Killing Deer to Protect Crops.

According to our Pine Grove Mills correspondent there is a farmer living on Spruce Creek who is not only protecting his crops from marauding deer but must be an unusually good marksman. On Saturday he shot three deer, two bucks and one doe. He promptly notified the nearest game warden who took the carcass of one of the deer and permitted the farmer to keep the other two. All told, within the past few years this same farmer has brought to earth thirty-nine deer on his farm.
