Penn State's Oldest Student 47; Youngest 16.

Ages of students at the Pennsylvania State College range from 16 to 47 years, according to a recent study by Registrar William S. Hoffman. The youngest is a freshman and the oldest is a sophomore. One senior is 46 years of age, one junior is 40 and there are three others in the two classes who are within one year of 40. There are twenty students who are but seventeen years of age.
 The age of twenty has been reached by 678 of the 3300 students covered by the survey, the largest group of any one age in the college. There are more seniors reporting their age as 22 years, and in the junior class the most popular age appears to be 21. There are more 20-year old sophomores and among the freshmen 19 years has the most representatives. The oldest freshman is thirty.

FIREWORKS AT EASTER

Many strange Easter customs are found in Latin countries. In Florence it is the custom to extinguish the lights in all the churches on Good Friday as a symbol of the death of Jesus, the extinction of life. That this custom goes back to some Roman festival connected with the vestal virgins who kept careful guard over the sacred flames at the altars of their divinity is now believed by some historical authorities.
 The lights having been extinguished, all is darkness and gloom until Easter Sunday. On that day the task of rekindling the flames is entrusted to one ancient family, the Pazzi, members of which carry flints brought from the holy land with which they strike the new spark. Lanterns are lighted and in this way the lamps are rekindled in all the churches of Florence.

This, however, is not spectacular enough for the multitude. Therefore an enormous car is loaded with harmless explosives and hauled through the principal streets of the city. It is drawn by two milk white oxen especially bred for this purpose and reserved for it from year to year.

Finally the great car, looking like an enormous pagoda, is stopped in the square in front of the Cathedral of Florence. The car has been followed, of course, by an enormous crowd, which stands around it in the great square waiting impatiently for the "Scoppio del Carro" (Explosion of the Car).

Arrived on the square, a wire is led from the car up to the chief altar of the cathedral, and when the lamp is lighted on the altar a "dove," a traveling pyrotechnical device shaped like the bird of peace, is released, its fuse aflame. Swiftly it speeds down the wire, and as it strikes the car the dove explodes, setting all the fireworks in the car afire. Then comes the grand explosion amid the huzzas of the multitude, and Easter Sunday is ushered in to all Florence. There is little doubt that in this ceremony is a reminder of the ancient celebrations of the return of the sun to power, the real spring festival of the Romans.

RHEUMATISM

While in France with the American Army I obtained a noted French prescription for the treatment of Rheumatism and Neuritis. I have given this to thousands with wonderful results. The prescription cost me nothing. I ask nothing for it. I will mail it if you will send me your address. A postal will bring it Write today.

State Makes Inspections to Assure Buyers.

The third inspection of the 85 flocks and 23 hatcheries under supervision of the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture has practically been completed, according to an announcement issued by the Bureau of Markets. The purpose of inspection in the Accredited hatchery work is to make certain that the flocks and hatcheries are in a sanitary condition and that all regulations of the Department are being complied with to assure chick buyers a supply of uniform, high quality baby chicks during the coming hatching season.

Approximately 50,000 birds have been inspected by representatives of the Department since September. Of this number 38,224 were Certified and branded with an approved legband. About three-fourths of the Certified birds were tested for bacillary white diarrhea and all birds which gave a positive reaction to the test have been removed.

The purchase of "Pennsylvania Certified Chicks" assures the buyers of a supply of uniform chicks produced from flocks in which all breeding birds have been inspected for general health, type, vigor and production. Tests for white diarrhea are made in an effort to reduce losses in baby chicks. The Pennsylvania Accredited grade of chicks can be produced only from flocks that have passed two successive annual clean tests and are now available in only small quantities.

Because of the limited supply of quality baby chicks produced under State supervision, chick buyers are urged to make prompt inquiry to the Bureau of Markets, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, for a list of flocks and hatcheries.

Thawed by Electricity.

Frozen water mains frequently are thawed out by electricity. In the dead of winter when all the houses in a section of the city find they cannot draw water at any of the faucets, the water department hears about it and appeals to the electric light and power company, which sends out an emergency crew. Electric power connections are made on hydrants at the two ends of the frozen section. The heat generated by the passage of the electricity through the pipes soon has water flowing freely again.

At Your Personal Service

Personal Service Begins When You Order Your Telephone

When You Ask For Information About a Contract or a Bill—

THE MEN AND WOMEN of this company are trying to turn out something more than just a good general service.

No two users have exactly the same needs.

When you order a telephone installed or moved, we want to see it through in such a way that your personal requirements are exactly met.

When you ask for information about a contract or a bill, or report trouble with the instrument, or make even the most casual telephone call, we want to give each matter the sort of attention that spells personal service, not just average service.

Maybe this is a big order. Our everyday job involves an almost infinite number of contacts, usually at a distance over a telephone wire, on an infinite variety of matters.

But it's what we are aiming at.

Your Telephone is Installed Where It Suits You Best

Always An Operator "At Your Service"
