Bellefonte, Pa., November 11, 1927.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

Only two more weeks until Thanksgiving, nowadays devoted more to turkey feasting and football than to reverent thanks and prayer.

Wilbur T. Baney has resigned as assessor in the North ward, of Bellefonte, and Harry N. Meyer has been appointed to succeed him.

The Ladies Aid of the Bellefonte Methodist church will serve a cafeteria supper in the lecture room of the church next Thursday evening, October 17.

After voting, on Tuesday morning, the J. R. Hogentogler family moved into their new home, recently purchased from Richard Holmes, on Willowbank street.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Centre County hospital will hold a card party at the Elks home on Thursday evening, November 17th, at 8 o'clock. Admission, 50 cents.

Headmaster James R. Hughes was taken to his home at the Academy, Wednesday, from the Centre county hospital, where he had been under treatment for two weeks.

The Centre county teachers' institute closed with the morning session, last Friday, and the more than three hundred teachers lost no time in leaving Bellefonte for their respective homes.

Harry McMullen, of Coleville, was quite badly hurt by a fall of stone in the quarries of the Chemical Lime Co., on Wednesday. He was taken to the hospital suffering from injuries about the left wrist and head.

Miss Sarah M. Love, recently elected tax collector for Bellefonte borough to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Herbert Auman, has her office in the Bush house in the same room with O. A. Kline, school tax collector.

The State Highway Department has received another carload of snow fencing which has been hauled out and distributed in those sections of Centre county where deep snows are most likely to drift and blockade the main highways.

Miss Cooney's exchange is very rapidly growing popular, which makes the patronage of it worth while, for both the seller and the buyer. A special new in the food stuffs, will be refreshments for any kind of an entertainment. The food exchange continues all day Saturday at the Hat Shop.

The remains of James Leitzel, who died two weeks ago at the home of his son, Dr. P. W. Leitzel, in Wisconsin, were brought to Centre county last week and buried in the Heckman cemetery, in Gregg township. Mr. Leitzel was a native of Centre county and in addition to his son mentioned above leaves one sister, Mrs. Geiss, of Spring Mills.

The election is over and there is now no way of changing the result. Instead of talking politics go to the scenic and see the motion pictures. Two full hours of interesting entertainment are assured by the splendid program given every evening at Bellefonte's favorite movie show. If you are not a regular you are missing a lot of good pictures.

Miss Edith Stouffer, a returned missionary from Burma, India, will be at the Methodist church on Sunday, November 13th, and will speak to the Sunday school during the school hour. She will come to Bellefonte not entirely as a stranger, as she is a niece of Rev. Dr. Schmidt, former pastor of the Bellefonte Reformed church, and frequently visited them while they lived here. Miss Stouffer will speak in the Reformed church at the morning service.

E. S. Bennett, Runville merchant and lumberman, was accidentally shot in the face by a Philadelphia, who was hunting rabbits in that section last Saturday afternoon. Bennett had gone out into one of his fields adjoining the woods and just as he approached the line of timber the hunter, a Mr. Robison, saw a movement in the brush and fired, thinking it a wild turkey. The charge struck Bennett in the face inflicting deep wounds and he lost so much blood before a physician could get there that the fourteen leaden pellets could not be removed. This will be done later. The hunter has been exonerated by Mr. Bennett who is convinced that it was wholly accidental.

If all the churches in this district contribute as liberally to the Methodist home for the aged, in Tyrone, as did the congregations in the Bellefonte group, at the donation last Friday evening, the home will be well stocked for the winter season. The churches in the group include Bellefonte, Snow Shoe, Milesburg and Unionville, Howard and Port Matilda. Each church had a booth in the lecture room of the Bellefonte church, where all contributions were delivered on Friday evening. On Saturday they were packed and taken to the home, in Tyrone, by M. R. Johnson, who had a big truck load. There were apples and pears, potatoes and pumpkins, cabbage and cauliflower, and canned goods, jellies, etc., galore. As no attempt was made to make an accurate count of the donation it is impossible to give figures.

Brief Session of Borough Council on Monday Evening.

Mr. Flack, of the South ward, was the only absentee at the regular meeting of borough council, on Monday evening. Burgess Hard P. Harris was present and brought to the attention of council an invitation extended to the burgess of Bellefonte by Mayor William Hale Thompson, of Chicago, to attend a conference, to be held at the Sherman house, in that city, December 12-15, in the interest of airports. Burgess Harris expressed the opinion that it might more firmly establish the Bellefonte landing field to be represented at the gathering and he suggested Robert F. Hunter as a good man to send. President John S. Walker suggested that the burgess go and make the trip by airplane but Mr. Harris did not relish the suggestion. The question of sending a representative was held over until the next meeting of council.

John Benner, his two sons and son-in-law, were again present to endeavor to induce council to extend the sewer to their homes on Reservoir hill, offering to pay thirty dollars each for a tap just as soon as the sewer is completed. This question has been pending before council for a year or longer, owing to the fact that it will require six hundred feet of sewer to reach the Benner properties, and the cost thereof will be in the neighborhood of eight hundred dollars. The matter was finally referred to the Street committee and borough manager to make a canvass of other residents in that locality and ascertain just how many will pay for a tap, and to report at next meeting of council.

A written communication was received from the building committee of the Moose Temple theatre requesting permission to construct a marquee at the entrance to the theatre. The matter was referred to the Special committee for investigation and report.

The Street committee reported considerable work done since the last meeting of council in cleaning streets and putting them in shape for winter, opening sewers, etc., also the collection of $120 for sewer permits.

Mr. Emerick called the attention of council to a bill of Kofman & Co., for hauling, dating back to May, stating that all such bills should be rendered every month, and that in the future he would not approve a bill that was permitted to run that long.

The Water committee reported some repairs made and the collection of $53.55 on the 1925 water duplicate and $450 on the 1926.

The Finance committee requested the renewal of a note for $18,000 and the execution of two new notes, one for $2000 and one for $3000, all of which were authorized.

Bills totalling four thousand dollars were approved for payment after which council adjourned.

How Brooks-Doll Post will Observe Armistice Day.

Nine years ago today the armistice was declared which put an end to the great world war, and "lest we forget" the anniversary will be duly celebrated today by the Brooks-Doll post of the American Legion. The program will include a public meeting in the Diamond at eleven o'clock, the zero hour, when there will be two minutes of silence, after which a prayer and speeches by Col. H. S. Taylor and John B. Payne.

At two o'clock this afternoon there will be a parade in which the American Legion, Troop B, the Odd Fellows band, P. O. S. of A. and others will take part. The new bugle and drum corps of the Brooks-Doll post will make its first public appearance this afternoon. There are twenty or more members in this musical organization, so that it will be worth seeing and hearing. Immediately following the parade everybody is invited to go to Hughes field for the football game between the Bellefonte High school and Lewistown High.

This evening the Brooks Doll post will hold its annual banquet at the American Legion home on Howard street. The speakers for this occasion will be Col. H. S. Taylor, Burgess Hard P. Harris, Roy Wilkinson and others.

Pennsylvania Day at State College Tomorrow.

Thousands of visitors will be entertained once more at the Pennsylvania State College this week-end when the annual Pennsylvania Day celebration is held. With fraternity house parties and a football game between Penn State and New York University as the leading attractions, the biggest social program for students during the fall season will be observed.

Pennsylvania Day is traditional at Penn State but is no longer observed as an official holiday. It is the time set aside for the undergraduate social functions and upwards of a thousand young women will take over fraternity houses for the week-end.

Special entertainment features will be provided by the Penn State Thespians in their annual vaudeville show tonight followed by a debate with the National Union of British Students team from England. Both events are to be broadcast from the college radio station beginning about 7:30, also the N. Y. U. football game at 2 o'clock Saturday.

Bellefonte to Lose State Highway Offices.

Secretary of Highways James L. Stuart has announced a reorganization of the State Highway Department to go into effect the first of the year which will mean the transfer of the district offices from Bellefonte to Clearfield and also the transfer of division engineer Staples from the central to the eastern part of the State.

In the reorganization the State will be divided into seven districts, district No. 2 to comprise the counties of Centre, Clearfield, Cameron, Clinton, Elk, Indiana, Jefferson and McKean, with the district offices at Clearfield. The division engineer will be S. W. Jackson, at present in charge of the Southwestern district, with headquarters at Greensburg. The assistant engineer will be H. E. Kloss, now located at Erie. The assistant engineer in charge of maintenance will be W. H. Robinson, now district engineer at New Castle. The assistant engineer in charge of maintenance will be W. J. Carroll, at present assistant district engineer in Bellefonte.

N. A. Staples, at present division district engineer in Bellefonte, will be transferred to Philadelphia, as assistant to division engineer D. C. Stackpole.

The transfer of the district offices from Bellefonte to Clearfield will naturally affect quite a force of office employees who have held steady jobs in the office here ever since they have been located in Bellefonte.

Many Wild Turkeys Killed in County Reports Indicate.

If reports are to be relied upon more wild turkeys have been bagged by hunters in Centre county this year than in any season in the past ten years. And a still more encouraging fact is that they have been found in almost every mountainous section, evidence that the birds are not only increasing in numbers but are spreading out and with proper care on the part of hunters should become very plentiful within a few years. But if all the hunters are as merciless on the birds as a report reaching this office from Huston township, it will only be a question of a few seasons until the turkey crop will be obliterated. According to the report some of the residents of that locality had kept pretty close tab on a flock of fourteen turkeys and on the opening day a large party of hunters went after the birds with the result that they are alleged to have bagged twelve of the fourteen. The turkeys were practically surrounded and had small chance of escaping.

In addition to turkeys hunters have been fairly successful in bagging other kinds of small game, the kill of pheasants this year exceeding that of last. In this connection it might be said that the season will close for all kinds of game now legal to be shot except rabbits on next Tuesday; the open season for rabbits continuing until December first. The season for bear, however, will begin next Wednesday and continue until December 15th.

Save Your Old Hats.

When your hat gets old and looks shabby and you are about to throw it away, remember that the dingy looking headgear is not as nearly gone as you might imagine from its appearance. The felt in a hat is invariably good and can be revived with surprising effect. A little cleaning, reblocking and a new band often will make that old hat you put on when cleaning the ashes out of the cellar, look like it had just come out of a haberdasher's show window. Stickler and Koons, tailors and dry cleaners, 8 West Sixth street, Bellefonte, have just installed a new machine for renovating hats. There is none like it between Johnstown and Harrisburg. For $1 they will make that hat you are about to throw away look almost as good as the day you bought it. Try it and be convinced.

Centre County Had Six Inch Snow Last Saturday.

Centre county had a six inch fall of snow last Saturday, a record-breaker for this time of year. The snow fell between midnight, Friday night, and Saturday morning, with quite a hard storm during Saturday forenoon. Considerable of the snow melted in Bellefonte but at that it was three inches in depth at some places Saturday morning, while hunters aver that it was easily six inches in the mountains. Colder weather followed the snow and the first freezing weather was on Sunday night.

President Hetzel at Land Grant Meet.

As a member of the executive committee of the American Association of Land Grant Colleges, Dr. Ralph D. Hetzel, president of the Pennsylvania State College will report to the annual meeting in Chicago next week on a number of important matters having to do with future plans for these great State institutions. While in Chicago President Hetzel will be given a dinner by the Penn State alumni of that city. Following the association meetings he plans to visit several of the mid-west State Colleges and Universities.

CENTRE CO. CHICKENS TAKE PRIZES AT SHOW.

Centre county was represented in the winning classes of the fifth annual Pennsylvania State standard production poultry show held at the Pennsylvania State College October 27th to 29th. Over 500 birds were in exhibition, the Honesdale poultry farm, of Honesdale, winning a majority of the first prizes.

Leading poultrymen from thirty-four counties were at the show and attended meetings of the State Poultry association and the Pennsylvania State Baby Chick association. All the baby chicks produced this year by the delegates present, if placed in single file, would reach from Pittsburgh to New York by way of Harrisburg and Philadelphia. They produced nearly a million chicks. A feature of the big poultry gathering was the display and explanation of the State College method of raising birds from chicks to maturity entirely in confinement as a means for combatting coccidiosis and intestinal parasites.

Several Centre county poultrymen took advantage of the show and were very successful. It must be remembered that this show is the pick of some of the best farm flocks in the State, and this makes the prizes worth-while winning. It is hoped that more Centre county poultrymen will take advantage of the show next year.

Following is the list of Centre county winners:

- Single Comb White Leghorn Class:
Old pen 4—T. Zubler, Spring Mills.
White Plymouth Rock Class:
Cock 1, cockerel 3 and 5; hen 1 and 3 and pullet 2—H. E. Hennigh, Spring Mills.

Old pen 1 and young pen 2—Mary Zubler, Spring Mills.

Bellefonte High Held Tyrone to Scoreless Tie.

In the mud and grime of Hughes field, the result of Saturday morning's snow-fall, Bellefonte and Tyrone High school football players fought to a scoreless tie on Saturday afternoon, but owing to the condition of the field it was not a fair test of the relative strength of either team.

Bellefonte had the edge on Tyrone during most of the game, as is evidenced by the fact that the locals made eleven first downs to seven for Tyrone. On two occasions Bellefonte had the ball within three yards of the Tyrone goal line, only to lose it on fumbles. Twice Tyrone was also within striking distance but both times were prevented from scoring by the referee's whistle, once at the end of the first half and again at the end of the game.

Neither team was able to do much in the air, owing to the wet and slippery ball. Bellefonte tried only two forward passes and neither one was successful, while Tyrone had no better success. Bellefonte made more headway through the Tyrone line than the latter was able to accomplish through the Bellefonte defense, but Bellefonte also did more fumbling than Tyrone. The longest run of the day was made by Confer, around Tyrone's right end, about twenty yards. Capt. Priest was Tyrone's best ground gainer. Considering the weather and condition of the field all the players did remarkably well.

This afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, Bellefonte will play Lewistown on Hughes field, and as it will be mostly a holiday every football fan should go out and cheer for the Bellefonte team.

The Bellefonte Academy lost to the Naval Academy Freshman, on Saturday, by the score of 12 to 7, and State College won from George Washington 13 to 7. The small score is accounted for by the fact that the greater part of the game was played by State's second string men.

Borough Manager Seibert Run Down by Auto.

Borough manager J. D. Seibert had a narrow escape from serious injury, last Friday evening, when he was hit and knocked down by an automobile driven by Richard Coder. He was walking over the crossing from the residence of Dr. David Dale to the Valentine corner and had almost reached the latter when Coder came down High street and was cutting the corner to turn onto north Spring street when he hit him. Mr. Seibert was knocked eight or ten feet ahead of the car and when the driver stopped one wheel was against his neck and the other pinching his ankle. Had the car gone one foot further it would have run over him.

Mr. Seibert was helped up and walked unaided up to the Elks but was later taken home in a car. On Saturday he felt pretty sore and stiff and was not able to get around but by Monday he was out on the street looking after his work. Coder, the young man responsible for the accident, contends that he did not see him on the crossing.

New Telephone Directory will Soon be Distributed.

Distribution of the new winter issue of the Bell Telephone directory will be started in Bellefonte about November 12th, according to J. H. Caum, telephone manager. This is the first edition of the new metropolitan, three column 9"x11" directory. In previous issues the directory delivered to Bell patrons here contained two columns with approximately 145 listings to the page. The new directory has three columns which permits approximately 250 listings and covers telephone subscribers in the following counties: Centre, Sullivan, Mountour, Union, Snyder, Northumberland, Clinton, Columbia and Lycoming.

It is believed that the change will prove a popular one and result in an added convenience to telephone users. Calls between subscribers located in this section are so numerous that some convenient means of supplying them with the necessary telephone information was essential and the combined directory should work out to the satisfaction of all concerned.

The new three column directory is also indicative of the fact that large metropolitan conditions are found here and must be handled in a metropolitan manner in order to be adequate.

In addition to 168 pages of listings in the white section there is also a yellow or classified section containing various business concerns listed under their regular business classification.

Mass Meeting for Law and Order.

The National United Committee for Law Enforcement, which is conducting a continental campaign for law and order and in defense of the Constitution, is scheduled for a mass meeting in Bellefonte in cooperation with the local churches on next Monday night, Nov. 14th. The committee is composed of twenty national and state bodies with more than ten million constituents in the United States, and is announced as a federated movement "for law enforcement, for the defeat of unworthy candidates for public office, the instruction and information of the public on matters of civic righteousness, and for the defense of the Constitution as framed by the fathers and amended by the American people."

The meeting here will be addressed by, Hon. Clinton N. Howard, the chairman of the committee. Mr. Howard has been a speaker of national and international prominence for many years. He is known as "The Little Giant of the American Platform," and is said to have addressed more people for the past quarter of a century than any living man. The late William Jennings Bryan called him "A Modern Apostle." His patriotic lecture "The World on Fire" was heard by more than two million people during the war. The National Red Cross in announcing him said, "He will do you more good than any other man in America." The topic of Mr. Howard's address to be delivered here will be "In Defense of the American Constitution."

The meeting will be held at the Presbyterian church at 8 o'clock next Monday night. The public is cordially invited.

Louise Stallings Will Sing Here Next Friday Night.

Louise Stallings, outstanding American mezzo-soprano, will sing in the Presbyterian chapel, in Bellefonte, Friday evening, Nov. 18. Her accompanist will be Miss Marion Carley, concert pianist, and late accompanist for Madam Frances Alda, of the Metropolitan Opera Co., New York.

It is needless for us to sing the praises of these eminent artists. Both have world wide recognition and Bellefonte is unusually fortunate in being offered this opportunity to hear them.

They are coming here for a visit of a few days with friends and have consented to give this concert. As a pure business proposition they would be quite beyond the range of this community's purse.
