EVERYTHING READY FOR THE NATIONAL AIR DERBY.

Thirty Ships will Start in Class B, All of Which will Stop in Bellefonte.
Robert F. Hunter, who is in charge of the arrangements for the handling of the Class B ships which will take part in the national air derby from New York to Spokane, Wash., next week, has every preparation well under way and anticipates no hitch when the ships arrive here next Monday.
According to latest advices about thirty ships have been entered in Class B. These include the lighter commercial planes with a limited cruising radius. All of these ships are required to stop in Bellefonte, providing their pilots reach here.
During the past week four or more ships have set down on the old aviation field because the pilots were unable to locate the new landing place.
To a Watchman reporter Mr. Hunter stated that instead of paying out $500 in prizes Bellefonte will furnish only two prizes, one of $150 and one of $100, to the two pilots making the best time from New York to Bellefonte, and also furnish free gas and oil to all planes needing a supply.
The timing committee will take the official time of every ship on its arrival and when it leaves.
The field committee, which will include the force on the aviation field, will have charge of refueling and rendering any service needed to the ships while they are on the field.
There will also be a committee composed of representatives of all the newspapers in Centre county, as well as some from Blair, Clearfield, Clinton and Lycoming counties.
While the public will not be permitted to crowd onto the field there is plenty of room in fields adjacent to the landing field to accommodate everybody who will be there, and will afford a better general view than if they were on the field.
Latest advices from the managing direction of the air derby are that the ships will be started from New York at 5:30 o'clock, weather permitting, and if they get off at that time they should begin to arrive in Bellefonte at 7:30.
Robert H. Hunter is in charge of all matters pertaining to the derby in Bellefonte and he will appoint a general committee on reception the hundred or more prominent citizens who are contributors to the fund.

Governor Fisher Here on Wednesday Inspecting State Institutions.

Governor Fisher made a record inspection trip through Centre county, on Wednesday. Accompanied by his private secretary, Capt. Howard Rigby, Arthur C. Townsend, and Secretary of Forests and Waters Charles E. Dorworth, the Governor came here from Lock Haven at one o'clock, spent two hours at Rockview penitentiary, motored to State College and inspected that institution and also listened to the greetings of the town's Business Men's association, then came to Bellefonte for an inspection of the Centre County hospital, arriving there a few minutes after five o'clock.
Advance announcement stated that the Governor would be at the hospital at 5.30, consequently when he arrived almost half an hour earlier comparatively few people were there to greet him. But he went right ahead with his work of inspecting the institution and by the time he had given the hospital a pretty thorough once over quite a crowd had gathered there, including most of the members of the board of trustees.
The nearest the Governor came to expressing himself in connection with the hospital was when Dr. M. J. Locke thanked him for approving the appropriation granted by the Legislature, and he replied that he was glad to do it.
The Governor and party went on to Huntingdon the same evening so as to be on hand bright and early yesterday morning for their inspection of the institutions there.

Bethel cemetery on the highway, two miles east of Lamar, Clinton county.
The ceremony will take place at 5 o'clock in the evening and will be public. The Rev. Wm. C. Thompson, pastor of the Bellefonte Presbyterian church will make the address and following the exercises the Daughters and their guests will motor to the Nitany Country club for supper.
Later in the evening they will hold their anniversary meeting at the club. Part of the program will be an address by the Hon. James C. Furst on the Constitution and following him district attorney John G. Love will speak—perhaps "in lighter vein."

Highway Patrolman Amend Must Face Court Trial.
Among the bills of indictment presented to the grand jury this week were six growing out of the alleged assault of Robert Taylor by State highway patrolman Glen A. Amend, on the night of July 23rd, on the highway near Pleasant Gap.
Taylor swore out a warrant for the arrest of the highway patrolman and when sheriff E. R. Taylor attempted to place him under arrest, it is alleged that Amend resisted and the sheriff struck him. The result was the highway patrolman had both the sheriff and Robert arrested for assault and interfering with an officer in the performance of his duty, while sheriff Taylor retaliated by having Amend arrested for assault.
After hearing all the testimony in the various cases the grand jury ignored all the bills with the exception of the one against patrolman Amend for assault, in which Robert Taylor is the prosecutor.
Union Missionary Meeting.
The Women's Missionary auxiliary and the Woman's Missionary auxiliary of the Presbyterian church will unite in a meeting in the chapel on Friday evening, September sixteenth, Miss Lulu Patton, of Warriorsburg, who recently returned from China, will address the meeting. Miss Patton has spent a number of years on the field in China, having gone as a missionary from the Huntingdon Presbytery. All women interested in missions are cordially invited to attend.
Mrs. Fred Lewis Pattee, of State College, died on Tuesday morning in a hospital at Franklin, N. H., following an illness of some months. Prof. and Mrs. Pattee spent the summer in Newfoundland and two weeks ago Mrs. Pattee was taken to the Franklin hospital for treatment. On Saturday her condition was slightly improved and her husband returned to State College for the opening this week. Mrs. Pattee's death, however, necessitated his return to New Hampshire on Tuesday.

Herbert Auman to Resign as Tax Collector of Bellefonte.

Herbert Auman, tax collector of Bellefonte borough, has resigned as collector of the school taxes and has declared his intention of resigning as collector of all other taxes in Bellefonte, although he has two years yet to serve on his second four years' term to which he was elected.
Mr. Auman gives as his reason the difficulty in cleaning up back duplicates and the school code's requirement that old duplicates must be cleaned up before a new one is turned over to the collector. Mr. Auman has been tax collector six years and uncollected taxes as shown by the last auditor's statements are as follows:
County and State.....$ 5638.72
Borough 19563.33
Poor 2848.87
School 6457.99
Total $34508.81
Of course some of the above has probably been collected and paid over since the auditors' statements have been published, but the total would probably be not over twenty-five percent of the above. Mr. Auman, of course, will be required to clean up his old duplicates so that whoever may be appointed to fill out his unexpired term will start in with the 1927 duplicate.
The big reason given by Mr. Auman for giving up the collection of the school tax is the fact that he already has a cash deposit of $3500 in a New York bank as guarantee to his bonding company for the collection of all taxes and now they demanded an additional deposit of $2500 before issuing him a bond. This he considered beyond his limit and last week notified the school board that he would resign as collector.
At a special meeting of the school board, on Wednesday evening, Orrian Kline was elected as collector of the school taxes to fill out the unexpired term of Mr. Auman.
Two More Prisoners Escape, Recaptured and Sentenced.
Shortly after the noon hour, last Thursday, two more prisoners made their escape from the Rockview penitentiary while at work on the big impounding dam in McBride's Gap. The men were Harry Flory, sent up from Monroe county on May 11th, 1926, for five to ten years for highway robbery, and Lester Sinclair, sentenced in Chester county on May 17th, 1927, for two and a half to five years for the larceny of an automobile. The two men had been transferred to Rockview about two months ago.
Flory was caught on the public highway, near Spring Mills, early Friday morning on information furnished by Henry A. White, of Centre Hall. Mr. White was on his way to Spring Mills to see a doctor and passed a young man lying alongside the road, who he believed to be one of the escaped prisoners. He telephoned the penitentiary and two guards were sent down who found Flory walking up the road toward Centre Hall. Sinclair was captured at Mifflinburg Friday night. He evidently had bummed a ride at least a part of the way in passing automobiles.
The two men entered pleas of guilty before Judge Furst, on Monday morning, and were sentenced for jail breaking, Flory being given five to ten years and Sinclair two and a half to five. Judge Furst told the men that when they were returned to the penitentiary they were to make it known to the other prisoners that most of the men who escape from Rockview are caught and severely punished.
Three Rochester, N. Y., Men Arrested for Drunkenness.
Robert King, William O'Brien and Richard Drumph, three men of Rochester, N. Y., arrived in Bellefonte on Saturday in an antiquated car on which was pasted a placard, "For Road Supervisor, 19th Ward, Charles W. Miller." If the men were out electioneering they got quite a way from the base of their operations, and imbibing pretty freely they were all arrested on Saturday evening and placed in the borough lockup on a charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct. The car was driven out and parked on the driveway in the pump house enclosure.
On Sunday morning when the men had sobered up they took account of stock and discovered that they had only one dollar between them. They promptly communicated with friends in Rochester who telegraphed them $25.00. Twenty dollars of this amount was paid to Burgess Hard P. Harris and they were released on Sunday night, leaving at once for Rochester.
September Grand Jury in Session this Week.
The grand jury, summoned to pass upon the bills of indictment for trial at the September term of court, convened on Monday morning. Of the twenty-four men summoned only eighteen responded to their names when the roll was called, excuses having been granted R. T. Bloomquist, W. H. Braman, David Chambers, John C. Hartley and George S. Snook, while one, Theodore Heaton, had died since his name was put in the box. Lincoln E. Swartz, of Walker township, was appointed foreman, and district attorney John G. Love had a list of approximately fifty bills ready to present to them for their deliberation.
