Second Annual Membership Drive for Centre County Hospital.

Pursuing the idea inaugurated and established in May of last year, the members of the corporation of the Centre County hospital, together with the Board of Trustees and a committee of enthusiastic women and men friends and workers, the second annual contribution and membership drive will be started on May 12th.

As you know, May 12th is National Hospital day, which will be extensively observed all over the United States. This day your thoughts and good will should be concentrated on your hospital.

This year the membership drive for your hospital will be under the leadership of John S. Sommerville, of Bellefonte. Mr. Sommerville will be aided by a committee of leading women and men, both in Bellefonte and throughout the portion of the county served by the Centre County hospital. An energetic corps of workers, headed by a local captain, is being organized in the country districts. Every locality will be organized so that on the day following Sunday, May 12th, you will be visited by one of these workers who will receive your membership contribution to your hospital.

Once a year your hospital asks for financial aid. You should look at this in the way of hospital insurance. By paying an annual membership fee you help insure that there will be a hospital near and available should you suddenly become in need of one. Think of what the service may mean to you or one of your loved ones if some malady or accident should suddenly put you in urgent need of such service. You will not hesitate if you will think of hospital insurance.

At the time you are visited the solicitor will have copies of the yearly report of your hospital's activities, both financial and in the line of service rendered for the year past—1927. This has been published by the board of trustees for your specific information. Read it and you will be able to talk intelligently of the work and progress of your hospital. The book also contains a number of pictures of the interior of the hospital which makes it doubly interesting. The names of last year's members are included.

Two Girls Injured on Road by Auto Vehicles.

Two young girls are in the Centre County hospital with serious injuries as the result of being hit by auto vehicles on the public road, but in neither instance was the driver at fault.

The first accident occurred near the Evangelical church, on Thursday evening. Dorothy Lewis, fourteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Lewis, of Willowbank street, attempted to cross from the church to the bridge just as a car driven by a young man named Gummo, who works for the Nittany garage, State College, came out the back road. When she saw the car coming she attempted to run back then became so confused that she stopped right in front of the machine, with the result that she was knocked down, the car passing over her right leg and fracturing the bone. The driver did everything possible to avoid hitting the girl and the fact that he stopped his car within ten feet is evidence that he was not running fast.

The other girl injured was May Isabelle Miller, twelve year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Miller, who live out near the Jewish cemetery. She was riding a bicycle on the road and just as a big truck loaded with limestone came along she fell from her wheel right against the truck. She managed to grab hold of the fender on the truck and thus kept from being run over, but was dragged along the roadway until the driver was able to stop. She sustained a deep laceration on her left leg and a badly injured knee but whether the bone is fractured or not has not been determined at this writing. She also sustained a number of bruises. Her presence of mind in grabbing hold of the truck probably saved her life.

N. E. Hess Leaves for Hunting Trip in Alaska.

Newton E. Hess is off on another hunting trip and the only thing that will satisfy him this time is to bring back from the wilds of Alaska the pelt of a kadiak bear, the largest known member of the bruin family.

Mr. Hess left State College on Friday and went to Altoona where he had engaged passage for his western trip. His first stop was at Denver, Col., which he hoped to reach in time to attend services at Rev. W. P. Ard's church on Sunday evening. From Denver he will go direct to Seattle, Wash., where he will meet two hunters from Ohio, and the three men will go from there by boat to Seward, Alaska, where they will make their headquarters, and from where they will make pilgrimages into the wilds of the Alaskan mountains.

The hunting season during the summer, in Alaska, is restricted to certain kinds of game and a limited number, and if Mr. Hess and party fail to meet with much success during the summer months they will prolong their stay for the fall hunting season when all restrictions are removed and there is no limit on the kill. Should they do this they will stay there until near the close of navigation before returning south. In the event they do prolong their stay, Mr. Hess, on returning to the States, will go to California for the winter, so he may not be home before next spring.

This is Mr. Hess' fourth trip after big game. His first was in the eastern part of the Canadian wilderness, and the second and third in the northwestern portion of the United States. On each trip he killed much game and he has a room full of trophies of the hunts at his home in State College.

Last Thursday's Terrific Wind Storm Did Considerable Damage.

The terrific wind storm which prevailed all day, Thursday of last week, did considerable damage throughout the Centre county. In Bellefonte the damage was confined principally to the roofs on buildings. Out on Reynolds avenue a portion of the roof on the G. W. Rees house was torn off. Up on Pine street the roof on the old Michael Hazel house was badly damaged. Wooden shingles were ripped from the roofs of quite a number of houses, but no great damage was done at any one place.

The West Penn Power company service was disrupted in several places by crossed wires and blown down trees, etc., and the linemen were kept on the jump all day making repairs. The upper portion of Bald Eagle valley was the first to report a lack of service, which was caused by broken limbs falling on the wires.

Late in the afternoon the lower section of Pennsylvally reported no light and a crew was hastily sent down there to locate the trouble. After hunting for some time they met a man on the road who told them that "a big tree had blown down over the wires up here apiece, and maybe that had caused the trouble." When asked when the tree had blown down and why he hadn't notified the company, he said it had gone down several hours ago but he "didn't think to notify any one."

When the crew found the place they also found a tree almost three feet in diameter and in falling it had broken down three poles and badly bent eleven more. The crew worked until ten o'clock clearing the wires and restoring a portion of the service but it was nine o'clock Friday morning before Coburn and Aaronsburg lines were restored.

The telephone company also had trouble on some of its lines but not so much as the West Penn.

Kiwanis Helps Near East Relief.

The Bellefonte Kiwanis club met at the Brockerhoff, Tuesday noon, and was honored with the following guests: Mrs. Beach, Miss Mary Linn and G. I. Purnell, of Bellefonte; Ralph Dunsmore, of Wilmington, Del.; B. A. Cunningham, of Yonkers, N. Y.; Dr. J. V. Foster and L. Russell Fisher, of State College; Rev. W. M. Moyer, of Boalsburg; Howard Thompson, of Curwensville; Mrs. Hudson, of the Near East relief and Miss White, the community nurse, and Miss Cross, the State nurse.

Bent Weaver suggested that Kiwanis, not as a club, but as individuals, subscribe $100.00 to the Near East relief fund to support an underprivileged child. The sum of $120.00 was raised in about twenty minutes. Mr. Weaver also gave a report of the work of the committee on underprivileged children, in which the following points were given: Philipsburg holds a clinic for crippled children about every six weeks. Crippled children from this vicinity can be examined there free of charge if some one will lend his car to take them over. If treatment is needed and the parents are not able to furnish the necessary expenses, such expenses can be defrayed by an order of the courts, and paid back by the parents when able. Two crippled children were taken over last week.

Miss Cross also made an appeal for aid for the underprivileged children, stating that much dental work is needed right now as well as about 150 cases of tonsils and adenoids, and several cases of eye trouble. Both nurses, Miss Cross and Miss White, were presented with a membership ticket to the Y. M. C. A.

Kiwanians who had not voted by noon were fined 25 cents each, and the $5.00 thus collected was added to the underprivileged fund.
