

McCormack-Taylor.—A wedding of interest to Bellefonte people was that of Miss Anne Starr Taylor to James Ian McCormack, on Friday, February 10th, at the First Brick Presbyterian church, 12th street and Fifth avenue, New York city.

Miss Taylor will be remembered as the eldest daughter of the late R. B. Taylor. She is a graduate of Goucher college and at the present is doing social service work in New York city. Mr. McCormack is a graduate of Michigan University, and served in the late world war. Following the ceremony tea was served at Long Champs, on lower Fifth avenue, after which the young couple left for a honeymoon in the New England States.

—“The Noose,” which will be the offering at the new State theatre tonight is a picture of more than usual interest. It is a story with a real plot, appropriately staged and gripping in interest.

—John Galaida has sold his brick bungalow on east High street to Earl Houck.

Hedjaz, in southern Arabia, is a land of despair for safety razor and shaving soap manufacturers. Ibn Saoud, its ruler, has not only forbidden smoking, the use of alcoholic liquors and perfume, and the wearing of silver and gold ornaments and silk garments, but has made shaving a crime for which both the barber and the man shaved shall be punished.

Eighty per cent of all savings in the United States are said to be in the names of women.

Utilizing the Beauty of Ancient Paneling

Paneling in Tudor days was a necessity, not a luxury, and there was continual activity in the building line, says an article in Arts and Decoration Magazine. In many instances the changes and alterations are closely associated with the history of the family who were the owners of the building.

At the time of Henry VII the interior of many of the famous houses throughout the land was much changed and there seemed a greater desire for smaller and more private rooms. The great hall usually contained the finest examples of wood carving, but in Elizabethan times the long gallery and smaller rooms succeeded it and the beauty of the paneling was frequently hidden by richly colored and magnificent tapestries.

Much of this fine work has withstood the wear and tear of centuries by pure accident, in many cases being covered by thick coats of plaster which has seemed to an erstwhile owner more attractive than the sober wall covering. The clever antique dealer of today takes a portion from one house, a door from another and a wall from a third and, if correct in period, puts them together to form a room that breathes the mellowness and charm of antiquity.

No Mere Lion's Roar Could Frighten Him

Mrs. Jones had been selected from several aunts to take Donald to the zoo. She was perfectly satisfied, as she always enjoyed being with Donald. He was a soft-voiced boy of three with curly hair, sparkling eyes and sunny smile.

The smile was much in evidence as they made their tour of the zoo. More than one animal provoked the child's laughter. But when they got to the lion's cage the beast was carrying on so angrily that Mrs. Jones expected her nephew to be frightened. Up and down paced the tawny animal, shaking his head from side to side, swishing his tail against the iron bars of the cage. And suddenly he let out a howling roar that shook the building. The aunt was terrified.

Birds Public Benefactors

Contrary to popular opinion, says the biological survey, various birds eat even the hairy types of caterpillars, like those of the tussock gypsy and brown tail moths, and the tent caterpillars. That bureau has found forty-five species of birds which feed extensively on the alfalfa weevil, while sixty-six attack the cotton boll-weevil. Orioles will pick weevils out of the squares or flower buds of the cotton while swallows feed on them when in flight and extending their range. Mallard ducks have been effectively used in ponds for mosquito control. Red-eyed vireos seem to be attracted by fall webworms, while cutworms form a large part of the diet of starlings, crows and jacksnaws. Blackbirds help to keep down the number of boll worms and many other pests. Sparrows and other birds have been observed to clean up infestations of termites. Birds should be regarded as an ever-present force that should be kept at a maximum efficiency by protective measures so that their service may be utilized whenever possible.

Products

In an English school, the examiner asked one of the children to name the products of the Indian empire. The child was well prepared, but very nervous.

“Please, sir,” the answer ran, “India produces curries and pepper and rice and citron and chutney and—and—”

There was a long pause. Then, as the first child remained silent, the little girl raised her hand. The examiner nodded.

“Yes, you may name any other products of India.”

“Please, sir,” the child announced proudly, “Indigestion.”—The Furrow.

A Hammerstein Joke

It was at a dinner party in London before the war. Lady Cunard was seated between Mr. Asquith, then British prime minister, and Sir Thomas Beecham, the musician, who derives his wealth from a famous pill. Opposite this trio sat Oscar Hammerstein, then trying to conquer London with his grand opera. During the dinner Oscar got out his pencil, scribbled something on the back of a menu card, and passed it over to Lady Cunard. This is what she read: “I see you are seated between the prime minister and the prime administrator.”

Dangerous Jobs

Firing a railroad locomotive stands fifth among the most dangerous American occupations in a table prepared by the labor bureau, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. The percentage of deaths from accidents among this class of workers is 43.6 while that of the highest, drivers in coal mines, is 81.1 per cent. Powder makers are second and railroad brakemen and electric linemen third and fourth.

Murray—Before they were married she used to rave about his magnetic personality.

Jeanne—And now she says the only thing he can attract is bill collectors.

Vancouver Province.

WINGATE.

Roy Fisher motored up to Bald Eagle, on Saturday morning, to visit friends.

Spring-like weather prevailed the early part of the week, and we all enjoyed it.

David Custer and Jack Johnson are now working on the State highway above Plum Grove.

Improvements on the James Davidson tenant house are well under way and it will soon be ready for the next occupant.

—Mrs. Paul Florence will go over to Osceola Mills to-night, to visit for several days with the family of H. B. Witherite.

Mrs. Harry Estright has been housed up with a mild attack of diphtheria, but is reported improving at this writing.

Jack Summers, a railroad employee, has been laid off for an indefinite time, and Ralph McLaughlin will have work only two or three days a week at present.

Rev. R. R. Lehman, of Milesburg, opened his evangelistic meetings in the Methodist church, at Unionville, last Sunday evening. May success attend his efforts.

Mrs. Irwin had two of the large trees in her front yard cut down, a few days ago, which will let in more sunlight and also reduce the leaf nuisance in the fall.

James Snyder, ticket agent, who has been laid up with injuries sustained in a bad fall, is now recovering nicely and will be able to return to work in a few days.

Rev. T. R. Husler, of Howard, delivered an interesting sermon in the Evangelical church, on Sunday. He will preach his farewell sermon on February 26th, and a large congregation should be out to hear him.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McLaughlin motored up to the Tice home, on Sunday afternoon, and spent a few hours. William Tice, who has had a long siege of illness, is now recovering and is able to be up and around the house.

Most of the lumber designed for the new store building and residence to be erected by Lewis Davidson, in the spring, has been hauled on to the ground ready for building operations as soon as the weather will permit.

Mrs. Lydia Irwin was one of a number of employees laid off at the Federal Match company, at Bellefonte, last Saturday, because of an overstocked supply of matches, for which the demand is low. We all hope the condition will soon improve.

BOALSBURG.

Mrs. Frank McFarlane, of Bellefonte, spent part of last week among friends in this vicinity, going to Linden Hall, Sunday, for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wieland.

Rev. and Mrs. Harkins and sons, John and William, of State College, were guests of Rev. and Mrs. Wagner, at supper, on Friday evening.

Miss Anna Sweeney went to Centre Hall, Saturday, expecting to spend several weeks at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Elizabeth Jacobs.

Rev. and Mrs. Kirkpatrick, of Centre Hall, spent part of Wednesday in town and assisted the ladies of the Presbyterian church to organize a missionary society.

Paul Derner has returned to the Lock Haven normal school.

Mrs. E. R. Tussey, on Sunday, accompanied the Weit family, of Tusseyville, to Altoona to attend the funeral of Mr. Clement S. Fortney.

Miss Blanche Reed returned to her home in Petersburg, on Tuesday, after spending several months at the home of the late James Reed.

There will be a meeting of special interest to the young people, in the Reformed church on Sunday afternoon. Prominent speakers will be present and everybody is cordially invited to attend.

LEMONT.

Mr. and Mrs. Bing, of Pittsburgh, are visiting Mrs. John Korman.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bohn spent Sunday with friends at Aaronsburg.

Miss Stella Ruble spent a few days with her mother, at Centre Hall, last week.

The Ladies' Aid society of the M. E. church will hold a bake sale, Saturday, at Bohn's store.
