Baltimore, Md., and other eminent men in the church will attend these meetings, to which the public is cordially invited. A box luncheon will be served at the meeting house on Sunday promptly at the noon hour.

A deal has been closed for the sale of the Mott drug store, in Bellefonte, to George R. Gross, of New Brunswick, N. J., who will probably take charge today. Mr. and Mrs. Basil Mott contemplate leaving Bellefonte and locating in the east.

ENGLER.—Rev. Stuart H. Engler, pastor of the Methodist church at Port Matilda the past two years, died very suddenly at his home in that place, about eight o'clock on Monday morning. He was on the point of leaving the parsonage to go down town when he suffered a stroke of apoplexy and fell to the floor unconscious, dying almost immediately.

He was born at Bethlehem, Pa., on May 30th, 1864, hence was not quite sixty-three years old. He was admitted to membership in the Central Pennsylvania Methodist conference in 1901, and during the twenty-six years of his ministry had served pastorates at Liberty Valley, Laporte, Medix Run, Pleasant Gap, Glen Campbell, Schellburg, Glenn Hope, Three Springs and at the recent conference had been returned for his third year at Port Matilda.

Misfortune has recently befallen members of the Engler family. Two days before Christmas Theodore Engler, a son, was badly injured in an automobile accident in which another young man was killed. Three weeks ago a little daughter suffered a knee injury while roller skating and last week while playing at school a small son broke both arms between the elbow and wrist.

Rev. Engler is survived by his wife and four children, Mrs. Jesse Kephart, of Altoona; Theodore, Lucretia and Ivan, at home.

Funeral services were held in the church at Port Matilda at ten o'clock yesterday morning by Rev. W. E. Watkins, district superintendent, of Williamsport, following which the body was taken to Cataqua for interment.

ROSSMAN.—Josiah Calvin Rossman, a well known retired farmer of Aaronsburg, died at 5:30 o'clock last Thursday morning, following an illness of some weeks.

He was a son of John and Elizabeth Zeigler Rossman and was born near Farmer's Mills, in Gregg township, on May 10th, 1856, hence was not quite seventy-one years old. As a young man he stuck to the soil and for many years followed farming in Brush valley. Ten years ago he retired and moved to State College, but after living there six years moved to Aaronsburg where he spent the past four years. He was a member of the Reformed church, at Aaronsburg, and a good citizen.

He married Miss Mary Elizabeth Ream who survives with the following children: Mrs. Harvey Corman, Elmer and J. B. Rossman, of Bellefonte; Mrs. Summer Burd, of Aaronsburg, and Abner, of Hazleton. He also leaves three brothers, Lewis, Howard and Harvey Rossman, all of Spring Mills.

Funeral services were held in the Union church at Farmers' Mills at 9 o'clock on Tuesday morning, burial being made in the Union cemetery at that place.

WILSON.—Mrs. Mary Stevens Wilson, wife of William B. Wilson, died on Thursday of last week at St. Petersburg, Fla., as the result of an attack of angina pectoris. She had not been in good health the past year, but at that her passing was sudden and unexpected.

She was a daughter of the late A. A. and Emie Howe Stevens, of Tyrone, where she was born fifty-five years ago. As a girl she frequently visited in Bellefonte and was quite well known here. She was twice married, her first husband having been Frank B. Brantley, who died in 1913. Nine years later she married William B. Wilson, who survives with no children. She leaves, however, one brother, Howe Stevens, of Tyrone. The remains were brought north and burial made in the Grandview cemetery, Tyrone, on Monday.

ETTERS.—Harry T. Etters, a well known farmer of Howard township, dropped dead on the street in Lock Haven, last Thursday, as the result of a heart attack. He had been a patient in the Lock Haven hospital for some days and against the protest of his physician and hospital authorities left that institution on Wednesday, spending the night at the home of a friend, W. A. Packer. On Thursday he left the Packer home to make preparations to go to his own home in Howard and while walking along the street he was stricken with a heart attack and dropped dead. He was forty-eight years old and is survived by a wife and ten children. The remains were taken to his home at Howard where funeral services were held and burial made on Sunday.

KELLER.—Mrs. Margaret Boozer Keller, widow of the late Peter F. Keller, died at her home in Ingram, a suburb of Pittsburgh, last Thursday, following an illness of some months. Her maiden name was Margaret Boozer and she was born at Centre Hall, this county, seventy-six years ago. Her husband has been dead a number of years but surviving her are two sons and three daughters, William H. Keller, of Philadelphia; Robert J., of Pittsburgh; Mrs. George Metz, of Pittsburgh; Mrs. J. E. Geary, of Crafton, and Miss Katherine Keller, of Ingram. She also leaves two brothers, David A. Boozer, of Centre Hall; and John Boozer, of Osceola Mills. The funeral was held on Monday, burial being made at Ingram.

RHOADES.—Mrs. William Rhoades died on Monday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. LeRoy Umholtz, of Tyrone, following an illness of some days. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Reese and was born at Port Matilda over fifty-six years ago. Her husband has been dead for some years but her surviving children are Harrison and Edward Rhoades, of Mt. Union; Mrs. Howard Eves, of Stormstown; Mrs. Howard Peters, of Bellefonte; Michael and Percy Rhoades and Mrs. Umholtz, of Tyrone. Burial was made at Port Matilda yesterday afternoon.

WHITE.—Samuel White, for many years a well known resident of Bellefonte, died at six o'clock last Wednesday evening at the home of his son, William A. White, at Fleming, as the result of general debility, following a year's illness.

He was a son of John and Mary Stover White and was born in George's valley on July 21st, 1845, hence was 81 years, 8 months and 2 days old. His early life was spent in George's and Pennsvalleys where he followed farming and also worked at his trade as a carpenter. Over forty years ago he came to Bellefonte and for ten years worked for Darius Waite, in his implement business. He then went with McCalmont & Co., and for thirty-one years was an employee of that company. For a number of years past he had lived a retired life.

Mr. White was twice married, his first wife having been Miss Catherine Zuber. Following her death he married Amelia Hazel, who also preceded him to the grave, but surviving him are the following children: William A. White, of Fleming; John A., of Boalsburg; Mrs. David Haines, of McAlisterville; Mrs. J. C. Barnes, of Pleasant Gap, and Miss Vesta White, of Atlantic City. He also leaves three brothers and two sisters, John White, of Bellefonte; Emanuel, of Linden Hall; Wallace, of Axe Mann; Mrs. Elizabeth Kaufman, of Zion, and Mrs. Emma Deitrick, of Hubersburg.

Funeral services were held at the William White home, at Fleming, at 9:30 o'clock on Saturday morning by Rev. Clarence E. Arnold, of the Bellefonte Lutheran church, after which the remains were taken to Zion for burial in the cemetery at that place.

Supreme Court Ruling on Walker Note Favors Spring Mills Bank.

The Supreme court, last week, rendered a decision in the case of S. G. Walker vs. The First National Bank of Spring Mills in which the verdict of the Centre county court (Judge Dale presiding) was reversed and judgment ordered for the defendant.

The case is an aftermath of a swindle perpetrated on the bank by W. C. McFeaters, who secured $5000 worth of Liberty bonds without payment therefor. S. G. Walker was cashier at the time and gave a note for $5000 which was entered of record in the Centre county court to reimburse the bank against loss through action of certain parties in Pittsburgh. Suit for recovery was brought against the bank by another party, judgment obtained and satisfied, after which Mr. Walker instituted proceedings to have his judgment set aside and Judge Dale decided the case in his favor. The Supreme court concludes that the note given by Mr. Walker is good and valid for the claim of the bank and ordered the judgment reindexed and restated on the Centre county records.

The ladies of the Pleasant Gap M. E. church, class No. 3, will give a play entitled, "District School of the Blueberry Corner," in the Bellefonte Methodist church this (Friday) evening. Admission for adults, 25 cents; children under twelve years, 15 cents. Proceeds for the benefit of the missionary society. The public is invited.

Miss Anne Straub has resigned her position in the offices of the Keystone Power corporation, effective today, and her place has been taken by Miss Doretha Bierly, of Rebersburg.

The annual observance of Mothers Day will be held by State College students on Saturday, May 7th, when the mothers will be invited to the College for the week-end.

The Man Who is Good Pay.

Robert Quillen for Publishers Syndicate. You hear it said of a certain man that he is "good pay," that he pays reluctantly, and that you must ding-dong at him for months in order to get your due from him, but that he is good for the sum of his debts and will pay in full when he must.

Here, then, is a rascal. Will you say of a truthful man that he is truthful, but that it is difficult to get the truth from him? Will you say of another that he is honorable, but it is difficult to persuade him to do the honorable thing? Either he speaks the truth and does what is honorable by training and by nature, or he does not. If he does these things to escape jail or the condemnation of his fellows, he is merely an expedient man. He has no acquaintance with honor. There is no virtue in him, but only discretion.

The business that men do with one another is of necessity a kind of game. There are established rules for its playing. The man who is unctuous and smiling while money is coming to him and ill-natured when he must pay out money, does not play the game fairly as a matter of choice, but because he must. His honesty is a product of necessity, not of desire.

If you are living beyond your income, and kidding yourself with the belief that in some rosy future an increase of pay or the death of some mythical relative will enable you to get straight with the world, you are flirting with dishonor. In your secret heart you know that you haven't a ghost of a chance to come clean. The whole truth is that you mortgaged your honor to get a cake to which you were not entitled, and now, to save your self-respect, you pretend that a fairy will appear to save you before the day of reckoning.

There isn't any honorable way to live beyond your income—not one. You aren't fooling yourself. In your secret heart you know whether you will be able to pay for the things you buy. And if you know you won't be able to pay, the difference between you and your "Charge it," and the thief who snatches a fur from the counter is your imagination.
