

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

Gettysburg will be State's opponents on the foot-ball field tomorrow afternoon.

And now the Haupt family, of Bellefonte, are about to go on a chase for a mythical ten million dollar fortune awaiting them in Germany.

Hayes Quick, 21 years old, of Moshannon, was brought to the Centre county jail, on Saturday, on the charge of stealing a gold watch from his grandmother.

On Saturday night of next week the Pennsylvania railroad company will run an excursion from Bellefonte to New York for a twenty-four hour sight-seeing trip.

Dr. Hetzel, president of the Pennsylvania State College, addressed the Bellefonte Kiwanians during their celebration of "ladies night," at the Brockerhoff hotel on Tuesday night.

According to his account, which with his characteristic promptness in everything W. Harrison Walker has already filed, he spent $503.67 in his primary campaign for nomination for Judge.

On Sunday evening John Brindle, a farmer living near Aaronsburg, counted twenty-seven deer pasturing in one of his back fields near the mountain, among the number being four or five big bucks.

Mac H. Hall, of Milesburg, did not get the nomination for Recorder on the Republican ticket but he is duly appreciative of the courtesy he received from the voters of the county and takes this means of expressing his thanks to them.

O. A. Kline, recently elected collector of school taxes following the resignation of Herbert Auman, has established his office in the small room in the Bush house which was formerly the ladies entrance, and which had been used as headquarters for Miller's taxi service.

The National Air Transport company, which is now carrying the airmail between New York and Chicago, inaugurated its passenger service last Thursday, but up to this writing there has been no scramble on the part of Centre countians to take a trip by air, either east or west.

Paul Smith, a member of the Academy football squad, suffered a back injury in the game with Beckley College, on Hughes field Saturday afternoon, and was removed to the Centre County hospital for treatment. Just how serious the injury may prove to be has not yet been determined.

David F. Kapp, cashier of the First National bank at State College, was taken ill while in a barber shop at that place, Tuesday morning, and had to be removed to his home. It was a case of acute indigestion. Reports yesterday were to the effect that he is much better though still confined to bed.

A dispatch from Coatesville, last Saturday, stated that Miss Anna E. Harlan, of that city, had given $10,000 to endow the woman's ward of the new hospital there. Miss Harlan is a close friend of Mr. and Mrs. Ira D. Garman, and on various occasions has been their guest at Edgefonte, Axe Mann.

The Bellefonte High school football team will open its season on Hughes field, at 10.15 o'clock tomorrow (Saturday) morning, in a game with Howard High eleven. As quite a number of new players will appear in the Bellefonte lineup this year this game will be interesting in showing how they will size up.

Here we are on the verge of October and evenings long enough and cool enough to make indoor entertainment desirable; and the one place in Bellefonte where you are always sure of seeing something interesting as well as amusing is at the Scenic, watching the high class motion pictures shown there every night during the week. They are also worth seeing and are not shown anywhere else in Bellefonte.

The big veranda along the front of the Bush house has been removed and a small one will be replaced over the main entrance. The floor and woodwork of the veranda had become so rotted that it was considered dangerous, and it was a question of repairing it or tearing it down. As the expense of repairing it would have been quite heavy it was decided to tear it down and replace only a small portion.

The entertainment plans at State this fall will feature for big week-end events. Tomorrow will be Fathers' day there. Next week, October 7 and 8, the Pennsylvania Rotary clubs will be entertained. The annual alumni Home-Coming day will be October 29, when Lafayette will play at State. And Saturday, November 12, will be Pennsylvania day, with New York University as the foot-ball contribution to the program.

The Evangelical church at State College will get $3000, because of a ruling made by Judge Whitehead, specially presiding, in orphan's court here, on Wednesday. The money was left for the church by the late Sophia Rockey, of Zion, but James C. Furst Esq., who was the auditor in the matter of her estate ruled that it could not be so diverted. An appeal from his finding resulted in the reversal, by Judge Whitehead.

MANY CASES BEING TRIED IN QUARTER SESSIONS COURT. Most of Them, However, are Minor Misdemeanors.

The regular September term of court convened on Monday morning with Judge James C. Furst presiding and all the regular court officers in place. A number of petitions, etc., were presented for the court's approval, after which the clerk of the court, Roy Wilkinson, called the roll of jurors summoned to serve during the week. In calling the roll it developed that one man summoned was a deaf mute and he was promptly excused. A number of others were excused for various causes.

The civil list was gone over and the following cases disposed of:

Guy C. Irish vs. The Citizens Water company, of Phillipsburg, a corporation. Being an action in assumpsit. Settled.

General Motors Acceptance corporation vs. H. A. Mark Motor company and Alfred P. Butler. Being an action in replevin. Settled.

Moshannon Creek Coal Mining company vs. Simler Batcheler and John Batcheler. Being an action in trespass. Continued.

W. L. Chilcote vs. John Laback, Hallie Laback, Mrs. M. A. Laback, Annie Laback and George Laback. Being an action in assumpsit. Continued.

The first case taken up for trial was that of the Commonwealth vs. Mary Maxey, indicted for obstructing legal process. Prosecutor, P. C. Frank. The defendant is a resident of Spring township. Collection proceedings were instituted before a justice of the peace at Centre Hall, which finally resulted in an execution being issued by the justice to the prosecutor, P. C. Frank, who is constable of Potter township. The constable testified that when he put up the bills for constable's sale the defendant tore them down and that no bills were in sight when the constable's sale was had on the defendant's premises, and that she threatened to scold him and those who were with him with a teakettle of hot water. The defendant contended that she had taken the bills down after they were up, but that she put them up again and that they were up at the time of the sale. The case was tried on Monday forenoon and a verdict rendered on Monday afternoon of guilty, and the court suspended sentence on the defendant and gave her six months within which to pay the costs.

The next case was a civil case of Charles Meyers vs. J. J. McCamley, being an appeal. This case grows out of the purchase of an automobile by the plaintiff from the defendant which the plaintiff contended was not what it was represented to be and returned the same to the defendant's place of business. It also developed during the trial that the plaintiff was a minor. At the close of plaintiff's testimony counsel for the defendant moved the Court for a compulsory non suit, which was granted.

Commonwealth vs. Walter Faulkner. Indicted for a statutory offense. Prosecutor, Ida May Lindenmuth. This case was tried on Monday afternoon and verdict rendered on Tuesday morning of guilty and the usual sentence imposed.

Commonwealth vs. Charles Emel, indicted for enticing and inveigling a minor female child into marriage. Prosecutor, J. S. Emel. This is the case of a man marrying his first cousin, having secured the license at Lock Haven and being married at Milesburg. The defendant pleaded guilty and was sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution, a fine of $1000, and not less than two nor more than four years in the penitentiary.

Commonwealth vs. Mabel Craig and Harvey Walker, indicted as accessories to an illegal marriage. Prosecutor, J. S. Emel. These parties accompanied Charles Emel and Catherine Emel, first cousins, to secure a marriage license at Lock Haven on the 10th of August last, who were subsequently married at Milesburg on August 11th. Verdict on Tuesday afternoon of guilty and each of the defendants was sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution, a fine of $1000, and not less than two nor more than four years in the penitentiary.

Commonwealth vs. Samuel Gordon, indicted for adultery. Prosecutor, Bella Gordon, his wife. The defendant went to trial, being charged with committing adultery with one Anna Bottorf. The jury rendered a verdict of not guilty but the defendant to pay the costs.

Commonwealth vs. Anna Bottorf, indicted for adultery. Prosecutor, Bella Gordon. At the close of the Commonwealth's testimony a nol pros was granted by the Court.

Commonwealth vs. Patsy Carmello, indicted for possession of intoxicating liquor, transporting and delivering liquor. Prosecutor, W. J. McFarland, deputy warden. This is the case where the defendant tried to get liquor to his brother in the western penitentiary at Rockview. The defendant pleaded guilty and was sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution, $150 fine and undergo imprisonment in the county jail for a period of six months.

Commonwealth vs. Joseph Carmello, indicted for possession of intoxicating liquor. Prosecutor, W. J. McFarland, deputy warden. This is another case where the defendant tried to get liquor to his brother in the western penitentiary at Rockview.

Continued owing to the defendant being in the Clearfield county jail.

Commonwealth vs. Ralph Loner, indicted for enticing a female child for immoral purposes. Prosecutor, Mary Kane. This case went to trial on Tuesday afternoon and was concluded Wednesday forenoon. The details are not fit for publication but a verdict was rendered on Wednesday forenoon of not guilty but pay the costs. The case is from Stormstown.

Commonwealth vs. Ben Kasmak, indicted for hitting the prosecutor's motorcycle on the Lakes-to-Sea highway between Sandy Ridge and Oseola Mills. Prosecutor, Alfred Hugg. At the close of Commonwealth's testimony counsel for the defendant moved the Court for a compulsory nol pros which was granted.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. Glen A. Amend, state highway patrolman, indicted for aggravated assault, prosecutor, Robert Taylor, was settled on Wednesday. Patrolman Amend paid the costs, but if there was any other consideration in the settlement it was not made public.

The New Farmers National Bank will Open Tomorrow.

Bellefonte's new banking institution, the Farmers National bank, will open for business tomorrow (Saturday) morning. No spectacular display is scheduled for the opening. The banking building, the old Centre County bank, has been done over inside and out and mostly new equipment installed. As stated several weeks ago, the lobby has been increased in size by the shifting of partitions, and this permits of four customers' windows.

Bank stationery has been received and the actual cash will be on hand in time for the opening of the bank tomorrow morning. Rev. Reed O. Stealy, who will be the president of the institution, has been devoting considerable time to getting the building in shape for the opening as well as looking after the necessary equipment and furnishings.

The new cashier, Mr. Horace G. Work, of Marion Centre, will be in his place tomorrow and ready to greet any and all prospective customers, while Miss Betty Musser will be the bank's stenographer. For the present the working force of the bank will be kept down to the smallest number possible, but additional clerks will be secured whenever the demands of the bank warrant it.

State College Young Lady Loses Eye in Mysterious Manner.

While walking on the campus of the Pennsylvania State College, last Wednesday evening, Miss Loretta Foster, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. V. Foster, of State College, was struck in the eye with a missile of some sort that so injured the organ that its vision was permanently destroyed.

She was hurriedly taken to specialists in Philadelphia where it was found that the sight is gone, but there is a chance of saving the eye-ball, unless its condition should affect the other eye.

The accident happened just at twilight and was so unexpected and painful that neither Miss Foster nor those who were with her are sure of just what it was that caused the injury. There was nobody in sight at the time and the mystery is deepened by that fact. There is a theory, however, that it might have been caused by a stone thrown by someone to frighten the flocks of birds that roost on the trees under which Miss Foster was passing. Or it might have been a spent bullet from a gun fired at some distance from the scene of the lamentable tragedy—for tragedy it was.

Improving the Y. M. C. A.

The work of redecorating the lobby of the Bellefonte Y. M. C. A. has been completed and it is a credit to the men who did it. The expense was met through the generosity of a Bellefonte citizen. Equally fine is the gift of another man and his wife, who have made possible the redecorating of the library and the ladies rest room on the second floor.

Not to be outdone the boys have organized to do their part and have started a movement to redecorate their game room. To raise the money they will engineer a bake sale to be held on Saturday, October 8th. The committee in charge includes Jack Fisher, Lyman Zimmerman, Jack Spangler, Bud Kelleher, Robert Guisewhite, Max Kelly, Francis Kramer and Malcolm Gordon. Further details next week.

The regular meeting of the board of directors will be held next Monday evening, October 3rd, at 7.30 o'clock. A full turnout is desired as business of importance will be considered.

Judge Harvey Whitehead, of Williamsport, this week handed down an opinion in the case to determine the ownership of the Harris block, in which the Potter-Hoy hardware store is located, in which he decreed that the title is now vested in Ivan Walker, trustee of the Mary Harris estate, and not in the heirs of Mrs. Harris. Whether the heirs will accept Judge Whitehead's decision is not known at this writing, but should they appeal and the upper court sustain the finding of the lower court the Harris block and all the accumulated rentals thereof would be added to the assets of the Centre County Banking company for distribution among the depositors.

Vocational Classes Organized in Six Township High Schools.

Six vocational classes in agriculture have been organized in the following High schools of the county; Centre Hall, Howard, Boalsburg, Hubersburg, Spring township and Port Matilda, by county vocational supervisor, John B. Payne. This school year the class room instruction will cover the work in the animal production series, with unit courses in dairy cattle, hogs, general livestock and poultry.

The boys enrolled in these classes will receive instruction in the best methods of feeding, management, and general care of all farm livestock. Much of this information will be made available through the lectures, pictures and many pamphlets that are used for the course. Through the courtesy of the First National bank of Bellefonte the boys use agricultural books published for each unit course. The dairy course, the one that is now being given, is of special practical value here in Centre county with the program of dairy improvement under way and the place occupied by the county in dairying.

The courses in swine, general livestock and poultry will be equally interesting and profitable to the boys. Along with the regular course the boys are given a bulletin with almost a fifteen minute discussion on some general phase of agriculture that can be put to practical use at once, such as field selection of seed corn, fall land preparation, culling poultry, etc., for this season. These short lessons are arranged to fit in with the year's work on the farm.

Most of the schools that have the opportunity for vocational agriculture will conduct "Community Days" during October. The tentative dates for these days are Spring Mills, October 14; Walker township, October 21; Port Matilda, October 27, and Howard, October 28.

The enrollment of the vocational classes in the high schools is as follows:—Centre Hall, 27; Boalsburg, 17; Howard, 37; Port Matilda, 18; Hubersburg, 18; Spring Township, 20.

Three People Painfully Injured in Auto Collision.

Three people were taken to the Centre County hospital, on Sunday, suffering with painful injuries as the result of a head-on collision between two automobiles on the Nittany valley state road about ten o'clock that morning. The collision occurred near the Frank Clevens place about a mile below Zion. William Ishler, of Buffalo Run valley, with his wife and three children, was motoring down the valley and coming toward Bellefonte enroute to Penns Cave were Mrs. Allen Crisp, of Muncy, and her twenty years old son in a Ford car. The boy was driving and other motorists who were following the Crisp car stated that it was not going over about thirty miles an hour but for some reason or other the young man not only failed to keep his side of the road but when he neared the Ishler car pulled far enough over that the two cars came together head-on and were badly wrecked.

Passing motorists picked up the members of the Ishler family as well as Mrs. Crisp and son and brought them to the Centre County hospital. There it was found that Mr. Ishler, 52 years old, had a bad cut on the face and an injured left leg. Mrs. Sarah Ishler, his wife, 51 years old, suffered head and face injuries which included a broken nose, cuts and bruises. Dean Ishler had an injured hand but was able to leave the hospital. The other Ishler children were uninjured.

Mrs. Crisp is suffering from a number of cuts and bruises as well as shock, while her son was badly shaken up and suffered from shock but was able to leave the hospital. In fact the boy was suffering so from shock that he was unable to tell a thing about the accident.

Meetings for Law Enforcement and Better Citizenship.

Three meetings will be held in the United Brethren church, Bellefonte, next Tuesday evening and Wednesday in the interest of law enforcement and better citizenship. The first meeting will be held at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening, with L. C. Heineman, secretary of the Bellefonte Y. M. C. A., presiding. The speaker will be Col. Alfred L. Moudy, a U. S. army officer and well known lecturer.

The meeting at three o'clock on Wednesday afternoon will be presided over by Rev. C. E. Arnold, and the speaker will Miss Nome C. Brown, vice president of the flying squadron foundation.

On Wednesday evening the address will be delivered by Hon. Oliver W. Stewart, president of the flying squadron. Rev. Robert Thena will preside. The public is invited to all these meetings.

We call the attention of W. Harrison Walker to the fact that during the past fifty or more years all the judges of the courts of Centre county have lived on Linn street, Bellefonte, with but one exception, Judge Adam Hoy, who lived on High street. The Linn street judges included John H. Orvis, Austin O. Furst, John G. Love, Ellis L. Orvis, Henry C. Quigley, Arthur C. Dale, Harry Keller and James C. Furst, and now it is up to Mr. Walker to keep the record intact, as he also lives on Linn street.

The party drove here from Chambersburg, in Miss Seibert's car, where she is spending her vacation with friends.

Runaway Horse Wrecks Automobile.

Last Friday morning Ellis Snyder brought some potatoes up from his farm in Boggs township for his sister, Miss Mollie Snyder. He tied his horse on Bishop St. near the Snyder home while he unloaded the potatoes and while he was in the house the animal frightened, broke loose and ran pell mell east on Bishop street. A number of cars were parked on Bishop street, between Spring and Allegheny, among them Freddie Miller's Ford.

The horse ran head-on into it, one of the shafts going through the radiator and up through the hood. The horse's head crashed through the windshield and when he attempted to extricate himself he almost wrecked the top of the car. The impact of the horse and wagon against the Miller car pushed it back against the Ford coupe of Elmer Garbrick, knocking a big dent in the radiator and causing other damage. When the horse was finally extricated from the mixup it was found that he had two holes punched in one front leg and some minor cuts from broken glass, but he was able to travel to the Snyder home near Milesburg under its own power, though he left a trail of blood.

The Miller car was sent to a Milesburg garage where it was repaired at the expense of Mr. Snyder. The Garbrick car is still at the Thompson garage and who will bear the expense of its repair has not yet been decided.

Big Doe Almost Wrecks Auto.

Hugh Daley, of Philadelphia, his mother, Mrs. Clarence Daley, and his sister, had a narrow escape, early last Saturday morning, when a big doe jumped right in front of their automobile while coming down the Seven mountains. The Daleys left Philadelphia on Friday evening to make a night run to Bellefonte. It was about four o'clock on Saturday morning when, coming down the mountain this side of Walter Gherriy's place, Mr. Daley saw three deer on the right side of the road and a big doe on the bank at the left.

He was running at about thirty miles an hour and as he neared the deer the doe leaped into the road right in front of the machine. The animal was knocked down and run over but she quickly got to her feet and scrambled up the bank to the right of the road. The impact when the car hit the deer completely wrecked one tire on the car and threw the machine into the ditch at the side of the road but fortunately it didn't upset. Daley went into the woods some distance on a search for the doe but it had made a getaway and he was unable to determine how badly it was hurt. As he had no spare tires with him he was compelled to drive to Bellefonte on a flat and did not reach here until after six o'clock.

High Class Musicale to be Held at Methodist Church Bellefonte.

The music loving people of Bellefonte have a treat in store for them in a musicale to be given at the Methodist church next Thursday evening, October 6th, at 8 o'clock. On the program will be a trombone quartette, of Bellefonte, and a trombone solo by Harold Wion. Selections by a male quartette, of Millheim; pipe organ and piano soloist from State College; solo selections by Mrs. Wagner, of State College; marimba solo by Claud A. Miller, of Williamsport; readings and recitations by Merrill Williams, a Lock Haven elocutionist, and selections by Miss Brightbill, an elocutionist of Altoona.

The price of admission will be $1.00 per family, whether it is one or five. The public in general is invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi W. Bathurst celebrated their golden wedding at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Charles R. Colabine, in Tyrone, on September 16th. Mr. and Mrs. Bathurst are both natives of Graysville, where in his early life Mr. Bathurst conducted a store and blacksmith shop. When the Carnegie Iron and Steel company exploited the ore mines at Scotia, Centre county, Mr. Bathurst was placed in charge of the company store. Later he moved to Pennsylvania Furnace and was a star route mail carrier, but during the past few years they have lived in Altoona.

Frosty mornings have been in evidence during the past week, with the mercury almost down to the freezing point, but fortunately there has been a curtain of fog most every morning so that the frost has not done any great amount of damage.
