

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

This is All Fool's day, so be careful you are not made one of them.

The weather dope is all upset. March came in like a lamb and went out like one.

V. J. Bauer was admitted to the Centre County hospital as a medical patient, on Monday morning.

One hundred and eight tickets were sold at the Bellefonte depot, on Saturday night, for the Sunday excursion to Pittsburgh. 26 were sold at Milesburg.

W. E. Ridge and family have returned to Bellefonte from Orviston, where they have been located since leaving this place several years ago.

A little son born on Sunday morning to Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Kilpatrick, of St. John's Episcopal church, died on Sunday afternoon, and on Monday the rector took the little body to Philadelphia for burial.

Harry E. Gerberich, who spent the winter at the Brockerhoff house, has taken a room with George Hazel and family, in their apartment over the Hazel & Co. store, on Allegheny street, and will be located there in the future.

Roberta Eleanor is the name of a little daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Struble, on March 24th, at Kirkville, N. Y. Mrs. Struble will be remembered by residents of Bellefonte as the former Mrs. Charles C. Keichline.

On March 27th, 1901, George H. Hazel and Miss Emma Wagner were married at the home of the bride's parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Adam Wagner, and on Sunday they quietly celebrated the twenty-sixth anniversary of the event at their home on Allegheny street.

The chicken season is now on and thousands of the little fuzzy fowls are being shipped daily from the Hockman hatchery, at Hecla, and the Kerlin chicken farm, at Centre Hall. The latter is anticipating an output of several hundred thousand chicks during the hatching season.

A little daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Gates, of Johnstown, on Sunday evening. Both Mr. and Mrs. Gates are natives of Bellefonte and their many friends here are pleased to learn of this addition to their family. The new arrival has been named Martha Marie.

The Penn State Thespians will present the musical comedy "Girl Wanted" during the Easter vacation. They will open here on April 19 and then show at Scranton, Wilkes-Barre, Philadelphia, Johnstown, Greensburg and Pittsburgh. The first showing at the College will be on the night of April 30th.

A. C. Leathers, formerly of Howard and State College, is sales manager for an immense merger of rock asphalt properties in Kentucky and Alabama, with headquarters in Louisville. The merged plants will have a capacity of three thousand tons a day, which is said to be the world's largest production under one corporate management.

The unusual programs of motion pictures at the Scenic continue to attract large crowds every evening. This is because the pictures shown there cannot be seen anywhere else in this locality, and as they represent the best productions on the market movie fans make it their business to see them. If you are not a regular, follow the crowd to the Scenic every evening.

The public sale season in Centre county is about over for this year and farmers who have changed locations are settling down on new farms for another year of hard labor. Horses brought only an average price this spring, very few teams reaching the four hundred dollar mark. Pigs and cows were in better demand. Cows sold as high as $190 and three and four months old pigs up to $13 and $20. No record prices were made in farm machinery.

Herman Harju, a native of Finland who lives down near the American Lime and Stone company plant, recently invested in a new Studebaker car and on Sunday invited George Aisen, a fellow countryman, to take a ride with him. They went down Nittany valley and on one of the sharp curves where several serious accidents have happened in past years Harju lost control of the car and ran into this fence, knocking down sixty-seven feet of wire fence, posts and all. The two men escaped serious injury but the car was pretty badly damaged.

The remains of George H. Musser, who died at Lewisburg, W. Va., on Wednesday of last week, arrived in Bellefonte on Saturday morning and were taken to the D. H. Shivery home, on Willowbank street, where they reposed until Sunday afternoon. Funeral services were held in the Methodist church, at Milesburg, at three o'clock Sunday afternoon, after which burial was made in the Meyers' cemetery, in Buffalo Run valley. Mr. Musser was a member of the Milesburg Presbyterian church but services could not be held there owing to the basement being flooded with water, so the Methodist church was used.

W. B. WILSON DROWNED IN SPRING CREEK, SATURDAY.

Evidently Fell in Stream from Old Nail Works Bridge.

William B. Wilson, an employee of the American Lime and Stone company, was drowned in Spring creek, near the old fair grounds, on Saturday afternoon, evidently having fallen into the stream from the old nail works bridge, but as no one saw the accident there is no certainty as to just how it happened.

Wilson was a fireman at plant No. 20, of the American Lime and Stone company, and Saturday being pay day, he got a fellow employee to look after his work while he came to Bellefonte to get his check cashed. He invariably had it cashed at Robert Roan's store and it was about four o'clock when he appeared there, made a few small purchases and got the money on his check. At the time he told Mr. Roan that he wasn't feeling very good and had asked another man to do his work. But he evidently returned to the plant as the regular fireman who succeeded him went on duty at 4:40 o'clock and relieved Mr. Wilson.

He then started for home, carrying his dinner bucket. Some time between five and six o'clock Michael Sopica, a boy who lives down near the old nail works location, saw Wilson sitting on the bridge, on the south side where there is a broken guard rail, with his feet hanging over the side of the bridge. When he looked again the man was gone, and one report is to the effect that the boy saw him floating down stream but was unable to do anything himself and went for help. The water at that point in the creek is said to be five feet deep and Wilson's body floated down some five hundred yards to a point opposite the home of Peter Kane, where it lodged and was discovered about six o'clock and rescued from the stream. Justice John M. Keichline held an inquest on Sunday morning about ten o'clock. The jury consisted of E. M. Wagner, Wilbur A. Hugg, R. A. Byran, John W. Smith, D. L. Gordon and W. R. Cliff, and after considering all the evidence bearing on the unfortunate affair returned a verdict of accidental death by drowning.

Mr. Wilson was a son of John and Nora Brown Wilson and was born in Bellefonte on February 9th, 1878, hence was 49 years, 1 month and 17 days old. He married Mrs. Margaret Gummo who survives with no children. He leaves, however, eight stepchildren, Mrs. D. L. Gordon, of Milesburg; Harry, Elmer and L. T. Gummo, and Mrs. Clair O'Shell, all of Bellefonte; Alonzo, Hamill and Russell Gummo, of Bellefonte. He also leaves his father and stepmother, living in Bellefonte, and one sister, Mrs. Mary Cole, of Philipsburg.

Rev. Lehman had charge of the funeral services which were held at 2 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, at the D. L. Gordon home, burial being made in the Treziulny cemetery.

Trout Fishing Season Will Open in Two Weeks.

Two weeks from today will mark the opening of the trout fishing season and we personally know a number of men whose fingers have been twitching for some days in anticipation of the event. Of course the average fisherman has a favorite pool on one of the many trout streams in the county and naturally that is where he will hike to for his first try for a strike.

Twenty years ago the late Col. Emanuel Noll invariably spent the opening day of the season down at Paddy's mountain, catching mountain trout in Paddy's run. The trout were not large but averaged from six to nine inches, but he always came home with the limit, a basket of as nice trout as any man would want to see. A number of other Bellefonte fishermen also hunted the mountain streams and the trout they brought home were tidbits worthy a king's taste.

Nowadays, however, the ambition of most fishermen is to make a record catch of big trout and this can only be done in such streams as Logan's branch, Spring creek and Fishing creek. The largest number of fishermen go to Fishing creek in the belief that the best catches are possible there. But invariably the man who spends the day on Spring creek comes home with the best catch.

But there wouldn't be any use in telling where the best fishing will be, even if we know it, for when the eventful day arrives the average fisherman will go where he pleases, anyway.

Pensions will be Paid Monthly.

Because of the filibustering during the last few days of the 69th Congress no pension deficiency bill was passed and as the regular appropriation has expired there was some uncertainty as to the monthly payment of pensions to the old soldiers. On Saturday, however, the Watchman received a telegram from Congressman J. M. Chase in which he stated that arrangements have been made whereby all pensions will be paid every month, as usual, so the old veterans need have no worry on that score.

Centre County Woman Safely Out of China.

Among the list of Americans reported last Friday to have made their escape from the trouble zone in China and are safe aboard an American warship was Mrs. Marion Fisher Keen, widow of the late Dr. Charles E. Keen, until his death a year ago head of the language school at Nanking University. Mrs. Keen's eight year old daughter Marguerite is also with her. Mrs. Keen is a daughter of Rev. W. E. Fisher, of New Berlin, but who for many years was pastor of a church in Centre Hall, where the greater part of Mrs. Keen's life was spent. Her only sister is Mrs. Charles E. Beury, wife of the president of Temple University, Philadelphia. The Keens went to the Orient in 1903.

NO WORD FROM THE NORTHS.

Up to this time no word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Shuey from Dr. and Mrs. W. R. North and their little son Billy, and while they naturally have considerable apprehension as to their welfare it is highly probable that they are all right. The last letter they had from Mrs. North was written in January and she had then reached Shanghai from Chungking, while Dr. North was on the point of setting sail down the river Yangtze. As that is over two months ago they both are probably out of China by this time or safe on some American vessel. Mrs. North stated in her last letter that there was a probability of their being sent to Manila, and the fact that no other word has been received from them may be due to the strict government censorship, as it is reported that no private correspondence is permitted to go into or out of China at this time.

NORTHS WELL IN SHANGHAI.

C. C. Shuey, on Wednesday, received a letter from the New York office of the West China Union University in which it was stated that Dr. and Mrs. W. R. North and little son Billy are in Shanghai and well. The letter follows: Dear Mr. Shuey: We have had no direct word in these offices concerning the Norths, but from the advices we have received we have every reason to believe that they are either safe in Shanghai or on a ship bound for America. I am sure that you have no cause for worry concerning them. Conditions in China are certainly pretty bad, but let us still have faith in the great majority of the Chinese people. The radicals seem to be having their own way for the time being, but there are still multitudes of people in China who are perfectly friendly. And we must still endeavor to work with or for them, keeping in mind all the time that our own governments have given the Chinese much cause for their bitter anti-foreign feeling. P. S.—Just had a letter from James McCurdy saying Norths in Shanghai and well. Signed JAMES M. WARD.

Effective May 1st, two divisional organizations will be established in the central area of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania. These divisions will be known as the northern and southern divisions. Mr. John Tonner Harris, general manager, in making this announcement, stated that the continual growth of the business makes it desirable to have a divisional organization in the field, which will permit of more expeditious handling of the many problems involved in meeting the requirements of service demanded by the subscribers and patrons of the Bell company.

KEYSTONE POWER CORP. REDUCES SERVICE RATES.

Domestic and Commercial Users Advised of New Schedules in Effect May 1st.

Much greater use can be made of electric service for a wide variety of uses in Centre county and vicinity according to an announcement made by the Keystone Power Corp. to its consumers. The new reduced rates will become effective May first.

In the new domestic schedule but forty-five kilowatt hours is required to reach the three cent rate, as compared to seventy kilowatt hours under the old schedule. Under the commercial schedule the second block of four hundred kilowatt hours at six and a half cents has been greatly reduced by the substitution of a one hundred kilowatt hour block at five cents. Under the new schedule the commercial consumers get the benefit of the three cent energy rate after the use of two hundred kilowatt hours instead of five hundred kilowatt hours as under the old schedule.

Great progress has been made by the Power company during the last few years in improving its facilities and its operation. According to its representatives the reductions have been the result of these improvements and increasing use of service by all classes of consumers. The Power company expects this voluntary reduction to result in a further increase in the use of electric service on account of the low rates now made available to its consumers.

P. R. R. Wants to Abandon Portion of L & T. Railroad.

The Pennsylvania Railroad company has made application to the Public Service Commission for permission to abandon and tear up its tracks on the western end of the Lewisburg and Tyrone railroad from Stover station to Fairbrook, a distance of eighteen and three-tenths miles, and farmers and shippers in Warriorsmark valley and the western end of Centre county are preparing to enter a vigorous protest against it. As this is the only railroad running through that section of country its abandonment would take away the only means of freight shipment the people there now enjoy.

On the other hand the advent of the automobile, auto trucks and motor busses have resulted in such a depletion of the railroad's patronage that the company is operating at a loss and for that reason desires to abandon the road. The case will likely be threshed out before the Public Service Commission in the near future.

Four Bids Submitted for Carrying Air Mail.

Four bids were opened at the Post-office Department, in Washington, last Thursday, for carrying the air mail on the eastern section of the transcontinental line between New York and Chicago, as follows: E. F. Stewart, of New York, 35 cents a pound, with the stipulation that he be given all the first-class mail, or a minimum of 10,000 pounds a day each day.

The National Air Transport Co., Cleveland, Ohio, $1.23 a pound. The Colonial Air Transport Co., New York, $1.68 a pound.

The North American Airways company, of Cleveland, the second lowest bidder, if awarded the contract, will use all the present airmail pilots and probably retain the present force at the various landing fields. Award of the contract will likely be made in the near future.

New Churches at State College to be Centers for Students.

People of the Pennsylvania diocese of the Protestant Episcopal church have contributed between $150,000 and $160,000 for the erection and partial endowment of a new church building in State College which is planned as the center of activities for Pennsylvania State College student members of that church.

Approximately $90,000 will be used for a new church building adjacent to the present one-story structure to be fitted as a parish house. There are about 209 Episcopal students now enrolled at Penn State.

The Society of Friends of Pennsylvania has provided a new meeting house for the 54 students of that faith, and a Baptist church is nearing completion which will be enjoyed by the 86 students of that faith.

The Decker Bros. have received a new Chevrolet pumper and chemical truck which Sinie H. Hoy intends demonstrating in some of the smaller towns in the county. It has a capacity of four hundred gallons a minute from two streams and would be suitable for towns with a limited water supply. Demonstrations will probably be given at Pleasant Gap, Centre Hall, Boalsburg and Millheim.
