

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

Remember Snow Shoe's reunion on July 3 and 4.

Troop B, of the 52nd machine gun battalion, located in Bellefonte, is drilling twice a week now in order to get in shape for the annual encampment which will be held the latter part of July.

Don't forget the entertainment to be put on in the lecture room of the Methodist church this (Friday) evening, by the members of the ladies volunteer Bible class. The program will consist of plays, monologues and music. The hour will be 8.15 and the admission, 25 and 50 cents.

The big fair and festival that the women of Milesburg had planned to hold on July 20th and 21st for the benefit of Wetzler's Junior band has been postponed for one week, and will not be held until the 27th and 28th. The change in date was made necessary because of an engagement made for the band on July 20th.

While working on the roof of the old Thomas property, on north Thomas street, last Friday morning, Ellis White, an Axe Mann carpenter, slipped and fell to the ground, a distance of twenty feet. He sustained a number of bruises and shock but no broken bones and is now able to be up and around part of the time.

The Bent L. Weaver household goods were sent to Harrisburg this week by moving van, and Judge M. Ward Fleming is making preparation to move his family here from Phillipsburg to occupy the house vacated by the Weavers, which he recently purchased. The house was formerly the home of Judge Henry C. Quigley.

The eighth annual meeting of the mountain group, inter-county institute of the W. C. T. U., for the counties of Blair, Centre, Bedford, Fulton and Huntingdon, was held in Grace Lutheran church, State College, Wednesday and yesterday. There was a good attendance of delegates and interesting addresses and discussions.

Frank Hockman, proprietor of the famous picnic grounds at Hecla park, has a force of men at work this week stringing a pole line from the park out to the road to the State highway for the purpose of illuminating the road with electric light. It will not only safeguard motorists in driving in to and out from the park at night but will be a good advertisement for the picnic resort.

James Jackson, negro, escaped from the Rockview penitentiary on Tuesday noon, and the same night a car belonging to H. E. Smetzler, of State College, was stolen at Centre Hall, and it is believed the escaped prisoner took it. Jackson was sent up from Lawrence county for eighteen months to three years for breaking and entering, and larceny. He has not yet been recaptured.

Mr. and Mrs. James Theodore Gordon, of Short Hills, N. J., are receiving congratulations upon the arrival of their third son, Joseph Montgomery, born Thursday, June 14, at the Orange memorial hospital. Mr. Gordon is the son of the late Judge Cyrus Gordon, of Clearfield. Mrs. Gordon, before her marriage, was a Miss Charlotte Smith, eldest daughter of the late Judge Allison O. Smith, of Clearfield.

A big bus load of young men, members of the Penn Centre chapter Order of DeMolay, went to Phillipsburg yesterday afternoon to exemplify in full the initiatory and DeMolay degrees on a good sized class of candidates in the asylum of Moshannon Commandery Knights Templar. Although quite a number of Phillipsburg young men are members of the Penn Centre chapter this was the first meeting ever held in that place.

Twenty-five members of the Bellefonte chapter of Masons, including a number from State College, went to Troy, Pa., last Friday, in one of the Johnston motor buses, to attend an exemplification of three degrees of a good sized class in the Troy chapter. A delegation from Lock Haven was also present. The work of exemplification was followed by a banquet and it was 1.30 o'clock Saturday morning when the Bellefonte contingent arrived home.

The Bellefonte curb market, last Saturday morning, was the biggest of the season, eighteen cars and trucks being lined up in front of the curb house. Early sweet cherries made their first appearance and were priced at 20 and 25 cents. New onions, radishes, lettuce and rhubarb formed a part of every load. All the berries and a large portion of the other produce was purchased and carried away before nine o'clock.

During the next week, which we expect to take off from the grind of producing a newspaper, we expect to correct our mailing list. When your paper of July 13 reaches you the figures on your label should reflect the exact time to which your subscription is paid. Those who have remitted within the last six weeks should find proper credit for such remittance. If you are behind now and would like to have your label look different, remit so that we receive it before Saturday, July 7, and you will get the credit on the revised list also.

NIGHT RIDERS PREYING ON FERGUSON TOWNSHIP.

Posses Organized Everywhere to Capture the Plunderers. $4000 in Loot is Said to be a Low Estimate of the Plunder Thus Far Carried Off.

Residents of Ferguson, Colgate and Harris townships are in a high state of excitement, indignation and resentment over the way they are being plundered by what appears to be a perfectly organized band of night riders.

They say that chickens, hogs and other farm products to the value of at least $4000 have already been carried off and all their efforts to apprehend the marauders have thus far been unsuccessful.

Farmers are paying night watchmen to follow suspicious cars and are, themselves, sitting up nights with shot guns on their laps, but the chickens and hogs seem to go notwithstanding their vigilance.

The entire upper end of Pennsylvania, from east of Boalsburg to the Huntingdon county line, seems to be the favorite plucking ground of the plunderers and few escape.

That they must be experts is attested by the fact that they swoop down on a hen house or piggery and hundreds of chickens and a hog or so are gone without even a squawk or a squeal to apprise their owners of their departure. Dogs that would eat anybody else up quail at the sight of the thieves and don't get over their fright for days afterward. The belief is that the chickens are gassed on the roosts and scooped into bags, hogs are doped into a state of coma and dogs are thrown meat covered with something that renders them barkless and cowardly.

The thievery has been going on for months and has gotten on such a wholesale basis that the whole country is aroused, under arms and hopelessly baffled.

MANY ARE THE VICTIMS. At Lloyd Ripka's, near Boalsburg, the thieves had doped seven hogs but were discovered before they could get them loaded up. They gave the hogs an overdose, however, as most of them never woke up from the trance they were in.

At the Sam Hess farm, on the Branch, they took all the chickens and did it while Sam and another man whom he had engaged to help him keep guard were making a shift in the watch.

Dent Peterson's hen coop at Rock Springs was completely denuded of its tenants.

Sam Colpetzer, of Fairbrook, lost 100 fine fowls.

John Quinn and Oscar Struble, near Pine Grove, were completely cleaned up.

Dice Thomas, on the Branch, lost all his chickens.

Walter Dreiblebis, at White Hall, suffered the loss of all his chickens and a pig.

They visited the Fred Fry place and gave his police dog something so that it didn't come to until the next day and then was afraid of its own shadow.

THE GUARDS CAN'T CATCH THEM. It is a strange condition of affairs. Farmers have been watching for weeks, but the thieves always seem to slip through their cordons. It is said that some men up there haven't actually been in bed for two weeks at a stretch so keen are they to apprehend the thieves, but it is all to no avail.

Last Saturday night Ralph Judy is said to have had them cornered in his chicken coop, but as he couldn't handle them all by himself he let them go.

On Thursday night of last week a large posse of watchers chased them into a lane that had no exit and "by heck, they escaped again." That night two of the watchers came clear to Bellefonte for official help, but they couldn't find anybody to go up and make the arrests.

According to reports the thieves travel in trucks and when they are on business run entirely without lights.

Rev Arnold Officiated at Double Wedding, Wednesday Morning.

The Lutheran parsonage, Bellefonte, was the scene of a double wedding, on Wednesday morning, when the pastor, Rev. Clarence E. Arnold, was called upon to perform the ceremony for George L. Harner, of Somerset, and Miss Louise Rotter, of Woodville; and Harry E. Swank, of Johnstown, and Miss Mary E. Jones, of Phillipsburg. The young people motored to Bellefonte and after securing the necessary marriage licenses at the court house proceeded to the Lutheran parsonage for the double ceremony.

Trained Agriculturists in Demand. Trained agriculturists are as much in demand today as men of efficiency in all the trades or departments of engineering. This has been exemplified by the fact that all but ten of a class of ninety-six which graduated in the course in agriculture at State College three weeks ago have been placed in good positions, while every one of the twenty-two graduates in dairy husbandry had a job awaiting him.

No Paper Next Week.

The Watchman will continue to adhere to the old-time custom of giving all employees a mid-summer holiday during Fourth of July week, consequently no paper will be issued from this office next week. When you fail to get your Watchman next Friday, as usual, just remember that there isn't any, and don't blame it on the postman.

Centre Hall Woman Arrested for Forgery.

Miss Bertha Klingler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Klingler, of Centre Hall, was arrested, last Friday, in Bellefonte, by chief of police Yougel, of State College, and chief of police Harry Dukeman, of Bellefonte, on the charge of passing a forged check at the First National bank of State College.

According to the evidence introduced at a hearing before Squire J. S. Miller, of State College, the young woman appeared at the bank early last week and stated that she wanted to start a savings fund. She presented a check for $300, saying she would take $200 in cash and start the fund with $100. The check was signed with the name of a well known person in that locality and was accepted without question. The woman was given the two hundred in cash and a pass book filled out with a one hundred dollar entry.

Of course the fraud was discovered by the bank and the case placed in the hands of chief of police Yougel. He came to Bellefonte and with the aid of chief Dukeman was able to learn that a woman answering the description of the high financier had at one time worked in a Bellefonte laundry. Thus they were able to learn her name and it was then an easy matter to trace her whereabouts and effect her arrest.

When arrested the woman was working as a domestic in a Bellefonte home. Yougel searched her room and recovered about $170 of the money she had secured at the State College bank. He also found in her room another check filled out for $500, and a bank book of the First National bank of Bellefonte.

She was taken to the Centre county jail on Friday night where she remained until late Tuesday afternoon when she was released under fifteen hundred dollars bail, her father going on the bond.

Wetzler's Junior Band at Hecla Park on Sunday.

If the weather is fair, Sunday afternoon, a large crowd will doubtless assemble at Hecla park to hear the sacred concert to be given by Wetzler's Junior band, of Milesburg. The hour for the concert will be 2.30 o'clock which will give everybody ample time to get there.

Wetzler's Junior band is probably the most unique musical organization in the entire State. It is composed of boys ranging in age from seven to sixteen years. On Memorial day, when the band was in Bellefonte for the day's exercises, Mr. Wetzler had a picture taken in front of the court house. At that time there were eighty members. In just two weeks twenty-three additional members had been enrolled with several more applications pending. The band is now over one hundred strong and gives promise of still greater growth.

Of course all the boys in the band are not residents of Milesburg and that immediate vicinity. Many of them are from Bellefonte. And it really is surprising how they are mastering the technique of manipulation of the various instruments. Of course their repertoire is limited to the simpler pieces of band music but they are already beginning to clamor for something new and more difficult.

Whose Baby Is It?

The town is more or less excited over a mix up in babies that occurred in a nursery a few days ago and in consequence four mothers are terribly distressed and telling it to the unhappy woman in whose charge the infants were left.

We haven't heard whether there was any hair pulling, but it must be dangerously near that point because the matron insists that a red-haired baby is the cherub that really belongs to a woman who claims the one with black hair.

The situation has become so tense that all concerned want the public to judge whose baby is whose and they are going to fight it out in the lecture room of the Methodist church tonight at eight o'clock.

The quarrel has lasted several days and has been so bitter that the mothers haven't had time to feed the babies so they are going to charge 35 and fifty cents to get in to see the rumpus with the hope of raising enough to pay the fines that S. P. C. A. will surely impose on them after it is found out who are the actual mothers of the infants in dispute.

The Busy Bee restaurant has added a barbecue outfit, in which hams, chicken, beef, etc., will be done to a turn in plain view of the traveling public on south Water street.

Bucks County Student Won Gold Medal in W. C. T. U. Contest.

From a field of six formidable competitors Harry Davis, of Richboro, Bucks county, emerged victorious in the finals of the declamatory contest sponsored by the young people's branch of the Pennsylvania Women's Christian Temperance Union in their annual convention at the Pennsylvania State College this week. Three Centre countians, Miss Beulah Harris, of Bellefonte high school, Miss Margaret Borland and Miss Gretchen Marquardt, both of State College, failed to place in the honor ranks.

Dr. Ella M. George, of Beaver Falls, for twenty-two years State president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, presented Davis with the gold medal in recognition of his achievement. The winner is now eligible to compete for the diamond medal in the oratorical contest which will be held by the State organization at Scranton in October.

Miss Clarice Cook, of Rome, the single representative of Bradford county, was considered by the judges to be a close second in the contest. Miss Myrtle Seelye, of DuBois, supervised the competition while the judges were Miss Lillian Trezise, of DuBois, Mrs. Eleanor Burke, of Mt. Washington, and Harold Caven, of State College.

More than one hundred delegates, representing thirty-seven counties, are attending the convention which began on Monday and which will continue until Saturday. All of the visitors are housed in the college dormitories.

Besides Doctor George other prominent speakers at the convention are, according to Mrs. W. A. Broyles, of State College, who is chairman of the Centre county section and a member of the board of directors of the State organization, Mrs. Lillian Trezise, of DuBois, vice-president of the State W. C. T. U.; Miss Winola Jewell, of Chicago, general secretary of the National Young Peoples' Branch; Miss Lena Dell Wiggins and F. A. Dale, general secretary and State president of the Young Peoples' Branch, and D. Lloyd Claycomb, of Altoona. Willard Kratz, of Chalfont, is in charge of the instructional course which aims to train the delegates in citizenship and law observance. Prof. J. W. Yoder, of Juniata college, is directing the musical activities of the convention.

New Schedule on Lewisburg Branch Now in Effect.

The last trains on the old schedule were run on the Lewisburg branch of the Pennsylvania railroad on Saturday. The train leaving Sunbury at 1.35 and arriving at 4.20 came in on time, returning to Sunbury the same evening.

On Monday morning the train leaving Sunbury at 6.30 and arriving in Bellefonte at 9.10, left on the return trip a few minutes after ten o'clock. In the afternoon the train reaching Bellefonte at 4.20 left on the return trip at 5.25 p. m.

Under the new schedule the mail for State College coming to Bellefonte on the 8.16 p. m. train, and which heretofore had been sent up to Lemont on the 6.30 a. m. train is now held here and sent up at 10 o'clock, while that coming in on the 1.20 p. m. train does not go out of Bellefonte until 5.25 for the College.

Of course all the traimen who had their layover in Bellefonte were effected by the change except John Fisher, baggage master, who has been transferred to the Tyrone division with a run on the Bald Eagle Valley road, and who will continue to make his home in Bellefonte. His run includes three round trips a week between Tyrone and Lock Haven, which will permit his spending considerable of his time at his home in Bellefonte.

The one man who will benefit by the change is Joseph Undercoffer, baggage master. Heretofore it was necessary for him to get to the depot by 5.30 o'clock while now he doesn't have to get around until seven.

Centre Countians Injured in Auto Accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Dale and two sons, of Oak Hall, and Mrs. Blanche Houser Ferguson, of Meadville, but formerly of Bellefonte, were all more or less injured in an auto accident, near Reynoldsville, on Monday afternoon of this week.

The Dale family were returning from a visit with relatives at Meadville and were accompanied by Mrs. Ferguson, who was coming to Bellefonte on a visit. The accident was the result of the steering gear on the Studebaker sedan, in which they were riding, becoming locked, with the result that the car ran into a concrete bridge abutment.

Mrs. Dale, who was riding in the front seat, was thrown through the windshield, and while she escaped without sustaining any broken bones, she suffered numerous cuts and bruises. All in the party were more or less cut and bruised, though it is not believed the condition of any of them is serious.

Mrs. Ferguson continued her trip to Bellefonte as soon as possible, because of anxiety over the serious illness of her nephew, "Sonny" Houser, at the Houser home on Pine street.

My, but that's the kind of news we like to hear. Friend or foe, when we can't get a real thrill out of the knowledge that success has knocked at someone's door.

George Wolf Sr., his two sons George Jr., and Harry, and Mr. S. N. Sayford, made up a quartet of Altoona gentlemen who motored to Bellefonte last Friday to spend the day "just lookin' around." When we asked them where the ladies were they very promptly informed us that it was a stag party and Mr. Sayford whispered the further information: "And we had a drink when we saw them it was early in the morning when we saw them we had some concern as to what might happen in consequence of such a start and were about to open up on our pet temperance lecture when he amplified his rather suggestive remark by saying: 'Yes, we've just come from your wonderful spring and, my, but that's good water.' The Wols, father and sons, were once important folks in the business and social life of Bellefonte. They moved to Altoona many years ago and, happily, have gotten on splendidly there.
