

Bellefonte, Pa., May 27, 1927.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

The Academy baseball team defeated the State College Freshmen, on Saturday, by the score of 10 to 8.

Twenty-five invitations have been issued by Mrs. John A. Woodcock, for an afternoon luncheon to be given to-day, at her home on Howard street.

The Bellefonte lodge, P. O. S. of A., will worship in a body at the Evangelical church on Sunday, June 5th. The pastor, Rev. Reed O. Steely, will preach a patriotic sermon to the order.

Edward Houser, who has been in impaired health for some time, accompanied by George M. Mallory, drove over to Clearfield, on Tuesday, to consult Dr. Waterworth regarding his condition.

Rev. Reed O. Steely, pastor of the Bellefonte Evangelical church, has been engaged to deliver the commencement address to the graduating class of the Milesburg High school this (Friday) evening.

Four big busses, carrying the seventy-two students of the Senior class of the Phillipsburg High school, passed through Bellefonte on Wednesday morning enroute to Washington, D. C., on a four day's sight seeing trip.

Teachers and pupils of the graduating class of the Walker township High school were in Bellefonte on Wednesday, on a sight-seeing trip, and at the Potter-Hoy hardware store, one of the places visited, they were all treated with ice cream.

The condition of Benjamin Shaffer, who is seriously ill at his home on east High street, is unchanged, while Al Landis, suffering with several broken ribs and other injuries, the result of a fall Monday, while at work at the Sutton-Abramsen Eng. Co., is slightly better.

Only twenty-five tickets were sold at the Bellefonte station for the Pennsylvania railroad excursion to Pittsburgh on Saturday night. The train was scheduled to leave Bellefonte at 3:25 A. M., but it was almost four o'clock before it got away from Bellefonte. Returning it reached Bellefonte about 9:25 Sunday evening.

While cleaning a cupboard in an upstairs room, Saturday morning, Mrs. Thomas Caldwell stepped on a chair, which tilted, and she fell heavily to the floor fracturing the bones in her left leg. She was taken to the Centre County hospital where the fracture was reduced and while she has suffered considerable pain she is getting along as well as can be expected.

So few members of the Centre Monthly Meeting, Society of Friends, are now existing in Bellefonte that steps are being taken to turn over the meeting house and property on Quaker hill, as well as the cemetery, to the Baltimore Yearly Meeting of the Society, according to the provisions of the constitution under which the Centre Monthly Meeting was constituted ninety-three years ago. Legal steps to this end have already been taken, as can be seen by an advertisement published elsewhere in this paper.

The Warner-American News, for May, tells of a salary allotment plan of insurance which was put in effect at the Bellefonte plant of the American Lime and Stone company and as proof that it appeals to the employees is the fact that already more than one hundred thousand dollars of such insurance has been taken. One good thing about it is that if an employee wishes to leave the company and take a job elsewhere he does not lose his insurance, as he holds the policy himself and can make payment of the premium direct.

Max Kofman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Kofman, whose condition last week was reported quite serious, at the Centre County hospital, where he was a patient, was taken to New York to be under treatment of specialists at the Roosevelt hospital. He was taken to New York in the F. W. West funeral car and accompanied by Mr. Widdowson, Mr. and Mrs. Kofman and Miss Leitzell, the nurse in charge. The party left Bellefonte at midnight, Thursday night, and landed at the Roosevelt hospital at four o'clock Friday afternoon. Blood transfusions are being resorted to as a possible means of saving the young man's life.

Centre county visitors during the past week included Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Lucas, of Minnesota, and the newsy part of this item is the fact that it is Mr. Lucas' first trip east since he went west 52 years ago. He was born at Milesburg in 1855, a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Foster Lucas. His boyhood days were spent at Milesburg and near Phillipsburg. His father was a veteran of the Civil War and in 1875 he went to Minnesota and took advantage of the homestead laws to acquire a farm of 160 acres. Later they added more land and devoted their energies principally to raising cattle and hogs. After the father died the son carried on the work. He married a Minnesota young lady and this, of course, is her first trip east. While Mr. Lucas has found comparatively few of his relatives and old associates living he has covered most of the places he knew as a boy and young man.

CONCLUSION OF CASES IN QUARTER SESSIONS COURT.

James Harris, of State College, Acquitted of Involuntary Manslaughter.

When the Watchman went to press last week the case of the Commonwealth vs. Benjamin Fink, was on trial. This was another of the liquor cases from upper Bald Eagle valley and the principal witness for the Commonwealth was Thomas A. Buckley, of the state police. He swore that he purchased two gallons of moonshine on March 24th, and Mr. Fink, his wife and mother swore that the state policeman was not at their home on that day. The jury, however, returned a verdict of guilty as indicted.

The second case against Marcella Beals, in which she was charged with possession of intoxicating liquor for beverage purposes, on May 4th, was the next case heard. This grew out of the finding on her premises on the day of the big raid of a bottle about two-thirds full. Mrs. Beals testified that she did not know the liquor was in the woodhouse, and her husband swore he had used the liquor as a rub for his rheumatism and had put the bottle in the woodhouse several weeks previous. The jury returned a verdict of guilty.

The last of the Bald Eagle valley liquor cases was that against John Smay. The testimony in this case was furnished by Mr. Buckley, who swore he purchased a gallon of whiskey from the defendant on March 31st. Both Mr. Smay and his wife swore that the officer was not at their home on March 31st, and that they never saw him until the arrest of Mr. Smay. But the jury returned a verdict of guilty.

Motions for new trials were made in all of the above cases.

The last case on the calendar was that of the Commonwealth vs. James Harris, of State College, indicted for involuntary manslaughter. This case grew out of the automobile accident near Rock Springs, on April 16th, in which Steve Georgas was so badly injured that he died within an hour.

According to the Commonwealth's testimony this defendant, with two of his friends, Steve Georgas and Fortunous Vayous, left State College at 2:30 in the afternoon of April 16th last, and that they were seen returning from Tyrone by way of Warrior's Mark for State College, and that one of the parties was seen shaking a bottle at persons they passed. Also, witnesses who swore that when the defendant's automobile passed through the village of Rock Springs it was going at a speed of between fifty and sixty miles per hour. The car was wrecked about one-half mile east of Rock Springs, pulled out a telephone pole and knocked out five fence posts and was sitting in a field considerably damaged. That there was a strong odor of liquor about the point of the accident, that two of the men were hurt and when help got there the one man was sitting up against the fence and the other man lying on the ground. That about fifteen minutes after the crash the man who had been found lying on the ground was put on a small truck and taken to State College, where he was pronounced dead by Dr. Dale. The Commonwealth alleges that the defendant operated his car in a careless and reckless manner and that he had been drinking liquor.

The defendant went upon the stand, described the trip from State College to Pleasant Gap, Pleasant Gap to Bellefonte, Bellefonte to Tyrone by way of the Bald Eagle trail and returning from Tyrone by way of Warrior's Mark and Seven Stars. That he, the defendant, did not know that there was any liquor in the car but on the way back from Tyrone, somewhere in the vicinity of Seven Stars, Steve Georgas produced a bottle and the other two men drank. It was offered to him and he refused, stating that he would not touch it until after he got back to State College, as he was operating the car and the road was slippery. That when he got to a point about one-half mile east of Rock Springs his left front tire blew out, which caused him to lose control of his car, the same swerving to the left, hitting the telephone pole and the fence, when the right front tire went down.

He testified that he at no time exceeded thirty miles an hour, unless it might have been on the Bald Eagle trail, but returning from Bald Eagle to State College he ran from twenty-five to thirty miles an hour and at no time exceeded thirty miles per hour. That he could not avoid the accident and that after the accident occurred and the small truck came there, Steve Georgas, the seriously injured man, was placed in the body of the truck and the defendant sat on the edge of the truck steadying the body and holding the head of the injured man, and that the other passenger, Mr. Vayous, was sitting on the seat with the driver of the truck. That it was raining, and that they stopped at Pine Grove Mills at the office of Dr. Woods, but that the doctor advised them to rush the man to the hospital. They then proceeded to State College and stopped at the office of Dr. Dale, who examined the body and pronounced the man dead. Some of Mr. Harris' friends took him away from the place when the man was pronounced dead, as he was very much exercised, and all swear that they found no odor of liquor about him, having even asked him to blow his breath in their face and were positive that the defendant had not been drinking. Verdict at 7:30 Friday evening of not guilty but the defendant to pay the costs.

SECOND WEEK OF COURT.

When court convened on Monday morning continuances generally were announced in the cases of John Mento vs. National Union Fire Insurance company, and John Mento vs. the United States branch of the London Assurance corporation.

The first case called was that of Charles S. Stoner, trustee under the last will and testament of J. Henry Stoner, vs. A. J. Cummings, administrator of the estate of Nora M. Cummings, deceased, and A. J. Cummings, individually, being a proceeding to foreclose a mortgage given by the decedent and her husband, the trustee above-named, the evidence being that under the will of J. Henry Stoner a certain sum of money was placed in trust for the decedent in her life-time and the principal thereof payable to her children at her death. This money was subsequently invested as a first mortgage on a farm purchased by the decedent and her husband, and there being no contest a verdict was rendered in favor of the plaintiff and against the defendants for $11,230.67.

Gordon Brothers, Inc., a corporation, vs. M. D. Kelly and H. P. Kelly, trading and doing business as Kelly Brothers Coal company, being an action in assumpsit. From the testimony of the plaintiff it appears that a contract was entered into between the plaintiff and the defendant whereby the defendants were to furnish the coal required by the plaintiff to run their plant in the city of Philadelphia at a certain stipulated price, which was done before the United States entered into the World war. That the defendants failed in furnishing coal during the entire period of the contract and this suit was brought to recover the difference between the agreed price in the agreement and what the plaintiffs were compelled to pay for coal in the open market. This suit was brought in 1917, and in 1918 there was an agreement effected whereby the defendants paid a certain amount of money to the plaintiff and agreed to furnish coal from a certain mine, stipulating the number of tons. The coal furnished by the defendants was not satisfactory to the plaintiffs, and as the record costs were never paid, the plaintiffs pressed their suit to trial. At the close of the plaintiff's testimony defendant moved the court for compulsory non-suit on the ground that the agreement in 1918 was a novation of the original contract, which non-suit was granted by the court.

Planning a Public Rest Room for Bellefonte.

The committee of the Bellefonte W. C. T. U., which has in charge the business of looking after Petrikin hall, is planning a public rest room as one of the features of the building just as soon as they can see their way clear to making the necessary changes and purchasing the equipment for the same.

When the building was legally turned over to the W. C. T. U., six years ago, it was encumbered with a six thousand dollar mortgage. This mortgage was paid off some months ago and a fund is now being accumulated to make some needed repairs to the second floor apartments. When this has been done the question of the rest room will be considered.

As tentatively planned the rooms now occupied by Dr. Maloy will be utilized for this purpose. Most of the space will be thrown into one large room, but there will also be lavatories and toilets. The room will be simply but substantially furnished and will afford a place where strangers and out of town people can go and rest when wearied with shopping.

Diamond Thieves Loot Phillipsburg Jewelry Store.

Two men, on Monday, stole thirty-six diamond rings, valued at close to $5,000, from the Thomas G. McCausland jewelry store, in Phillipsburg, and made a clean getaway. The method used was the same as that at Tyrone, last Thursday, when two men, probably the same individuals, got away with $2000 worth of diamond rings from the Acklin jewelry store.

The men entered the McCausland store at the noon hour, when Mr. McCausland was alone, and one of them asked to see some tie clasps. Later he wanted to inspect the stock of alarm clocks, which was in the rear of the store. While thus engaged his confederate purloined a number of rings from a show case and took others from the show window. The robbery was discovered ten minutes after the men left but they had so completely disappeared that no trace of them could be obtained by Phillipsburg officers. The State police, of Bellefonte, were notified and their aid asked in running down the diamond robbers.

You may not be able to see Capt. Lindbergh in flight at the Seenic, but you can see the best movie pictures made by being a regular patron of that popular place of amusement. All releases are late and up-to-date and the pictures cannot be seen anywhere else in Bellefonte. The combination of pictures and music from that wonderful pipe organ afford several hours of delightful entertainment.

JUDGE JOHNSON DIRECTS TRUSTEE WALKER TO PAY.

Judge Albert C. Johnson, of the U. S. court for the middle district of Pennsylvania, handed down several decrees in the Centre County bank case last Friday.

While all of them are of interest to the creditors of that institution the one of immediate importance was his order to Ivan Walker, trustee of the late Mary C. Harris, to go ahead with his distribution of the funds in his hands. It will be recalled that some time ago Mr. Walker announced his intention of distributing said funds directly to the creditors of the Centre County bank. Thereupon the receivers of the latter institution filed objections to his proposal on the ground that the funds should be turned over to them for distribution with such other assets of the bank as they have in hand. These objections have been dismissed and Mr. Walker is authorized to proceed as he had intended.

The other matter of interest is Judge Johnson's ruling on the petition filed by the receivers of the banking company, praying for the dismissal of the petition of Geo. A. Beezer, Geo. H. Yarnell and Catherine Grenoble to have the whole matter taken out of the court of Centre county and placed back in the Federal court, where it started. This petition is also dismissed and the receivers of the banking company are given fifteen days in which to show cause why the Federal courts should not step in again and take jurisdiction.

This is a rather involved situation. You will remember that when the U. S. Supreme court ruled that the entire proceeding had been without warrant of law and there seemed nowhere else to go the Creditor's Committee petitioned the court of Centre county to take charge. Judge Dale was on the bench then and granted the petition, but he didn't appoint receivers who were pleasing to the Creditor's Committee.

In consequence the Beezer-Yarnell-Grenoble petition to the Federal court was prepared on the legal theory that Judge Dale's action in appointing receivers was a new act of bankruptcy on the part of the Centre County Banking Company and a new act of bankruptcy would make it possible to drag the mess back into the Federal court and have the old receivers replaced by others more acceptable to the Committee. This is what the receivers appointed by Judge Dale objected to and it is their objections that Judge Johnson has dismissed.

We are not advised as to what they intend doing. They can answer within fifteen days showing cause why the affairs should not be taken out of their hands or they can let it go by default. In the latter event Judge Johnson will likely grant the Beezer-Yarnell-Grenoble petition and the Centre County Bank case will again go into the tortuous processes of the Federal courts.

Londo-Beezer.

An early morning wedding took place at St. John's Catholic church, at 5:45 o'clock last Saturday, when Miss Della Regina Beezer was united in marriage with Harold Leo Francis Londo, Rev. Father Downes performing the ceremony. The only guests present were members of the bride's family and James H. Potter.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Beezer and at present holds a clerical position in the Potter-Hoy hardware store. The bridegroom is a civil engineer and during the past four years has held the position of senior inspector of highways in the Highway Department in Bellefonte. Quite recently he received an offer to become assistant city engineer at Green Bay, Wis., at a nice increase in salary, and it was because of this that the wedding, which had been set for later in the summer, took place on Saturday. Mr. Londo left for Green Bay on Saturday afternoon while Mrs. Londo will remain in Bellefonte until the first of September when she will go west and be met in Chicago by her husband, when they will take a delayed wedding trip.

Hevner-Welch.

George Albert Hevner, of Beech Creek, and Miss Dora Ella Welch, of Romola, were married on Wednesday of last week, at the home of the bride's father, Jacob Welch, by justice of the peace A. A. Fletcher, of Howard. The bride is a daughter of one of Curtin township's most progressive farmers while the bridegroom is an employee of the Pennsylvania railroad company and is an industrious young man. Their many friends wish them many years of happiness together.

Aley-Herr.

Leon H. Aley, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Aley, of Nittany, and Miss Gladys L. Herr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Herr, of Howard, were married at 12:30 o'clock last Saturday, at the Evangelical parsonage, by the pastor, Rev. Reed O. Steely.

During the hard storm, last Sunday afternoon, a 65000 volt transformer on the Keystone Power corporation's main service line near Centre Furnace burned out. Other trouble on the Penn Central lines put the entire service out temporarily but Bellefonte had service within half an hour, furnished by the steam plant and John McCoy's hydro-electric plant at Milesburg. The Penn Central trouble was overcome before eight o'clock and full service restored.

A Woman Aspirant for Member of Board of Trustees of State.

The woman graduates of The Pennsylvania State College, feeling that it is time they are represented on the board of trustees of that institution, have united on Mary McKee Stitt, only daughter of the late Dr. James Y. McKee, many years vice president of the college, as their choice for membership on the board.

There are 655 women graduates and 529 undergraduates at the present time. Up to 1910 there were never more than three women in any one graduating class. In 1926 there were 92 women who composed one-sixth of the class. This year one-seventh of the graduates will be women, who are carrying off one-half of the honors.

The dormitory for women which the State Grange has pledged itself to build will be erected in the near future. The State Federation of Pennsylvania Women is urging the erection of a Home Economics building. With the support of such a strong organization we hope that it will soon be a reality. Because of this rapid increase in the attendance of the girls and the immediate prospect of new buildings it is felt that a woman graduate is needed on the board of trustees.

The alumni association will meet on Monday morning, June 13, for the election of its contingent of trustees and at that time the women graduates will probably be out in mass to support Mrs. Stitt.

In the afternoon services will be held in the Union cemetery. The parade will form on the Diamond at 1:30 and march to the cemetery. The Odd Fellows band will lead and Troop B will act as escort. Automobiles will be furnished for all G. A. R. veterans. The customary contributions of flowers are solicited for decorating the graves.

Albert Smith Lands the Daddy Trout.

The daddy trout of all that has been landed hereabout this season was brought safely to bank, on Saturday evening, by Albert Smith, twenty year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smith, of Lamb street. It was a fine specimen of the California variety, was twenty-seven inches in length, nine inches deep, fourteen inches girth and weighed 9½ pounds. The monster was caught on a minnow between the silk mill foot bridge and the lamb street bridge and in less than half an hour from the time the young fisherman left his home he was back with his prize. The trout was kept alive in a tank until Monday morning when it was sent away to be mounted.

A week or two ago young Smith caught one which measured twenty-three inches, while his total catch for the season probably exceeds that of any other Bellefonte fisherman.
