

Big Boxing Bout This Evening.

The most interesting and thrilling event in the mid-winter sport season will be the boxing match, this Friday evening, in the new State theatre, between the clever fighting bunch from Cook Academy, New York, and the Bellefonte Academy. A very exciting match is promised, because Cook Academy has a very strong team, having defeated the locals at Montour Falls, N. Y., early in January. Of course, it must be noted that captain Ducanis, the student coach at the Academy and a "star" on the local school boxing team for the past two years, did not box in Montour Falls. He will be in the ring at the State theatre. Suckley, the light weight, is a wonderful boxer. He won a decision at Annapolis, Saturday night, after four hard rounds were fought. Temple and Sample will, also, make a fine showing against Cook Academy. Sample knocked his opponent out in the third round at the U. S. Naval Academy last Saturday. Temple held his opponent at the Navy for four rounds. Hubbel defeated his opponent at Cook Academy. So you can see the calibre of the pugilists who will battle for Bellefonte Academy, on Friday evening. Boxing is the most popular and the best attended of all winter sports. Ladies are just as fond of the sport as the men and make up a large part of the audiences. Intercollegiate rules make unpleasant scenes impossible. Prices—Ringside seats, $1.00, they must be procured from Mr. Charles Hughes. First ten rows down stairs and the first five rows in the gallery, seventy-five cents. All other seats fifty cents. Reserved seats can be secured at the Gross Pharmacy.

—The average consumption of gasoline per car in Pennsylvania, last year, was 430 gallons.

Spray Service School Planned at Penn State.

A spray service school will be held at the Pennsylvania State College on March 6, 7, and 8 for farmers, fruit growers, and vegetable gardeners who want to know the latest and best information on spraying. Visitors will be taken into the laboratories where they will see through the microscope how diseases attack plant tissues and how insects work. This knowledge will explain why a certain treatment must be used for one type of plant enemy and another for a different disease or insect. Methods of making fungicides and insecticides will be demonstrated. New features in sprayer construction will be shown, together with nozzle adjustment and the mechanics of applying sprays for the most efficient control.

County Grange to Meet at State College Tomorrow.

J. Gross Shook, master of Centre county Pomona grange, has called a meeting of the Pomona grange to be held at State College, Saturday, March 3, at 1:30 p. m. in room 100 horticultural building. Officers for the ensuing year will be installed and other necessary business which may come before the grange will be transacted. W. F. Hill, past master of the Pennsylvania State grange will be the installing officer and will be assisted by an installation team from Penn State grange. The worthy master requests all officers-elect to be present as well as patrons of Centre county granges. E. H. DALE, Secretary.

—The State College wrestling team lost their first contest of the season, in the army at State College on Saturday, to Iowa State, the score being 19 to 8.

Austin Dunlap Found Dead in Home Near Fillmore.

Austin Dunlap, who lived on a small farm along the mountain, near Fillmore, was found dead in his own home, last Thursday afternoon, by his nearest neighbor, Charles Biddle. The latter was attracted to the Dunlap home by the whinnying of the horses in the barn and the chickens cackling. On going to the Dunlap house he found the doors all locked so he went to the kitchen window and looked inside. He saw Mr. Dunlap lying on the kitchen floor and he felt quite kind for a dead. He went at once to the home of his son, Allen Dunlap, and informed him, and the two men returned to the elder Dunlap home. All the windows being fastened they were compelled to break open a door to gain entrance. They found Mr. Dunlap cold in death. A physician, who was summoned, said he had probably been dead two or three days, and death had likely resulted from a heart attack.

Deceased was a son of Harry and Amanda Dunlap and was born near State College a little over sixty years ago. His parents died when he was only a lad and when sixteen years of age he went to Buffalo Run valley and that section had been his home ever since. He married Miss Belle Taylor who died two years ago, but surviving him are two sons, T. K. Dunlap, of State College, and Allen, living near Fillmore. He was the last of a large family of children.

Funeral services were held at his late home, on Saturday afternoon, by Rev. Clyde L. Huett, pastor of the Evangelical church, at State College, burial being made in the Pine Hill cemetery.

—During the coming season the State will undertake 350 different road projects in Pennsylvania.

—Fire, about nine o'clock on Sunday evening, partially destroyed the tea room, at the Triangle, at Bald Eagle, resulting in approximately five thousand dollars damage. Mrs. W. C. Bayne, the proprietor, is seriously ill in the Altoona hospital, and her son, W. C. Bayne Jr., was in charge at the time. The fire originated in the rear of the building, where the lighting system is located, but the exact cause has not been determined. Tyrone firemen saved the building from total destruction. The loss is mostly covered by insurance.

—Dr. L. Ernest Smith, who gave an illustrated talk, Tuesday evening in the Presbyterian chapel, telling of his work as a medical missionary in South Africa, was a most delightful and convincing speaker, and greatly impressed his hearers with the need of assistance in his work among these people. With a decided personality, he so attracted the Academy students in his talk to them during the afternoon, that fifty of them heard him for the second time, when he told of his work in the chapel that evening.

—The addition of Vaudeville to the superior picture programs at the State theatre has been the cause of much commendatory comment. The first booking "The Six Jolly Jesters" has scored a distinct hit because theirs is a presentation of so much higher class than was anticipated. It is really a "big time" act and the management assures the public the best the town can afford will be booked. We are advised that the vaudeville for next week will be right up to the standard set by the "Jesters."

—The Department of Lighthouses is asking for bids for the erection of a building and the installation of a weather signal service with electrical connections, at the Bellefonte aviation field. The building is to be located about four hundred feet west of the big government hangar. All bids must be in by March 7th.

—On Saturday night some person broke into the Dunkleberger creamery, on north Water street, and stole, candy, tobacco and cigarettes to the amount of twenty dollars. The culprit has not yet been located.

—John Speece, of Decatur alley, was arrested, last Saturday, on the charge of illegal possession of intoxicating liquor. In default of one thousand dollars bail he was sent to jail.

—Heart disease, pneumonia, cancer, nephritis and apoplexy caused half of all the deaths that occurred in Pennsylvania last year.
