—The board-elect of County Commissioners held a meeting last Saturday to consider the various applications for the appointments they will have to make, which include a chief clerk, assistant clerk, solicitor, janitor and fireman, but there were so many applicants that they made no appointments that day. Just when they will meet again has not been announced.

—Most people are beginning to plan for Christmas but there is always time for a little relaxation, and the place to take that is at the scenic, watching the motion pictures. Leo Toner is still the manager in charge and so long as he is there the people of Bellefonte can feel assured of seeing the very best pictures turned out from the leading studios in this country.

—Most of the weather the past week has been exceedingly spring-like, with much rain. Up on the penitentiary farms dandelions have come up and are in bloom, fishing worms are crawling on the ground and swarms of little flies are flying through the air. If that hard winter which has been predicted finally turns up we will have the consolation of knowing that it won't be so long.

—Michael Jammet, a 16-year-old youth of Snow Shoe, was arrested in Lock Haven last week and brought to the Centre county jail on the charge of having broken into and robbed the store of Lewis Davis, in Snow Shoe, on Monday night of last week. Waring's Pennsylvanians are known all over the United States, their concert tours having taken them from the Atlantic to the Pacific coasts. Whether the bankruptcy action will mean the end of the musical organization has not yet been divulged.

—Last week we stated that Col. James A. McClain, of Spangler and Bellefonte, was seriously ill in a hospital in Harrisburg. It appears that our informant was in error as to the illness that seized the Colonel while in Harrisburg at a meeting of a coal company in which he is interested. He was temporarily indisposed, but there was nothing alarming about it; just one of those little transitory upsets that we all get. And we are mighty happy to learn that the Colonel is quite himself again and figures on living "to be a very old man, barring the advent of some bug that I know nothing of now."

JUDICIAL CONTEST

LOOMS IN OFFING

Six Philipsburg Voters Petition for Recount in 2nd and 3rd Wards— Recount to Start Today.

A judicial contest for Centre county looms in the offing and possibly with it a contest for the office of Prothonotary.

On Saturday two petitions were presented in the court of common pleas of Centre county asking for a recount of the votes cast in the second and third wards of Philipsburg. The petition from the second ward was signed by Joseph E. Denning, Grace Jones Denning and Mary Johnston Joyce, and that from the third ward by Esther Sleas, Robert E. Gill and Anna Hoffer. The petitions were presented under a new act passed at the last session of the Legislature and signed by Governor Fisher on April 3rd, 1927.

The petitioners allege as their belief that there were irregularities in the election in the wards designated, that there was not a correct computation of the votes cast, and that their contention is based on information alleged to have been obtained by them at the polls and from other sources.

Judge Furst promptly granted the request of the petitioners by issuing a decree directing Sheriff E. R. Taylor to seize the ballot boxes of the two wards specified and place his seal upon them at place of seizure, then deliver them to the Court along with the keys. The Court also appointed as members of a board to make the recount Charles F. Cook, Robert F. Hunter, Eben B. Bower, of Bellefonte, and Thomas Byron and P. E. Womelsdorf, of Philipsburg.

Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock, was the time originally set in the decree to begin the count, but owing to Judge Furst's having made prior arrangements to go to Philadelphia to hold court this week, and for other reasons, the count was postponed until 9.30 o'clock this (Friday) morning.

Mr. Walker is being represented in the proceedings by former Judge Ellis L. Orvis, while M. Ward Fleming, who has already been certified to the Secretary of the Commonwealth as having been elected Judge of Centre county, will be represented by John Blanchard and N. B. Spangler, Esqs.

The act of April 3rd, 1927, under which the proceeding has been instituted, requires the petitioner to make a deposit of $50 for each district in which a recount is asked to cover the expense of same, but when the recount is completed if the allegations made by the petitioners are found correct the deposit is returned and the costs put on the county. If the allegations are not sustained, however, the deposit is forfeited.

If the recount in the second and third wards of Philipsburg show sufficient disparity in the total vote to warrant it Mr. Walker will ask for a recount in some five or six other precincts.

If the board of computation finds evidence of fraud (not wilful nor intentional, but through negligence or irregularities upon the part of the election boards), Mr. Walker can then file papers in contest with the Attorney General of the State under the provisions of the act of 1874. If the evidence presented should meet with the Attorney General's approval he will then refer it to the Governor, whose duty it will be to appoint three president judges in districts nearest to Centre county, to conduct the contest and dispose of it according to law.

It will be recalled that the official vote of Centre county showed M. Ward Fleming as having been elected over W. Harrison Walker by the narrow margin of 58 votes, so that it will not require many irregularities to overcome that margin. But a recount having been started, if there is a possibility of it showing sufficient difference from the original count to elect Mr. Walker over Mr. Fleming the latter will have the right to demand a recount of the vote in every precinct, so that there is no telling where the thing will end.

And now that it has been started it is alleged that Roy Wilkinson, who was defeated for Prothonotary by S. Claude Herr by only 25 votes, may also file papers in a recount so that he may have the advantage of all discrepancies discovered, if any. Of course it is equally possible that a recount may be in Mr. Herr's favor.

Kiwanians Will Remember Crippled Children.

At the regular noon luncheon of the Bellefonte Kiwanis club, last week, the members voted to give a Christmas present to every crippled child in this section of the county, the amount to be approximately one dollar to each. It is estimated it will require about $60 to go around.

By loaning cars the Kiwanians aided in making Centre county the only county in the State in which all the school children in the sixth and eighth grades were given intelligence tests.

The club also went on record as voicing a protest against the removal of the State Highway offices from Bellefonte to Clearfield. The minutes of the previous meeting showed that $50 had been donated to take the American Legion drum corps to Lock Haven on Thanksgiving for the football game.

Billy Nolan, Aged Four, Takes Long Train Ride Alone.

Billy Nolan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Nolan, of Bellefonte, had an experience on Thanksgiving day which surpasses that of any other youngster of his age and size. He was on the street watching the excitement of the Odd Fellows' band, the American Legion drum corps and automobile after automobile leave for Lock Haven for the High school football game and his little heart yearned to be among those present. He tried to sneak into one of the Emerick motor busses but was foiled in the attempt. Then he tried the Tice bus by way of Bald Eagle Valley, but was put off of that.

Not to be outdone he went to the railroad station and when the Lehigh train pulled in he crawled on and took a seat as nonchalantly as if he were a paying passenger. When the conductor made his rounds he noticed Billy but supposed he was the child of a paying passenger and gave him no further attention. When the train reached Lock Haven the boy got off but he saw no evidences of a football game in the vicinity of the station so he loitered around until the Buffalo flyer west came along, and when it stopped Billy crawled on and took a seat for another car ride.

The conductor on that train noticed the lad and made inquiries about him, and being convinced that he didn't belong to anybody on the train put him off at Renovo and had him sent back to Lock Haven on the next train, which arrived there shortly after 6 o'clock. By dint of considerable questioning railroad officials at Lock Haven got enough information from the boy to learn who he was and that his home was in Bellefonte.

In the meantime his mother here was almost distracted over the absence of Billy. She hunted everywhere for him but without success, and it was not until 6.30 o'clock that a telephone call from Lock Haven informed her of the whereabouts of the child. Securing an automobile the mother went to Lock Haven and brought Billy home, none the worse for his experience.

The Andy Lytle Memorial Cabin and Its Use.

Student members of the Y. M. C. A. at the Pennsylvania State College have completed the building of a stone and log cabin in the Tussey mountain within three miles of the campus, and one of its uses will be the holding of religious conferences there at suitable intervals.

The cabin was erected on land given by "Andy" Lytle, who has earned the title of Penn State's oldest football "rooter" and a warm friend of students since the first class entered the institution in 1859. The cabin is called the "Andy Lytle Memorial Cabin," and is a great convenience to students at all seasons of the year as an objective for hikes and outings in the mountains.

The cabin will come in for some real use this week-end, when a special conference for students will be held there under the direction of Henry P. Van Dusen, prominent "Y" worker from New York city. Discussion groups will consist of representatives from the various fraternities and social organizations. About 75 men students will stay at the cabin over Friday night, and on Saturday a delegation of 25 women students will participate in the conference that is to be held under the ideal conditions presented in the beautiful setting of the cabin on the mountainside overlooking the college campus.

State College and Spring Mills Have Slight Fires.

Just about noon, on Saturday, fire broke out in the bake shop of Harvey's bakery, at State College, and had gained some headway by the time the firemen arrived upon the scene. Once there, however, they did good work and extinguished the flames before they broke out and communicated to adjoining buildings. The actual damage done by the fire was less than $2,000, but the entire interior was well water-soaked.

On Sunday evening fire was discovered in the interior of the hotel at Spring Mills and as it looked quite dangerous an appeal for assistance was sent to Bellefonte. The Logans responded but were headed off enroute and returned home, as the fire was extinguished without much damage having been done.

Up to this time only seven of the candidates at the late election have filed an account of their expenses, as follows:

- S. Claude Herr, Democrat, elected to the office of Prothonotary, $552.85
- Harry E. Dunlap, Democrat, elected Sheriff, $311.55

INTERESTING SESSIONS

OF COUNTY FARMERS

At Annual Meeting of Agricultural Extension Association.

The tenth annual meeting of the Centre county Agricultural Extension Association was held at Bellefonte on Saturday of last week. The meetings in the forenoon convened at 10 o'clock in the court house. Reports were made by R. C. Blaney, county agricultural agent, and Miss Mary Reynolds, home economics worker for Centre county. These reports showed the type and amount of work done this year by both departments.

A feature of the morning session was a talk by Professor H. G. Nissley, assistant director of extension, State College, on co-operation, also a talk by Miss Colt on interior decoration. The latter was given at a special ladies' session.

At 12.30 the meeting adjourned to the Y. M. C. A., where an excellent dinner was served by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. A very instructive and entertaining talk was given by R. G. Bressler, Deputy Secretary of Agriculture, of Harrisburg, following dinner. Mr. Bressler explained the protective work done by the Department of Agriculture on controlling pests, such as the corn borer, Japanese beetle, gypsy moth, and tuberculosis of cattle. Community singing, led by Russell Blair, of Bellefonte, was a feature of the program.

The afternoon session was held in the scenic theatre, where several films on dairying and country life were shown. This feature of the program was very instructive and entertaining and was enjoyed by all.

Delegates were present from all sections of Centre county and many of those present expressed themselves by saying the day was well spent and those who missed the meeting missed something worth while. There were over 125 in attendance, including men and women.

This is the tenth year for agricultural extension work in Centre county and the results show an increase in accomplishments each year. The reports as given this year show an average of one and a fraction farm contacts or piece of agricultural information given out for each of the 2,500 farms in Centre county. This is the average and does not mean that work was done directly with each farm.

The following officers were elected for next year: President, J. Foster Musser, State College; vice-president, J. K. Alexander, Julian; secretary, J. T. Henry, Martha Furnace; treasurer, W. C. Smeltzer, Bellefonte. A man from each community will be selected by the officers to serve as a member of the executive committee.

Emerick Motor Bus Wrecked on Trip to Lock Haven.

One of the Emerick motor busses, loaded with Bellefonte people enroute to the football game at Lock Haven, on Thanksgiving day, was wrecked on the turn this side of Hubbersburg when it collided with a skidding car driven by H. P. Schoolcraft, of Lock Haven. Ralph Moerschbacher was the driver of the bus and, according to his story, as he rounded the curve he was confronted with the oncoming car on the wrong side of the road. The driver attempted to get out of the way but the road was very slippery, his car skidded and the bus crashed into it.

The front axle of the bus was broken and the left front wheel crushed, but the driver managed to steer it to the right of the road where it ran into a farmer's yard fence and came to a stop without overturning and without injuring any of the occupants. The car, however, was badly wrecked and a young lady occupant suffered a broken arm. She was taken to the office of Dr. McCormick where first aid was administered and she was then taken to her home in Lock Haven. The people in the bus were picked up by other motorists and taken to Lock Haven in time to see the game.

On the same day sheriff-elect Harry E. Dunlap and wife had an accident while on their way to the game, when their car skidded and upset. Mr. Dunlap had one arm cut and bruised but his wife escaped injury.

Boy Run Down by Auto.

George J. Duck, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Duck, of Millheim, is in the Centre County hospital as the result of serious injuries sustained at noon, on Tuesday, when he was run down by an automobile driven by Elmer Duck, of Madisonburg. The accident happened on the street in Millheim right in front of the boy's home, when he jumped off the rear of a wagon and ran out in front of the machine.

The boy was brought to the Centre County hospital where an examination disclosed the fact that he had sustained fractures of the leg and shoulder and numerous body bruises. At first it was feared that his skull may have been fractured, but this is hardly likely, as his condition yesterday was very satisfactory.

The driver of the car has been exonerated from all blame for the accident.

The Missionary society of the Methodist church, of Bellefonte, will hold a food sale in White's drug store Saturday, December 3rd.

They expect to do day hunting on the mountain about McBride's gap. Last year the trio got a fine buck out there on the opening day.

—Miss Charlotte Powell, who went to Tulsa, Oklahoma, early in October, for a visit with her niece, Mrs. Harland W. Peabody, and Mr. Peabody, and with indefinite plans as to her stay, returned to Bellefonte this week. The unprecedented severe winter weather of the southwest was the reason for Miss Powell's return east at this time.

The Deerslayers Now on War-path.

Up to Wednesday evening 6,100 resident hunters' licenses and 85 non-resident were issued at the county treasurer's office in the court house, which was over three hundred in excess of last year, and that accounts for the fact that about one out of three men seen on the streets on Wednesday had a hunter's license sewed on the back of his coat.

As this article is being written, 9:15 o'clock Thursday morning, it is quite probable that a number of deer have been slaughtered, as thousands of hunters are in every woodland section of the county. Automobile after automobile loaded with hunters and camp equipage passed through Bellefonte on Wednesday, the most unique of all of them being a camp on wheels bearing the legend, "Dutch Hill Hunting Club." Just where it was from is not known, but it was headed toward the Seven mountains. When the Watchman went to press yesterday no complete reports had been received from the numerous camps, but by next week a complete list of the deer killed can be given.

The first deer brought to Bellefonte yesterday morning was an eight-pronged buck, shot by I. R. Baumgardner, and landed here before 10 o'clock. Mr. Baumgardner is an employe of the West Penn Power company and went up to Julian to watch the company's right-of-way and see that hunters did not shoot off the insulators on the high voltage line. He took his gun along and had been there only a short time when the buck came walking down the mountain and stopped only a short distance away and he dropped him with the first shot.

Harry Confer took his gun with him when he went to work at White-rock yesterday morning and when a buck ran down off the mountains near the quarries he knocked him over.

The Lancaster club in the Seven mountains had two yesterday morning.

Charley Lytle, of Altoona, hunting alone in the gap near Pine Grove Mills got one.

A professor at State College shot a fine buck early yesterday morning near Shingletown.

"Ben Hur," the most costly picture ever produced, will be shown at the Cathaum, State College, next Monday and Tuesday evenings, with matinees daily at 2 o'clock. A special orchestra accompanies the picture. Admission, children 25c; adults 50c. This is the picture that Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer took their company to Rome to make and after having built a perfect replica of the "Circe Maximus" over there had to come home and do it all over again out in California. The trouble came through the Fascist extras who were employed in Italy. When it came to the fight and mob scenes in the picture they fought too well. In fact they forgot that it was to be only play-fighting and made it so real that the American producers got scared.
