Marvelous Stone Car in Old Indian Temple

When the Mohammedans invaded the kingdom of Vijayanagar in the Sixteenth century, they wrought tremendous havoc on all the great guildings of that great city, says a writer in a Calcutta paper. Today, as one rambles over it, there is hardly to be seen a structure that does not show evidence of the iconoclastic proclivities of the invaders.

It is interesting to note that one of the unique structures among the ruins, a temple car made of stone, has apparently been untouched. This is the more striking as the temple, in the courtyard of which the car stands, has been terribly treated, some of the finest carving in the whole city being broken and shattered out of all shape. This car is to be found in the vicinity of the Vitthalaswami temple, not far from the river.

After first appearance one is inclined to think the car has been carved out of a solid block of stone, but a closer examination shows this is not so. The joints between the various parts are wonderfully well done, and unless one looks at the structure carefully it is not surprising the impression of solidity should be given. The pilgrims who visit the place believe that they obtain merit by turning round the wheels, which are also made of stone. As a result of this devotion the axle has become very much worn. Two elephants of stone stand in front of the car.

Ups and Downs

Dr. Marvin Shie, who, at the American Medical association's convention in Washington, exposed the danger to the health of tattooed permanent flushes and tattooed red lips, said at a dinner in Cleveland:

"Our beauty doctors sometimes damage a woman's constitution as much as her bank account.

"I heard a story the other day. A man said:

"I understand that Mrs. Maturin Mayhew, the society leader, has had her face lifted.'

"'Is that so?" said a second man. '1 don't see any difference.'

"'Well,' said the first man, 'it fell again, I hear, when the beauty doctor sent in his bill."

Qualified Praise

"Uncle Joe" Cannon's biography, written at his own request by his secretary, L. W. Busbey, is the subject of many amusing anecdotes of American politics. Clinton Brainerd vouches for this one. Cannon was once accosted by a new member of the house who had just made his maiden speech. On being asked if he approved of it, "Uncle" Joe shifted his cigar to the other side of his mouth and answered judicially:

'You said many good things, and many new things."

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker," said the new representative.

"But," continued the venerable speaker, "the good things were not new and the new things weren't good."

Early Form of Banjo

The existence of instruments of the tute or guitar kind implies a certain grade of knowledge and culture among people who know how to stretch strings over soundboards and to determine the required intervals by varying the vibrating length of the strings. Such instruments found in use by savage or very uncivilized peoples suggest their introduction through political or religious cenquest by a superior race. The Arans may thus, or by trade, have bestowed a guitar instrument on the negroes of western Africa and the Senegambian "bania" may be, as Mr. Carl Engel suggests, the parent of the American negro's banjo.

Uncle Sam's Islands

The Philippine islands were ceded to the United States by the treaty of Paris. December 10, 1898, following the Spanish-American war. By the terms of this treaty the United States paid to Spain $20,000,000 in connection with the relinquishment of all claims to the Philippines, Porto Rico and Guam, and under a later treaty of November 7, 1900, a further payment of $100,000 was made to Spain for the cession to the United States of further islands of the Philippine archipelago.

Rest Gives Strength

From experiments on 18 college students a Pitsburgh professor reaches the conclusion that the longer one stays in bed the more quietly he rests and the better he withstands the strain of the day's activity, says Capper's Weekly.

Made Double Catch

A farmer named Brown, living near Kinston, N. C., set a steel trap in a tree to catch a chicken-stealing hawk, remarks Capper's Weekly. Next morning he found the hawk in the trap and in its talens a sixteen-inch trout.

French Name for Strait

Pas-de-Calais is the French name for the Strait of Dover between England and France, connecting the English channel with the North sea. The part of France bordering on the strait is the department of Pas-de-Calais.

MAY CARVE LINCOLN'S FACE ON DIXIE MOUNT

Memorial Being Planned for Cumberland Gap.

Harrogate, Tenu.-Picturesque Cumberland gap, Tennessee-Virginia-Kentucky, is to loom in the limelight at an early date if plans mature which are now under way. It has not been many months since the country was attracted by plans to carve the figures of Gen. Robert E. Lee and his staff on the mountain of stone near Atlanta. This time it is planned to carve the full figure of Abraham Lincoln on the mighty limestone peaks towering above Cumberland gap and surround-

The figure of Lincoln will be more than a hundred feet high and will be carved out of the huge walls which overhang the Dixie highway, jutting out over forest, town and valleys. A nationally known sculptor visited Cumberland gap recently and was charmed with the prospect of carving a masterpiece which would attract Lincoln lovers far and wide. He is making plans and specifications for this work of art and believes that it can be done within two years' time.

To Clear Away Timber.

When the figure is carved and stands out in bold relief the timber will be cleared from the Dixie highway leading up to the feet of the mounmental and gigantic figure and the slopes sown in grass. Then limestone steps will be built leading up the slope, making a sort of shrine where men and women and children may come and view the work of art and the scenic grandeur of the cascades and forests below.

The inspiration came from the Lin coln Memorial university. Indeed, the very precipice on which the figure will be carved is on the grounds of the Lincoln Memorial university and may be seen from the campus.

To carve this figure on the over aanging cliffs it will be necessary to tie strong ropes to overhanging trees and let the workmen down on scaffolding a hundred feet or more. All materials, tools and supplies will have to be carried up back of the mountain and let down over Pinnacle peak, hundreds of feet above even the cliffs themselves. Pinnacle peak towers more than a thousand feet above the base of the craggy slopes where the form of Lincoln will appear in stone. Due to the ruggedness of the slopes and the steepness of the mountainside, it will be necessary for tools and supplies to be carried to the top by man power, as cars cannot negotiate the

This will be the culmination of a se les of historic events which cluster around the village of Cumberland gap, for, indeed, though the town dates back into the dim and distant past, even beyond the beginnings of Knoxville Nashville, Chattanooga and Lexington, it has scarcely outgrown the village

Cumberland Gap in History.

Notwithstanding the fact that Cum serland Gap can number not more than a thousand souls, the place has a halo of glory about it and has contributed its part in the making of national history. Even before the intrepid pioneer, Daniel Boone, piloted the ancestry of the great Lincoln through the gap into the bluegrass region of Kentucky, Doctor Walker stood on Pinnacle peak and named the region the Cumberlands, after the duke of Cumberland, and the gap he named the Cumberland gap. Then it happened that the three states of Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee joined hands on the peak overlooking the very precipice where the figure of Lincoln will be carved, and as tourists pass over the Dixie highway under Pinnacle peak-and they come from everywhere-they can gaze on the figure of Lincoln and gather some of the inspiration which has led many a youth from his humble cabin through the Lincoln Memorial university up the heights to achievement. The face of the mountain precipice is peculiarly suited to such a work of art. It is as if a mighty hand had cut the mountain in two, like a loaf of bread, leaving limestone ledges jutting out 2,000 feet, on top of which is Pinnacle peak, from which one may see mountain ranges as far away as Chattanooga and North Carolina, and it is on this mountainside that the figure of the emancipator will be carved, overshadowing the campus of the Lincoln Memorial university as a perpetual reminder of him who had "malice toward none and charity for

When the clouds of civil war hung ike a dismal thunder-cloud over the nation Cumberland gap was one of the scenic points. Mighty armies contended for that ground because it was the gateway through the mountains between the North and the South, Many of the old trenches remain to this day, and the figure of Lincoln will overlook some of the "bloody ground" made famous by Civil war struggles, and, indeed, will look down upon "Hell's Half Acre," famous in history and story as a place of conflict in the war and also because it has heard the crack of the feudists' rifles in days gone by.

UNKNOWN UNCLE WILLS MILLIONS

Fortune From Africa Goes to Australia.

Sydney .- David White, middle-aged Sydney business man, awoke one morning to find himself heir to over $1,250,000 in cash and $10,000,000 worth of real estate, a fortune amassed by his uncle in diamond dealing in South Africa.

Behind the inheritance is a story revealing bleak depths of human bitterness and suffering. It goes back to the middle of the last century, when Solomon Wheinsky was a fur dealer at Nishni-Novgorod in Russia.

Solomon revolted against the exorbitant demands of the czarist taxgatherer. His brother, a partner in the business, disappeared mysteriously into the mines of Siberia.

Solomon Wheinsky and two sisters fled. They suffered bitterly from cold and hunger before they reached Riga, whence they got aboard a smuggler's schooner and were taken to Amsterdam, whence Solomon went to London and his two sisters to the United Solomon Wheinsky settled in Whitechapel in 1852 and became a "kosher" butcher. He married a Russian girl and changed his name to White. He had two sons, Abel and Aaron.

Aaron married outside his faith, and so long was the continuance of bitterness that Abel's son, David, decided to start life afresh in Australia.

Meantime Aaron White had gone to South Africa, where he joined the group of men about Cecil Rhodes, the uncrowned king of South Africa for the last fifteen years of the last century. It was there that the fortune which has fallen to David White was amassed.

Aaron White traded in diamonds, and he emerged from the welter of those frightful days a wealthy man. He employed his money in speculation and grew richer.

Submarine Detector

to Be Used on Yeggs New York.—A new barrier has been placed between the bank robber and his swag as a result of research by the engineers of the Bell laboratories

Already learned in the ways of cops, night watchmen and the miles of wire incidental to the usual electric alarm system, the robber may now find himself up against a new signal device invisible from the outside yet capable of calling a squad of armed guards upon him as he works. In fact, the safe-blower now works under war-time conditions for the new alarm is founded on the Type H inertia microphone developed in the laboratories during the war for submarine detection.

This alarm con phone capable of detecting the most minute vibrations of the walls of a safe. It has already been installed in several banks here and in Philadelphia. The microphone will not pick up sound waves. The stimulus is received mechanically rather than acoustically. But the slightest jar will be sufficient to set in motion an electric current to the main office, where both audible and visible signals will be received.

Such devices have been conceived oefore. But heretofore they have transmitted vibrations and even sounds from outside. Thus, guards have been summoned when merely a heavy truck was rumbling by or when street conversation grew sufficiently

Smoke Blight in

Paris Brings Action Paris.-The smoke and fumes of his industrial age are putting blemshes on the face of Paris. Smoke has not only begun to blacken the once gray wall of Notre Dame, but the poisonous particles from factories and automobile exhaust pipes are gnawing at the delicately carved stonework. Already several pieces have fallen from Notre Dame, from the palace of justice and from other celebrated buildings. Even the Madeleine, the classic Nineteenth century church at the head of the Rue Royale, had to be repaired and cleaned from steps to roof this year.

The city of Paris has appointed a commission to see what can be done about it.

 Mother Quail Lures Brood Away From Hen

Midldetown, Conn.-Arthur B. Meeks, who has a bungalow on the shores of Lake Pocotopaug in East Hampton, is sponsor for this story:

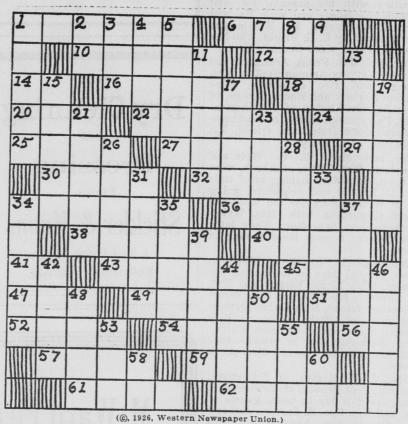

A mother quail was situng on seventeen eggs in a hay field when the mowers drove her away. John Saltus, the mower, gave the eggs to Mr. Meeks, who divided them and set them under two brooding hens. A skunk invaded one nest, but the other hen hatched eight of the eggs. Meeks says the mother quail kept an eye on the proceedings and, when the foster mother was scratching worms for the hungry brood, flew to the nest and lured the baby quail away. There is now one bewildered and puzzled hen in East Hampton.

HOW TO SOLVE A CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

When the correct letters are placed in the white spaces this puzzle will spell words both vertically and horizontally. The first letter in each word is indicated by a number, which refers to the definition listed below the puzzle.

Thus No. 1 under the column headed "horizontal" defines a word which will fill the white spaces up to the first black square to the right, and a number under "vertical" defines a word which will fill the white squares to the next black one below. No letters go in the black spaces. All words used are dictionary words, except proper names. Abbreviations, slang, initials, technical terms and obsolete forms are indicated in the definitions.

"Firemen, Save My Cow," Farmer's Call—They Did

Jefferson City, Mo .- The most unusual order the fire department has received came recently when Jim Roark telephoned: "Come rescue my cow."

The department made a hasty run, expecting a fire at the big dairy barn. and found that the order had come in after the cow had become mired in the mud.

Only the cow's head and shoulders were showing above the mud. The animal was finally removed.

Watch Elimination!

Good Health Depends Upon Good Elimination.

RETENTION of bodily waste in the blood is called a "toxic condition." This often gives rise to a dull, languid feeling and, sometimes: toxic backaches and headaches. That the kidneys are not functioning properly is often shown by burning or scanty passage of secretions. Thousands have learned to assist their kidneys by drinking plenty of pure water and the occasional use of a stimulant diuretic. 50,000 users give Doan's signed endorsement. Ask your neighbor!
