Former Governor Sproul Dies at Chester.

Chester, Pa., March 21.-William C. Sproul, former Governor of Penn-sylvania, died at his home near here tonight at 9:30 o'clock. He was 57 years old and had been ill for many months, following upon an attack of pneumonia. His wife and two children were at his bedside when the end came.

Sproul was widely known in busi-ness and financial circles. His last public appearance was at a dinner given by the Union league of Phil-adelphia November 17 at which President Coolidge was the guest of hon-or. He is survived by his widow, a son and a daughter.

Sproul's business interests included railway and traction lines, coal min-ing, iron, steel and ship-building. Prior to his election as Governor in 1918, he served 22 consecutive years in the State Senate. He frequently was re-ferred to as the "father of good ventions, and was a contender for the presidential nomination in 1920, receiving a minimum of 84 votes on the first ballot to permit the deadlocked convention to name Warren G. Hard-

In addition to his many business ac-tivities Sproul showed a lively interest in science and sports. The Sproul observatory at Swathmore college was his contribution to his alma mater. During his college days he developed an interest in journalism and after his graduation purchased part owner-ship in the Chester Times, on which he had worked as reporter.

ernor in 1922, he devoted most of his time to business.

TALKS WITH THE EDITOR.

A Magazine, a Daily and a Weekly, All in One.

Cherry Tree, Pa., Mar. 20, '28. Mr. George Meek, Editor,

Dear Sir:

I wish to take this opportunity to tell you how much I enjoy the old home paper. We have had it in our family ever since I can remember, in fact, I believe it is the first paper I ever read.

In the Democratic Watchman you have admirably combined the functions of a magazine, daily newspaper, and a weekly. The continued stories are good, the first page contains a lot of current information with the chaff blown out of it and your local corres-pondents keep a fellow in touch with old friends.

With the wish that your institution will long remain a medium for keep-ing those who have drifted away in touch with the folks back home, I remain

Very respectfully, R. H. DUNLAP.

New Bulletin Shows Auto Signals Needed.

Safety Bulletin No. 6 entitled "Sig-nals Save Smash-ups," latest of the series issued by the Department of Highways has been released for dis-tribution to motor clubs, safety or-conjustions interseted in advancement ganizations interested in advancing the movement for safe driving.

The veil of darting suddenly from

The veil of darting suddenly from a parked position at the curb into the traffic stream without signal or rea-sonable precaution is portrayed vivid-ly by a pen and ink sketch and by a photograph. Emphasis is placed on the illegal practice of parking on the left hand side of the street so that when the start is made, the drivthat when the start is made, the driver must cross one current of the traffic to enter the other, creating a serious hazard.

limportance of signalling a left turn is shown and the picture illustrates the advantage to all drivers within range of vision of the signal. It shows the necessity of a signal to vehicles approaching from the oppo-site direction that a left turn is to be made directly in their path of travel so as to enable them to prepare for a necessary stop or reduced speed. An illustrated newspaper clipping adds to earlier warnings against carelessness at railroad grade crossings. The picture shows a mass of scrap iron, the remains of an automobile and iron fence after a baggage express struck the machine at Darby, where the driver was killed.

Another clipping tells of two women who met death in accidents while a third reports charges of murder and manslaughter brought in fatal auto-mobile accidents, one driven under the influence of liquor.

Tardy Citizens Face Tax Fine.

Federal income taxpayers are subject to heavy penalties for failure to file a tax return, to pay the tax on time, or to make a fraudulent return. For failure to file a return on time, unless a good reason can be shown, the fine is 25 per cent of the tax in-volved. For willful failure to make a return, the penalty is a fine of not more than $10,000, or imprisonment of not more than one year, or both, plus a fine of 25 per cent of the tax. For a false return the penalty involves a $10,000 fine, imprisonment up to five years and a further fine of 50 per cent of the tax. In the case of illness or the absence of a taxpayer from the country an extension of time in filing a return may be obtained, but there can be no extension of time in payment of the tax, unless this is particularly speci-
