LIFE'S UNFORTUNATES HAVE THEIR INNING.

Pleas of Guilty and Desertion Court Held on Friday.

Judge Fleming had a full day of it, last Friday, hearing and disposing of pleas of guilty and desertion and non-support cases, and did not get the list anywars near cleaned up, as there are still eight cases pending which will probably be disposed of the latter part of this week.

The first case called was that of Hannah Shutt vs. Harry C. Shutt. The defendant, failing to appear in court his recognizance was forfeited and a bench warrant issued for his arrest. Shutt was reported as being in Washington, D. C.

William Pathanas, a Greek, was called before the court on the charge of issuing worthless checks to a total amount of $772.88. Pathanas conducted a restaurant at State College which failed to prove a financial success and he gave checks, he alleged, with the understanding that they be held until he got the money in bank, but he never got enough there to meet the checks. He was arrested on March 22nd and had been in jail ever since. He told the court that he is an experienced cook and can earn $40 a week, and if given a chance he would go to work, earn the money and pay all he owes. The court imposed one dollar fine, costs of prosecution and directed that he get a job and begin on or before July 1st pay to the probation officer the sum of $40 per month until all the checks are made good and costs paid.

A case against Samuel Beckwith, charged by Robert Orwig with making threats, was settled by the prosecutor withdrawing the charge and paying the costs.

Oscar Woleslagle, of Unionville, was brought into court on the charge of failure to live up to a previous court order. The young man in company with a man named Fleisher, of Lock Haven, broke into the home of his grandfather and stole $428.00. When the case was heard in court he was paroled on condition he would go to work and earn money to make restitution and pay the costs. He failed to do so and was brought into court at the instance of parole officer Wilkinson. The court decided that the Huntington reformatory was the proper place for him and sent him to that institution.

Harry Horner was again before the court on the charge of failing to obey a court order of February 15th, 1926, when he was ordered to pay $10 a week for the support of his wife. In the more than two years he has paid only $5.00. The court ordered him to pay $50.00 a month in the future, and failing to do so he will be put to jail.

Guy Coll, Bellefonte barber, was in court in defense of a petition presented through his attorney to have the amount of the court order for his contribution to the support of his daughter reduced from $25 to $10 a month. Mr. Coll married Marion Lutz eleven or more years ago and they had one child, Virginia, now ten years old. After living together several years the Colls separated. Mrs. Coll asked nothing for herself but instituted proceedings for the support of the child. The court made an order for $10 a month. This amount was later increased to $25 a month. Mr. Coll maintained that the barbering business in Bellefonte is on the bum and $25 is more than he can afford to pay. Mrs. Coll testified that it took every cent of that sum to support the child as she should be supported. Mr. Coll also put in a claim for the custody of the child over week-ends and during the summer vacation. The court made an order granting the latter request but decreed that the $25 a month should stand.

Dora Dixon, of Osceola Mills, had her crippled husband, William Dixon, up before the court on the charge of making threats. Mr. Dixon was injured in a mine accident several years ago and there is some question as to his being mentally sound. The court decided to have a commission in lunacy appointed to examine him.

Frank Hall, of Hublersburg, was in court on the charge of making threats, his wife, Mrs. Clara Hall, being the prosecutrix. After hearing the evidence the court deferred sentence.

John Barger, of Snow Shoe, was ordered to pay $25 a month towards the support of his wife and two children.

John Bracko, another Bellefonte barber, was up on a desertion and non-support charge, his wife, Catherine Bailey Bracko, being the prosecutrix. The defendant was ordered to pay $15 a month toward the support of his wife and child.

MAY TERM OF COURT

The May term of court opened on Monday morning with the Hon. M. Ward Fleming on the bench and court officers in their places.

A considerable portion of the morning session was occupied in hearing motions and petitions and taking returns.

The civil list for the three weeks court was then gone over and the following cases disposed of for the present week:

Isaac Underwood vs. Burdine Butler, being an appeal. Continued, as no plaintiff's statement had been filed.

Mrs. E. J. Eckenroth vs. Sid Bernstine. An appeal. Settled.

The court stated that during the week beginning May 28th, the Hon. A. R. Chase, of Clearfield, would preside in five different cases as special sitting judge, as follows:

Edna M. Carson vs. George W. Weaver, being a feigned issue.

Mary Supek vs. Albert Ernest. Action in assumpsit.

W. L. Chilcote vs. John Laback, Hallie Laback, Mrs. M. A. Laback, Annie Laback and George Laback. Being an action in assumpsit.

Daniel Paul vs. O. P. McCord. Being an action in assumpsit.

R. E. Ellis vs. Otto Adamitz. Being an action in assumpsit.

After the foregoing cases are tried or disposed of the regular cases still listed for the second week will take their order.

I. M. Smith vs. Milton T. Yearick and W. D. Zerby, executors of the last will and testament of Henry Eby, late of Millheim borough. An action in assumpsit. Settled.

W. S. Shelton vs. C. M. Smith, continued by the court as not being able to be reached at this term.

The third week of court to begin Monday, June 4th, was annulled because of the first eight cases having to be continued by reason of amendments to be made to plaintiff's statements, which left but four cases, and the court annulled the whole week's term.

The first case for the present week to occupy the attention of the court was Commonwealth vs. Maggie Crawford and Newton Crawford. Prosecutrices Mary M. Williams and Anna C. Grove. This case came up on a motion to quash the indictment for duplicity. The indictment quashed.

Commonwealth vs. Charles A. Weber and W. A. Springer. Prosecutor J. Clyde Jodon. This case is from Bellefonte and grows out of, according to the testimony of the Commonwealth, an attempt by the defendants to break into the prosecutor's store on south Water street, on the night of May 7, 1928, and were caught by chief of police Dukeman, after having been informed that there was something going on at the store by a neighbor; when the chief got to the scene he found these two young men, as well as a screw-driver, and the doors bearing the marks where they tried to press them apart. The defendants denied the attempt and stated that they were waiting for the bus going to State College, when in fact there is no bus leaving Bellefonte for State College at the hour they were apprehended. Both defendants claimed they were from Akron, Ohio. The testimony on the part of the Commonwealth showed that the first named defendant had borrowed the screw-driver, which was identified, at the Decker Chevrolet garage. Verdict of guilty.

Commonwealth vs. Floyd Boone. Prosecutrix, Lula A. Dietz. Indicted for a statutory offense. Defendant plead guilty and the usual sentence in such cases imposed.

Commonwealth vs. Floyd Boone. Indicted on a district attorney's bill for statutory rape. Sentence suspended upon payment of costs.

Commonwealth vs. Calvin Dann. Indicted on a statutory offense. Prosecutrix Helen Sweitzer. The defendant plead guilty and the usual sentence in such cases imposed.

Commonwealth vs. Calvin Dann. Indicted for enticing on a district attorney's bill. The defendant plead guilty and sentence was suspended upon payment of costs.

Commonwealth vs. Lester DeLong. Indicted for larceny. Prosecutor, Thomas F. Kessinger. This case is from Eagleville station. The defendant is charged with taking a rifle from the house or home of W. F. Kessinger, there being two counts in the indictment, one for breaking and entering and the second for larceny, the rifle having been missed sometime in the early part of September, 1926. Information was made against the defendant named and one Robert James. Mr. James, at the February session of court, plead guilty and was sentenced; and the testimony of James at the present trial was in effect that he and this defendant met on the day the rifle was taken and that he, James, worked his way into the house of William F. Kessinger and opened the door so that the present defendant could enter; that the rifle was taken and that both of them had gone to Lock Haven where the rifle was disposed of. The defendant denied being in the vicinity of Eagleville station and contended that he was on a boat between Buffalo, New York, and Duluth, Minnesota, at the time alleged and could not have been at Eagleville station. Verdict of not guilty was returned.

The Ladies Aid society of the Bellefonte Methodist church will hold an all day bazaar sale, at the Variety shop, Saturday, May 26.

WILSON.—Robert A. Wilson, a well known retired business man, of Tyrone, died at the Altoona hospital, on Saturday morning, following less than a week's illness with Bright's disease.

He was a son of William L. and Eliza Jane Gray Wilson, and was born at Stormstown, Centre county, on February 4th, 1846, hence had arrived at the age of 82 years, 3 months and 15 days. He was educated in the public schools at Stormstown and the Pine Grove Mills academy, and as a young man quit the farm and went to Tyrone to engage in business. He started as a clerk in a store but after a few years opened a mercantile business of his own, which he conducted successfully for many years. He finally sold out and engaged in the insurance business but had been living retired for some time. He was a member of the Methodist church and a charter member of Tyrone lodge I. O. O. F.

He married Miss Anna M. Marks, who died in June, 1916, but surviving him are three daughters and one son, Misses Clara and Alberta Wilson, at home; Mrs. Helen Guyer, of Huntingdon, and Harry W., of Phillipsburg. He also leaves one brother and a sister, Harry L. Wilson, of Altoona, and Mrs. Mary Woodring, of Port Matilda.

Funeral services were held at his late home in Tyrone, on Monday afternoon, by Rev. Robert J. Allen, burial being made in Grandview cemetery, Tyrone.

BARNES.—Mrs. Ann Barnes, widow of Thomas Barnes, for many years among the best known residents of Phillipsburg, passed away last Saturday, at her winter home near Philadelphia, as the result of general debility.

She was a daughter of Thomas and Ruth Spencer Ashcroft and was born at Ashton-under-Lyne, England, on December 24, 1848, hence was in her 80th year. She came to the United States in 1863, and in August, 1864, married Thomas Barnes. They lived in Phillipsburg until 1891, when Mr. Barnes embarked in the coal business in Cambria county and founded the town of Barnesboro, when they moved there and made that place their home.

During the past few years Mrs. Barnes had been spending her winters near Philadelphia, the summers in Barnesboro.

Her surviving children are John Barnes, of Haverford; Mrs. James Johnston and Mrs. Abraham Post, of Stanley, N. Y.; Mrs. Reuben H. Mull, of Phillipsburg; Rachel, at home, and Mrs. Ann E. Hartzel, of Cincinnati. The remains were taken to Phillipsburg where funeral services were held and burial made on Monday afternoon.

NESBITT.—Mrs. Esther Nesbitt, wife of Prof. Russell B. Nesbitt, of State College, died at the Hahnemann hospital, Philadelphia, on Wednesday of last week following four months illness as the result of a general breakdown in health.

She was born in Massachusetts thirty-four years ago. She was a chemistry graduate of Mt. Holyoke college and taught one year at the Massachusetts agricultural college. She came to State College in 1919 and taught one year there, marrying Prof. Nesbitt in November, 1920. She is survived by her husband and one son, Paul Nesbitt. She also leaves her mother and a brother, living in Detroit, Mich.

She was a member of the Methodist church and Rev. A. E. Mackie had charge of the funeral services which were held on Saturday afternoon, burial being made in the Branch cemetery.

BRUNNER.—Mrs. Catherine Brunner, wife of Roy Brunner, died at her home in Johnstown, last Friday, following an illness of some months with heart trouble. She was a daughter of Peter and Catherine Wian and was born at Pleasant Gap fifty-three years ago and the first few years of their married life were spent in that place but of late they had been living in Johnstown. She is survived by her husband, two sisters and a brother, Mrs. William Gehret and Mrs. James Kane, of Bellefonte, and George Wian, of McKeesport. The remains were brought to Bellefonte and buried in the Union cemetery on Monday afternoon.

EARON.—William H. Earon, for many years a resident of lower Nittany valley, died last Thursday, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. James Kaufman, at Nittany, following eleven weeks illness with a complication of diseases. He was 80 years old and was a charter member of the Washington camp, P. O. S. of A., of Salona. He is survived by the daughter mentioned above, one son, Charles Earon, of Ridgway; a brother and sister, Christian Earon, of Lock Haven, and Mrs. Henry Sents, of State College. Burial was made in the Cedar Hill cemetery on Saturday afternoon.

—Mr. and Mrs. Richard Evans Norton, of Rosemont, Pennsylvania, have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Nancy Evans, to Mr. George McG. Fryberger. The ceremony will be performed at the church of the Good Shepherd, Rosemont, on Friday, June twenty-second, at four o'clock. It will be followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Falcon Hill, Rosemont. Mr. Fryberger is a son of Mrs. Fryberger and the late John E. Fryberger, president of the First National bank of Phillipsburg.

Considerable Interest Manifested in Railroad Hearings.

The adjourned hearing on the application of the Bellefonte Central Railroad company for permission to take over and operate the Fairbrook branch and also build a connecting link between that branch and the present line at Struble station convened in the Bellefonte court house on Wednesday morning. The same complement of attorneys was on hand that was here at the first session of the hearing, and a large number of witnesses on both sides. The hearing is being held before Public Service Commissioner Charles S. Young.

A representative of the Interstate Commerce Commission will also be in Bellefonte tomorrow to obtain data regarding the traffic rights of the Bellefonte Central, in the event the company is granted permission to take over and operate the Fairbrook branch, from Stover Station into Tyrone. From this it would look as if the I. C. C. were favorably disposed toward the Bellefonte Central.

Barn Struck by Lightning Burned to Ground.

During a storm which passed over Nittany valley, on Monday afternoon, the barn on the farm of Irvin Yarnell, near Hublersburg, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground, together with wagon shed, corn crib and various outbuildings. The storm came up about three o'clock. Mr. Yarnell and his son were in the field and unhitched their team of horses and started for the barn.

A stream of water runs along in front of the barn and they stopped there to water the horses. While there the barn was struck and the horse the boy was riding was knocked down but not seriously hurt. All the farm machinery with the exception of two pieces was removed from the burning buildings. The Logan fire company responded to a call for assistance but arrived too late to do any good. Mr. Yarnell had $1600 insurance on the buildings and contents.

Radio Operators to Meet at State College.

Several hundred radio operators are to attend the third annual Atlantic division convention of the American Radio Relay League to be held at the Pennsylvania State College on June 14, 15 and 16.

Television, directive radio beacons for guiding airplanes, the trans-Atlantic telephone, short wave transmissions and many other topics of present-day importance to amateur and professional radio operators will be taken up by nationally known specialists. It is expected that each speaker will give actual demonstrations.

This is one of the two big conventions that will be held at State College at the same time. A national oil and gas power conference will be held by the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. Charles M. Schwab is to address a combined session of both groups.

—The Gentry Bros. show, which exhibited in Bellefonte on Tuesday, was shy a leopard when it reached here. The animal broke out of its cage while the evening performance was on at Mount Union, on Monday, and as it was dangerous to undertake to capture it, it was shot. None of the circus attaches were injured by the leopard.

—A baby daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Kelsey L. Harvey, at Memorial hospital, Niagara Falls, N. Y., on March 12. She was named Mary Edith after her deceased grandmother, Mary Edith Otto Smith.

—Miss Kate Gesser, who suffered a partial stroke of paralysis last week, is slowly recovering at the home of her sister, Mrs. Thomas Rishel, with whom she has lived for several years.

GENTRY BROS. CIRCUS EXCEEDS EXPECTATIONS.

Unhappily Bellefonte has fallen into the position of being too small for a large circus and too large for a small show. This being the case advance advertising of any other traveling amusement enterprise than the Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey is looked upon with a degree of indifference begotten of inadequate information.

Of course the public is so often gyped that there is reason for its suspicion but it is unfortunate that really meritorious enterprises suffer in consequence. Take the case of the Gentry Bros. show that exhibited here last Tuesday. It was not the greatest show on earth, but it was just as clean, just as well set up and just as satisfying to those who enjoy the spirit of "circus day in town" as any circus could be.

Understand, we are not minimizing the Gentry Bros. offering at all, for it must be remembered that their fifteen modern steel cars carried into Bellefonte just as much of circus paraphernalia as the Sells Bros. Seven Elephant Show, W. C. Coup, John Robinson, Adam Forepaugh, Walter L. Main or John Robbins ever brought here on their twenty to thirty car trains of short wooden cars.

What we are trying to get across to you is that Gentry Bros. was a good show. Far better than a lot that linger in the minds of the older fans as nothing that has ever been approached since the earliest days of circus offerings.

And contrary to the usual dope Gentry Bros. is probably a better show at night than in the afternoon. Better because of the advantage it has taken of lighting effects, so contributory to the spectacular.

From the opening spectacle, which featured two prima donnas who really could sing, to the amazing acrobatic gyrations of "The Six Pachecos" the circus was two hours full of thorough enjoyment for young and old alike.

Outstanding features were the Clyde O'Neal Trio on the horizontal bars, the Three Lindsays, Ernest White and his Sister Ida and Miss Zenero, with the Pachecos, the Chilean group, topping all.

In fact from its quiet and orderly entry to its quiet and orderly departure the Gentry Bros. circus was all that Bellefonte had any right to expect, far more than it thought it was getting. This is proven by the fact that the night audience was much larger than we have seen in years at a circus here. And night audiences are mostly the consequence of pleased afternoon audiences.

A. C. Bradley was in charge of the enterprise and while he contributed nothing to the action that was seen under "the big top" we know that his courteous manner and evident desire to bring the public to understand that the circus business is so clean that it needs no censors and is not causing appeals to the courts to have it suppressed, must be an inspiration for everyone connected with the enterprise, from the humblest member of the loading gang to the highest salaried performer, to join in making it what it is: a corkin' good offering for the town that is too little for a big show and too big for a little show.

Executioner's Home Dynamited.

The home of Robert Elliott, official executioner at the Rockview penitentiary, and who lives in Queens Borough, Long Island, was dynamited at an early hour last Friday morning while the family were yet in bed. Mr. Elliott, his wife and two children were all thrown from their beds, but fortunately escaped injury. The front portion of the Elliott home was badly wrecked. Elliott is the man who shoved in the switch at the electrocution of Sacco and Vanzetti, in Massachusetts, and at the time received a number of threatening letters, and the bombing of his home is ascribed to sympathizers of those two men.

Mr. Elliott has been official executioner for Pennsylvania since the death of M. F. Broderick on July 30th, 1926, and has officiated at sixteen electrocutions. He is 54 years old, of a quiet and retiring disposition and evades publicity as much as possible.

Prisoner Escapes from Rockview.

Pete Hinton, negro, native of Alabama, made his escape from Rockview prison on Tuesday morning. He went out to plough in the potato field and drove his team around to where the field skirted the woods, when he stopped the horses, jumped the fence and disappeared. He is 37 years old and weighs 153 pounds. He is light brown in color, has black hair sprinkled with gray. He was sent up from Fayette county in December, 1927, for four and a half to nine years for voluntary manslaughter, hence had only served a little over nine months of his time.

—The Cathum theatre at State College has been showing a very excellent revival program this week. Of the features yet to be shown are "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" tonight. Next week the Cathum will present a very high class double stage attraction in Ray Alvino and his banjo boys and Miss Gloria Lee, toe and acrobatic dancer.

—Miss Alice Tate is again seriously ill at the Methodist home in Tyrone, her condition having become quite alarming during the past week.

COUNTY SCHOOL ATHLETES COMPETE AT STATE COLLEGE.

Interscholastic Athletic Events Hotly Contested in Annual Meet.

A good-sized crowd attended the annual county interscholastic meet at State College last Saturday. The field was in good condition and eight new records were made. Bellefonte and State College had the only entries in Class A, the latter winning by the score of 57 to 41. Bellefonte was crippled by the loss of one of its best men who failed to reach the College until the contests were about over.

Gregg township vocational school won the Class B contests over Snow Shoe, Millheim, Centre Hall, Port Matilda, Miles township and Howard.

Class A—State College, 22; Bellefonte, 13.

Class B—Snow Shoe 14; Millheim, 13; Gregg Twp. Vocational School, 5; Port Matilda, 3; Centre Hall, 1.

—As it looks now the oil and top dressing being put on Bellefonte streets by the borough, under the supervision of street commissioner W. E. Hurley, appears to be a better job than that done by the State Highway Department, on High street. The stone used are not so large and will pack better than those used by the department. As a matter of fact the surface of High street today is more irregular than it was before it was top-dressed.
