Rev. Harry N. Walker, of Bellwood, visited his father, A. Stine Walker, on Monday.

Miss Bertha Smith, of Cleveland, Ohio, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Clara Smith.

Fred Corl and lady friend, of Altoona, attended the band concert Saturday evening.

The Citizens band realized $80.00 clear as the result of their festival, last Saturday evening.

Samuel Everhart and family spent Sunday at the home of his brother Ben, near Franklinville.

After a month's visit at her home at Saxonburg Mrs. Margaret Everhart has returned home.

Robert W. Reed and Eugene Irvin made a business trip to Blue Ball, Clearfield county, last week.

W. C. Shoemaker spent the latter end of the week at the home of William Shoemaker, near Julian.

Paul Henry has been awarded the contract for hauling the children to and from Franklinville school.

Grover C. Corl and Paul Wasson transacted business in Shaver's Creek valley, the latter end of the week.

Ray Fitzgerald and wife, of Altoona, were Sunday guests at the G. B. Harmon home, at Rock Springs.

Misses Margaret and Catherine Rupert, of Altoona, spent the latter end of the week with friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sunday were victims of ptomaine poisoning, Sunday night, but both are now recovering.

J. Hall Musser and several grandchildren, of Altoona, were brief visitors here, on Sunday, while out on an auto trip.

Mrs. Reuben Behrer entertained the members of the Graysville Missionary society at a delicious dinner, last Friday evening.

Will Everhart, a young farmer on the Branch, entertained three dozen of his friends at a weiner roast, last Thursday evening.

Fred Derford, of Pittsburgh, spent the latter end of the week on a visit to W. B. Ward, who is still confined to his home with illness.

Mrs. George McWilliams is housed up with injuries sustained, last Friday, when a swing in which she was sitting broke and she got a nasty fall.

Anna Mary Corl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Corl, was taken to the Clearfield hospital, last week, for treatment for a complication of diseases.

High constable Irvin Holmes, of State College, was in town, on Friday, and regaled his friends with a description of his trip through the sunny South.

Roy Gates and family, of Lewisport, and Mrs. Ida Banks with her son William, his wife and baby, of New York city, were recent guests at the John Quinn home, near town.

The Pine Grove Mills ball team went to Petersburg, last Saturday, and defeated the nine there by the score of 7 to 4. On the same day Struble defeated Baileyville 5 to 4.

Mrs. Ruth Frank had as honor guests at a dinner, last Friday, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Bloom, of Williamsport. Others present were Hugh C. Fry and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Isenberg.

While attending the band concert and festival in Holmes grove, Saturday evening, Charles Graham was hit on the left eye by a stone, and it is feared the eyesight may become impaired.

It required five cars to transport the members of the Linden Hall Sunday school to Pine Grove Mills for their annual picnic, last Saturday, on the old Academy lawn. Spring chicken was much in evidence at the big dinner.

Miss Anna Kline, who spent ten days camping on Mill Creek with a party of lady friends returned home on Sunday, and on Monday went to the Centre County hospital to make up some lost time in her nursing course.

The Stork has been a busy bird here the past week, leaving a little daughter at the George Rudy home, which, by the way is No. 11; and sons at the homes of Basil Frank and Charles Gitt Aikens. The latter has been named Charles Thomas, after its maternal grandfather.

A jolly party at the Spruce Creek camp is composed of Mabel Musser, Sara Wieand, Goldie and Thelma Kline, Helen, Catherine and Ada Koch and Isabel Keller, all being chaperoned by Mrs. Ethel Martz. On Wednesday evening Miss Dorothy English and Miss Alda Louck were guests of the party at a wiener roast.

Mrs. F. G. Mentzer, of Juniata, and Mrs. J. M. Statzler, of Harrisburg, are visiting friends in town. They are daughters of the late William H. Smith and grand-daughters of Dr. James R. Smith, and were born and grew to womanhood in this place.

Their old home, now the residence of Squire F. H. Auman, has been so remodeled and improved that they could hardly recognize it.

The Moore clan held their family reunion, on Thursday of last week, on the old Academy lawn. The family is composed of descendants of Elijah and Mary Moore and are scattered through many States. Representatives were present, however, from various places in Pennsylvania as well as Ohio and Maryland, the number being about one hundred. Mrs. John Moore, of Philadelphia, aged 81 years, was the oldest person present while an eleven months old baby from Ohio was the youngest. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Moore had open house for the guests from a distance.

The reputation of the women of Spruce Creek valley as good cooks has become well established in the minds and stomachs of Tyrone people, and every year the men's Bible class of the Presbyterian church of Tyrone journeys to the Graysville church for an annual banquet. They were there again, last Thursday night, one hundred and fifty strong, and the ladies almost exceeded the limit of their culinary skill in the supply of good things spread on the long tables. There were spring chicken, pickled eggs, deviled eggs, potato salad, cold slaw, tomatoes, apple sauce, home made bread and butter, cakes, ice cream, iced tea and hot coffee. After gorging to the limit the Tyroners extended a vote of thanks to the ladies and left for their homes.

AARONSBURG.

Saturday, August 18th, the Sunday schools of the town will have a picnic at the Woodward cave.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Bower entertained Mrs. Bower's great nieces, the Misses Williams, of Lemont.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Stover have as guests their son, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Stover and small son, of Williamsport.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Haines, of Lewistown, and Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Haines and Wilson Haines, of this place, were dinner guests, Sunday, in the J. D. Winkleblech home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kreamer and son, of Jersey Shore, Mr. and Mrs. John Isenberg and Mrs. Clark Herman, of State College, and Freeman Luse and a party of friends, of West Fairview, were guests, Sunday, at the A. S. Stover home.

W. J. Smith met with an accident last week, which though painful, might have been a great deal more serious. The small bone in his left leg was broken. Dr. Miller was called and reduced the fracture. Mr. Smith is getting along as well as can be expected.

Mrs. C. S. Bower, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hull and daughter, Miss Jennie, motored to Huntingdon, Saturday, where they were guests of Mrs. Hull's niece, Mrs. F. B. Patton and other relatives. Mrs. Bower and Miss Hull returned home the same day, leaving Mr. and Mrs. Hull for a visit among relatives.

Mrs. Herman Haupt, of Philadelphia, who was the guest of her cousin, Mrs. John M. Otto, left for home, Tuesday morning, expecting to remain in the city over the week-end and then will join Mr. Haupt in Atlantic City. Her many friends in this village greatly regret her leaving, hoping, however, she may return ere long.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Guisewite had as guests Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Eby, of New York City. Mrs. Eby and Mrs. Guisewite are sisters. Mrs. Eby expects to go from here to Franklin, Pa., to visit the Wilt family, who are relatives, then to Willard, Ohio, to see her sister, Mrs. Bohn, and on to Chicago, where she will finish her visit with her only brother, Mr. and Mrs. William R. Maize.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mowery and family expect to leave for Canada in about a week and will remain there permanently. Saturday afternoon a number of relatives gathered in William Vance's orchard where they gave the Mowery children a farewell party. Those present were Mrs. Beran and two sons, Geary and Marlin, Mrs. James Musser and two children, Dorothy and Helen, Dewey, Margaret and Ruth Wance, Donald Weaver, Mabel, Lila, Olive, Lucille, Ernest, James and Lewis Mowery. Refreshments were served, after which the children returned home having greatly enjoyed the afternoon. It is with regret we see the Mowery family leave this place. Their going will be felt in the church and Sunday school, which they attended, as they took an active part in everything required of them. However, we wish for them success where they go. They came here from Canada several years ago, therefore it is not a new country to them.

WINGATE.

Mrs. Irwin is confined to her home with illness.

The open air meeting held at the Baptist church, in Milesburg, Sunday evening, was well attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Elias Hancock, of Runville, spent several days with friends here and at Unionville.

We regret to hear of the serious illness of Miss Edna McClellan, of Milesburg, who is suffering with an attack of diphtheria.

Burtus Witherite was bumped from his job on the Snow Shoe railroad, on Monday evening, and returned to his home in this place.

Many people from hereabouts attended the baptismal service and immersion, held by the Holiness church at the Milesburg bridge, last Sunday afternoon. Four people were immersed.

The personal effects of Dr. S. M. Huff were sold at public sale, in Milesburg, on Saturday. Dr. Huff is now located in Newark, N. J., and has no use for the things he offered for sale.
