BELLEFONTE BOROUGH LOSES

DAMAGE CASE The case of Laura E. Wright injuries sustained in a fall on an icy pavement in front of the Mrs. Charles Smith property, on east Bishop street, on the morning of January 14th, 1926, was tried on Tuesday. The plaintiff admitted that she knew the pavement was in a dangerous condition because thinking of the danger. She contended that because of her injuries she was unable to continue her work as a domestic. In defense the borough's contention was that the proper officials had no knowledge of the dangerous condition of the walk and because of this fact there was no contributory negligence. The jury, however, returned a verdict in favor of

GAS PLANT FRANCHISE.

Other Business Disposed of at Regular Meeting, Monday Evening.

At a regular meeting, on Monday evening, Bellefonte borough council, without a dissenting vote, granted to Robert F. Hunter, his heirs and assigns a fifty year franchise to furnish gas to residents of the borough, and for this purpose to be permitted to lay gas mains and all necessary appurtenances under the streets and alleys of the town; the latter to be used whenever possible. The franchise ordinance was first presented to council at a meeting on February 6th, and when it was read for a second time, on Monday evening, several riders had been added, principally clauses indemnifying the borough against any damage that may accrue from terday, having stopped for a short visit the installation of the service.
