

Bellefonte, Pa., November 4, 1927

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

Vote for Hoy for Recorder.

Fifty-six Bellefonte people took the excursion to Washington and Baltimore on Saturday night.

The marquee over the entrance to the Bush house is so nearly completed that it gives promise of being quite an improvement.

Go to the scenic for your motion picture amusement and you cannot help but be convinced that they are showing a more superior class of pictures than can be seen anywhere else in Bellefonte. Every evening's program is a classic.

If you want to be on the winning side you'd better climb on the Dunlap band wagon. "Dep" is going to be the next Sheriff of Centre county. The voters are not going to forget, next Tuesday, what he did for them over in France.

Prof. E. L. Nixon, the "potato wizard" of the Pennsylvania State College and originator of Pennsylvania's "400 Bushel" clubs, has been taken out of the extension work at the college and will henceforth devote his entire time to research.

Frank W. Warner, of Philipsburg, has the second highest grade in the junior class at the Pennsylvania State College. He is the only Centre county student having scholarship among those ranking highest at the institution, according to a recent bulletin.

A new gents' furnishing store with a cleaning and pressing department will be established in the store room in the new Richelieu theatre when it is completed. The proprietors will be Lewis Daggett, former Judge Arthur C. Dale and Matthew Wagner.

A dozen or more bricklayers are at work on the walls of the new school building at Pleasant Gap, and with favorable weather this part of the work will likely be completed within a week. Bids are now being asked for the heating, plumbing and wiring of the building.

The annual collection and distribution day of the Bellefonte branch of the Needlework Guild of America will be held on Thursday, November 10th, at the home of Mrs. W. J. Emerick. The members are requested to have their donations in the hands of their directors by that time.

The M. Elizabeth Olewine scholarship of $100 for the Pennsylvania State College has this year been awarded to Miss Isabelle Wieland, a graduate of the State College High school. The scholarship is awarded to any graduate of a Centre county High school who met the qualifications in 1927.

Dean R. L. Sackett, of the engineering school at the Pennsylvania State College, and president of the American Society for the Promotion of Engineering, has just completed another text book on engineering. It is for high school boys planning a technical college course and will be published by Ginn and Company.

The Centre Electric company, organized and operated by Balser Weber, at Howard, and which for several years has been supplying that town with electric current, has been sold to the Republic Electric company, of Coatesville. Mr. Weber recently installed a hydro-electric plant at Howard for the purpose of manufacturing his own current, and this, naturally, was included in the purchase.

Hallowe'en, on Monday evening, passed off without any undue damage to property or destructive doings on the part of the young people of Bellefonte. With no general public observance of the evening the boys and girls paraded the streets in costume and indulged in the harmless sport of throwing corn, etc., but so far as known at this writing no serious damage was done in any part of the town.

Judge James C. Furst, last Thursday morning, appointed John A. Way, of Halfmoon township, a Republican member of the board of County Commissioners to take the place of Howard E. Holtzworth, candidate for County Treasurer. The appointment dates from November first. Mr. Way will serve only until January 2nd, 1928, when the new Commissioners elected next Tuesday will be sworn into office.

A regional conference will be held in the Bellefonte Presbyterian church on Thursday of next week. It will include a meeting for men, women and children at four o'clock, a supper conference at six and a popular meeting at 7:30. This will be one of a series of five such conferences being held in the Huntingdon Presbytery. Topics of interest to the welfare of the church will be discussed by regularly assigned ministers.

Among the exhibits that interested many who were at State College last week for the annual Alumni home-coming was a landscaping feature designed and built entirely by students in architecture. It was a cottage facade, with a lawn landscaped with flowers and shrubs, a lily pool and ornamental fence and gates. A. W. Grove, of this place, and D. L. Black, of State College, were two of the students whose work helped to make the charming exhibit it proved to be.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE WAS LARGELY ATTENDED.

Interesting Problems Discussed by Various Instructors.

When the annual teachers' institute of Centre county convened in the court house, on Monday afternoon, it was with an almost complete roster of the more than three hundred teachers in the county present. Devotional services were conducted by Rev. W. C. Thompson after which county superintendent F. G. Rogers made the customary opening talk in which he pointed out to the teachers the necessity of attending every session and being on hand promptly at the opening of institute. He also made the usual announcements, after which there was a brief session of music, led by Prof. J. Y. Yoder.

The first speaker for the afternoon was Dr. C. C. Ellis, of Juniata College, who talked on the new business of the public schools. In starting his talk he said the business of the public schools was to educate the children of all the people. There was a time when the schools were deemed mostly to educate the children of the poor, as those who could afford it sent their sons and daughters to private schools. Nowadays the children of Presidents go to school with those of the poorest laborer. The real business of the public school is to educate the fifty per cent. of children who never have a chance to go to college and prepare the other fifty per cent. for higher institutions of education.

At the conclusion of Dr. Ellis' talk Dr. W. A. Nathony was introduced and talked on bird study. If birds could be exterminated from the earth, he said, in about eight years we would be wading about in a sea of worms and bugs ten feet deep. Aside from the beauty of birds they are a necessity for the destruction of harmful insect life. One quail is worth five dollars at the lowest estimate. It is the only bird in our State that will eat the potato beetle, and if we had them in our gardens we would not have to pick potato bugs and keep up an everlasting fight against other destructive beetles, and the quail is not destructive. Birds are winged servants of the air and keep down the pests which otherwise would destroy us.

As a little relaxation there was a brief session of music, followed by Mrs. Frada Holmes Wilson in a discussion of the teacher, a temple builder. Are we always conscious of the chance for service in being a teacher? queried the speaker. Are you ashamed of being a teacher? If you are, change your profession. The children of today want to know why. They do not accept things just because they are traditional. We as teachers must know the problems of the world in order to teach citizenship in the schools. The home is losing hold from some stand-points and the school must take its place. The spirit of lawlessness today is simply the throwing off of old authority and tradition.

Mrs. Broyles, of State College, made a brief talk on prohibition and dope peddling prior to adjournment for the day.

TUESDAY'S SESSION.

At the opening of Tuesday morning's session the county superintendent announced an enrollment of 353 teachers, the largest ever recorded. Devotional services were conducted by Rev. Robert Thoma, after which Dr. Nathony talked on nature study equipment.

He began by saying that most of the lower animals possess qualities which are superior to similar qualities in the human family. The suspension bridge was the result of a study of the spider web. The wasp made the first re-enforced concrete. Bread has been made from the roots of cat-tails, and an excellent quality of syrup can also be made from them.

In talking of nature and function of literature Mrs. Wilson said that literature and reading are most important because all phases of education is based on reading. The storms of life are coming to the children you are teaching, many of them from homes where they are never given an idea let alone an ideal.

Dr. Robb, of Altoona, president of the State Educational association, was introduced and invited the teachers to attend the annual meeting of the association to be held in Lancaster during the Christmas holiday week. Mrs. Meta Miles presented a good report of the work of the association.

At the afternoon session Mrs. Wilson talked on education for democracy. In her remarks she stated that education is the key to national development. The school must teach, if the home does not, that the law of compensation is never suspended. You cannot get something for nothing. The time has come when America must take her place in world affairs. We can no longer live to ourselves alone.

Following a session of music Dr. John Zeigler, of the State Department of Health, talked on school sanitation. He cited the fact that only a few years ago the death rate from diphtheria was 36 per thousand. Then it dropped to 18, and now, under the modern sanitation rules it is between 7 and 8 per thousand. He also spoke of the necessity of carefully observing the vaccination law.

The afternoon session closed with a continuation of the talk by Dr. Nathony on nature study in the autumn. Devotional services at the Wednesday morning session were conducted by Rev. Sheetz, of Howard, following which Dr. Ellis talked on some phases of moral training. He was followed by Dr. J. H. Frizzell, of State College, who discussed good citizenship. The final talk at the morning session was a continuation of Dr. Nathony's discussion on school sanitation.

Before adjourning Miss Ella Levy, of the Bellefonte schools, was elected a delegate to the State Educational association at Lancaster to be held during the Christmas holiday week. During the afternoon, session R. T. Armitage, of New York, talked on Near East relief. He did not make an appeal for funds but told the teachers of the wonderful work that had been done there by America.

Institute Instructors Luncheon Guests of Bellefonte Kiwanis.

The regular meeting of the Kiwanis club was held at the Brockerhoff house on Tuesday, at which time the instructors from the Centre county institute were guests and furnished most of the entertainment.

Mr. J. Y. Yoder, music instructor, sang "The Bells of St. Mary's," "I Love a Lassie" and "An Old Fashioned Irish Girl" with Miss Rachel Shuey at the piano.

Dr. C. C. Ellis, of Juniata College, gave a short but spirited address on the duties of citizenship, which should have been heard by every stay-at-home voter in Centre county. He was followed by Glenn Rogers, county superintendent of schools, who expressed the hope that such fellowship of member to member as is manifested in service clubs might extend itself to all of the people of all the nation. Mrs. Fadra Wilson, of California State Normal school, who hailed originally from Louisiana, talked of loyalty and patriotism as the basis of democracy, and ended with several recitations in negro dialect illustrating the humor, pathos and philosophy of the colored race.

President Harrison Walker appointed an election committee, consisting of John Payne, John Knisely, Charles Mensch, Robert Walker and George Bush, to prepare for the election of club officers for 1928.

John Bullock, of the sick committee, reported James R. Hughes in the hospital but improving in health.

Louis Heineman, Secretary of the Y. M. C. A., was welcomed as a new member.

Tables headed by Horatio Moore and John Love rendered sextet numbers, but too much could easily be said of the excellence of the performance in each case.

Ed Owens urged the club to make good its promise of last year to get behind the High school football team. He suggested that all business places be urged to put out their sidewalk flag staffs for each of the coming home games, the staffs to be wrapped in the colors of the competing teams. The suggestion was favorably received.

Worth Township Vocational Fair and Dedication of Building.

The schools of Worth township and Port Matilda had an interesting day of it, last Thursday, when they held a very successful vocational fair and dedicated their new consolidated school building in Port Matilda. Quite a number of people were present from adjoining townships and were much interested in the program presented. Secretary L. C. Heineman, of Bellefonte, had charge of the various games and sports in the morning, in which the boys and girls in the grade schools took part.

The girls of the Senior class served an appetizing lunch at the noon hour. J. F. Brink, principal of the schools of the township, had charge of the program in the afternoon. Rev. Faus offered prayer and the address of welcome was made by John Kelly, a member of the school board. H. C. Fetterolf, assistant director of vocational education, of Harrisburg, officiated at the dedication of the new school building and in his address urged the patrons of the school to favor more vocational work in their High school.

Superintendent Rogers spoke very highly of the vocational fair and the agricultural work in the schools of the township. Rev. T. R. Snyder, of Tyrone, talked inspiringly of the progress of the schools. John B. Payne, director of the fair, made the awards for all exhibits, the Seniors in Class A winning the large framed picture.

HUSBAND AND WIFE BAG A TURKEY EACH.

Kill of Small Game, on Tuesday, Below Anticipations.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Weaver, of Milesburg, were runners-up at the opening of the small game season, on Tuesday morning. Going up to Ten Acres, on Muncy mountain, they flushed a flock of close to fifty wild turkeys and each one was successful in bagging a good-sized bird, returning home within two hours. J. O. Heverly, of Bellefonte, was also successful in bagging a turkey while two hunters from Tyrone each got a turkey out on Marsh Creek. Two hunters from Harrisburg and a Pleasant Gap man all bagged turkeys on Nittany mountain.

A party of Clearfield hunters went home with sixteen rabbits, three pheasants and two squirrel. Ed Gillen, of Bellefonte, got two rabbits. Charles E. Gates bagged three rabbits and a squirrel and Earl Yarnell two rabbits, a squirrel and a pheasant. Jack Houck, of Bellefonte, bagged his limit of six rabbits and Arthur Haupt got five and a squirrel. Lewis Smith, of Bellefonte, bagged an 18 pound turkey hen somewhere out back of Yarnell, on Wednesday morning.

Up at Pine Grove Mills Elmer Long, Ira Gearhart, W. D. Johnson, James Keller and Harry Reed each shot turkeys on Tussey mountain, while Mr. C. Wieland and son George brought in their limit of squirrels and rabbits.

According to game wardens the kill on the opening day was not up to anticipations, which was accounted for, in part at least, by the heavy fog which overhung the mountains until well into the forenoon.

No accidents of any kind were reported in Centre county, and no arrests were made for violations of the game laws.

Miles Bilger, of Pleasant Gap, killed a twelve pound gobbler on Nittany mountain, Wednesday morning. On Wednesday afternoon two hunters passed through Bellefonte with a big turkey strapped on each side of their car and quite a bunch of squirrel, rabbits and pheasants. Who they were or where they were hunting was not ascertained.

Pleasant Gap sportsmen got a good share of the turkey crop. Fred Lutz reports a 23 pound gobbler, Miles Bilger a 12 pound gobbler, Gilbert Noll an 8 pound hen and "Slim" Meyers a 10 pound hen.

FLEETFOOT HUNTERS BANQUET

The Fleetfoot hunting club, of Ferguson township, held its annual meeting and banqueted on chicken and waffles, at the home of Frank O. Homan, Tuesday evening of last week. The feast was prepared by Mrs. Homan and the guests did justice to her culinary skill. Guests present included Marion, George and B. A. Baker and Samuel Tussey, all of Holidaysburg; Newton and Ernest Hess, John Hess, Edgar Hess, wife and two children, Waldo Homan, B. Frank Homan, William Markle, H. N. Walker, Riley Hunter and wife, Will Leach and mother, L. D. Fye and wife, S. A. Homan, wife and three children, J. C. Homan, M. Bloom, I. Louise Stallings to Sing in Bellefonte.

Miss Louise Stallings, the young American mezzo soprano, concert, oratorio and radio artist, of New York city, has been secured through special arrangements to sing in the Presbyterian chapel, Bellefonte, on Friday evening, November 18.

Miss Stallings is a singer of rare merit and has received none but the most favorable comments from the New York critics when she gave her recital last year in Aeolian hall.

In Roanoke, Va., where Marion Talley appeared at an expense of $3,000 Miss Stallings appeared a few weeks later, when the press and musical critics, were most favorable in comparison. For pleasing quality, power and range of voice, they favored Miss Stallings. She was soloist for the New York Philharmonic orchestra and many of the leading musical festivals.

Her accompanist is Miss Marlon Carley, concert pianist and recent accompanist for Madam Frances Alda of the Metropolitan Opera company. This is a rare opportunity to hear two such distinguished artists. Music lovers in every part of the county should be present on the evening of the 18th.

Frank Confer, of Howard, was in town Saturday looking after a few business matters and calling on his many friends here. Frank is the last of his branch of a family of pioneers in Howard township. Time was when Confer made up a large proportion of the population down there and the impress of that eminently sturdy family is indelibly stamped on Centre county citizenship. Frank is retired, not at all because of age or other incapacity. He quit farming and moved into town because he was provident enough to be able to do so.

Mrs. Margaret E. Wierbach, an aunt of Mrs. Nelson E. Robb, and Mrs. Margaret Dock, a cousin, are house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robb, at their home on Curtin street. He is also in the mercantile business, but likes teaching so much that he just can't give it up for the sake of devoting all of his time to his other affairs. We would imagine that he is a very superior teacher and should he retire from the profession the schools of the county would suffer corresponding loss.

Forrest L. Bullock Family to Go to California.

Forrest L. Bullock has made arrangements to sell at public sale, on November 17th, his blacksmith shop and outfit, on south Water street, as well as his household goods, at his home on east High street, and as soon thereafter as possible will leave with his wife and daughter Catherine for southern California to locate permanently. The change is being made for the benefit of Mrs. Bullock, whose physician has advised her going to a drier and more moderate climate.

Bellefonte will miss the Bullock family very much. Mr. Bullock has been located on south Water street for thirty-two years. He is not only a good blacksmith but an artisan when it comes to fashioning anything out of iron and steel or in general repair work. He has been one man in Bellefonte who always could be depended upon to fix about everything fixable. Mrs. Bullock, too, will be just as much missed in her sphere in life. She is not only a good neighbor but has always been quite active in church and other lines of work. While their friends will be sorry to have them leave Bellefonte they will have the best wishes of all for their future success.
