

COLE.—Just nine days after the death of his wife John Leach Cole passed away at the Centre County hospital at 8.30 o'clock, on Wednesday morning, ignorant of the fact that she had preceded him. The cause of his death was pneumonia, the result of an attack of the grip, and he had been ill less than three weeks.

He was a son of Edward T. and Margaret E. Leach Cole and was born at Belleville, Mifflin county, on October 25th, 1863, hence was in his 65th year. The family came to Centre county in 1868 and located on a farm near Zion where Mr. Cole grew to manhood and, following in the footsteps of his father, engaged in farming. He also served one term as postmaster at Zion. Five years ago he retired from the farm and moved to Bellefonte, later going to work for the Keystone Power corporation, where he worked until becoming ill early this month. He was a lifelong member of the Zion Lutheran church and in politics a staunch Democrat.

On November 1st, 1887, he married Miss Ida B. Shaffer, who passed away on Monday morning of last week. Their only son, Nevin E. Cole, died very suddenly a few years ago. Surviving him, however, are three brothers and two sisters, Lawrence Cole, of Dayton, Ohio; William, of Galeton, Col.; Mrs. A. C. Koontz and Samuel Cole, of Dayton, Ohio, and Mrs. A. G. Robb, of Altoona.

Brief funeral services will be held at his late home, on east Bishop street at two o'clock tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon, which will be continued at the Lutheran church in Zion. Rev. C. E. Arnold will officiate, assisted by Rev. Robert Thena, burial to be made in the Zion cemetery.

GRAUER.—Mrs. Ida W. Grauer, widow of the late William Grauer, for many years residents of Bellefonte, was found dead in bed at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jacob Sitnek, Altoona, at 4.30 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon. She had gone to her room about two o'clock for a brief rest, as was her daily custom, and remaining longer than usual, members of the household went to her room and found her, fully clothed, lying across her bed, already cold in death. Cerebral apoplexy was assigned as the cause.

Mrs. Grauer was a daughter of Nathan and Amelia Loeb and was born in Lock Haven on February 16th, 1862, hence was in her 67th year. When a girl the family moved to Bellefonte and it was here she married William Grauer on November 15th, 1881. Mr. Grauer died in 1905 but surviving her are four children, Mrs. Jacob Sitnek, Altoona; Mrs. Louis Feinberg, Pittsburgh; Norman A. Grauer, of Philipsburg, and Arthur, of Pittsburgh. She also leaves two sisters, Miss Hannah Newman, of Altoona, and Mrs. A. Frank, of Nashville, Tenn.

Mrs. Grauer was a member of Beth Isabel Temple and the Sisterhood of the Temple. Arrangements for the funeral are not known at this writing.

She became ill on Sunday, April 16th, and on Wednesday of last week was taken to the hospital for an operation but peritonitis had already developed and her condition was so bad it could not be performed.

Miss Hartle was a daughter of Robert and Mary Hartle and was born near Bellefonte on July 1st, 1892, hence was in her 36th year. As a girl she took a course in nursing and had followed that occupation for a number of years. She was a member of St. John's Catholic church all her life. Her mother passed away some years ago but surviving her are her father, two brothers and three sisters, namely: A. C. Hartle, of Benner township; Miss Agnes, at home; Joseph, of Bellefonte; Mrs. H. He was born at Millheim on September 7th, 1844, hence was in his 84th year. When thirty years of age he went to Lewistown and entered the employ of the R. H. McClintic Funeral and Furniture company, for which he worked forty-eight years. The business changed hands in 1922 and he worked three years for the new firm, retiring in 1925. At the age of twenty years she married Henry Webb, a young school teacher in Ferguson township, who was a product of the Pine Grove Academy. Altoona Preparing for Spring Motor Racing.

The puffing of a shifting engine moving a trainload of lumber on the special siding Monday signaled the famous Altoona speedway as a small opening of the sixth season as the army of workmen swarmed over the mammoth board oval preparing it for the annual Flag day 200-mile championship classic on June 16, the track's tenth event.

Delayed by the late spring in preparations, intense activity will prevail at the colorful bowl for the next eight weeks, getting it in readiness for the arrival of the eighteen noted racing pilots who will face the red starting flag.

From the present indications, the Flag day event on the speedway at Tipton will be the only major classic held in the east, except for the Indianapolis sweepstakes, during the fore part of the 1928 racing season, according to A. H. Means, secretary of the A. A. A. contest board at Washington, D. C.

"The intense speed of the race cars in our previous nine big classics have made it necessary for us to spend thousands of dollars in strengthening the racing deck to protect the drivers so far as humanly possible," declared Frank P. Cramer, president of the speedway. "While it is impossible for us to completely protect the pilots because of their own daring, as well as their terrific speed, yet we are using every effort to prevent further tragedies similar to those which cost the lives of Howdy Wilcox, Jimmy Murphy, Joe Boyer and the many others." With a crop of ticket clerks already filling advance reservations for the classic, racing experts predicted another monster crowd of spectators would witness the classic on June 16. Thousands of orders have already been filed.
