Bellefonte, Pa., August 10, 1928.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

Wetzler's Junior band drew another record-breaking crowd at their afternoon concert at Hecla park on Sunday. And while it was sweltering hot in Bellefonte it was quite comfortable at the park.

George T. Bush, Bellefonte's enthusiastic stamp collector, has received a complete series of the new five cent air mail stamps from all the important aviation fields in the United States, about ninety in number.

Former Judge Arthur C. Dale has withdrawn from the law firm of Orvis, Zerby & Dale, and yesterday opened offices of his own on the second floor of the building occupied by the West Penn Power company, on High street, north of the court house yard.

The thunder storm that passed over Half-moon valley, Monday night, did considerable damage in the vicinity of Paradise, where there was a veritable cloud-burst. Much fencing was washed out and several corn fields so deluged that they looked as though they had been rolled by a ponderous machine.

Miss Bessie A. Miles, vice chairman of the Republican party in Centre county, entertained her executive committee of women at a dinner at the Brockhoff house, on Tuesday evening, at which time plans were made for prosecuting a vigorous campaign among the women of the county in favor of the Republican ticket.

The citizens military training camp at Fort Monroe closed, on Sunday afternoon, and the five hundred young men who were there started home. We note that among those recommended for a prescribed course of study with a view to preparing for commissions in the coast artillery reserve was Paul L. Haines, of State College.

Henry T. Noll, Pleasant Gap's well known aviator, had a busy time, Sunday afternoon, taking up sight-seers at three dollars per five minute flight. Using the old aviation field, on the Beaver farm, as a landing place, he was almost constantly on the wing from early in the afternoon until twilight. A five minute flight included just one circle over Bellefonte and back to the field.

Workmen making a general cleanup at the home of Fred Smith, in DuBois, a week or so ago, found a large tin coffee can secreted in the rear of the house. On being opened the can yielded several hundred dollars worth of silverware and other stuff stolen from a Philipsburg church over ten years ago. The articles were easily identified by the engraving on them and the property will be returned to the church.

We have lived in Bellefonte now going on forty-four years and have always wondered why the little street leading from Pine street down to south Water street was called "Stony Lonesome." But we wonder no longer. After watching the efforts of employees of the Central Pennsylvania Gas company in digging a ditch for their pipe line up that thoroughfare we are convinced that no other name would be applicable.

Mrs. Katherine Lane Miller, of St. Mary's, who had been a guest of Miss Ella Levy at Milesburg for the greater part of the past month, is a granddaughter of the Rev. Samuel Lane, a pioneer Baptist minister, of Maryland, who settled in Huntingdon county, then Bedford county in 1774, and organized a church Aug. 10th, 1775, near Three Springs. In honor of Mrs. Lane, Miss Levy entertained eleven descendants of the Rev. Samuel Lane, the guests from Altoona, Curwensville and Huntingdon, representing the third, fourth, fifth and sixth generations. Mrs. Lane, ninety years young, is the last of her generation.

Mrs. Samuel Fox, of Philadelphia, became frightened at the approach of an auto truck driven by Harry Zimmerman, about 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning, at the corner of the Bush Arcade, on south Water street, and in her haste to avoid being hit fell down on the brick pavement, injuring her right knee. Mr. Zimmerman was able to stop his truck before he touched the woman. Mrs. Fox, with her husband and son, Samuel Fox Jr., and wife, are touring Pennsylvania and had come to Bellefonte from State College on Wednesday evening and spent the night here. They were on their way to look at the big trout in Spring creek when the accident happened. Her injury is not serious.

Huckleberry pickers out on the mountains have had some nerve-racking experiences with rattlesnakes and copperheads this season, and game protector Thomas A. Mosier avers that he never saw snakes so plentiful as they are this year. Personally he has killed to date eight rattlers and eighteen copperheads. The rattlers ran from an old fellow with eleven rattles and a button down to one with only two rattles and no button. The rattlers are more plentiful on the Allegheny mountains than anywhere else while the copperheads are more numerous on the mountains near Coburn. Notwithstanding the fact that the reptiles are so plentiful there have been no fatal cases of snakebite in the county.

GAMBLE MILL PROPERTY PURCHASED BY BOROUGH.

Bid of $38,500 Accepted by Referee in Bankruptcy Subject to Approval of Court.

The bid of $38,500 submitted by borough solicitor N. B. Spangler to Lee Francis Lybarger, referee in bankruptcy, for the Gamble mill property for the borough of Bellefonte went unchallenged at a meeting of the creditors in the office of W. Harrison Walker, on Tuesday morning. No other bids were submitted and after considerable discussion of the means of financing the purchase the bid was accepted by the referee subject to the approval of the court.

Now that the purchase has been made it is only right and fair that the citizens and taxpayers of Bellefonte should know all about the deal. First, the borough could not become an outright purchaser because it did not have the necessary cash to make it and has reached the approximate limit of its borrowing power. Under such circumstances it was necessary to provide other ways and means of financing the proposition.

As stated last week Mrs. Gamble now holds a mortgage against the property for $25,000. Through her bank in Williamsport, the Lyscom Trust Co., she has consented to allow $20,000 of this mortgage to stand for an indefinite number of years. This left a balance of $20,000 to be arranged for, as extra money will be needed for the legitimate expenses of the deal.

Under an act of assembly a non-profit sharing company can be formed to take over the plant and lease it to the borough with an option to purchase. Such a company must be legally chartered by the court as a holding company, and that is what will be done in this instance. The three men composing the company are James R. Hughes, George Hazel and J. Kennedy Johnston. The Bellefonte Trust company will finance the purchase to the extent of the necessary $20,000; the loan to be secured by a certificate of attachment on the water funds duly executed by the borough. This certificate was authorized by resolution of council at Monday evening's meeting, and was properly signed and attested and ready to turn over to the bank on Tuesday.

It will probably be a week or ten days before approval of the court can be obtained and the deal closed up. Then the holding company will execute its lease to the borough and the property will come under municipal control. The borough now has two offers for the machinery in the mill, and as there is no intention to lease the plant as a mill the machinery will likely be disposed of as soon as the borough comes into legal possession. In the meantime almost nine thousand dollars of the purchase price was paid over on Tuesday.

The principal purpose in the purchase of the plant was to give the borough complete control of the water situation in Bellefonte. If the court approves the sale it will forever obviate all danger of a private owner drying up Spring creek by using all the water for commercial power purposes.

Of course the borough also has in view a utilization of the power that can be generated at the mill for making electricity to operate the electric pumps at the big spring. But this will not take place for another year, at least. At the present time there is no intention to make any change in the street lighting, but if the time ever comes when the borough deems it expedient to put in its own street lighting system, officials claim there is ample water power at the mill to furnish the current.

As stated above payment for the plant is to be made out of the receipts of the water department. At the present these receipts approximate $21,000 yearly. The operating expenses last year were a little over $16,000, but this included the laying of considerable new pipe. Under ordinary circumstances council figures that the water receipts will exceed the expenditures by about $5,000 a year, and on this basis the plant can be paid for in ten or twelve years, without any increase in tax.

Details for the completion of the purchase will be worked out at the adjourned meeting of council next Monday evening.

Hairy John's Park Scene of Sunday Dinner Party.

Hairy John's park, in the Woodward Narrows, was the scene of a very delightful dinner party, last Sunday, those present being as follows:

Mrs. Elmira Lutz, Mrs. Marion Coll and daughter Virginia, F. E. Johnstonbaugh, Miss Harriet Johnstonbaugh, Mr. and Mrs. David Tressler and children, Ethel, Thomas and Hazel, all of Bellefonte; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Uhl and Mrs. Emma Uhl, of Pleasant Gap; Mr. and Mrs. Willis Poorman and sons, Daniel, Orvis, Glenn and Junior; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Garner and son Adam and Everett Wheelan, of State College; Miss Minnie Makin, of Pittsburgh; Mr. and Mrs. Uriah Housel, Miss Jean Housel, Miss Mabel Housel, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Housel, Mrs. Laura Holdeman, Mr. and Mrs. Ickes and sons, Donald, Charles and Malcolm, John Ferguson, Pelvadean Ferguson, and Harvey Holaday, all of Altoona.

I. C. C. Decides in Favor of the Bellefonte Central.

The Interstate Commerce Commission, yesterday morning, handed down its decisions in the several Bellefonte Central Railroad company cases in which everything asked by that company was granted, that is, the right to take over the abandoned portion of the Fairbrook branch, the right to build a connecting link between Struble station and the Fairbrook branch, at Pennsylvania Furnace, and trackage rights over that portion of the Fairbrook branch from Stover station to Tyrone.

Now that the I. C. C. has decided favorably for the Bellefonte Central the Pennsylvania Public Service Commission will likely follow suit in the near future, and then the Bellefonte Central company will begin activities on enlarging its system.

Following close upon news of the above decision application was made yesterday for permission to extend the Bellefonte Central down through Little Nittany valley to Mill Hall, which bears out the announcement made by the Watchman almost six months ago.

Liquor Law Violators Sentenced by Judge Fleming.

A special session of court, on Saturday morning, five liquor law violators pleaded guilty and were sentenced by Judge Fleming. Four of the number are from Rush township and were taken in a recent raid conducted by county detective Leo Boden.

They were Angelo Pantana, sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution, $100 fine and three months imprisonment in the county jail.

Timco Capello, $200 fine, costs of prosecution and four months in the county jail.

Louis Novak, $400 fine, costs of prosecution and six months in the county jail.

Martha Yacovich, $300 fine, costs of prosecution and three months in the Allegheny county workhouse, the imprisonment portion of the sentence to be suspended upon the payment of the fine and costs, owing to the advanced age and ill health of Mrs. Yacovich. The fine and costs were paid on Saturday and the woman was released.

Mary Blackhart was before the court charged with the operation of a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, the first time a woman appeared in the Centre county court on such a charge. She was sentenced to pay a fine of $50, costs of prosecution and imprisonment for thirty days in the Allegheny county workhouse, to which institution she was taken on Monday.

Boyd Benner, of Philipsburg, pleaded guilty to being the father of an illegitimate child and was given the usual sentence imposed in such cases.

Firemen to Go to Ebensburg Next Year.

Central Pennsylvania volunteer firemen will hold their annual convention at Ebensburg next year. Such was the decision of the delegates in session at Clearfield, last Wednesday, after Charles M. Schawb, the noted steel manufacturer, had made a plea for the Cambria county town and offered as an inducement to contribute $500 for prizes to be competed for by the firemen.

The officers elected for the ensuing year are as follows: President, Emil O. Wilkinson, of Ebensburg; vice presidents, Howard Richards, Philipsburg; William Snyder, Tyrone; A. J. Musser, Barnesboro; secretary, John E. Johnson, DuBois; treasurer, Hon. Harry B. Scott, Philipsburg.

The State College fire company won a prize of $25 for the best appearing motor driven apparatus traveling the longest distance to the convention.

Near East Relief.

On July 1st the amount raised by Centre county toward its quota of $8861 for completing the work of Near East Relief, was $6161, which makes a deficit of $2700. The three districts which went over the top in their allotments of the quota were Unionville, Boalsburg and Bellefonte. As a failure in any part will seriously affect the children under our care, and we have until, June 1929, to complete the quota, the Centre county committee has decided to send out appeals to the county sometime in the fall or winter. In the meantime the committee hopes that the chairmen in the districts will make arrangements for completing our share of what is said to be the finest and largest piece of constructive work ever done in the world.

M. H. LINN, Chairman, Mrs. ROBERT M. BEACH, Secretary, CHARLES M. MCCURDY, Treasurer.

Saylor-Hoy.—Philip P. Saylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Saylor, of Bellefonte, and Miss Kathryn M. Hoy, daughter of Mrs. George N. Hoy, of Howard, were married on Saturday evening, at the parochial residence on Bishop street, by Rev. Father Downes. The young couple took an auto wedding trip to Pittsburgh. The bridegroom is bookkeeper for C. F. Tate in his plumbing business.

The Davey Tree Expert Co., representatives will be in this vicinity for several days and will be glad to inspect the trees of any of their old clients or of any other tree owner. The representatives can be reached by writing C. L. Halverson, care of this office.

GRANGE PARK NOW A PLACE OF ACTIVITY.

Final Preparations Being Made for Big Encampment and Fair.

In one week, Tuesday, August 14th, the leadership conference will open on Grange Park and continue in session four days, and in three weeks the great Grange Encampment and Centre County Fair will be in full swing.

Work is being rushed so as to be in readiness for both events—the biggest in central Pennsylvania. Two new barns have been erected, one for dairy cattle and the other for hogs, and we can point to both buildings with pride in construction and appearance as well. The old dairy barn will be adequately equipped for Grange and other special exhibits, for which there has been heretofore no room for proper display. All other improvements undertaken are about completed as planned and tents are staked and floors laid preparatory to tent erection this week.

An unusually interesting program has been arranged both for day and evening. This has been given some space in the premium book which is now being distributed. It contains much information of value to exhibitors, campers and the public generally. And it is urged they make themselves familiar with the rules and regulations governing the fair, which are given full explanation.

The superintendents in the various departments report interest and activity and promise a big and complete display along the lines, filling buildings set apart for that purpose and the usual space on the grounds with superior products of farm, garden and orchard. In addition, farm machinery, automobiles and tractors will be made a big feature of the fair.

Applications for space from better and larger concessions are coming in rapidly and this department, always interesting and entertaining, will be above criticism in every respect and add the necessary tinge of variety to the fair.

The Boys' and Girls' Livestock Judging contest will be made an important feature of Wednesday; increased prizes paid and ribbons awarded. The Junior Farmers will camp in their building on Grange Park and under their new director, W. S. Jefferies, an unusual program of interesting activities has been arranged.

Speakers for Wednesday and for Thursday have been secured and include Hon. E. B. Dorsett, Master of Pennsylvania State Grange; Prof. L. H. Dennis, Director of Vocational Education in Pennsylvania, who will take as a topic for his address, "The F. F. P.," W. Harrison Walker, Esq., of Bellefonte, and Hon. J. Laird Holmes.

For evening entertainments, five subordinate Granges of Centre county are preparing plays of superior merit. These will be presented in the auditorium and a small admission fee charged.

Bands from different parts of the county have been engaged and promise an abundance of music. A unique arrangement has been made in the base ball game program which will culminate the last day in a game between the winners of all the previous games.

Free admission to the park on Sunday and a suitable program has been arranged for the afternoon and evening.

All tents will be wired, and tent rent including light, will be $7.00 for 12x12 ft. size, and $8.00 for 14x14 ft. size. Tents owned by private individuals will also be wired and when of similar size, ground rent will be $4.00 for the week. An additional charge for larger size tents.

No effort is being spared by the committee in making arrangements for pleasure, comfort and convenience of the visitor to the fair and the camper on the grounds alike, and this 1928 Encampment and Fair promises to equal, if not surpass, its previous exhibitions.

Everything Ready for Motor Club Picnic Next Week.

All arrangements have been completed for the big Motor Club picnic to be held at Hecla park, Wednesday, August 15th, by the Centre County Lock Haven motor clubs. The prizes to be given in the various athletic events are now on exhibit in Bellefonte and as they are all worth competing for, will, without doubt, bring out a lot of contestants. The list of events and prizes are as follows:

Rifle shooting contest—silver loving cup.

Boys' swimming contest—first prize, pen and pencil set; second prize, bathing suit.

Girls' swimming contest—first prize, mesh bag; second prize, vanity case. Canoe tilting contest, bath robe.

Running races—boys, baseball glove; girls, tennis racket. Canoe race, with paddles, bath robe. Quoit pitching contest, box of cigars.

Nail driving contest for ladies, vanity case.

Boy Scout craft contest, $20 in gold. Bathing beauty contest—first prize, mesh bag value $20; second prize, wrist watch.

The above contests, together with baseball, dancing, speaking, band concerts and flying circus should attract an unusually large crowd. Everybody is invited, whether a motorist or not.

Noll, of Howard St. Frederick's business is managing the compilation of business directories of big cities and having just sent that of New York to press there is a little lull which he is taking advantage of for a vacation before starting on the new directory for Brooklyn.

—Among the Watchman office visitors, on Saturday, was J. W. Corl, of McKeesport, who was in Centre county for a few days visit and to see his sister, Mrs. Al Garner at State College, who has been quite sick for several weeks. Mr. Corl was born and grew to manhood in Ferguson township but finally migrated to the western part of the State and located in McKeesport. He is now a sort of general utility messenger between McKeesport and Pittsburgh and has very little idle time for pleasure or recreation.

—Alfred Martin, who was a boy in Bellefonte when boys knew as little about being "cake eaters" and "tea hounds" as they did of automobiles and aeroplanes, is in town this week visiting his relatives, the descendants of the Hamiltons. Mr. and Mrs. Martin have been living in Morgantown, W. Va., with their daughter, since the death of her husband and his appearance when he called here indicated that Morgantown climate must be quite as agreeable to him as was that of his former home in Pittsburgh.

—An unusually interesting visitor in town is Wm. H. Jackson, actively connected with the police department of the city of Philadelphia. Mr. Jackson left Centre county in 1872 and had not been back prior to this visit. As a boy he was brought here from Girard college by John Matern, of Half-Moon valley, and bound to Isaac Gray, in whose home he remained until he had attained manhood's estate. Naturally there are few of those whom he remembers living, but he had a longing to visit the scenes of his boyhood life and came up to spend a few days here and up Half-moon valley.

—Mrs. Henry Taylor's house guests within the month, have included her sons, Samuel S., of Bridgeport, Conn., who made a short visit here with his mother, enroute west on a business trip. Charles J. Taylor, instructor in plumbing at the Industrial School at Huntingdon, was in Bellefonte for the past week-end, and I. Reynolds Taylor, with Mrs. Taylor and their two children, of Akron, Ohio, who are just home from a year's stay in Los Angeles, where they were located, while Mr. Taylor was doing special work for the Company, in the Pacific coast district. The Samuel Taylor family have been prevented from making their annual summer visit to Bellefonte, by the illness of Mrs. Taylor, who has been ill for a month or more with rheumatic fever.

—On Sunday what has been a most delightful three week's outing for quite a party of Akron, Ohio, people will be brought to a close when they start to motor homeward. They have been largely composed of the family of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Irwin, son of Mrs. Susan Irwin, of Reynolds Ave., and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Florey, of Pleasant Gap. The first of the party to arrive were Miss Evelyn Irwin, her friend Merton Shelley and her sisters Mrs. Clarence Dyer, her son Clarence Jr., and Mrs. Ernest Maddox. They came two week's ago last Sunday. Last Sunday Mr. Dyer drove up bringing with him Mrs. Harry Irwin and her sons Donald and Harry Jr. After a visit at the Irwin home in this place and at the Florey home at Pleasant Gap the entire party took a cabin in the Seven mountains for the days remaining before their scheduled departure on Sunday.

—Almost we have been persuaded to think that this has been "Old Home Week" in Bellefonte. Rarely have we met so many of the residents of years long gone who have drifted back to have a look at Bellefonte and count the friends who have not yet taken their ride up Howard street.

Among them is Stewart Laird. He dropped into the office Monday morning. We hadn't seen him for forty-two years, yet we knew him instantly. As a boy Stewart lived opposite us. He is the oldest son of Robert Laird and learned his trade as an electrician with the first electric lighting company in Bellefonte. Now he is with the largest electric power generating company in the world and has charge of one of its greatest plants just outside of Minneapolis. He and Mrs. Laird are on an extended trip as guests of the Northern States Power Company and they are in the position of the fellow who didn't know where he was going but was on his way. He left Minneapolis with orders to report from Chicago, there he got orders to report from Pittsburgh. At Pittsburgh he was ordered to report at Bellefonte. Here he received orders to report at Atlantic City and so it goes. A nice vacation, isn't it when you don't know where you're going, but your expenses are all paid wherever it might be.

—Dr. H. A. Blair was over from Curwensville, Sunday, to spend a part of the day in Bellefonte with his father, F. P. Blair, who has been in ill health for a year or more.

C. Crissman, a resident of Pittsburgh, but who had been for a month with her daughter, Mrs. Garbick.
