He was taken to his home by Mr. Davidson and placed under a doctor's care, and it is quite likely he will be able to get to work again in a week or ten days.

Water is Free-Yes-But Not Pipe Lines!

Illustrative of the lack of understanding on the part of the general public of the service problems facing water supply companies, particularly that of distribution, is the following story attributed to the late Eli Whitney, one-time president of the New Haven Water company.

"One day an irate customer came into the office protesting about his bill. No one could satisfy him and he finally demanded to see the president. Mr. Whitney asked him to be seated and air his grievance. This was to the effect that it was an outrage to charge him $25 for water when water was the free gift of the Lord.

"Mr. Whitney agreed there was merit to his claim and said that the 'injustice' would be corrected. He reached for a pad and wrote the following order to the superintendent: 'Please note that hereafter Mr. Jones is to be supplied with water without any charge whatsoever whenever he comes to the reservoir to fill his pail.'"

Penn State Glee Club to Leave for Europe.
