

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

Pennsylvania railroad officials made an inspection trip over the Bald Eagle valley railroad last Thursday.

The Slippery Rock Normal baseball team will play the Academy, on Hughes field, at 3 o'clock this (Friday) afternoon. Admission, 50 cents.

Edgar T. Burnside is considering the erection of a small building on his Spring street property to be occupied by Lewis Daggett as his clothing agency.

There will be an important meeting of the Centre county Children's Aid society, in the court house on Tuesday afternoon, May 3, at 3 o'clock. All members and others interested in child welfare are urged to be present.

Residents of Hublersburg and vicinity are anxious to have the Keystone Power corporation extend its circuit from Hecla Park to that place. A meeting of citizens was held last week to see how many users could be lined up and another meeting will be held this week.

The seventh annual young farmer's week will be held at State College, June 15 to 18. From June 13 to 18 the second annual leadership training school will be held for young men who have done outstanding work in agricultural clubs in the State, under the direction of county agents.

Just to prove that he hasn't lost his skill as a trout fisherman Patsy Bathurst walked down to the old fair grounds, last Saturday, and returned with a basket of twelve nice trout, all of which were ten to twelve inches in length. Of course he was fishing with bait.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Centre county hospital will hold their spring rummage sale in the vacant store room in the Bush Arcade on Thursday of next week, May 5th. All contributions should be sent to the room the day previous. Any further information desired can be obtained from Mrs. Joseph Hogentogler.

Don't fail to read the Lyon & Co. store advertisement in this issue of the Watchman. As stated last week, this old and reliable firm is now having a closing out sale and as everything must be sold by June first some rare bargains are offered. After you have read the advertisement go to the store and see for yourself.

The Woodward cave, which was so badly damaged by high water, last fall, has been thoroughly cleaned out and put in shape for the summer season of sight-seers. A high and substantial retaining wall has been constructed around the opening to the cave so that when Pine creek again overflows its banks the onrush of water will not deluge the cave, as has been the case heretofore.

Newspaper men from Philadelphia, Harrisburg and Pittsburgh, a number of them legislative correspondents and political writers, were guests of Col. Theodore Davis Boal, at Camp Boal, Boalsburg, over the week-end and Sunday. E. J. Stackpole Jr., of the Harrisburg Telegraph, made the trip from the State capital to Boalsburg in his own airplane. The gathering was one purely for recreation and had no political significance.

When you get an attack of that restless feeling and don't know what to do try a few nights at the Spenic. You'll forget all your restlessness in your interest in the motion pictures. Big programs of the latest and best films made feature every evening's showing, and nothing like them can be seen anywhere else in Bellefonte. It is only the regular attendants who see them all, and that is the reason why you should not miss a night.

Hon. Eugene H. Baird, president judge of the Twenty-fifth Judicial district, has specially requested the assignment of Judge James C. Furst, of Centre county, to hold court at Ridgway, Elk county, during the week beginning June 13th, and at Lock Haven, Clinton county, the week beginning June 27th. These assignments have been made by the prothonotary of the Supreme court and Judge Furst will be on hand at the appointed time.

Two more of Bellefonte's old soldier trees fell before the woodmen's axe on Tuesday morning, when the old standbys at each corner of the Bush house block, on High street, were chopped down. The town's old monarchs are thus being gradually but surely slashed to earth, and if the work continues the next generation will have almost a treeless town in which to live. In fact Bellefonte is destroying what many a town would proudly possess.

Charles Wynne, sixty years old, gardener at the J. W. Henszey place in State College, is in the Centre county hospital with a broken leg and head injuries the result of being run down by an automobile driven by Leonard Bryan, of Coleville, at State College last Thursday afternoon. The accident happened during the hard rain storm about 4:30 o'clock. Mr. Wynne was in the act of crossing the street at Allen street and Fairmount avenue, when hit by the Bryan car. The latter stopped and rendered assistance and also accompanied Mr. Wynne to the Centre County hospital.

THREE GET AWAY FROM ROCKVIEW.

Three prisoners made their escape from Rockview penitentiary, last Thursday evening, by cutting their way through the wire stockade which surrounds the prison buildings. The men were Grant Miller, of Lebanon county, 22 years old; Bert Keller, aged 43, and John Harrison Knapp, aged 37, both of Northumberland county, all three men having been transferred to Rockview from the eastern penitentiary.

The escape took place at 8:20 o'clock Thursday evening. The guard on making his regular round of the grounds, discovered a man crawling through a hole in the wire stockade. He called to him to stop but the man made a dash for the woods on Nittany mountain. The guard emptied his revolver in the direction of the fleeing prisoner but it was dark and raining and he had little chance of hitting a running target. Guards were promptly ordered out and a check-up of prisoners made, which disclosed the fact that three were missing, two of them evidently having reached the mountain before the last one to escape had been discovered by the guard.

Sheriff Taylor and the state police in Bellefonte were notified of the escape and with every available guard that could be spared from the prison a human cordon was thrown around that portion of Nittany mountain on which it was believed the prisoners were hiding. The search was continued all through Friday and Friday night and between 11:30 and 12 o'clock Friday night, two of the escaped convicts came out of the dense underbrush over in the Black Hawk section face to face with a guard.

Grant Miller was in the lead and he was promptly captured by the guard but Knapp, who was eight or ten steps behind Miller, made a dash back into the woods and escaped. Miller told the guards that Keller had not joined them after the escape but had made off by himself, but that he and Knapp had stuck together. They were in the open during all the rain of Thursday night and it was not until Friday afternoon that they mustered up enough of courage to build a small fire at which they managed to dry their clothing.

George Windemaker, the 20-year-old York county youth who made his escape on Wednesday afternoon, made his way to the McFarlane farm, near Boalsburg, where he stole a car belonging to Mrs. Leah Smith. On Sunday the car was found near Liverpool, this side of Harrisburg, where it had been abandoned when the gas supply gave out. This would indicate that Windemaker was making for his home in York county and authorities there are on the watch for him.

Grant Miller, the one prisoner captured, was sentenced by Judge Henry, in Lebanon county, on March 20th, 1926, to serve a term of three to six years for larceny, and had therefore served but thirteen months of his term. At a special session of court, on Tuesday, Judge Furst gave him an additional sentence of three to six years, to be served after completion of his original sentence.

Alexander Roach, who also had half a dozen aliases, the man who on March 27th shot Joseph Krupa, of Rush township in the hand, and who since has exhibited indications of being a dangerous man, plead guilty to assault and battery with intent to kill and carrying concealed deadly weapons. On the first count he was sentenced to serve three to six years in the penitentiary and on the second count six months to one year, the sentences to run consecutively. The two men were taken to Pittsburgh, on Wednesday, by sheriff E. R. Taylor.

Susquehanna Baseball League to be Reorganized.

A meeting was held in Bellefonte on Friday evening for the purpose of reorganizing the Susquehanna baseball league for the summer season. Representatives were present from Williamsport, Jersey Shore, Lock Haven, Mill Hall and Bellefonte, while Lewistown was communicated with by telephone. As it looks now teams from these six towns will constitute the league. While the meeting was only preliminary to a permanent organization all the representatives were apparently satisfied with the constitution of the league among the above six towns and a meeting will be held in Lock Haven next week for the purpose of completing the organization and arranging a schedule. As now proposed the season will open on Saturday, May 28th, and close on Labor day.

You will receive a beautiful wicker porch rocker if you buy in Bellefonte.

The Earl and the Girl.

"The Earl and the Girl", a pleasing musical comedy, with a wholly English setting, is the vehicle with which the High school glee club will show its histrionic and musical talent this spring.

The play has been in rehearsal for some weeks and will be presented at the Richelieu on Thursday night, May 5. The glee club is the largest in the history of the High and some fine new talent has been developed.

It will be dressed throughout by professional costumers and promises to be an outstanding amateur production.

Adults 75 cents and children 50 cents.

ANNIE SOKOLOSKY GETS YEAR IN JAIL.

At a special session of court, last Friday morning, Annie Sokolosky, of Rush township, entered a plea of guilty to manufacturing and possession of intoxicating liquor and was sentenced by Judge James C. Furst to pay a fine of $100, costs of prosecution and imprisonment in the county jail for a period of one year.

The jail sentence will not affect Annie's life in the least. She has an established reputation of having been in jail more times than any other individual—man or woman—in Centre county, and a year more or less will cut no figure, with her. When brought to jail on March 3rd for her last offense she brought with her prayer book and Bible and intimated that she was going to enjoy herself. In sentencing her, on Friday, Judge Furst said:

"Annie Sokolosky, you have entered a plea of guilty to the charge of manufacturing liquor. You enjoy the distinction of being the worst female nuisance this court has had to contend with during the past twenty years. The pages of the records of the criminal courts of this county are polluted with the name Sokolosky. You have been charged with one crime after another. You are the mother of a large family of children. Some of them have grown up and become respected citizens in the communities in which they live. How this could happen is a mystery to the Court when we consider the type of mother they had and the example you set for them. The Court is sorry there is not some place where you could be sent to eliminate you and your bad example from this county, but unfortunately there is no place to send you but to the county jail. The sentence of the court is that you, Annie Sokolosky, pay a fine of $100, costs of prosecution and undergo imprisonment in the county jail for one year, and stand committed until the sentence is complied with."

Early Fruits Probably Damaged by Frosts and Cold Weather.

The early fruit crops in Centre county are probably badly damaged if not entirely destroyed, by a succession of hard frosts and freezing weather which hung for a period of four days over the week-end and Sunday, some thermometers in Bellefonte going as low as twenty degrees above zero.

The cold spell was ushered in with a terrific rain and hail storm, last Thursday afternoon and evening, which was accompanied by considerable thunder and lightning. While the storm was general all over the county its greatest force was through Bald Eagle valley. While very little hail fell in Bellefonte out in the foothills of the Alleghenies there was so much of it that it covered the ground and one man avowed that he shoveled it off of his porch and walks.

Naturally cold weather followed with not only frosts on Saturday, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday mornings, but also freezing weather. Every morning the ground was frozen and it is hardly possible that the fruit trees already out in blossom escaped the blight. But late fruits not yet in bud may come through all right.

Florida Will Feed the World, If?

In a very interesting letter from Charley Keichline, under date of Lake Worth, Florida, April 24, we found a lot of clippings, so many, in fact, that we have come to the conclusion that Charley has at last caught up with that deluge of mail that threatened to submerge him, entirely, last winter.

As will be recalled he is in the post-office at Lake Worth and in the boom period down there mails got so heavy that they were almost beyond the ability of the office force to handle. That must be cleared up now, else how would Charley have found time to read and clip all of the stuff he sent us. A lot of it is highly interesting and illuminative. One paragraph states that "six hundred hampers of beans and squashes were shipped" from a small farming section last week and then concluded with: "If the people ever get in the notion of bending their backs instead of fenders Florida will feed the world."

That, we should say, is an epigram. One that could be applied in every community these days.

Academy Declamatory Contest.

The annual declamatory contest for the prizes offered by William S. Furst Esq., of Philadelphia, took place at the Bellefonte Academy last Friday afternoon, and was considered one of the best ever held at that institution. The prize winners were first, Ronald Johnson, of Uniontown, who had as his subject "T'Oussaint L'Overture." Second, Charles Brogley, of Reading, who declaimed on "Citizenship."

Edwards, Dunn & Co., Inc., state road contractors of Greensburg, have resumed work on the uncompleted stretch of macadam highway between Kyertown and Snow Shoe, a contract they were unable to complete last fall. As much of the grading has been done the entire stretch of road will probably be completed early this summer.

TENNIS COURTS OPEN TO PUBLIC.

Headmaster James R. Hughes has provided five good tennis courts on his athletic field at considerable expense. These courts have been entirely surrounded by high wire netting. There are gates at every corner. The main entrance gate will be at the corner until the Academy closes on Wednesday, June 8th. These courts will be open to the Academy students only until June 8th. From June 8th until the Academy opens again in September, these courts will be open to those tennis players of Bellefonte and vicinity who purchase a $3.00 season ticket. Such tickets will be presented to the caretaker of the pool. The entrance gate will be the gate at the west end of the bath house. Positively no complimentary tickets will be given out. No players will be allowed on the courts unless they are wearing tennis shoes. No players will be allowed on the courts before six a. m., unless they guarantee to play quietly and not disturb the neighbors.

Bill Waite will be responsible for the admission of players before breakfast. A generous and unselfish spirit must prevail at all times. If more players are assembled at the courts than can be accommodated at one time, it is expected that players after completing one full set will leave the courts and give other players a chance to play a full set. Then they may have a chance to play again. No players will be admitted to the courts when the courts are too wet for use. The courts will be kept rolled and marked by the caretaker.

The game of tennis is becoming more popular every year. It affords a wonderful opportunity for exercise and pleasure, and girls to-day are just as much interested in the sport as boys are. Mr. Hughes hopes that many will take advantage of the new courts. Season tickets can be bought from James R. Hughes and Charles S. Hughes.

Edward Miller, who lives next to the Hughes athletic field, has assumed the responsibility of "special officer" to protect this field. He will arrest, or report for arrest, any caught in the act of trying to do any damage to any part of the property.

If you have made a purchase in Bellefonte since April 15th and have not received free porch rocker tickets the next time you are in Bellefonte go to the stores that did not give them to you and demand them.

DELPHIAN'S DINE AND ENJOY PLAY.

Twenty-six people attended the dinner given at the Brockerhoff house, Monday evening, by the Delphian society of Bellefonte, in honor of the ladies from State College who took part in the play, "To Be Dealt With Accordingly." Among the guests present were Mrs. Gregg Curtin, Isabella Hill, and Mrs. Kilpatrick, of Philadelphia, who is visiting her son, Dr. J. J. Kilpatrick, on Curtin street. Everyone reported a most enjoyable time.

Following the dinner those who were to take part in the plays given under the auspices of the Woman's club repaired to the Episcopal parish house, where a two part program was enacted with great success.

The first part of the performance was a sketch of art life portrayed by Catherine Allison, Catherine Love and Mrs. Robert Walker, who gave a very splendid and pleasing presentation.

The second part was the play given at State College before the D. A. R. with such great success that its repetition was requested by people of Bellefonte.

The play dealing with problems of Americanization represented a court room, with Sabra W. Vought in the role of judge of the juvenile court; Jean D. Amberson, a probation officer; Mrs. W. G. Chambers representing an American mother of the best stock; Louise Moss acting as her son; Lueretta V. T. Simmons in the part of a typical Russian immigrant, which was very cleverly enacted, and Mrs. T. E. Gravatt as her daughter. It was a most amusing and highly entertaining production, and the Woman's Club wishes to express its appreciation to the ladies from State College and the Delphian society for the pleasures they have afforded. Music was furnished by Mrs. Schad and her pupils.

Bellefonte Over the Top for Flood Sufferers.

At the mass meeting to raise funds for the Red Cross relief of Mississippi flood sufferers, held in the court house here Wednesday evening, over $800.00 were contributed.

The night was bad and there were many counter meetings so that the attendance was small but the hearts were generous. Each of the banks, the Elks, the Moose and Whitecross Quarries gave $100. Other subscriptions ran from $75 to $10. A complete list of which will be published next week.

The quota for Bellefonte Chapter was $1000.00 and yesterday morning business houses that could not be represented began to report and, at noon, Burgess Harris, who is also chairman of the Red Cross, assured us that the town would more than equal its enviable record of going over the top in every drive for worthy purposes.

Mrs. Hurley's sister, Mrs. Bole, of Pittsburgh, is expected to join the party in Bellefonte for the week-end.

Bellefonte is to have, the first of the governments' new powerful radio beacons. Already three men from the bureau of Standards, Washington, D. C., have been detailed to come here and if possible have it erected by the end of May. The new beacon is one of 40 that are to be erected at intervals of 200 miles on all the air routes of the country. They are designed to use the invisible radio waves for guiding air-ships at night and through fog.

Any one who failed to hear the American Legion minstrels, last night, will have another opportunity this evening.

D. A. R. ENTERTAINED AT STATE COLLEGE.

A number of days have passed since the April meeting of the Bellefonte chapter D. A. R., but twice, thrice, yea, many times as many, before the really surpassing concert given then by Mrs. H. H. Havner's orchestra will be forgotten. The student orchestra of fifteen pieces trained, led and accompanied by Mrs. H. H. Havner, played beautifully, excellently. The exhibition of such fine training was an honor both to the trainer and the trained; to the one who could give and those who could receive, and to the leader are doubled praises due for, as a fellow musician noted, it is rarely that we see "leading" and "accompanying" at the same time by one person, and both so exceedingly well done.

Sometimes in long, difficult selections Mrs. Havner played without one note before her, entirely from memory. The execution of the whole program, including a beautiful vocal solo by Mrs. Cloetngle, and interpretations of Beethoven, whose anniversary occurs this year, the whole performance was a triumph, in the admirable setting of the Delta Sigma Phi fraternity house, which, built and furnished in the Spanish style, is itself a harmony in architectural art. That there might not be one jarring note in this aesthetic feast the hostesses, Mrs. H. H. Havner, Mrs. A. L. Baker, Mrs. M. S. Baum, Mrs. J. R. Haswell, Mrs. H. E. Hodgkiss and Mrs. A. L. Patrick served ices in the form of gay little baskets filled high with bright fruits.

The Chapter did accomplish some business at the meeting but this faded into the background in the light of later events.

Cruse—Shelton.—Charles Garman Cruse and Miss Mary Hughes Shelton, both employees in the State highway offices in Bellefonte, were married at an Episcopal church in Harrisburg, at one o'clock on Saturday afternoon, by the rector, Rev. Mr. Dale. Witnesses to the ceremony were the bride's father and step-mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Shelton, of Millheim; her sister, Miss Betty Shelton, of Scranton, Mrs. Jack Guldin and Miss Anne Straub, of Bellefonte. All the Centre county people motored to Harrisburg on Saturday morning and returned Saturday evening, except the bride and groom who left Harrisburg for a week's motor wedding trip to Gettysburg, Washington, D. C., and points of interest around the national capital.

The bride is a daughter of W. S. Shelton, of Millheim, and for several years has been the efficient stenographer in the offices of the highway department in Bellefonte. Mr. Cruse is a son of Mrs. Charles Cruse, of Bellefonte, is a world war veteran and was only recently elected commander of Brooks-Doll post of the American Legion. He is one of the draughtsmen in the highway offices. Mr. and Mrs. Cruse will go to house-keeping in the third floor apartment of the house of Miss Jennie Morgan, on east High street, where they will be at home after May 15th.

Yeager—Caulfield.—Cards have been received in Bellefonte announcing the marriage of Malcolm Wilson Yeager, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Yeager, of Bellefonte, and Miss Cathleen Caulfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Owen J. Caulfield, of Metuchen, N. J., the wedding having taken place at Port Chester, N. Y., on April 18th.

For some time past the bride has been private secretary to her father in one of the large manufacturing plants of Metuchen. The bridegroom is a graduate of the Bellefonte High school, class of 1920, and the Pennsylvania State College class of 1924. Immediately after his graduation he accepted a position as metallurgical engineer with the American Smelting and Refining company of New Jersey, at Perth Amboy, where he has been ever since. Mr. and Mrs. Yeager will be at home at 322 Seventh street, Perth Amboy, N. J.
